From the Executive Director

DAVID BASS | DBASS@BETHSHOLOMFREDERICK.ORG

I had the opportunity to attend the Conservative/Masorti movement Convening in Baltimore in the first week of December. This gathering brought together Clergy, Staff and Congregants of our movement first with a Shabbaton and then a three-day conference. I found the experience powerful, meeting great people and connecting further to our movement.

We had a full five choices for davening on Saturday morning and I made sure to spend some time in most of these services including Israeli Shabbat Experience and a Song-Filled Contemplative Pray Space. I did though skip Yoga for Shabbat because I wasn't sure how comfortable I'd be doing yoga in my khakis and button down. One unique experience that stays with me was a Sermon Slam, organized by our movement's new Exploring Judaism Digital Hub (exploringjudaism.org). A Rabbinical student from JTS gave a powerful drash about Esau, that stretched much of my own thinking on the Jacob/Esau binary. We dismiss the experience of Esau too easily, and I look forward to reading these parshot with a sharper analysis in the years ahead.

On Shabbat afternoon, I was also really pleased to attend a session called Queer Torah. In some ways, it reminded me of my experiences more than a decade ago attending retreats and Queer Shabbatons with the Jewish LGBT organization Nehirim (which unfortunately no longer exists). I am grateful that the Conservative/Masorti movement is a diverse one. To be able to sit together with other queer Jews learning Torah on Shabbat afternoon is affirming and powerful.

Perhaps my greatest highlight of the whole Convening was meeting the author, podcaster and professor Mark Oppenheimer. When Tom and I first moved to Frederick in 2017, I had a 90-minute commute to York Pennsylvania most days to my job as York College Hillel Director. Podcasts helped make the commute more doable—or at least that's what I told myself. Tablet Magazine's funny and lively Unorthodox podcast hosted at the time by Mark Oppenheimer (with his colleagues Stephanie Butnick and Liel Leibovitz) always kept me laughing and thinking about Jewish life. At the Convening, Oppenheimer gave a talk entitled Judaism + Technology: How the people of the book can avoid becoming the people of Zoom. He spoke about the importance of in-person community and some of the dangers of continued reliance on zoom. As much as technology helped our communities during the worst of the pandemic, Oppenheimer laid out the ways that we need to ensure our community bonds are reestablished and maintained. He has seen how an overreliance on zoom hindered the Jewish development of his youngest children including the sadness he felt when his son lost memory of the Shabbat melodies that he had been singing as a toddler.

While I am not fully convinced that our own shul is over reliant on zoom, we must continue to remember the ways that Jewish community is based in our davening, dinners and debates that we experience most powerfully face to face.

It would be a joy to be together with Beth Sholom members at a future Convening. Look out for more information from me about this in the next year.

As always, I look forward to seeing each of you at shul this month. Our community is stronger with your presence!

All my best,
David

News from Namutumba, Uganda

THE ABAYUDAYA JEWS

Tabitha is a 94-year-old young woman in the Uganda village. Each day during my visit in the community, she would be greet me by grabbing my arms and doing a happy dance with me, face shining, a bright smile on her face. (Tabitha didn't speak a word of English, so this is how we communicated).

One day, I saw Tabitha taking a nap on the ground. I thought she was simply enjoying the sun and would go home to her bed at night. Then I found out that Tabitha had never slept on a bed in her life and that she slept on the ground every night. I mentioned this to one of our donors, who generously donated the money for a bed for Tabitha and one of the residents of Namutumba, who has a slightly larger home with an extra room offered her the room for the bed. Now, Tabitha sleeps on a bed – and she is so happy! This is the work of EZRA UGANDA ASSISTANCE! If you would like to know more about our work, visit www.ezrauganda.org.

Shalom!

Religious School News

DR. JENNIFER NEWFELD | RSPrincipal@BethShalomFrederick.org

We are looking forward to seeing everyone back from a restful winter break on Sunday, January 7th. The middle of the month brings us the holiday of Tu B'Shvat - the 15th of the month of Shvat. Read on to see 15 things you can do with your family to celebrate the holiday for the trees. And 2nd - 5th grade parents, please plan to join us on January 28th to spend time learning with your child about the meaning of their name during our annual family learning program.

Jennifer

15 THINGS TO DO FOR TU BISHVAT

1. Plant a tree here or in Israel.
2. Have a Tu B'Shvat party, ask each guest to bring a different fruit to taste, make fruit art platters, fruit and nut charcuterie boards or fruit skewers.
3. Make a meal using as many of the 7 species of Israel as possible.
4. Read a book about trees and/or the environment.
5. Plant parsley and harvest it for your Passover seder.
6. Make art using recycled materials.
7. Create a family checklist of ways you can save energy in your home.
8. Have a Tu B'Shvat Seder.
9. Have a family discussion about the important of trees & our environment.
10. Spend the day at a park or go for a hike.
11. Buy a reusable grocery bag and say no to paper and plastic bags.
12. Watch a video about Tu B'Shvat (bimbam has several).
13. Make fruit filled breads or desserts.
14. Learn about how trees communicate.
15. Research invasive species in your neighborhood and organize a clean up.

BINGO VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Volunteering at Bingo is both a great way to help the finances of the congregation and to get to know both the broader Frederick community and Beth Sholom congregants. It's great way to meet new people, and have fun while also helping our community. Please get in touch with Marcia Newfeld (Mknewfeld1251@gmail.com) or Sharon Edelstein (smabeg@gmail.com) about volunteering.

WE WANT TO KNOW....

Are you under the weather? Do you know someone who is? Please let us know. We want to reach out! If a member of our community is sick or in need of a call or visit, please call David in the office at 301-663-3437 or email us at bethsholom@bethsholomfrederick.org. We need their names in order to say a Mi Sheberach (prayer for all those in need of healing) from the bima on Shabbat. If you know their and their mothers' Hebrew names, please give us this information also. Please help to keep us informed because we care about you.

BETH SHOLOM CONGREGATION JOINS THE GARDEN OF REMEMBRANCE

Beth Sholom has become the 29th Partner Congregation at the Garden of Remembrance Memorial Park in Clarksburg, Maryland.

For over 20 years, the Garden of Remembrance (Gan Zikaron) Memorial Park has become an integral part of the fabric – and a true landmark – for the entire Washington Jewish community, the area's only community-based, non-profit Jewish cemetery. Beth Sholom has two new sections at Gan Zikaron including an interfaith section.

Explore the many benefits of pre-planning for you or your family. For more information, call 301-428-3000, or visit www.gardenofremembrance.org.
