FROM THE RABBI

Steven C. Kane

THE BLESSINGS OF COVID 19

There is a chasidic teaching that says that there is nothing that occurs in our lives, no matter how bad or difficult it may be, that does not bring with it some blessings. When that happens, some of the bitterness of our experience is mitigated just a bit. For example, I have taught to many of you that when a loved one dies, they leave behind gifts. Though we would of course rather have them with us, one of those gifts is to bring family and loved ones together. People who have not seen each other for years are often reunited at shiva. That in a sense is the "gift" of our loved one as they leave us.

The same can be said for the terrible pandemic that we have lived through for the past year and many months. There were members of our community who unfortunately died of Covid-19. Others fell ill and feared for their own lives, although they have thankfully now recovered. However it wasn't just those who fell ill. All of us were affected, whether it be through our own health (or a loved one), having to shelter in place for weeks, having to quarantine due to being exposed, missing an important family event and in so many other ways. So we can rightfully ask of this chasidic teaching, "what were the blessings of Covid-19?"

In late May, many of us were privileged to hear an excellent talk by Dr. Jack Wertheimer on how Covid-19 has affected the Jewish community, in particular synagogues. A part of Dr. Wertheimer's talk was devoted to the many positive aspects of the Jewish communal response to the pandemic. One of those was the prediction that synagogues would not be able to cope with the restrictions imposed on them. Actually, as Dr. Wertheimer pointed out, synagogues became very creative and indeed found many different ways to connect with their members. These are among what I would term, "the blessings of Covid-19".

What were some of those blessings?

- We all learned how to meet electronically. I wonder how many of us had ever experienced a Zoom meeting before last March? (I actually had, but only as a tool for long distance learning.)

- * Families began new rituals, such as gathering each Friday night to light candles together on Zoom.

- * We began live-streaming our service. Now anyone can "tune in" if they can't make it to shul.

- People have discovered how important our community is to them, especially when such things as our wonderful weekly sit down Shabbat kiddush had to be canceled (it's coming back in July).

- * We have learned that so much of our lives can be taken for granted, and we have therefore learned to appreciate everything even more.

I am certain there are other blessings that have come out of Covid-19, and if you have some of your own to share, please e-mail me at rabbi@csibriarcliff.org and let me know the blessings you have taken from this very difficult time. The great Talmudic scholar Joni Mitchell once wrote, "Don't it always seem to go that you don't know what you've got till it's gone..." Covid-19 has taught us that we don't have to wait "until it's gone" to know the blessings we have in our lives.

L'hitraot,

CANTORIAL NOTES

Hazzan Jeffrey Shiovitz

Life is beginning to open up and many of us are thinking of going on vacations this summer. My family will be hitting the beach on Cape Cod in the middle of July. We cannot wait! Jewish tradition gives us a prayer to recite upon leaving on a journey. In Hebrew it is called "T'fillat HaDerech." I thought it might be appropriate to speak about it.

Composed in the Talmudic times, "T'fillat HaDerech" gives us the language by which we may ask God to protect us during our trip, to guide us in peace, and to return in good health. It also asks God to bless us with the opportunity to make the most of our trip and enjoy the good will of everyone who we might meet along the way.

Does it work? Is it a guarantee? Who knows? Yet it does give us the opportunity to invite God to be a part of our lives on the road. Just as "T'fillat HaBayit" helps us to make God a part of our homes, "Tefillat HaDerech" helps us to make God a part of our travels. It raises our consciousness about where we are going and what we might encounter. It might inspire us not only to enjoy our destination, but also to remember that with God's help, there might be some small way in which we can make another part of the world a better place.

Take the prayer with you. Say it on the road or in the air. And may all of us enjoy a healthy, peaceful and relaxing vacation.

May it be Your will, dear God
and God of our ancestors,
that You lead us toward peace.
Guide our steps in peace,
and help us to reach our destination
in happiness, good health, and peace.
Keep us from any accidents or sorrows along the way.
Bless us to make the most of what we see and do.
Give us grace, kindness and mercy in the eyes of all who we meet.
God, hear the voice of our prayer.
Blessed are You, O God, who hears our prayer.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Clare Rosen

As I complete my first year as the president of CSI, I want to pause to thank everyone who has worked so hard to keep our beloved synagogue flourishing. To all of you please know how much I appreciate your support for me but more importantly your support and love for CSI. We have remained open throughout the pandemic. I want to personally thank our clergy, Rabbi Kane, Cantor Shiovitz, our educators, led by Libby Spitzer and Naomi Elyachar, our director and office staff, Ellen Johnson, Dina Katz, Jennifer Halperin, Janice Rappaport, and our everything person, Rosita. And I also want to thank the Board of Trustees, the Executive Committee, and all of those who give untold hours to CSI. We are better because of you.

The Encyclopedia Britannica defines a Synagogue, also spelled synagog, in Judaism, as a community house of worship that serves as a place not only for liturgical services but also for assembly and study. Its traditional functions are reflected in three Hebrew synonyms for synagogue: bet ha-tefilla ("house of prayer"), bet ha-kneset ("house of assembly"), and bet ha-midrash ("house of study"). The term synagogue is of Greek origin (synagein, "to bring together") and means "a place of assembly."

Most houses of worship are talking about how to safely bring people back inside. Many are writing reopening plans while others, like CSI, are writing re-entry plans. Reopening is a broad term. CSI is already reopened. We held hybrid services, with attendance both in person and remotely. The Nursery School has remained open all year, either holding classes outdoors or in the building during inclement weather. Other programs, activities and the Religious School have been on Zoom or live streamed. CSI never closed. Re-entry focuses on the transition for those who have been away for an extended period of time. CSI, much more than a Jewish place of worship, is preparing for a return to face-to-face, in-person participation. And for that reason, we are planning to address a variety of needs beyond physical health.

As a place of study and learning, a bet ha-midrash, we have to address our educational programs. Our Religious School students have attended school remotely since March 2020, only coming to the building for a few special programs. Not only will our teachers need to plan how to adapt our new curriculum to in-person lessons, but they will be rebuilding a community of learners who haven't spent time together for more than a year. Some students, traumatized by COVID, will need additional support. Our robust Adult Education programs have also been on Zoom. In reality, the number of programs and attendance at all of these have grown. Will we continue to have remote access to the Adult Education programs?

We have been a functioning House of prayer, a bet ha-tefilla. Minyan, Shabbat and holiday services have been both remote and in person. There are many questions that need to be asked and answered. Will we continue with this same configuration? Will some people remain attending remotely?

And we are a place of assembly, a bet ha-kneset, that needs environment and infection control. Therefore, we are reviewing all of the health and safety measures that CSI implemented during COVID. Do we need to put additional ones in place or not?

We need to address social, emotional, and mental health needs. What supports do the teachers, students, and congregants need? What special considerations do we need to provide for vulnerable populations?

So, I ask you, how are we doing and what additional questions do we need to ask as we plan for re-entry? You can email me questions, ideas, concerns or just introduce yourself. My email address is below.

Please register (on Zoom) for CSI's annual event, which will be held on June 13th. It is a way that you can support CSI. I am looking forward to attending next year's programming in person.

Best,

Clare E. Rosen, President

CSI Community Organic Farm

Regenerative Agriculture Rooted in Jewish Tradition

Greetings from the CSI Community Organic Farm

As you're reading this update we will be anticipating our first significant harvests of the season and have already delivered samples of our herbs to several local venues. Please keep an eye out for email updates regarding the availability of our produce and help support this unique feature of the CSI community by purchasing from us. We will be hosting at least a weekly farm stand for our members and the local community and expect to have some prepared items again from Chef John.

Our new brood of chickens have matured into hens and are providing us with at least a dozen eggs per day. Purchasing these farm fresh heirloom eggs in the CSI office for $6 per dozen is another way you can help support the CSI Farm. Please call the office in advance to confirm availability.

The CSI walking/nature path is expanding and ready for those looking to take a contemplative, relaxing stroll through the woods. Our picnic table area has received a fresh coating of wood chips and would be an inviting area to take a lunch break or have dinner with family.

We've been busy preparing our planting beds by tilling the aisles to return soil to the raised beds and adding a bit of organic fertilizer. The irrigation system is running and the Community Garden is ready for both seasoned and novice gardeners to enjoy the rewards of growing their own food. Please reach out to Jill Greenstein to reserve one of our roughly 3' x 15' beds.

Produce for the season includes bush beans, sweet corn, cucumber, squash, zucchini, chard, bok choy, basil, lettuce, sweet pepper, cherry tomato, regular tomato, fennel, kohlrabi, peas, kale, arugula, sorrel, spinach and dill in addition to our garlic and perennial herbs like chive, oregano, thyme and mint. We'll also be trying to grow a more significant flower crop this year and we'll try supplementing these items with seeded crops started in our new greenhouse. If you have suggestions regarding other vegetables you'd like us to try in the Community Garden please reach out.

Volunteers to help with the various farm chores are always welcome. Prior experience is not necessary. Tasks include harvesting, harvest weighing, order preparation, farm stand set-up, sales, greenhouse management, as well as outdoor labor associated with planting, weeding, pruning, staking and tying.

Looking forward to gathering together soon in person at CSI events.

Stay healthy,

Farmer Dave

FROM THE NURSERY SCHOOL DIRECTOR

Naomi Elyachar

I think it is finally safe to say we have accomplished what seemed unimaginable one year ago. We have nearly completed an immensely challenging school year, and we did not just trudge through and get by-- we also thrived and even stumbled upon some positive and unexpected changes.

It turned out to actually be a beautiful thing to learn and play outside so much. We have all always known it is nice to play outside in warm weather, but it turned out it is also a ton of fun in the snow and when it is wet after a big rain. We also took great advantage of the wonderful large CSI grounds—from the farm to the parking lot to a bunch of cut up logs to yoga near the garden beds, we have had school in many different places this year. In the wake of the racial reckoning our country is going through, we reexamined the books in our school library and fundraised to add books that are current and feature characters and messages that show the diversity in the world around us. We spent time this year thinking about emergent curriculum and how racial justice can be taught in preschool classrooms. In a time when so many were isolated, we connected with one another—students, teachers, and families.

I want to thank everyone who joined me on what seemed to be an insurmountable journey this year. Our teachers jumped headfirst into the challenges this year presented, with frequent pivots and lots of flexibility along the way. The trust our school parents put in my staff and me this year, along with their support and willingness to band together for the good of the community, made me so grateful to be a part of this community. Working together with CSI lay leadership and professional staff helps continue to forge the Nursery School with the greater community and has been a wonderful learning experience. I am so grateful to Rosa and our security team for all of their hard work every day. Dr. Neil Schluger has provided timely and thoughtful guidance throughout the school year and has been so generous with his time and expertise.

Thankfully, in the end, the challenges presented this school year were not actually insurmountable, but were achievable because of everyone's collective commitment. I am grateful that the load was lightened for me by all who have helped and supported CSI Nursery School this year.

FROM THE NURSERY SCHOOL PARENTS ASSOCIATION

Dear CSI Families,

Reflecting back on the past year and a half, it is truly remarkable that we have had our nursery school children in school this entire school year! Thanks to the careful planning, understanding, research and training, the dedicated staff at CSI Nursery School led by the incomparable Naomi Elyachar shepherded us through this unforgettable year. While we did not have the typical school-wide family events that the Parents Association usually plans, we were still able to support each other and the Nursery School staff with a bit more creativity. We look forward to next year with the hopes that things get back to a new normal with some more focus on socializing outside of school to foster the community that CSI Nursery School has promised in the past.

Highlights of this years PA involvement included:

- first day of school coffee meetup
- Rosh Hashanah bags for the students
- quarantine gift bags
- spring mini photo shoot which helped to raise funds towards future educational programming
- Friday morning walking group
- lunch for teacher professional development day
- end of year teacher gifts

Our congratulations go out to our 4's children and their families on graduating from the Nursery School. We wish you the best of luck as you enter kindergarten next year. Thank you to Naomi, Michelle, Emma, Julia, Michele, Maris, Aimee, Caren, Merrie, and Sari for teaching our children with patience, understanding, affection, joy and commitment to the values of early childhood education. How lucky we are to have our children educated by this extraordinary group.

We look forward to seeing you all next year. Feel free to reach out with any thoughts, ideas, and suggestions for our upcoming school year and how the Parents Association can help.

Sincerely,

The CSI Nursery School Parents Association

FROM THE RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

I am thrilled to have been a part of the wonderful Congregation Sons of Israel Religious School this past year. While remaining virtual the entire school year, aside from a few outdoor programs, our students maintained their connection to our community and with each other. That is certainly not an easy task and I am so proud of them all.

Religious School culminated in outdoor programs on our wonderful CSI farm. Our two Religious School Kabbalat Shabbat services took place under beautiful spring skies! The students decorated lovely Shabbat candle holders to use for Shabbat at home while parents got a chance to schmooze and catch up. All of us are very proud of our students who led much of the Shabbat service. We also celebrated Shavuot on the farm with a challenging and fun CSI Commandments Quest. Everyone had a blast searching for clues and following their missions to complete their quests! That very same morning, our Kitah Heh students participated in an awesome activity with USY followed by an incredible graduation service.

We ended the year with another in-person morning on the farm. Students helped David Levitt on the farm and played review games with their teachers. An ice cream truck finished off the year in a very sweet way!

My heart is full as I write this article knowing that Rabbi Kane, Cantor Shiovitz, our teachers and I are all a part of the children's Jewish journey and learning.

OUR JUNE BAR MITZVAH

JOSEPH HENTEL: June 12th

Hi! My name is Joseph Hentel and I will be called to the Torah to become a Bar Mitzvah on June 12th. I am in 7th grade at Briarcliff Middle School. I live at home with my mom, dad and my cat, Snickers. My older sister, Abby, and my brother, Isaac, attend college far away. In my free time, I enjoy playing tennis, hiking and baseball. I also am on the school's track team. I spend a lot of time on the Connecticut shoreline and do a variety of water sports out there as well, like SUP and kayaking. During COVID-19, I learned to enjoy new hobbies such as backgammon, crossword puzzles, the New York Times Spelling Bee and jigsaw puzzles.

For my Bar Mitzvah project, I did two projects and donated all of the money I raised to the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. The reason I donated to the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society is because my Grandma Jeanie died from lymphoma. For my first project, I completed 500 miles of exercise over 7 months with the organization ON3NY. I completed the virtual race across NY State with my mom. We combined biking, hiking and walking miles. We discovered new local places to hike, walked around our neighborhood and on the bike path behind my house. I biked a lot to Dairy Queen when I was at my house in Connecticut, which was an easy 5 mile ride and, of course, the most fun. My mom strongly encouraged me to do this benefit because she told me that with online learning, Madden (X-Box Football) wasn't going to cut it as a substitute for gym class. She said that I could game as much as I wanted to if I participated with her, so it was a win-win all around.

Because my dad and I love to bake and we "hands-down" make THE best pretzels in the world, I baked pretzels Super Bowl Weekend for my second project. I sold them to friends and family. We sold over 150 pretzels. To add to the drama of having to fulfill so many orders, there was a snowstorm and we had to deliver over half of the hot pretzels in the middle of it. Mission accomplished! During COVID-19, we had to be creative with tikkun olam and this was a meaningful way to be productive and to spend quality time with my parents, as I haven't been able to spend much time with other people.

I would like to thank my parents, Jennifer and Keith, my Hebrew School teachers, Cantor Shiovitz and Rabbi Kane for preparing me for my special day. B'Shalom.
