On March 6, 2020, we shared in two Friday evening services held in our Sanctuary – a Family Service at 5:30pm, and regular Shabbat worship at 6pm beginning with candle-lighting, Kiddush, Motzi and Oneg Shabbat. The following Friday night, we were forced to go entirely remote via Facebook Live for the first time. And so it has been as the year 5780 winds down.

We made the decision to stream live from the Sanctuary, rather than using Zoom to conduct worship from other locations because we felt that being in the Temple, having Jon Nelson and me lead worship and have the ability to harmonize, and to keep the service live rather than artificially constructed through pre-recorded and post-production technologies would be of greatest comfort and beauty to our community. In doing so, we remained well within the safety guidelines as directed by both State and Local authorities because we were immediately designated, as a religious institution, to be an “Essential” service.

As you can see from the recordings, Jon and I remained appropriately distanced (6-8ft. apart), and even added a plexi-screen between us. Occasionally, small family groups have gathered in the outdoor courtyard as Jon and I have conducted worship in an empty Sanctuary. Although thanks in part to the comments left on Facebook, and the photos of so many members filling the otherwise empty pews, we haven’t felt so alone. During these months, we have been reminded over and again that we are, indeed, “essential” during this time of pandemic. With our livestreamed services and classes, remote Neighborhood programming (and even in-person for the Outdoors and Active group), Mahjong, movie and book discussions, and of course, our Welcome the Stranger effort (through our Tikkun Olam Neighborhood), we’ve enhanced the cohesion of the congregation at a time when our sense of connection to others has become so tenuous. We have offered intellectual stimulation during a period of confinement, including a 3-session virtual study tour in Israel, and we have continued to discover ways of reaching out to others through our words and actions, even if not through physical embrace. Offering weekly MiShebayrach prayers for the healing of dear ones has been a source of profound comfort to many. The need to, as we like to say, “Connect, Create, and Belong” has only heightened during these past months, and as we prepare to enter the New Year we will continue and add to these efforts at every opportunity. So as our Temple President, Lisa Nagel writes in her column this month, we find ourselves greeting the New Year with a sense of unfamiliarity and uncertainty. But at the same time, I am quite certain that the Temple will nevertheless continue to nurture those relationships, connections and inspiration so rightly deemed as “essential”. Marla, Cory, Jeremy and I wish you and your dear ones a Shanah Tova U-metukah! May the year ahead yet bring us sweetness and joy.

Rabbi David J. Meyer
Dear Congregants,

What a way to start the year 5781!
When we were sitting in Temple Emanu-El a year ago, gathered together in our beautiful new sanctuary to reflect, sing and pray with loved ones, I never could have imagined how different this year would begin. The Jewish New Year is supposed to be a time of sweetness and celebration, a time of families and friends gathering to wish each other Shanah Tovah and share festive meals with apples and honey. Unfortunately, our country’s current health crisis is forcing us to make a shift and get creative with how we welcome in the new year. Starting off this year in a new and different way will be challenging for everyone. We are creatures of habit and lovers of tradition. Over the last few months, we have all missed out on so much in our lives – so many milestones and celebrations, and even the loss of friends and family members. It is okay to feel sad and disappointed or angry and frustrated – none of this is fair. I know that many of you were looking forward to the High Holydays as a new beginning, a sense of normalcy during this time of chaos and uncertainty. At Temple Emanu-El, we understand and we are going to do our best to make this year’s High Holydays special and meaningful for all of you.

Although at a distance, we will still reflect, pray and sing as a congregation. We will hear the call of the shofar. We will celebrate with good food and wish each other Shanah Tovah. We will take time to reflect, evaluate, and question how we can offer the world our best selves. Afterall, the most important messages of the High Holydays remain the same – What can we do to improve both ourselves and the world around us? How can we lift the world’s spirit through our own actions? Every one of us can contribute goodness in some small way to make the lives of others better. We must find ways to take care of each other and use the strength inherent in our remarkable Jewish community.

You can count on me, the Rabbi, Temple staff and Board of Trustees to be here for you. We are working hard to keep our community connected and engaged in innovative ways. This world is certainly not the same as it was a year ago, but our congregational family is as strong and supportive as ever. Please reach out to one another, find comfort in each other, and know that our Temple Emanu-El family will get through this crazy time together.

L’Schanah Tovah

Lisa

Lisa A. Nagel
President, Temple Emanu-El
September 13th will be a special day for the Religious School.

Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur both fall on Sundays this year so we will not be starting our “regular” Sunday classes until October 4th. We hope that families will be able to visit Temple Emanu-El to meet their teachers in person (if from a distance) and collect a “goodie-bag” to start the year. The package will include all the supplies that students will need to learn at home and the ingredients for a special Rosh Hashanah baking project. Once students are at home, everyone will go on to Zoom to learn how to bake their recipe. We hope you will be able to wait until Rosh Hashanah to eat your goodies, but, if not, we understand! Please look for more information about the specifics for timing in your weekly emails.

Planning this year is an ever-evolving process and what I write today might shift tomorrow. Yet, in this uncertainty, we know that we will have Religious School in the Fall. We know that it will include both in-person and remote learning. We know that we will probably have to change our plans once the school year begins. We hope that these changes will be increasing in-person interaction, but we might need to shift to doing all our learning remotely.

One of the best aspects of the Religious School at Temple Emanu-El is the long-term involvement of our teaching staff. All our teachers will be remaining in the same roles in the religious school. So, if students are returning to the religious school program, we hope they will be familiar with their teachers having seen them in the building during the 2019-2020 school year. The teacher is familiar with the community, the routine of the school and has already shifted from in-person to online learning once in 2020. They provide us with consistency.

We also benefit from the format of our Hebrew learning program since it is self-paced. This will allow us to work both in person and online. If our weekday program is meeting in person, a group of students will be assigned to a specific teacher who will guide them through the curriculum. Students will form small “pods” during their chosen weekday time slot on Wednesday or Thursday. If we are online, each student will meet one-on-one with their teacher during the established “class time.” We also have more flexibility for students who were previously unable to come to weekday sessions in person.

The other adjustment we plan for this year is in our seventh grade/Pre-Confirmation program. We will be using a B’nei Mitzvah curriculum from Moving Traditions that includes discussing the meaning and feelings of becoming a teenager—both for the teenagers themselves and for their parents. This will include family programs that incorporate attending Friday night services as a class and learning together at our Pre-Confirmation program with Jill Wetmore and Heather Greenberg. We will also offer monthly gatherings to focus on practicing skills/preparing for B’nei Mitzvah. The sixth-grade class will start the curriculum in the Spring of 2021.

Our Madrikhim will also experience some changes as we diversify their roles for online learning.

We hope that our students and their families will continue to enjoy their experiences in the religious school and will acquire a love of learning in general. As the proverb says, “Educate a child according to their way, and even when they are old, they will not depart from it” (22:6). May it be so.

Movie Night:

“Outback Rabbis” (on Amazon Prime)
Wednesday, September 2nd, at 7:00 pm

On a road trip like no other, two Chabad rabbis and their families hit the Aussie bush looking for “lost Jews.” The documentary is as insightful as it is hilarious, as it is full of discoveries about community and understanding laced with Jewish wit, music and culture.

Watch the movie on Amazon Prime in your home and then get together on Zoom for a discussion.

Our movie for October is “Little White Lie” (free on Amazon Prime) on Wednesday, October 7th, at 7:00 pm.

Lacey Schwartz grew up convinced she was white, even though her features distinguish her instantly from her Jewish parents. It wasn’t until she was 18 that she learned her real father was black. She then begins a journey to reconcile her past and embrace her African-American heritage.

Mah Jongg:

We will use RealMahJongg, either the app or the website: realmahjongg.com
