זֶה דִּבְרֵי יְהוָה אֶל־זְרַבְבֶּל לֵאמֹר לֹא בְחַיִּל וְלֹא בְכֹחַ כִּי אִם־בְּרוּחִי אֶמְרֵי יְהוָה צְבָאוֹת:

This is the word of YHWH to Zerubbabel: Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, said YHWH of hosts. Zecharia 4:6

Dear Chaverim,

In the dark months of the year we celebrate this Festival of Lights. Holiday decorations illuminate the sidewalks or streets that otherwise might be dark.

We ourselves are supposed to light our Hannukiyot in a place in the house that can publicize the miracle -- often in a window to the street. On this holiday we are not shy to be proud of our Jewish identity - after all - this is what the holiday is all about. Our ancestors celebrated the resilience against an overpowering (hellenistic) universal civilization holding on to their particular identity, empowering themselves to take a stance of independence. They did it with courage in the days of the Maccabees, and prevailed. Later, after political defeat and the destruction of the Temple, they held onto the Talmudic story of the miracle of the oil that lasted 8 nights -- a spiritual resilience throughout the ages. Since the establishment of the modern state of Israel, the Maccabean narrative of military prowess and national independence has regained attention and our modern pride of our Jewish identity is intertwined with the fact of the existence of a modern Jewish sovereignty reflected in statehood.

And yet - we once again feel the fragility of our accomplishments as humankind: There is still no end in sight for the war in Ukraine and every few weeks we sense the potential for a new world war. Inflation is curbed a little bit, but living expenses still are so much higher than before the pandemic. The world seems to be a powder keg once more. Israeli politics reminds one of the last few decades of the Temple times with so many factions competing for power and radicalisation in high and low places. Antisemitism regionally, and nationally are a fact that cannot be denied anymore. Thunderstorms and clouds all around, if we would speak in meteorologist terms.

This year, we need these Hanukkah lights. This year, we will relish them.

With every night we light, we will set a tone of resilience, of inspiration, of the potential to goodness, peace, and wholeness that we can midwife into reality! The act of lighting is the act of withstanding the darkness, confusion and instability of our world.

When I think of Hanukkah this year, I imagine every night a different bright, shining, little-light that defuses darkness somewhere in the world. Be it the three new rabbis in Europe, whose ordination I witnessed in October in Germany. One of them, Rabbi Irene, is only the second Spanish rabbi since the expulsion in 1492 and herself the first woman in Spain serving as rabbi! A small light that represents, at the minimum, the strengthening of small Jewish communities in Europe and may end up kindling a new era in the region.

Another kindling light at Beth El are our new Kabbalat Shabbat at our home, where we combine the spirit of prayer with the warmth of home hospitality. We invite you to come bring in Shabbat together and enjoy song, prayer, good food, and the company of each other. We had the first lovely gathering on the Friday of Thanksgiving. Daniel and I invite you to come to our home on Friday night of Hanukkah, December 23 at 5:00 pm (RSVP required)!

Another such kindling of Jewish strength is our new Bogrim program that launched successfully in August and engages the 8th and 9th graders in our community as they discuss and navigate Jewish adolescence to find their voice as part of Jewish and general society. These are just three examples, yet when you look around, you can discover so many more lights of warmth, inspiration, kindness, and resilience, even in this time and age!

This year, when you light your candles, place them proudly so that your neighbors can see them, set an intention each night how to celebrate your Jewish self and the Jewish heritage that you've been handed (from ancestors or through family ties). This year, be a resilient Jew determined to bring your particular light into the world with every day you kindle.

Chag Urim Sameach!

Dear Friends,

I hope everyone had an enjoyable Thanksgiving! As we embark on the season of giving and gratitude, I once again extend my thanks to all of you who help make Beth El our spiritual home. As we move past the media's barrage of election ads, we are now consumed with holiday ads, music, sentimental movies (which I love), and important causes to support those in need.

One of our major priorities at Beth El is our commitment to repairing the world/Tikkun Olam. Our community strives to give for all 12 months of the year. We answer this call so generously whether by donation of time, skill, money, clothing, or food. We do this because we, as Jews, are called upon to leave the world in a better place than when we found it.

Our giving is not just an individual act, but it is also an act central to our purpose as a community. This quote from Rabbi Jonathan Sacks resonated deeply with me and speaks to why being part of Beth El or a synagogue embodies the essence of living a Jewish life.

"Communities of faith are where we preserve the values and institutions that protect our humanity."

In a time where we are barraged with anti-semitic tropes spiraling on all forms of media, Beth El needs to speak up and take a stand. For if not us, then who?

Beth El also needs to continue to repair the world by touching lives through our Chessed committee, monthly social action drives benefiting Valencia Newcomer School and CASS Homeless Shelter, Blanket Boosters, b'nai mitzvah projects, and annual turkey donations.

You may not be aware, but we have several partnerships with other communities around the Valley that physically use our building or participate with us. Our building and our institution is essential to this work.

- Every Thursday the Refugee Welcome Center uses our dairy kitchen to prepare 50-100 weekly meals and snacks. Additionally they collect winter coat, household, and kitchen item donations.
- In our lobby we have permanent collection bins for Ezras Cholim AZ Kosher Pantry and Nourish PHX.
- Recently, Ezras Cholim hosted a trial run of their new food truck to feed the homeless in our parking lot.
- Gesher Disability Resources used our classes during the summer for a special camp that was open to the community.

All these partnerships and others happen because we at Beth El have made a commitment to try and do more in our local community.

On Christmas Day another opportunity to act is scheduled. The social action committee is organizing in-person, hands-on projects and brunch. For those of us looking for something to do on Christmas, please join my family and I at Beth El, where together we can engage and do our part to help.

Cantor Search Update

Our cantorial search is now underway for a year-round cantor. According to the Cantorial Assembly, January and February are the expected months to receive applications. It is our plan that the congregation will have the opportunity to meet and hear from potential qualified candidates.

Based on our High Holiday Search, there are a variety of qualified applicants with extremely diverse liturgical, musical, and educational backgrounds and experience. As we enter this stage of our search we are confident that we will find a candidate that will fit our needs here at Beth El.

We will update you as we get further along. In the meantime, please feel free to direct any questions to cantorsearch@bethelphoenix.com.

Dear Friends,

Next time you are here for an evening event, please take a moment to enjoy the new lighting on our Holocaust Memorial in the north courtyard. Before these recent upgrades, the memorial's flame was the only light on the memorial. Now, not only has the flame's light has been restored, but new uplighting has been added around the base of the memorial... just in time for the Festival of Lights!

This month, we have a variety of wonderful events, social action projects, and Hanukkah activities planned for everyone. We hope you will be able to join us for these celebrations and other events. If you ever need help with registration, please feel free to contact us at info@bethelphoenix.com or (602) 944-3359 so that we can get you signed up.

Also, if you need help to accessing your ShulCloud member account, please contact me directly at amoskowitz@bethelphoenix.com or (602) 944-3359 ext. 109.

Happy Hanukkah and Happy New Year to all!

BETH EL WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Be Well with BEWL | Eileen Bloom, BEWL President

Hello friends,

A small but hardworking group from Beth El spent a few hours in a community garden to work and learn what grows best in our area.

Our tour guides from Keep Phoenix Beautiful on Sunday, November 20 were Terry Gellenbeck, Director of Recycling, and Cindy Moss, Program Director. Cindy said we were such an enthusiastic audience and they very much appreciated the trash pickup work done. The area gets so badly littered, they are truly grateful for the help.

Those participating were Audrey Wolff, Alicia Moskowitz, Eileen Bloom, Debbie Gordon, Daniel Stein Kokin, Eric Siegel, Deirdre Stewart, Michael and Barbara Apfel, and the most attentive in the group, Rowan Apfel. Baby Kieran Siegel slept through most of the morning on his dad's back. The garden is located at 1822 W. Pierson Street. If you have composting material you would like to drop off, it would be very welcome.

The BEWL paid up member event is happening on Sunday, December 4 at 12:30 pm, with Emily Garber, a Jewish Genealogy researcher and speaker. The program and luncheon is free for all BEWL members who have paid their dues for the 2022-2023 year.

Happy Hanukkah and a healthy and wonderful 2023.

Dear Families,

Eight Hanukkah lessons, one for each night...

The teacher in me is always "teaching", this time about Hanukkah, the story of our salvation. We're never too old to learn something new, so please, take a look at the eight lessons below that you can apply to your everyday life throughout the year. One is more beautiful and thought provoking than the next.

1. Stay true to yourself, your inner values, and be who you are. Don't conform to what you think you should be just because it's more popular.
2. A little light can dismiss the dark. Just one favorable word or action can eliminate the sorrow.
3. Don't dwell on the negativity or defeat, instead focus on what you can change. Don't fight the gloominess, illuminate it by shining the light of honesty and hope.
4. Increase the light every night. Aim high and always work to your highest potential. Don't be satisfied with your achievements, keep aiming for the stars.
5. Few can win over many. It's not the numbers that are always noteworthy, it's the sensitivities, strength, and power of your conviction.
6. When we push to go above and beyond our natural abilities, God responds with wonder.
7. It is not enough to illuminate one's own self, light up the exterior as well. Share your insight, knowledge and good fortune with those around you.
8. The Jewish people are a remarkable nation. Despite all of those who have tried to eliminate us, criticize us, hurt us, destroy us, we are here to stay, and we continue to thrive and flourish from generation to generation.

What lessons do you learn from Hanukkah? Be sure to share them, teach them, and enjoy a joyous, and light filled Hanukkah!

I look forward to seeing you at Beth El's upcoming Hanukkah dinner and lighting on December 18 and our annual Mitzvah Day breakfast on December 25. Complete information about both of these events can be found in this edition of the Echo or on the Beth El website.

Best,
Nanci

Shalom,

Thank you to those who joined our events last month. It was so nice to spend time with Kadima making our own Havdalah kits and learning about our after Shabbat rituals. Everyone's kits came out gorgeous and hope you all enjoy using them with your families.

Additionally, we had a fun time Ice Skating with other USY Chapters from Or Tzion and Temple Beth Shalom at our regional USY Ice Skating night. We began the evening with an intimate but beautiful Havdalah service in the parking lot and then got the opportunity to say "Shavua Tov" out on the ice. See our photos on page 12!

Save the dates for all the fun events happening at Beth El this next month. Friday, December 9, is our Family and New Member Shabbat in the Round and Dinner. New members' dinners are complimentary. Sunday, December 11, 1st through 5th graders are invited to our Kadima Latke Lunch and Hanukkah Party. On Wednesday, December 14, 6th through 12th graders are invited to join USY for a Latke Lounge, Cookie Decorating, and Fuzzy Sock Exchange. If you plan to attend please bring a pair of new fuzzy socks to participate in the game. December 18 is our annual Hanukkah Game Night. Please RSVP on our website or contact the front office if you would like to attend.

Lastly, on December 25 there will be a Mitzvah Day event with the Social Action Committee.

I hope everyone has a wonderful holiday season with family and I look forward to seeing you with our Beth El Youth and families soon.

L'Shalom,
Roberta

Dear Families,

November was a very busy month in the preschool. We had our annual Fall Festival, which was enjoyed by the children and teachers very much. We had many parents who volunteered to help us. There was a pumpkin maze, art projects, face painting, and all the children had their pictures taken on a bale of hay made to look like a horse. Nora Elias, our Pre-K teacher, created and coordinated this event.

After the event was over, we had fun with the pumpkins checking out the insides of pumpkins by counting the seeds and then roasting them. The children said, "the seeds feel slimy," and "it looks like spider webs!" The 3's and Pre-K classes did science experiments making a volcano erupt inside the pumpkin using baking soda and vinegar. The children had many ideas to add and make it colorful. The 3's class made pumpkin soup and pumpkin pie to share with everyone else. The Pre-K class made pumpkin cookies and had a Thanksgiving feast with their parents via Zoom.

When the school talks about the holiday of Thanksgiving, we talk about Tzedakah (charity), Mitzvot (doing good deeds) and Kavod (respect and honor). It is important for us to make sure all the children understand the meaning of saying thank you, giving,, and sharing with others that may not have enough.

Keeping with the theme of mitzvot and Tzedakah one of our school's traditions is adopting families for the holidays. For the last two years, we have adopted families in our own preschool community. We have families that are fortunate enough to receive a scholarship from first things first to attend our school. We know they may be struggling so we ask the families for a wish list for Chanukah or whatever holiday they celebrate. We then ask others who can help to bring donations to help fill the list. Both the families that donated and the ones who receive them had a great experience.

Our School has been working with the PJ library providing young families Judaic programs together. Our next program is December 22, for a Chanukah program. Join us at 5:00 for a nosh of latkes and sufganiot it will be lots of fun.

With our DES stabilization grant, we purchased a nice awning to help protect the families when coming or leaving the school from the sun and the rain.

Our school is growing, we still need some more teachers to help complete our team of exceptional educators.
