4 Good Reasons To Get Yourself A Zug

As we leave the High Holiday season, we begin a new Jewish year, along with COVID. Again. We try to remain patient and positive while reminding ourselves, in the words of the Rosh Hashanna liturgy בלוע תרה מויה, that the world is “pregnant with possibilities.” If you do not recognize an opportunity knocking on your door, look again.

After many months of preparation TBE’s Adult Education Committee is rolling out a pilot program in partnership with Project Zug, under the auspices of the internationally recognized NYC based Hadar Institute of Jewish Learning.

This incredible program is now available to us. Why should you take advantage of this opportunity and make it your own? Why get yourself a Zug?

What does “Zug” even mean and what are “Project Zug’s” goals?

The Hebrew word zug means “pair” or “couple.” In this context it references the ancient practice of partnered study, or havruta learning. With clever use of technology, “Project Zug” updates this concept for our 21st century lifestyle. Through one-on-one paired (havruta) learning, Project Zug seeks to connect Jews across the world with each other and with the richness of Jewish textual tradition.

Here’s why you should get yourself a Zug (partner for study) and why you should do it now:

Low Hanging Fruit to choose & pick

To borrow a metaphor from the field of economics, “Project Zug” makes participation very easy to achieve.

Meet with your zug to learn in person on your porch, over the phone, or via any video chat platform you choose. (We will be available for any technical assistance you may need). Meet as often and as long as you like. Over the four week course, material in both video and text format will be shared weekly. However, you can choose to meet for your sessions either weekly for one hour, twice a week for half an hour, or any other way you choose. The principle is choice. In this ever changing new reality, do it the way it works for you!

Really relevant

While learning Jewish texts always has relevance, we chose to begin with a four week course timely entitled: “Out of the Ruins: Jewish Wisdom on Resilience”. Encountering the text at this time affords us an opportunity to shed light on our current situation in all its complexity.

Comradery without COVID

Adult learners never stop searching for meaning. The past 16 months have taught us the important lesson of meaningful human connections. When two Jews meet over a text magical things happen. A one-on-one setting is a perfect way to practice deep listening, while learning from one another to deepen a friendship.

All Together Now

Shari Spark, Ritual and Service Coordinator

The High Holidays, Sukkot, and Simchat Torah are past us.

We are Monday-morning-quarterbacking the technical parts, the fine points of the service, the flow, the content, the participation. We are making notes for next year and hoping we don't have covid mitigations, but knowing we can handle them if necessary. All of these considerations are tedious and time consuming, but what is often overlooked is the humanity of the holidays: Who did we touch? Who did we alienate? Who understood? Who turned away?

Every morning in shacharit, in the introductory prayers we read Psalm 148. I'm always struck by these words in verses 25-26 and their utopian nature: Young men and also maidens, the old together with the young. They will praise the Name of Adonoy. When I read this, I always have a vision of everyone together doing the work necessary to create an environment of being and doing Jewish.

This past year I have had the privilege of leading Zoom minyanim. Would it be better to be in-person?

Perhaps. But, I have come to appreciate the intimacy of Zoom. The screens in front of me seem to represent the words of Psalm 148. I watch the faces in the boxes - people I know, love and respect - and I see men and women together, the old and not as old, all praying to G-d. It's a perfect of example of what happens when people come together to sing out in prayer and create community.

When we plan for the holidays and plan for future programs, plan for upcoming Shabbatot, decide the safety of in-person Kiddush, plot out sitting together or wearing masks, the one thing we cannot lose sight of is how all of these measures should never keep us from being together.

As the New Year gets underway, I hope you will consider joining us for programs and services. No matter if we're in person or online, we count on you for participation...not because of numbers, but because we should exemplify the mission of Psalm 148: All together, in praise of Adonay - all together, now.

4 Good Reasons

Everything is possible so ask away!

The structure of learning with "Project Zug" and the fantastic guidance given by its faculty, encourages a limitless learning experience. No prior knowledge of Hebrew or background in Jewish text study is necessary. You will gain the most if you debate and struggle with the text. You will experience how chevruta pairs are able to come to a totally new understanding of the text, that neither person could have achieved on their own.

Sisterhood Thank You

Sheryl Block

The Fall is the time of the year; every month I am writing notes of thanks. I am thankful for our Sisterhood members who prioritize paying their Sisterhood dues. This year there have been so many annual members who have given extra dues donations.

They are: Rita Bloom, Leah DeVine, Rachel Gioia, Jane Kaplan, Chelsea Karp, Binae Karpo, Beth Kozinn, Fay Kun, Cindy Levine, Jean Mandel, Alison Post, Ellen Schneider, Sara Schonbach, Rachel Shurman, Margie Strauss, Carol Wilson, and Kathy Zimmerman,

There have also been life members who continue to make an additional donation.

They are: Carol Bernhard, Marilyn Claire, Linda Kreithen, Roberta Penn, Phyllis Perkin, Ethel Schiff, Deena Scoblionko, and Arlene Stein,

You are all so thoughtful. We are off to a great start this year. Our Sisterhood Presidents have planned an incredible year. They would appreciate anyone who would like to take a job, big or small. Whatever you can do, will help them with their final year and you will find it is a thrill to do for others!

Sisterhood Message:

L'shana Tova! We hope everyone had a peaceful holiday and a meaningful fast. We are excited to be hosting our very first IN PERSON (MASKED) event in almost 18 months! Our Opening Wine and Cheese Meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 5th at 7 PM. Details were emailed to all members last month, and we look forward to seeing all who are able to attend. We are planning a mix of in-person and virtual events for the 2021-2022 program year and can't wait to share it with you all. Aside from all the fundraising we do to support Temple Beth El and its community, our number one goal for this year is to reconnect! Participating in a program, helping out in the gift shop, or joining a planning team is truly the best way to get involved.

For the second year in a row, our annual holiday Floral Fund was transformed into a Mitzvah Floral Fund thanks to the efforts of Bobbe Wiener. We are overwhelmed by everyone's generosity. The bimah flowers looked beautiful for High Holiday services, and the additional donated funds will be used to assist TBE families who can use a helping hand to make their holiday tables full throughout the year.

Sisterhood's College Connection mailed the first of three packages to college students. The first package's theme is Rosh Hashanah. You can still register your college student for the remaining two packages which will be delivered in time for Hanukkah and Passover, reminding our college students that their synagogue community is thinking of them. The registration form is available on the TBE website under Education. Thank you to Miriam Zager and Diane Lemberg for putting this special program together this year.

Our Sisterhood Gift Shop has re-opened for some in-person shopping. Of course, you can still contact Jill Steigerwald to shop virtually or to schedule a convenient time to shop in-person. The gift shop is stocked with many beautiful items for the Holidays and all your gift-giving needs throughout the year.

Our Sisterhood Gift Card Program is always open for business! Our book features dozens of retailers and Judy Sheftel or Francyne Bernfeld would be happy to help customize an order for you. Contactless pick-up is available.

Mark your calendars for Wednesday, October 20th for our Virtual Paid-Up Program where we will be crafting with Rachel Shurman and Phyllis Kauffman through Zoom. All participants will receive a crafting kit. Watch your emails for additional details and an invite.

Save the date for Sisterhood's Fall Brunch and Learn Program on Sunday, November 21st and watch your email for details. Currently we are planning for a special in-person event that you will not want to miss.

Have you ever wanted to own your own store? Jill Steigerwald and Andy Kopyt are looking for volunteers to help with the merchandising and to learn what it's like to run the gift shop. You can sign up to lend a hand and learn the ropes! Simply click here:

This year, again, we are minimizing the floral Bimah displays as most of the donations to the Mitzvah Floral Fund will be used to purchase grocery store gift cards to provide a Holiday Meal for our members experiencing hardship during this challenging time.

From the Talmud: “Deeds of Kindness are equal in weight to all the Commandments.”

In this vein, Sisterhood and the Mitzvah Floral Fund thank our following members for their magnanimous support of this year's version of the Floral Fund. Your generosity has been overwhelming and so gratefully appreciated to those families needing extra support.

School Shmooze... by Alicia Zahn, Religious School Director

The religious school year started right before one of the most joyous holidays in the Jewish calendar - Sukkot! What could be more fun than making decorative crafts, shaking stuff around, and hanging out in a hut with your friends?! It is also a pretty Covid-friendly holiday since it is outside and with a lulav in your hand, no one will get too close! During Sukkot, our students learned a special Simchat Torah dance and each received Simchat Torah flags to help them celebrate our starting to read the Torah again.

This year our religious school students have the benefit of a strengthened partnership with Muhlenberg as we have TEN college students who are bringing their energy and ruach (spirit) to Beth El. I will introduce a few here and then some more in subsequent bulletin articles.

Introducing Liora Finkel Kitah Bet teacher (second grade) and college senior

I am Liora, originally from Montville, NJ, and I have worked for Temple Beth El as a sixth grade teacher, as a Hebrew Lab teacher, and this year as the Sunday Kitah Bet teacher. In college, I am a senior majoring in Religion Studies, and anticipating declaring a Women and Gender Studies Minor. One thing I am really looking forward to about teaching at Beth El this year is creating deep teacher-student and teacher-family bonds. Working at the New York-area Ramah Day camp this summer, I was reminded of how much I value the connection I make with each of my campers (and students-to-be). Creating those connections brings joy and purpose to my work as an educator. Also, some of my best friends at Muhlenberg happen to always be other teachers at Beth El, so any excuse to see them and work with them is welcomed. My hobbies include amateur graphic design, travel, and leading tfilot (prayers). One favorite Jewish memory is from the sleep away camp I went to for several years. One Shabbat, I read the entire Ten Commandments (that are found in the book of Devarim). Once I finished the reading, the director of the camp came up to me, wished me a “yasher kochech” and then taught me the proper response: “Baruch tehiyeh”. The fact she went out of her way to acknowledge my work has stuck with me for a long time. I look forward to making Jewish memories with my Kitah Bet students.

Another thing you might find interesting to know about me is that I have been to 38 out of 50 States plus Washington DC, and four countries outside the United States. The newest state I’ve visited was Colorado.

OCTOBER SCHOOL CALENDAR

October 4 (Mon) Midrasha begins! 6:30pm

October 22 (Fri) Youth Service online 6:00pm

Mark your calendar for Sunday Nov 7 – Open House!

Introducing Or-El Ankori Kitah Hay teacher (fifth grade) and college freshman

I’m Or-El, a religious school teacher and college student. In college, I am studying towards a neuroscience and international studies double major! I am originally from Israel, but now live in Newton, Massachusetts.

One thing I am really looking forward to about teaching at Beth El this year is definitely the process! I’m excited to follow your kids through their learning curve and watching them progress!

My hobbies include reading, photography, embroidery, listening to music, and watching movies. One favorite Jewish memory I have is experiencing Kabalat Shabbat in the heart of the Judean desert during one of the Jewish programs I went on :)

Other things you might find interesting to know about me are that I’ve only ever read Harry Potter in Hebrew, I’m the oldest out of 4, and I’m a big fan of the oxford comma!

Introducing Marc Szechter Prayer Specialist and College Senior

I’m Marc and I am studying Jewish studies and music. I am from Westchester County, New York. I have worked at Temple Beth El for several years as an aide, a prayer specialist, and a tutor. I am looking forward to working with students in person again and getting to sing t’filot together synchronously! My hobbies include playing, singing, and composing music, travel, photography, and watching baseball. A favorite Jewish memory: leading High Holiday services in my friend’s backyard last year during the height of COVID.

Another thing you might find interesting: I co-direct a Jewish community choir in Allentown, and we are eagerly seeking new members.
