Q: In which Adar should a Yahreizt be observed when a Jewish leap year?
A: In Shana Meuberet, a leap year, an extra month is added after the month of Shevat, resulting in “two” months of Adar.
  There is an involved discussion among the Poskim as to which of the months is the “real” Adar when calculating the date for a Bar Mitzvah and a Yahreizt. The majority opinion amongst the Poskim for a Bar Mitzvah is that if a boy was born in a non-leap year, and on the year of his Bar Mitzvah there are two Adars, his Bar Mitzvah will occur in the second Adar. This is since a Bar Mitzvah occurs only when the boy reaches 13 years old.
  During a leap year, the year itself is defined as having 13 months. Therefore, only when the year is complete, which means the second Adar, would the Bar Mitzvah occur.

   Regarding a Yahreizt observance, the Shulchan Aruch (Orach Chaim 568, 7) rules that if one’s parent passed away in a standard Adar, the Yahreizt should be observed on a leap year in Adar Sheini. The Rema disagrees and suggests that a Yahreizt does not share the same status as a Bar Mitzvah and should therefore be observed in Adar Rishon. The Rema then adds a third opinion stating that the Yahreizt should be observed in both months of Adar. Several of the later authorities (including the Vilna Gaon) rule according to the third opinion.
   The Mishna Berura writes that if it is possible, one should try to observe a Yahreizt on both months. Our Shuls custom is to suggest observing such a Yahreizt in both Adar Rishon and Sheini.

Shabbat Shalom!
Young Israel of Century City’s New Siddur Campaign

January 2019
Kislev 5779

Dear Members,

Over the past number of years our Shul has used the Artscroll RCA Siddur that was published back in the 1980’s. That Siddur is no longer being printed and has now been replaced by the newly released RCA-Koren Avodat Halev Siddur.

RCA-Koren’s Avodat HaLev Siddur, reflects years of research, has the endorsement of many Halakhic authorities including Rav Hershel Schachter and Rav Gedaliah Schwartz, is truly a magnificent Siddur, and reflects our community’s Hashkafa.

The NEW RCA-Koren Avodat Halev is a full Siddur for Weekday, Shabbat, Festivals and Holidays, and includes the following features among many others:

- Full contemporary, yet accurate translation
- An entirely new commentary utilizing a wide range of rabbinic as well as academic sources
- Additional prayers for life cycle events, and the observance of Yom HaShoah, Yom HaAtzmaut, and Yom Yerushalayim
- The entire book of Psalms, in Hebrew and English
- Supplementary essays by leading contemporary rabbinic leaders
- Inclusive of men’s and women’s Tefilot
- Detailed on-page halakhic instructions approved by recognized authorities

Search “Koren Publishers Siddur Avodat HaLev” for more information and to view the Siddur

With a very generous gift from Avi & Zahava Ryzman, our Shul was able to purchase this new Siddur that will eventually replace all the Artscroll Siddurim in the Shul (many of which are torn and missing pages and need to be placed in the Geniza).

Each volume is now available for dedication at $45 a volume. If you wish to dedicate a Siddur, or multiple Siddurim, please fill out the order form below and return it to the Shul office with payment so that we can process your order and insert the dedication label/s.

With warmest regards and best wishes,

Sincerely,

Elazar Muskin, Rabbi
