Memorial Park
Where it all began – How we got here today

The following is more from the (edited) Oral History from Alfred Gross, the Temple’s first President, on the origins of the Memorial Park and what came next:

“…..Finally, we found a place over in Danvers.

We thought it was a great, great piece of land because you could look out and see the whole area and it was just beautiful.

But first we had some engineers come in and go over the property to make sure it was adaptable. They said, well you’ve got some stones under the surface that have to be removed. And I said how big a deal? They said not a big deal at all. Finally, we took the word of the engineers and we got a man out of Harvard by the name of Schercliff. Mr. Schercliff was Dean of Landscape Architecture at Harvard and had done work all over the world. He came to us at a very nominal fee and prepared the whole landscape maps and everything else that we required and then we started. Well, the land, it turned out, had not just stones, it had boulders.

The boulders in some cases, weighed four or five tons, and when they took them out, there was a tremendous hole. [Many] of these boulders were taken out and put over in a declivity, not too far away, at the interior edge of the property.

They literally filled up this little valley and, in the meantime, there was a drought, a terrible drought, and nobody could use water. We made up our minds we were going to have our own pumps in there and be able to irrigate the land which we put in. It never worked. It was one of the headaches that we had, but it was resolved because the heavens opened up and it rained from there on. [And] in the end, we had a beautiful cemetery.”

Stay tuned – more to come!

For our Fathers

An evening with Ute Gfrerer & Lisa Rosowsky

Two fathers—one an Austrian,
one a French Jew—and a legacy of silence that their daughters turned into art.

Austrian soprano, and Boston-area visual artist Lisa Rosowsky present an unforgettable evening of song and art in honor of their fathers, who lived through two very different experiences of World War II in Europe. Gfrerer’s father was a member of the Nazi Youth Party and a soldier, while Rosowsky’s father went into hiding in France after his parents were arrested and sent to Auschwitz. Both daughters were left with a legacy of silence and grief, which they transformed into art and music.

Ways to Remember

At Temple Emanu-El, there are many ways to honor, celebrate, and remember dear friends, family, and past loved ones.

Memorial/Yahrzeit Wall

It is a widely observed Jewish tradition to commemorate the passing of a loved one by remembering them on a dedicated Memorial Wall. The Temple Emanu-El Memorial Wall contains a plaque with the name and date of passing. Additionally, and in keeping with the ancient Jewish custom of honoring departed ones with a stone on a marker, each plaque also has a carrier where you can place a tumbled stone on anniversary dates, or anytime at all! Your loved one’s name is read at time of yahrzeit in perpetuity.

Memorial plaques ask for a donation of $750.

Tree of Life

Located in our lobby, the Temple’s welcoming Tree of Life gives all who wish an opportunity to celebrate life’s joyful blessings in perpetuity by inscribing them on one of its beautiful leaves or rocks. Celebrate your simcha - weddings, births, B’nei Mitzvah, anniversaries, graduations, milestones.

Honor someone you love - children, parents, family, friends, teacher.

Tree of Life leaves and rocks ask for a donation of: $500 - $10,000.

Bookplates

Temple Emanu-El also offers several opportunities to remember your loved ones with the dedication of a book to the Temple library or prayer book used at our weekly Shabbat service, a High Holyday machzor or Torah commentary. All books contain a tribute bookplate honoring and celebrating your loved one’s name.

Bookplates ask for a donation of: $36 - $100.
