Positions Available:*Classroom Teacher for Sundays, 9:15-11:45 am, grades to be determined

Temple Israel Religious School (TIRS) is looking for Sunday morning teachers who want to teach in a dynamic, hands-on learning environment. We provide children in grades K-12 an enriching Jewish experience as they navigate their way through the 21st century. The heart and soul of our Religious School are our students; we give them an incredible Reform Jewish educational foundation and take great pride in knowing that they are excited to be in our school, learning Judaism in a relaxed, casual environment.

We are looking for experienced teachers who have a love of Judaism and a passion for teaching, and who make Jewish learning fun and accessible. Our classes explore Jewish holidays, Torah, Israel, tzedakah, Mitzvot, and Jewish history, instilling a lasting and positive feeling about being Jewish. We also focus on experiential learning opportunities that take Jewish education to a new level by infusing art, cooking, and music into our program.

Hebrew Tutor/Small Group Hebrew Teacher, Mondays-Thursdays, 3:30-6:00 pm, in 1-hour increments.

Temple Israel's Hebrew School is launching a tutoring program where children will have the chance to learn Hebrew in small learning groups. Through individualized attention and a flexible schedule, children in our tutoring program will learn Hebrew letters, vowels and their sounds, how to write in Hebrew, and age-appropriate prayers in preparation for B'nai Mitzvah. Families can choose from multiple scheduling options, and tutors and students will be matched together based on learning style, personality, and schedule. Students will be assessed three times per year by the teacher and director to ensure students are meeting their learning goals.

Apply:

Applicants should be able to read and write Hebrew, chant basic prayers, and understand how to lesson plan individual and small group Hebrew tutoring sessions, both in person and virtually.
