Rabbi Michael Robinson Memorial Lecture with Rabbi Elizabeth Richman (Rabbi’s Tisch)

Friday, August 9, 6:15 pm
$18 suggested donation for the catered dinner, please RSVP to the office.

Rabbi Elizabeth Richman is a senior leader in the field of Jewish social justice and leadership development. As Rabbi in Residence and Deputy Director at Jews United for Justice (tagline: Think Jewishly. Act Locally), she has spent the last 10 years helping Jewish communities raise their voices through civic engagement to advocate for economic, social, and racial equality.

Rabbi Richman has served on the boards of Interfaith Worker Justice, DC Jobs with Justice, and the Rabbinical Assembly’s Social Justice Commission, and has taught about Judaism and justice around the world from Qatar to Quebec and beyond. Read more at cstsr.org.

Warm up for the Holy Days - S’lichot with Joel Ben Izzy!
Saturday, September 21, 7:00 PM

Storyteller Joel ben Izzy will be returning to Congregation Shomrei Torah to share S’lichot and High Holy Day themed tales, both traditional and modern. Join us for a fun, participatory way to ease into the Holy Days, including the changing of the Torah mantles to Holy Day white, havdallah and a sweet nosh for a sweet New Year!

For over thirty-five years, Joel ben Izzy has traveled the globe, gathering and telling tales, from Tel Aviv to Tokyo, Paris to Petaluma, and Chelm to Chotzenplotz. He has recorded six award-winning CDs and is the author of two highly acclaimed books, The Beggar King and The Secret of Happiness (Algonquin, 2003) and Dreidels on the Brain (Dial, 2016). Always a popular Shomrei Torah guest, we are delighted to welcome him back to help us kick off 5780!

Creating Sacred Space: A Jewish Mindfulness Meditation Program

Please RSVP to the office.

Single Session: $8 CST Members / $12 Non-Members
Series (15 Sessions): $80 CST Members / $120 Non-Members

All are welcome regardless of ability to pay.

Are we happy? Are we living the life we want to live?

Mindfulness Meditation is the practice of cultivating our attention to the present moment. As we learn to quiet our minds, we see our truth more clearly, and open a path to living a fuller, happier, healthier life. Jewish Mindfulness adds the teachings of our tradition to deepen the meditative experience.

This course, led by Rabbi George Gittleman, will include teaching, meditation instruction, and periods of silence. By practicing together, we’ll enhance our ability to listen to the voice within and expand our sense of interconnectedness. The seasons of the Jewish calendar will serve a guiding theme, to deepen the meditative experience. No previous experience is necessary.

A graduate of the Jewish Spiritual Leaders Institute’s Jewish Mindfulness Meditation Teacher Training Program, Rabbi George has developed both Buddhist and Jewish meditative practices over the past two decades. Where indicated on the schedule, sessions will feature a guest leader.

The summer Torah readings are all b’midbar, in the wilderness, part of the story of our ancient ancestors’ mythic 40-year trek from Egypt to the Promised Land. Most of the story is laid out in the Book of Numbers (the Hebrew name is actually B’midbar). Some of Numbers is captivating, like the story of Bilam and his talking donkey, and other parts of the book are, well… pretty boring, like all the censuses: the lists of the names of all the tribes and how many people were in each tribe.

There is also the description of the details of the mishkan, the portable sanctuary that traveled with them on their journey. I sometimes strain to stay awake when I am reading these details, but this time a certain material used as covering for part of the mishkan caught my attention: dolphin skins. What were they doing with dolphin skins? How did they acquire them in the wilderness?

Many years ago one of my Bat Mitzvah students found a beautiful, modern midrash that explains how and why the dolphin skins came to be part of the mishkan.

“Many years ago one of my Bat Mitzvah students found a beautiful, modern midrash that explains how and why the dolphin skins came to be part of the mishkan.”

Reeds was an amazing and bewildering sight. The rush of the water as two walls were formed almost knocked the fleeing Israelites off their feet! Walking through the sea was like being in the tallest and narrowest canyon you could ever imagine, but the cliffs were made not of rock but of water that seemed like it could collapse on them at any moment! Overwhelmed and paralyzed with fear, the Israelites might not have moved were it not for dolphins who, upon seeing how frightened and stuck the Israelites were, swam to the edge of the walls of water and used their fins to urge and guide them on their way.

Thanks to the dolphins, the Israelites made it safely to the other side, but the cost was great: the dolphins died of exhaustion. When the sea returned, the Israelites found the limp and lifeless bodies of the dolphins washed upon the shore. To honor their guides and rescuers for their help and courage, the Israelites used their skins as part of the covering of the Tent of Meeting, the mishkan.

As quaint as it is, this story makes me think about our current humanitarian crisis at our southern border. Scared, traumatized, bewildered people in dire need of food and shelter are instead met with barricades, checkpoints, and incarceration. A compassionate and righteous people would send social workers and doctors, not the National Guard.

Yes, we need a secure border, but surely we can help the thousands of people coming to us in desperate need without endangering the nation.

In stark contrast to the current refugee crisis, upon their arrival to Ellis Island our grandparents and great-grandparents were welcomed with these lines by the Jewish poet Emma Lazarus that are etched on the base of the Statue of Liberty:

“Keep, ancient lands, your storied pomp!” cries she
With silent lips. “Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!”

The “Golden Door” opened for us and millions like us and we in turn helped to make America great. The “Golden Door” is currently barred shut and a wall is waiting. As Jews and as Americans, we can’t let that happen.

Congregation Shomrei Torah | (707)578-5519 | shomrei@cstsr.org
The Talmud raises questions about “Holy Men” pronouncing the “meaning” of a disaster. This narrative section of the Talmud, in the words of Julia Watts Belser, “overturns expected hierarchies of gender, piety, and social status to challenge the theological significance of hunger, suffering, and abundance.” She writes, “These narratives blunt the moral condemnation inherent in disaster – and suggest that blessing often lies beneath the surface of apparent misfortune.” Ahead of Viktor Frankl, who taught, “When we are no longer able to change a situation, we are challenged to change ourselves,” the Talmud asserts that an interpretation of events exercises a powerful influence over experience.

Students must purchase the Koren Talmud Bavli Noé, Vol.12: Ta’anit/Megilla, Hebrew/English, print (several versions) or PDF.

Welcome Angelica Steinman,
CST’s new Administrative Assistant

Next time you call the office, you will hear Angelica’s chipper voice greet you and direct your call. Angelica will now be taking RSVP’s, scheduling rabbi meetings, and keeping our database up to date. We are excited to welcome Angelica.

Current Office Staff:
Denise Harrison, Temple Liaison: (707)578-5519

We are thrilled to inform you that Denise is taking on a new role at CST: Temple Liaison. Denise is the de-facto historian, often the first person to welcome new congregants, and the first to know when someone is having a hard time or in need of assistance.

Although Denise will no longer be answering the phone, she will be at Shabbat services, temple events, and holiday celebrations ready to greet and assist you. Denise will also be helping to connect new members to one another, coordinating volunteer opportunities and looking after existing members. We are incredibly excited about this new role for Denise!

Julie Hash, Rabbinic Assistant: ra@cstsr.org

If you have any questions concerning your financial account at CST, Julie is the go-to person. She is in charge of pledges and billings. Also, if you want to get an item or article into the Voice, Chai-Lites or the website, send to Julie. Finally, if you have a question regarding Religious School or the B’nei Mitzvah Program, Julie is the person to direct your inquiry.

Seraphima Chisler,
Administrative Assistant: aa@cstsr.org

If you are trying to schedule a class, program or get-together at the temple and need a space, Seraphima is in charge of the temple facility use calendar. If you notice that something is broken, dirty, or not working properly, Seraphima is our facilities guru. Seraphima is also taking the lead on food and details for Tishers, holidays, and programs. All food concerns and compliments should come to Seraphima.

The CST Judaica shop has many new items for the upcoming High Holy Days as well as gifts for weddings, B’nei Mitzvahs and even some fun items for host/hostess gifts. Watch the Chai-lites for upcoming special sale dates, or come by the office during business hours and check it out.
Recycling and L’Dor V’Dor

By Eli Nadler-Block, Shomrei Torah teen and STaRS madrichim

I recently had the opportunity to go with Rick Reisman, the head of Congregation Shomrei Torah’s Environmental Action Committee, to visit the local Recology recycling center and take a tour to see what happens to our waste and to learn what we all can do to help reduce our waste and save our environment.

Recology’s vision is: “to create a world without waste by developing and discovering sustainable resource recovery practices that can be implemented globally.” At Shomrei Torah, we try our best to help them in that goal by using a three-bin system to make sure our waste goes to all the right places.

The Recology center has lines of employees along conveyor belts that sift through the recycling to make sure it all is correctly sorted. These people have to work very hard to ensure that all of our recycling is disposed of properly. When we do our part to sort our waste at CST, it helps make their difficult job easier. Their work can be dangerous because of sharp objects and needles that some people leave in the recycling which is not where they are supposed to go. All the assortment of materials in the recycling bins will be sent to various places around the world to be repurposed.

Office paper, wrapping paper, and packing paper are all recyclable. Paper that is shredded, or soiled (like a greasy pizza box) can be put in the compost, but paper that is waxed has to be put in the landfill. Cardboard can only be recycled if it is not waxed. Not all plastic can be recycled, but plastic bottles, containers, and cups can all be recycled. Even the different types of plastics have to be sorted separately.

You can even leave the caps on plastic bottles. Aluminum cans and steel cans as well as aluminum foil can also be recycled. Yard waste can be put with compost. Electronics, batteries, and fluorescent bulbs are considered e-waste and must be disposed of by taking them to the central disposal site on Mecham Road outside Petaluma.

The best action is to reduce the waste we produce and reuse as much as possible, but all of us have the responsibility to learn how to sort our waste properly at home as well as at Congregation Shomrei Torah. This will help achieve near-zero waste that Recology and all of Sonoma-Marin are striving for. The environment needs everyone’s help to ensure that our planet survives.

Board Wrap up

Once again we covered quite a bit of ground in our June Board meeting. First order of business is changing the frequency of the Voice publication. Instead of 10 issues, we will combine Dec/Jan, Feb/March, June/July and Aug/Sept and keep singular issues to the months of April, May, October and November, which will leave us with 8 issues for the year. There was a unanimous vote to upgrade security at CST—everything from gate upgrades to security training, new signage and more cameras and walkie talkies. In addition, the Board also unanimously approved earthquake insurance.

Great news for those of you with children in religious school. There is a $100 incentive for referring new families and it’s a win-win because it’s both the referring family and the new family that receive the discount.

In recognition of our responsibility to stand up for the human rights of all people, Congregation Shomrei Torah is pleased to endorse the Declaration of Unity by Sonoma County Residents and pledges active participation in the project known as “Sonoma County-United in Kindness.” This project aims to enhance social justice goals being pursued by the Congregation by undertaking actions and learning consistent with our mission and tradition.

Sharon Bauman, our Board President, was elected for another year. We also had our Annual Meeting on June 12 and it was well-attended as well as very informative. Ann DuBay gave a review of the past year and all that has gone on in and outside of our four walls—it was very impressive. The budget was presented by John Weinstein (after a lot of work from our Finance Committee) and it was approved. This talk segued into a presentation of our new fundraising model called Tradition of Giving. Susan Bailyn, our extraordinary graphic artist, has created a beautiful logo that will help to brand our new Tradition of Giving. For those of you who did not attend, please be aware that it takes $3125 per family to run CST and since that amount is more than many families can pay, we have a strong need for fundraising. Our hope is that the Tradition of Giving will allow us to continue to expand programming and serve the congregation, while we maintain our fiscal integrity.

Last but certainly not least we would like to welcome new Board members, Erica Magers and Larry Carlin. We’re very lucky and excited to have them on board. Until next time...
Social Action Wants to Hear from YOU!

Our Social Action Committee is gearing up for the coming fall and the year beyond. We strive to represent the entire congregation and would love to hear what you think. If you have ideas about particular issues, events, speakers, or forums that are of interest to you, please let us know. In addition there are opportunities to serve on the committee, participate occasionally, or just come see what we do. Our next meeting is on August 5th at 7:00pm, no RSVP required, we’d love to see you there.

Please contact the office with your thoughts and opinions!

Consultation on Consciousness

Five Social Action Committee leaders attended the Reform Jewish “Consultation on Consciousness” in Washington D.C. in late May, 2019. Here they are preparing to go to Capitol Hill to Kamala Harris and Mike Thompson’s offices to lobby for two specific bills, representing Shomrei Torah. Motivating, exciting, empowering for all!
For nearly 30 years, Shomrei Torah’s B’nei Mitzvah students plus a variety of unaffiliated Jewish teens have enthusiastically joined Chaverim! Chaverim is the countywide JCCSOCO Jewish Teen Education Program for 8th-12th graders endorsed by our rabbis. Jewish teens from all over the county meet by grade level twice monthly on a weeknight for dinner followed by a great discussion of relevant issues through a “Jewish Lens.”

Register by contacting Rick Concoff, Teen Education Director, at (707)477-9196, concoff@yahoo.com, or visit the “teen tab” at jccsoco.org.

Elisha’s Pantry needs your help!
Every Thursday, 4:00 to 5:30 PM
1717 Yulupa Ave., Santa Rosa

Thirteen years ago, CST partnered with Christ Church United Methodist to open Elisha’s Pantry. A few years later, we were joined by Bethlehem Lutheran Church. All three faith-based organizations send volunteers to work every Thursday, and we are in need of the following:

1. Volunteers to help distribute canned goods, fresh vegetables, fruit and other products — Thursdays starting at 3:00 PM and ending by 5:45 PM — volunteers are always shade and rain protected.
2. Volunteers to pick up items for the Pantry at the Redwood Empire Food Bank in Santa Rosa – Wednesday from 10 AM to Noon - requires transportation vehicle and light lifting of up to 25 lbs.

All volunteers are welcome — families, teens, singles, couples. To sign up or for more information, please call Stephen Harper at (707) 332-2759 or (707) 527-0196. Volunteer dates are assigned as we cannot handle drop-in volunteers.

Sanctuary Hearing Loop

Our Loop Hearing Aid System in the sanctuary is up and running. If you are having trouble connecting your hearing aid to our Loop, please contact Kenwood Hearing Center, they will meet with you and confirm that your hearing aid will work with our system. Please call (707)562-0565 to set up a no-cost meeting.
