All our best wishes to our friends at Congregation Ner Tamid
for a happy and healthy

5783

Rabbi Cantor Sam Radwine & Wade Sisco

It is hard to believe that the High Holy Days are here. The purpose of these elevated times is for all of us to momentarily halt the relentless pace of modern life and recalibrate our souls. This is a time for forgiveness and togetherness. It is a time for introspection and spiritual accountability. It is a time for celebration and gratitude, as well as a time for our remembrances and commemorations.

On behalf of my family and everyone at the CNT family, wishing us all a happy and healthy new year.

As we say every year in the prayer book:

"May one year end with its curses, and may a novel year commence with boundless blessings. Amen."

Shanah Tovah, with best wishes,
Rabbi Tal Sessler
