BEYOND THE BOOK

“Oh” and “Ooh”

The vowels וָ and וּ are both built on the letter vav. If your child is having difficulty telling the two letters apart, give him or her this helpful Hebrew hint:

וָ The dot is “oh”-ver the letter.

וּ The dot is in the letter’s stomach and it says “ooh.”

Holding Your Kiddush Cup

The simple act of holding a Kiddush cup can teach us a lesson! Usually, we hold a cup by putting our hand around it. Some people, however, hold their Kiddush cup by balancing the cup on the palm of their hand and bringing their fingers around the base to secure it. What does this teach us? During the week we seem to face the world with our knuckles out, protecting ourselves and closing ourselves off from others. But on Shabbat we are reminded to face the world with our palms open to others and to the beauty of the world around us.
