“May their souls be bound up in the bond of eternal life.”

We are grateful to those members of Temple Isaiah whose generosity makes possible the publication of this Book of Memory.

Eternal God, the generations come and go before you. Brief is their time. Passing, they leave many of their tasks unfinished, their plans unfulfilled, their dreams unrealized. It would be more than we could bear, but for the faith that our little day finds its permanence in Your eternity, and our work its completion in the unfolding of Your purpose of humanity.

At this sacred moment we turn our thoughts to those we love who have gone from life. We recall the joy of their companionship. We feel a pang, the echo of that intense grief when first their death lay before our stricken eyes. Now we know that they will never vanish, so long as heart and thought remain within us. By love are they remembered and in memory they live.

O God, grant that their memory may bring strength and blessing. May the nobility in their lives and the high ideals they cherished endure in our thoughts and live on in our deeds. May we, carrying on their work, help to redeem Your promise that life shall prevail.

We remember with gratitude those beloved ones whose names have been written into our Book of Memory that they might endure for blessing.

Engraved upon our hearts are those whose names were removed from the Book of Life during the past year.

What Is A Book of Memory?

This Book of Memory has its origin in the Biblical “Sefer Zikkaron” and is known in Jewish history as Memory Book. It serves as a memorial to the dead and as inspiration to the living.

The earliest Memory Book extant is that of the community of Nurenberg in the year 1296. Such a memorial volume is a unique product of Jewish piety. From these books historians have learned much concerning the philanthropy, the prayers and hopes, the persecution and martyrdom of Jewry. It has always been customary in Israel to remember the dead, contribute charitably in their memory and hand their names down to posterity.

Through this Book of Memory, Temple Isaiah follows a hallowed Jewish tradition. It will be placed for safekeeping in our archives, and the names spread upon these pages will be forever linked to the chain of love which binds together this congregation and the whole household of Israel.

The origins of the Kaddish are mysterious; angels are said to have it down from heaven...

It possesses wonderful power. Truly, if there is any bond strong enough to chain heaven to earth, it is this prayer. It keeps the living together, and forms a bridge to the mysterious realm of the dead. One might almost say that this prayer is the guardian of the people by whom alone it is uttered; therein lies the warrant of its continuance. Can a people disappear and be annihilated as long as a child remembers its parents.

Because this prayer does not acknowledge death, because it permits the blossom, which has fallen from the tree of humankind to flower and develop again in the human heart, therefore it possesses sanctifying power.
