

Lindsey Newman

Lindsey Newman is the Director of Community Engagement at Be'chol Lashon. She has over a decade of experience working to advance racial justice in the Jewish community and in the fields of women's rights advocacy and early childhood education. She participated in the 2016 Selah Leadership Cohort, was a 2018 Fellow of the Ruskey Institute for Jewish Professional Leadership and received her B.S. degree in Industrial and Labor Relations from Cornell University. Lindsey is a board member of NCJW San Francisco and a co-author of Not Free to Desist, an open letter challenging the Jewish community to re-imagine its commitment to racial justice.
