1. WELCOME

Mazel Tov! Soon, your child will be called up to the Torah to mark their entrance into adult Jewish life. When your child reads or chants from the Torah, leads portions of the service, and delivers a D'var Torah, they will demonstrate, before God and this holy congregation, that they are responsible for the commandments, someone who can now fully participate in the religious life of our people.

"And you shall rejoice in all the good which the Eternal your God has given you."
Deuteronomy 26:11

The information enclosed in this Simcha Handbook is offered as a guide to make the experiences of that day more meaningful to you and your family, and it is also designed to help you plan your simcha, the celebration in honor of your child's ceremony. We hope it will serve as a useful instructional tool for you and your child.

Temple Sinai offers excellent function space and use of its kitchen facilities at very reasonable rates. We hope you will consider using the Temple's facilities for your function.

The clergy and staff of the synagogue are eager to assist you in any way they can. Having a child go through this process is a joyous milestone in the life of your family; we want to make sure the planning is stress-free and joyous, too. If you have any questions or need assistance in planning your function, please contact Beth Fine-Nelson, Education Director at Bnelson@temple-sinai.com or the Executive Director by telephone at (781) 784-6081 x 106 or by email at glevine@temple-sinai.com.

The Temple family extends to you the traditional blessing:

May you be privileged to rear your child l'Torah, l'huppah, ul'maasim tovim—to the love of learning, to the joys of marriage, and to the satisfactions of a life spent performing good deeds.

2. HISTORY OF B'NAI BAT MITZVAH

B'nai Mitzvah means "Children of the Commandment". When Jewish children reach the age of 13, they are old enough to understand the commandments and be responsible for fulfilling them. A child, upon becoming B'nai Mitzvah, is included as an adult in the religious life of our people.

The idea of reaching religious maturity is mentioned in the Talmud but did not become an established practice until the fifteenth century. At that time, the boy became a Bar Mitzvah on the Shabbat after his thirteenth birthday. The Bar Mitzvah was automatic and nothing more was required of the boy.

About 450 years ago, the ceremony was added, along with certain requirements. They included being called to read from the Torah and recite the blessings over it; offering a d'rash or D'var Torah (speech), which showed his Talmudic understanding; wearing tefillin and tallit for the first time; and being present while a special prayer was recited by his father. On Shabbat, a special reading from the Prophets, called Haftarah (meaning: supplement) is added to the service.

Rabbi Mordecai Kaplan, the founder of the Reconstructionist movement, created the first Bat Mitzvah in 1922, enabling women in modern times in liberal congregations to participate in the same mitzvot as men do.

Today, we also use Talmudic term Simchat Mitzvah to refer to people who are non-binary, and we also use B'nai Mitzvah as an all-inclusive term.

3. B'NAI MITZVAH AT TEMPLE SINAI

The age of Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah is 13 or older, so the celebration of students becoming B'nai Mitzvah is scheduled as close as possible to the student's 13th birthday.

The services in which students become Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah are scheduled approximately three years in advance and are held on Saturday mornings at Temple Sinai. The Torah and Haftarah portions your child will read are determined by the date of the service. You will receive a form to help us with the scheduling process. If a change of date is required, please contact the Executive Director as soon as possible. All scheduling changes must be approved by the Rabbi, Cantor and Executive Director. You will receive written confirmation once a date has been approved.

4. TIMING OF B'NAI MITZVAH CEREMONIES

We endeavor to create meaningful B'nai Mitzvah celebrations that create positive memories and teach skills for synagogue life. The regular time for B'nai Mitzvah is on Shabbat morning at 10 am. Another option is during the erev Shabbat (Friday evening) service at 7:30 pm if the family has fewer than 100 guests and does not have a celebration at the Temple outside of having a Shabbat dinner beforehand and sponsoring the Oneg Shabbat. (See also: 15. Reception Alternatives).

If a student or someone in the student's immediate family (student, parent, or sibling) has a special need, whether that is a matter of a learning disability or of mental or physical health, an alternate time can be arranged with the Rabbi and Cantor at the clergy's discretion. A frequent alternate time is Shabbat mincha (Saturday afternoon). If the stars are coming out at the end of the service, this time can include havdalah.

5. FAMILY EDUCATION PROGRAMS

During the 6th grade year, you will have the opportunity to attend two Family Education Programs on the theme of becoming a Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah. Parents and students should attend. At the first program, we review the process leading up to the B'nai Mitzvah, as well as learn the basics of studying the Torah portion and writing a D'var Torah (speech). At the second program, we explore the prayer service and review the honors that may be given to family and friends. In addition, each student is given the opportunity to come up to the Bimah and practice saying the Torah blessings. We discuss ideas of how to put the Mitzvah back in the Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah through Tzedakah or community service projects in connection with your celebration.

The Rabbi, Director of Education, and the Cantor will be available at these programs to answer any questions you might have. The more familiar you are with the process, the more spiritual it can be.

6. COURSE OF STUDY

At Temple Sinai, the process of becoming a Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah includes leading the congregation in a Shabbat service, reading and/or chanting a portion of the Torah and Haftarah, giving a D'var Torah (speech); and performing a Tzedakah project. Becoming a B'nai Mitzvah at Temple Sinai means that the family has made a commitment to our heritage and to our congregation and that the student has attended Religious School and is familiar with our Jewish traditions.

B'nai mitzvah* candidates must be enrolled students in good standing and have prior Religious School experience as deemed adequate by the Rabbi. It is strongly recommended that students have at least five years Jewish schooling prior to B'nai Mitzvah. Students who attend a Jewish Day School are considered “enrolled in good standing”.

- A student is considered “enrolled” once he or she has registered for Temple Sinai Religious School, been assigned to a given Judaic and/or Hebrew class and has satisfied all tuition and school fee obligations.
- A student is considered in “good standing” if he or she has attended a minimum of 80% of school classes or has made other suitable arrangements in consultation with the Director of Education.

Enrolled students in good standing are generally assigned a date two to three years prior to their 13th birthday. Any child who is not considered “enrolled in good standing” will not be assigned a date. If a child has been assigned a date but then fails in subsequent years to maintain the status of “enrolled in good standing,” then the date will be forfeited until such a time that the child returns to being an enrolled student in good standing. At that time, the B'nai mitzvah date will be reassigned to the student based on calendar availability.

Parents should contact the Director of Education if their child will not be able to fulfill the minimum attendance requirement, so that other acceptable arrangements can be made. The student will need to work with the teacher to make up any missed work and outside tutoring may be recommended. Any cost for outside tutoring is the responsibility of the family. No adjustments in Religious School tuition will be made for excessive absences.

Students are expected to be enrolled through the entire seventh grade school year, regardless of their B'nai Mitzvah date. Seventh grade meets only one day a week and during this time students learn extensively about Jewish history, including the Holocaust and Israel, as well as topics based on Jewish values. We obviously require this on principle because we believe this is essential learning for all Jewish adults.

Communal worship is an important part of our Jewish identity. While “prayer” is private, “worship” is communal and public. It is our desire to encourage our young people to feel as though they are full members of the adult Jewish community. To ensure that our students are familiar and comfortable with Shabbat worship services at Temple Sinai, we recommend that our students in grades K-6 attend a minimum number of services each year:

- Grades K-2: At least three Shabbat services during the Jewish year
- Grades 3-6: At least three erev Shabbat (Friday evening) services and three Shabbat morning (Saturday) services during the Jewish year

It is no surprise that students who attend regular Shabbat services can master their prayers more easily than those who don't. In addition, when children attend services regularly, their own experience is richer and more satisfying. If it is true that Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah symbolizes our children's becoming adult members of the Jewish community, then it is imperative that our young people and their parents begin a process of developing a commitment to regular worship.

7. MEETING SCHEDULE AND B'NAI MITZVAH TUTORING

Approximately seven to nine months before the actual B'nai mitzvah date, the student and a parent will meet once with Rabbi Meszler and once with Cantor Khitrik.

After these appointments, students will begin weekly sessions of private tutoring with our B'nai Mitzvah tutor. These sessions are usually 30 minutes in length and will be individually scheduled for each student. The purpose of these sessions is to guide and monitor the student's progress. There are 20 such sessions in all. Learning the material takes place with hard work at home and is reinforced by attending services. If a student needs extra help, please schedule additional sessions with the rabbi or cantor. Our tutor is only budgeted for 20 sessions per student, so if you want more than 20 sessions, you will have to pay our tutor privately. The Rabbi or Cantor may also be available to assist with additional sessions if needed.

As your date nears (approximately seven weeks prior), the student will meet six additional times (usually 1 week apart) with the Rabbi. The first three sessions are 30 minutes long, and the final three are each one hour long. During these sessions, the Rabbi will work with each student on writing a D'var Torah, a "word" of Torah, which is a learning opportunity to study and teach the congregation. The Rabbi will also review the student's mitzvah project, rehearse the Torah service including a review of their Torah and Haftarah chanting, and obtain all of the necessary details and information regarding synagogue honors (Aliyot to the Torah, etc.). Each child will receive at least three full rehearsals on the bimah prior to the ceremony. Parents should attend the final rehearsals.

B'nai Mitzvah* Preparation Summary

7-9 Months Prior	Initial Meetings with Rabbi and Cantor
Weekly Tutoring	20 sessions (additional sessions scheduled if needed)
Seven Weeks Prior	3 half-hour sessions, 3 hour-long sessions
One to Two Weeks Prior	Final Rehearsal
Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah Ceremony - Mazel tov!

8. YOUR CHILD'S PARTICIPATION IN THE SERVICE

Our philosophy at Temple Sinai is that a B'nai Mitzvah is no longer a child, but not yet an adult. As such, each student will express their newfound sophistication by 1) leading the prayer service and chanting or reading from the Torah and Haftarah, 2) giving an adult-level discourse, a D'var Torah, based upon these readings, and 3) telling the congregation of their Tzedakah project.

The Torah portion will be divided into three sections or Aliyot. We have preselected sections that we feel are pedagogically appropriate for a 13-year-old. The Haftarah is a selection assigned by our tradition from the Prophetic books of the Bible. Customarily, it is chanted from a printed page from the Hebrew Bible. The length of the Torah and Haftarah is adjusted to each child's ability to learn the material. The D'var Torah (speech) will involve either a discussion of the meaning of the week's Torah or Haftarah portion or reflections on the value of his or her Jewish identity. Preparation of the speech will involve study and discussion with the Rabbi.

In shared B'nai Mitzvah ceremonies, each child will chant a Torah portion, Haftarah portion and give a D'var Torah. The prayers and honors will be divided.

Your child will be given the opportunity to lead the congregation in reciting Kiddush during the erev Shabbat (Friday evening) service preceding their service. Your family will also be given the honor of lighting the Shabbat candles at the erev Shabbat evening service.

In every case, where special ability and interest are indicated, your child may conduct additional parts of the worship service.

9. DRESS AND DECORUM

The celebration of one's becoming a Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah takes place in a house of worship. You will want to contribute to the depth and beauty of this occasion and avoid or prevent anything which could disturb the sacred mood.

People who will be participating in the service should use discretion in their dress. Recommended clothing items are dresses, skirts, or nice pants, shirts, jackets and ties. Strapless dresses with no jacket are inappropriate in the sanctuary; shoulders should be covered. Jeans, t-shirts, shorts, halter tops, sneakers and very short skirts are not appropriate dress for temple. If you are unsure if a certain style of dress is appropriate, ask the Rabbi.

10. FAMILY AND GUEST PARTICIPATION

If any members of your family are Rabbis or Cantors, we would be most happy to have them participate in the service. Please inform the Rabbi so that he may extend the proper invitation.

Each Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah celebrant may honor members of the family or friends by extending them an Aliyah or honor during the Saturday morning service. Due to the nature of the liturgy, certain honors are reserved for those of the Jewish faith. If you have any questions about this, please contact the Rabbi.

The following is a list of potential honors or participation opportunities for family members and friends. For shared ceremonies, some of these honors will be divided between two families.

- Ushers
- Erev Shabbat (Friday evening) candle blessing
- Ark opening: two to four people may participate
- Aliyot (Torah blessings): Usually three Aliyot per family
Final Aliyah is reserved for the Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah child
- Hagbah (lifting the Torah)
- Gelilah (dressing the Torah)

- Blessing for the United States and Israel (in English): 1 or 2 people
- Ark opening (returning the Torah): two to four people may participate
- Kiddush (blessing over wine) Shabbat morning

At least one week prior to the rehearsal, the completed Honors Sheet listing ALL of the participants in the service should be given to the Rabbi. For those doing Hebrew blessings, their Hebrew names should be included.

11. GIFTS TO THE BAR/ BAT/SIMCHAT MITZVAH

Each Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah celebrant is given gifts on behalf of the Rabbi and Cantor, as well as Sisterhood and Brotherhood. We encourage your child to write these organizations or individuals appropriate thank-you notes, just as for all other gifts received. In addition, the congregation provides a certificate commemorating the simcha for every Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah.

12. KIPPOT, TALLITOT AND OTHER RITUAL ITEMS

The wearing of kippot (yarmulkas) and tallitot (prayer shawls) at Temple Sinai is optional. Those who wish to provide kippot for the convenience of their guests may do so. The Temple has kippot and tallitot available. A kippah receptacle provided by Temple Sinai is conveniently located on the top of the tallit cabinet just outside the Sanctuary doors.

The tallit (prayer shawl) can be presented to the B'nai Mitzvah in a private ceremony, which will be held in the Rabbi's office just prior to the service. Choosing to wear a tallit at appropriate times is a lifelong commitment. The Rabbi will gladly discuss this with the family to help you make an informed decision.

If you wish to order kippot or tallitot for your simcha, our Sisterhood would be happy to help. In addition, beautiful ritual items are available to make your simcha particularly meaningful.

13. BIMAH GUEST

A representative from the Temple's leadership will sit on the bimah during the service to assist as necessary and to present the Temple's gifts to the B'nai Mitzvah child. The B'nai Mitzvah family has the option of asking a particular member of the Board of Trustees, a chairperson of a committee, or a past Temple President, to serve as the bimah guest. Please inform the Executive Director or current President of the Congregation, if you wish to exercise this option. Otherwise, Board members will sign-up to be the bimah guest as needed as part of their commitment as a Board member.

14. USHERS

Each family is responsible for providing ushers at their child's B'nai Mitzvah service. The number required will be determined by the Executive Director and will depend on the total number of guests, particularly the number of young people. Make sure that your ushers report to the Head Usher(s) provided by the Temple 20-30 minutes before the service is to begin.

Ushers are responsible for greeting and seating guests, and they assist in maintaining the proper decorum in the Sanctuary. This is particularly challenging in situations involving large numbers of young people.

A sheet entitled The Responsibilities of an Usher (refer to Appendix B) will help inform your ushers of their expected duties. Obviously, two important attributes are: (1) the ability to stand up for most of the service's duration, and (2) the initiative to remind congregants, both young and old, that they are in the Sanctuary, and that proper decorum is required. It is important that you provide a copy of the usher responsibilities to your ushers prior to the service.

15. PHOTOGRAPHY

Arrangements for picture-taking may be made the morning of the service (usually around 9 a.m.), or at another pre-arranged date. Please confirm your plans with the Executive Director, especially if you are sharing the date with another family.

The Rabbi will be available for photographs either on the bimah or in his study 30 minutes prior to the beginning of each service. Photography on the bimah is permitted up to 15 minutes prior to the beginning of each service. At that time, all photographers, photography equipment, settings, props, etc. should be removed from the bimah.

Important note: Temple Sinai policy prohibits photography, videography or artificial lighting during the service. The exception to this policy is that one designated videographer (family member, friend or professional) can use the stationary tripod provided to record the service. The videographer must remain in one location so there is no disruption during the service.

A stationary, wide-angle video recording of the B'nai Mitzvah service may be available through the Temple Sinai office.

16. GUEST AND INVITATION CONSIDERATIONS

The term Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah is a title given to a Jewish person who has reached the age of thirteen. Thus, one becomes a child of the commandments. It is not an event or a verb. Therefore, invitation wording such as "...when "X" is called up to the Torah...as a Simchat Mitzvah" or "...to celebrate "X" becoming a Bat/Bar Mitzvah..." are the preferred phrases to be used. The Rabbi will gladly discuss the appropriateness of wording before you order your invitations.

Services begin promptly on Shabbat mornings at 10:00 am. Please indicate these exact times on your invitation and urge your relatives and guests to be on time. The morning service lasts approximately two hours.

Just as becoming a Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah has social implications for their families, so it does for your children and their classmates. Students who are not invited to services of their classmates not only do not see what happens at these services, they may also feel excluded from the group. Even if your child is not friendly with all of their classmates, there is a certain sense of camaraderie that develops when classmates attend one another's services. To encourage inclusion and promote community, the Temple Sinai staff, and School Committee recommend, if possible, that families invite all students enrolled in 7th grade to their B'nai Mitzvah. While you are free to do as you think appropriate, if you are going to invite most of the class, please consider including everyone to prevent hurt feelings. You might also consider inviting the B'nai Mitzvah tutor as well as your child's teacher(s).

Our Sanctuary holds 250 people. With the partition open, the flexible space can accommodate 100 additional chairs and will be used when the expected guest number exceeds 250 to make it safer and more comfortable.

Space for babysitting is available every Shabbat. If you expect to offer this to your guests, let the Executive Director know in advance so a classroom may be made available for your use.

17. RECEPTION ALTERNATIVES

The function accompanying a B'nai Mitzvah should be an extension of the religious ceremony itself. It should have the character of a Se'udah Shel Mitzvah -- a meal celebrated in honor of a mitzvah, considered to be part of that mitzvah. There is no requirement for an elaborate affair.

After the date of the B'nai Mitzvah has been set, there are many decisions to be made in terms of how and where you will celebrate the occasion. It is important to reserve the space that you will require at the synagogue as soon as possible by contacting the Executive Director. This assures that the Temple does not assign the space for another program or event.

A deposit is required with the signed contract, and all Temple fees, including current membership pledges, must be paid in full sixty days prior to the event.

There are several reception alternatives from which to choose for your celebration. At the conclusion of a Shabbat morning service, you may opt for:

- A stand-up kiddush in the Temple lobby or classroom (as simple as challah and juice)
- A luncheon or light kiddush at the Temple ending by 2:30 pm.
- An afternoon reception at the Temple or another location following the service and ending by 4:00 pm.
- A kiddush at the Temple immediately following the service and an evening party at the Temple or at another location.

If you choose to have an erev Shabbat (Friday evening) service, you will be able to celebrate at the congregational Oneg Shabbat following the erev Shabbat service. No more than one Friday night B'nai Mitzvah service will be scheduled each month, subject to the following parameters:

- The number of invited guests is limited to 100
- Entertainment is not be allowed
- The Oneg Shabbat must be open to all members of the congregation. All tables must be open to all members of the congregation
- Hot food may not be served at the Oneg Shabbat
- Alcoholic beverages will not be allowed (except for Kiddush wine)
- Personal decorations will not be allowed anywhere in the Temple. Floral centerpieces are permitted at the Oneg Shabbat

- Guests are asked to dress in a respectful manner, using attire that would be worn on Shabbat morning as a guideline

18. LOGISTICS AND PLANNING TOOLS

Once you are assigned your date, determine what events will be included in your celebration – erev Shabbat (Friday evening) dinner, Kiddush (what kind, how big), catered luncheon, catered evening event, informal party, etc.

Set a budget. If desired, make an appointment to see the Executive Director for help with your planning.

Keeping a file folder or notebook may be helpful for planning purposes. Keep notes of your conversations with the Executive Director and your vendors. Keep copies of your contracts, menus, etc. Include a copy of your guest list so you can add (or subtract) when someone comes to mind.

Your computer is a wonderful tool for keeping lists and ideas, etc. Use a spreadsheet for your budget and guest list and you can change things easily; keep track of RSVPs, gifts, thank you notes, etc. But keep hard copies of everything in the folder and keep the folder with you.

Planning a simcha, especially if it's the first one, can cause anxiety. Keep a small notepad and pen on your night table. If an idea comes to you in the middle of the night, write it down on the notepad and then you'll be able to go back to sleep!

19. DOUBLE B'NAI MITZVAH AND USE OF TEMPLE FACILITIES

Due to the size of the congregation, you may be sharing the date with another family. The Executive Director will try to accommodate both arrangements, if at all possible. If not, it is Temple policy that the first deposit received gets preference for renting the hall. Problems can arise with regard to conflicting demands for the Temple facilities. To alleviate any difficulties:

- Cooperation is the key to success in double B'nai Mitzvah.
- The Rabbi will invite both families to a meeting to introduce the families and address any questions or concerns they may have. Communicate with your paired family throughout the planning stages of the Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah.
- You may want to make joint arrangements, such as, purchasing kippot, service programs, or even having a shared Kiddush luncheon.
- Plan Ahead. It is a good idea to plan each aspect of your Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah a little sooner than you otherwise would, because you are somewhat dependent on another family and need to coordinate your efforts.
- Avoid Conflicts. For example, if your children have the same circle of friends, consider hosting a joint reception at the Temple or hold your receptions at different times.
- If both families reserve the Temple facilities for the same day, and if one family requires a kosher caterer, that need takes precedence. The Executive Director must be notified when the contract is signed if you will be using a kosher caterer.

20. FACILITY RENTAL AND REGULATIONS

The Executive Director is your contact about fees, use of the building and facilities, floor plans, and instructions to the custodians. She is also responsible for coordinating the many activities happening on any given weekend so that potential conflicts are anticipated and resolved in advance. The Executive Director will work with you to ensure that your function is as trouble free as possible.

If the family of a Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah wishes to use any part of the Temple facility for a luncheon, afternoon reception, or evening reception, contact the Executive Director as soon as possible and request a contract. The Executive Director will discuss the fee schedule and explain how to make the necessary arrangements. Once you have received your contract, you must send the signed contract with your deposit to secure the hall.

Caterers

Temple Sinai has a list of approved caterers you may choose from when using the Temple facilities. Caterers not on the list are not permitted to use the kitchen facility. Please see the Executive Director for the most current list and inform her once you have made your choice.

Decorators, Florists, DJ's and Bands

There are certain restrictions that apply to decorators, florists, DJ's and bands. Please refer to the "House Rules" for a complete list and be sure that you and the people you hire understand and observe them. Special attention should be given to the list below as some of these items can potentially be dangerous for your guests.

The following items are prohibited and cannot be used during a function:

- Lit candles that are not in an enclosed container, except for ritual purposes or a candle lighting ceremony.
- Confetti or glitter placed on the tables or thrown onto the floors.
- Items given away or distributed which invite breakage or careless destruction, including (but not limited to) shakers with small pieces inside of them, and beaded, breakable necklaces.
- Fog and/or smoke machines.
- Decorations of any kind should not be placed on the walls or hung from the ceiling.
- Gaffers or duct tape must not be applied to any painted surfaces, including walls, molding, doors, etc.

If excessive clean-up is needed, and/or the custodial staff is required to work over the allotted time, the additional expense will be the responsibility of the B'nai Mitzvah family. Expenses incurred as a result of failure to comply with the above rules will be the responsibility of the B'nai Mitzvah family. The full set of House Rules including use of the Temple facilities and kitchen, is available from the Executive Director and will accompany any contract.

21. OUTSIDE VENDORS

Talk to outside vendors as soon as possible and sign contracts with your caterer, band or DJ, venue (if you are having an outside party), hotel accommodations for your guests, etc. Vendors expect a deposit when the contract is signed and expect payment in full prior to the event or at the time of delivery. Vendor contracts (caterers, florists, decorators, musicians, linen rentals, photographers, etc.) are negotiated privately between you and your vendors and are payable directly by you.

22. FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS

All financial obligations (membership support, tuition, b'nai mitzvah fees, book fees, Building Fund) to Temple Sinai must be current sixty days prior to the date of your simcha. Any problems or special situations should be discussed immediately with the Executive Director or Temple President.

B'nai Mitzvah* Fee

A B'nai Mitzvah fee is paid by the parents to help defray the costs of tutoring sessions, materials, Head Usher(s), and a DVD of your service. This fee will appear on your Temple bill after a date has been assigned. These fees may be paid monthly as far out as 1 or 2 years before your child's event but must be paid in full at least 60 days before the date of the service. A notice will be sent to you when the fees have been added to your bill. You can contact the Executive Director to get the exact amount of the B'nai Mitzvah fee for the year of your ceremony.

Facilities Fees

Facilities fees cover the costs of using space at the synagogue if you choose to use it for your simcha. These fees cover the use of tables and chairs, and the set up and breakdown of the space. The fee also includes your caterer's use of the dumpster. A deposit will be required at the time of signing the contract, and the remaining balance, including security deposit, is due sixty days prior to the event.

Security Deposit

You will be asked to pay a security deposit which is usually refunded in full after your simcha. If, however, there is damage to the building or the custodians are required to work overtime, the expense(s) will be deducted from the deposit before it is refunded.

Security Detail

Depending on the size of your function, the planned activities and/or whether you are serving alcohol, a police/security detail may be requested by the Executive Director, per Temple policy. This helps ensure the safety of your guests. You will be responsible for the expense, which is scheduled for a minimum of 4 hours.

MAZON, The Jewish Response to Hunger

Temple Sinai has a policy that any time food is served for an event, 3% of the cost will be donated to MAZON, which is an organization that works to fight hunger. For B'nai Mitzvah facility rentals, your contribution is $36.00, which Temple Sinai sends to MAZON directly with you being credited for the donation.

APPENDIX A

A FEW SUGGESTIONS TO MAKE YOUR SIMCHA SPECIAL

One of the most important Jewish values is an ongoing commitment to tzedakah, to providing for others in need. This is especially so at the time of Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah, when our children are literally inundated with gifts. In order to remind them of the significance of generosity, thoughtfulness and human concern for others, B'nai Mitzvah students are expected to participate in a social action project of their choice.

Some additional opportunities for making your simcha special are listed below. Feel free to ask the Rabbi, Cantor, Director of Education, or Executive Director for their suggestions or input.

- Create interesting table centerpieces using items (toys, books, toiletries, etc.), which will later be distributed to a charity of your choice.
- Give 3% of the cost of the event to MAZON, The Jewish Response to Hunger (see the Rabbi for details). All licensees of temple facilities are automatically charged $36.00 that is sent to MAZON.
- Ask your caterer to package any leftover food for the temple's monthly delivery to MainSpring House or arrange for delivery to another shelter.
- Make a donation to tzedakah (sacred giving) by contributing to Temple Sinai's many funds. This is a wonderful way to honor and/or thank your ushers, bimah guest or others who may have participated in your service. A sample donation form is included.
- Contribute toward specific needs of Temple Sinai. Examples include: new prayer books, Torah commentaries, religious artworks, school equipment, ritual objects, etc. The Rabbi, Cantor, Director of Education or Executive Director will have the best knowledge of what are Temple Sinai's specific needs.
- Purchase an engraved leaf or boulder for the Temple Sinai Tree of Life in honor of the child as a fitting remembrance of a simcha. Offer grandparents to do the same. A sample donation form is included.
- Contribute to the Rabbi's Discretionary Fund, the Cantor's Music Fund, or to the Religious School Fund as a way to recognize the care and guidance of our clergy and teachers.
- Sponsor the erev Shabbat (Friday evening) congregational Oneg Shabbat in honor of this special occasion.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF AN USHER AT TEMPLE SINAI

Thank you for helping us with ushering! We hope you enjoy the service!

1. It is the responsibility of the ushers to seat congregants and guests prior to the beginning of the service, provide a prayer book and escort (if necessary) to available seats those who arrive after the service has begun. Our Shabbat morning service begins promptly at 10:00 am. Please arrive no later than 9:30 am and check in with the Head Usher for instructions. Once the service begins, the ushers should oversee the doors to the lobby.
2. Welcome worshippers as they enter the sanctuary from the lobby with a smile and “Shabbat Shalom” or other appropriate greeting.
3. Siddurim (prayer books) in the main sanctuary are located in the book holders on the backs of the pews or under the seats. If there are seats set up in the space behind the sanctuary, hand a siddur (prayer book) from the bookcase to each person who takes a seat in this area.
4. Occasionally, there are handouts to be distributed to congregants and guests as they enter. These will be found on top of the siddur (prayer book) cabinet.
5. A few large print siddurim (prayer books) for those who are visually impaired and hearing loops for those who are hard of hearing are available. The large print prayer books are in the siddur (prayer book) cabinet by the door. The hearing loops can be obtained from the Head Usher in the sound cabinet. Please be sure to collect them after the service and return them to the Head Usher.
6. Please prevent people from blocking the entrance and try to encourage them to enter the sanctuary and be seated. About five minutes before the service is to begin, ask people to be seated by telling them, “The Rabbi requests everyone be seated, as the service is about to begin.” Throughout the service, no one should be permitted to enter the sanctuary during times when the congregation is standing.
7. Young people who are not escorted by a parent or guardian are to be seated in small groups, if possible. Anyone whose behavior, in your opinion, is disruptive, continually distracting to others, or shows deliberate disrespect to the synagogue, the service, or any of its participants, may be asked by you to move to another location or to remove himself or herself from the sanctuary. Your verbal request for cooperation and compliance should be reasonable and clear. There should be no touching or contact by you when asking anyone to move or to leave the sanctuary.
8. A first aid kit (band-aids, etc.) is located in the custodian’s office next to the kitchen. In an emergency, the telephone in the custodian’s room next to the kitchen is available. Also, the custodian is available for emergencies in the building—toilets overflowing, etc. Emergency phone numbers are also posted in the custodian’s office.

APPENDIX D

DIRECTIONS FOR HAGBAH AND GELILAH

Procedure for Hagbah

The Rabbi will make sure the Torah scroll is rolled open so that three columns of script are visible. A seam attaching two sections of parchment should also be visible, preferably centered, so that it may absorb any stress that may occur when the scroll is lifted.

With one hand on each of the bottom atzei chayim (wooden handles), slide the Torah scroll toward you until it is halfway off the table. Then, bending the knees, apply leverage downward. Bring the scroll to an upright position and lift it upward as you straighten yourself up. Holding the Torah aloft, if you can, turn your body in all directions, or at least somewhat to the right and left, so that the Torah script can be seen by everyone in the congregation. The whole purpose of this ritual is to enable the congregation to see the Torah script.

The congregation will sing. Then, sit down in a seat prepared for you on the bimah and let the one who is to do Gelilah take over the dressing of the Torah. After that person is through dressing the Torah, remain seated, holding the Torah, until it is taken from you.

At that point, you may shake hands with others on the bimah and return to your seat.

Procedure for Gelilah

To do Gelilah, simply take hold of the atzei chayim (wooden handles) at the top of the open scroll and roll them together. Then take the gartel (sash) and bind it around the Torah; the gartel (sash) should be placed about two-thirds up the scroll. There are many kinds of sashes. Just make sure that the bow or the buckle is set at the front of the Torah, facing the person holding it.

Now place the mantle on the Torah, making sure that the front of the mantle is aligned with the front of the scroll. If there is a silver choshen (breastplate), put it on next over the mantle. There is also a yad (the pointer) which is usually in the shape of a closed hand with a pointing finger. Slip that over one of the eitz chayim (wooden handle). Place the two rimonim (finials) on last.

When you are through dressing the Torah, you may kiss it if you wish. Shake hands with others on the bimah and return to your seat.

APPENDIX E-1 – WELCOME! GUEST INSTRUCTIONS

Welcome! You are being invited to an event in Temple Sinai's sanctuary.

The words above our Ark mean,
“Know before Whom you stand.” In that spirit, please:

- Participate in our service.
- Come dressed modestly.
- Turn off all phones and other electronic devices before entering.
- Do not chew gum or bring food into the sanctuary.

Welcome to Temple Sinai

Temple Sinai of Sharon is a Reform congregation that is a house of worship, study, and community. Most importantly, it is a place where its members, both adults and children, develop lasting relationships. Our community is a diverse one—young and older; families with children, couples without children, people with varied levels of Jewish knowledge and observance, interfaith families, and people who identify as gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender. Our core values are: prayer to God, learning Torah, ethics and social action for all humanity, inclusiveness in our community, and compassion.

Please turn off any cell phones or pagers while in the sanctuary, and there is no applause or photography during prayer services.

What Jewish symbols adorn the sanctuary?

As you look around the room, there are many symbols of Judaism. Following tradition, our sanctuary is oriented towards the East, facing the city of Jerusalem. For the call to worship (Barchu) and for the central prayer (T'filah), the prayer leaders will turn towards the Ark to face Jerusalem. In this way, we connect ourselves spiritually to the Jewish homeland.

The Bimah

The dias where the shelichei tzibur (prayer leaders) stand is called the bimah. It is elevated gradually up to the Ark which holds the scrolls of the Torah (the Five Books of Moses). When we go up to the Torah, it is called in Hebrew an aliyah, which literally means “ascension.” The words of the Torah (not the physical scroll itself) exist on a higher spiritual plane to which we ascend. For Jews, sacred study is a dialogue with God.

The Aron Kodesh (Holy Ark)

The Ark houses the scrolls of the Torah, reminiscent of the Ark that traveled with Moses and the Israelites through the wilderness. On top of the Ark, the Hebrew inscription reads, Da lifnei mi atah omeid - “Know before Whom you stand.” When we are in the sanctuary, we stand before God, the Torah, and each other, each taking responsibility for the other.

The Neir Tamid (Eternal Light)

Hanging above the Ark is the neir tamid, or “eternal light.” It shines continuously, day and night. It represents the presence of God which is eternal. “Light is sown for the righteous” (Psalm 97:11).

In Memory

On the walls on either side of the pews are memorial boards with the names of loved ones who have died. Next to their names are small lights, and these are lit during the week of the yahrzeit (anniversary) of a person's death.

How do I follow along with the prayer service?

The Reform worship service is designed to include all. In front of you are two different kinds of books: a siddur (a prayer book) and a chumash (a book of the weekly readings from the Torah and Prophets). Many Hebrew-English books go from right to left, which is the direction of the Hebrew language.

We strongly encourage participation. Please join in singing! You are invited to join in the English and Hebrew readings. Transliterations of the Hebrew are available in the prayer book.

What are the parts of the Jewish prayer service?

There are five basic parts to a Jewish prayer service. (The exception is the Afternoon Shabbat Havdalah service which excludes #2.)

- 1) Introductory blessings and songs.
- 2) The Call to Worship (Barchu), the Shema and V'ahavta, and their surrounding blessings, which declare the unity of God
- 3) The Tefilla, or central prayer in the name of our ancestors
- 4) The Torah service and/or sermon
- 5) Concluding prayers, including the Mourner's Kaddish

What does the rite of Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah mean?

The word mitzvah means a commandment from God. When children turn 13, they are old enough to live by God's commandments. The prophet Micah summarized these commandments when he said, "Do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with your God." (Micah 6:8)

Becoming B'nai Mitzvah (responsible for the commandments) means a person is no longer a child and on their way to becoming an adult. The student's preparation includes studying to lead prayer, writing a short sermon on the Torah portion of the week, and doing some form of tzedakah or philanthropic action for the community.

Temple Sinai of Sharon Special Funds and Donations

Temple Sinai has a long heritage of tzedakah consistent with our Jewish tradition to express charity, feelings of sorrow and joy. Giving a monetary contribution is appropriate at any time as an act of tzedakah, but especially at times of birthdays, bar and bat mitzvah, weddings, anniversaries, births and deaths. Your generosity, large and small, sustains Temple Sinai, its members, and the community.

A beautiful card will be sent acknowledging your gift. You may mail this form with your check payable to Temple Sinai. This will ensure that your donation is acknowledged in a timely fashion. If you prefer to donate by credit card, please do so through the ShulCloud system.

A minimum donation of $10 is suggested, unless otherwise noted. Gifts to multiple funds may be included on a single check. See reverse for fund descriptions.

Dear B'nai Mitzvah Parent / Parents,

As you prepare for your family's Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah service, we want to help in sharing the news of your simcha with our Temple Sinai family through a brief profile of your child in Temple Sinai's bi-monthly publication The Shofar.

Would you please take a few minutes to fill out this form about your child, or you can send me the information as a text in an e-mail along with a high-res picture, to jgolden6335@gmail.com.

If your child's Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah is in Israel, we would still like to have their profile in our publication.

Bar/Bat/Simchat Mitzvah's Name: (as you want it to appear)

Parents' (Parent's) Name/s: (as you want it to appear)
