BAYT SECURITY COMMITTEE

In light of recent events across the world, and out of an abundance of caution, we ask everyone to cooperate with the random bag and coat checks. Whether you're a well-known regular or visitor you could be asked. In addition to the increased level of security, these checks will help familiarize our security volunteer team with procedures.

Thank you for your cooperation.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Laws are Meant to be Followed

I would like to thank the hosts and speakers this past Shabbat for the final Leil Limmud of the season. Thank you to Danny Rosenberg for speaking and hosting, Sharon Fixler for speaking and Colin and Sharon Kramer for hosting, Ken Stollen for speaking at the Conservatory, Yisroel Idels for speaking at the home of Aubie and Sue Diamond, and finally Chaim Oliver for speaking at the home of Yoni and Eli Colman. Yishar Koach to all and I truly hope that the kehilla enjoyed an evening of divrei Torah and socializing. The Leil Limmud is a wonderful program started by Rabbi Scot Berman many years ago and we appreciate Elaine Genesove and Mark Mark Mietkiewicz for continuing to organize this amazing BAYT event.

Last week, kein ayin hora, we had four smachot on Shabbat. Two Bat Mitzvahs and two Bar Mitzvahs. That was beautiful! Smachot are beautiful, even if the announcements are longer. That did not include all the other Mazel Tov's, births and engagements, vorts and upcoming weddings. One of the things that I have had the opportunity to see from the backend is the logistics of balancing everyone's needs for a Shabbat weekend (and the weekday evenings can be just as challenging). That's one of the many job descriptions of Karen Zilberberg. There are so many balls in the air at once and it is quite the feat to not drop any one of them (trust me, I hear about them). Remember that some of the simcha celebrations are last minute, so the BAYT staff has to be incredibly flexible to accommodate all the requests and some can be as late as Friday morning. The same is said for the facilities staff. You have no idea how many times over the seventy-hour period each of the rooms was turned over, cleaned and reconfigured. That is simply not easy. When it all comes together, it is impressive from a management point of view. Excellent job Jesse Armogida for executing all the set ups on time and correctly. You could feel the energy on Shabbat and everyone feeds off of it.

And talking about executing all the set ups on time, Jesse asked me to convey to the kehilla that he asks that whenever entering the building, please do not cut through the Rebbetzin Judy Taub Hall to get to the other side of the building.

If the doors are locked to the RJTH, please do not begin pulling on the doors hoping for someone to open the doors. The staff are either setting up, completed setting up or are cleaning up. Trampling through creates a mess after they may have just completed cleaning the floors. Besides, the RJTH is not meant to be thoroughfare, unless the doors are open and there is no minyan going on. It's really not that difficult to walk around. And it doesn't matter how important you are, as people have been trying to convince staff of their rank in the shul. (I didn't know that was a thing.)

It seems like I miss some of the best Scholars in Residence when I have to travel and this Shabbat sounds like the kehilla is in for a real treat. Rabbi Adam Ferziger of Bar-Ilan University has an impressive resume and I hope that you plan your Shabbat around his speaking schedule and no matter which minyan you daven at, you should come up to the Main Sanctuary to hear Rabbi Ferziger speak.

There are two very important events on the Family Holiday Monday February 20th. In the morning from 9am-1pm is our BAYT Blood Donor Clinic and I hope you make a point to participate in this very important mitzvah. How often do you get an opportunity to perform a mitzvah and it's free. And for no extra charge, you get to donate blood in the memory of Batsheva Yeres z"l.

בַּתִּשְׁבַּע בְּלִימָה בַּת הָרַב מֹשֶׁה יוֹסֵף הֶלְוִי וְאֶסְתֵּר ז"ל May her neshama have an aliyah. Thank you to the Rabbi Moshe and Esty Yeres for spearheading this important project in memory of their beloved daughter. And yishar koach to Dr. Jack Lefkowitz for organizing the drive. At the same time Beit Midrash Zichron Dov is running a free Parent and Child (Middle School) Yarchei Kallah with breakfast in the Mizrahi/Milevsky Bais Medrash on the subject of "Is Giving Blood a Mitzvah". Register at <https://torontotorah.com/yk/>

And the second event is the visit to the Fire Station where our community has the opportunity to thank these amazing men and women who put their lives on the line every day to keep us safe. The BAYT will be bringing dinner to the Thornhill Fire Station at the corner of Clark and Bathurst at 4:30pm on Monday. Thank you to Lindsay Kochman for organizing this very important mitzvah.

This year will be my first opportunity to visit on the Family Holiday with the BAYT, as I'm usually out of town. I'm really looking forward to going finally. It was almost sixteen years ago since my fire at the Conservatory which destroyed my newly renovated condo. I was just about to put my condo up for sale, so I have pics of the condo new and after the fire. Scary. Thank Gd for the fire department who protected everyone in the building that late afternoon. It is a life changing event which I hope never to experience ever again.

Finally, mazel tov to those learning Daf Yomi Yerushalmi who completed masechet Brachot this past Wednesday and now on to Peah. It's never too late to start. There are two wonderful shiurim online, Rabbi Shalom Rosner and Rabbi Zecharia Resnik which are easily available on the app AllDaf.

Shabbat Shalom!

Adam S. Ferziger is professor in the Israel and Golda Koschitzky Department of Jewish History and Contemporary Jewry at Bar-Ilan University and holds the Rabbi S.R. Hirsch Chair for Research on the Torah and Derekh Erez Movement. He is a senior associate at the Oxford Centre for Hebrew and Jewish Studies, University of Oxford and co-convener of the annual Oxford Summer Institute on Modern and Contemporary Judaism. His research focuses on the history of religious responses to modern and contemporary life in Western Europe, North American, and Israel.

He is the author or editor of seven books, including Exclusion and Hierarchy (University of Pennsylvania Press, 2005), Jewish Denominations (Melton Institute – The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, 2012), and his monograph, Beyond Sectarianism (Wayne State University Press, 2015), was the winner of the National Jewish Book Award.

In parallel to his academic career, Adam Ferziger was a congregational rabbi in Kfar-Sava, and has dedicated over thirty years to performing weddings and providing religious services to a wide spectrum of Israeli Jews in a meaningful and nonjudgmental manner.

DIVREI TORAH & NOTICE BOARD

WEEKLY HALACHAH BY RABBI TORCZYNER TORCZYNER@TORONTOTORAH.COM

The Talmud says that as part of the Purim feast, one must "levasumei" until he does not know the difference between "Cursed is Haman" and "Blessed is Mordechai". In various contexts, the word "levasumei" means to become sweet or joyous. Some halachic authorities ruled against this statement, but Rambam codified it, saying to drink wine to the point where one becomes shikor (a word with a spectrum of meanings) and falls asleep. This is also brought in the Shulchan Aruch.

However, halachic authorities prohibit any drinking which a) is dangerous for the drinker or others, or b) leads to a state in which one loses control to the point of trespassing Halachah and/or desecrating Hashem's Name. Rambam himself equates people who gather in order to become intoxicated with people who gather unclothed and soil themselves in public. More recently, Rav Chaim Margaliyot wrote, "One should eat, drink and be happy on the holiday, but not draw himself after meat and wine and laughter and lightheadedness, for laughter and lightheadedness are not joy, but empty celebration and foolishness. We are not instructed in empty celebration and foolishness, but in joy which includes service of the Creator."

A moderate path, approved by the Rama and Mishneh Berurah, is to drink minimally at the Purim Seudah, and then fulfill the state of intoxication by taking a nap after the meal.

Worth noting: Adults in the presence of young children should be extremely careful in drinking more heavily than is normal. Immature children cannot differentiate between when adults are in control and when they are not, cannot comprehend the dangers associated with alcohol, cannot accept the idea that adults can do what children are not permitted to do, and cannot understand the difference between Purim and the rest of the year.

(Megillah 7b; Mishneh Torah, Hilchos Megillah 2:15; Moreh Nevuchim 3:8; Shulchan Aruch Orach Chaim 695:2; Shaarei Teshuvah to Orach Chaim 697:1; Pri Chadash to Orach Chaim 695:2; Aruch haShulchan Orach Chaim 695:2; Mishneh Berurah 695:5)

D'VAR TORAH BY RABBI METZGER CMETZGER@TORONTOTORAH.COM

After the religiously uplifting and awe-inspiring revelation at Har Sinai why does the Torah quickly transition to laws relating to property and damages? Why wait more than 70 verses before returning to holidays where we connect to G-d?

Ramban explains that these laws correspond to the tenth of the Ten Commandments, Lo Tachmod, "you shall not covet" so we can realize what is ours versus that which belongs to our friends and neighbours.

Continuing down this path, Ramban quotes a Midrash that all of the Torah hangs on Mishpat, on laws. Namely, our ability to properly observe laws of commerce and contract, even if at first they seem mundane.

Part of receiving the Torah is accepting the rules and responsibilities that come along with it. We can't simply take the spirituality without understanding the holistic effect it should have on us and every aspect of our lives. Connecting to G-d through the Torah should illuminate every facet of our lives and society, no matter where we stand.

(FAMILY DAY)
BRING YOUR FAMILY TO VISIT
THE FIRE STATION!

This Family Day, join us in saying "Thank You" to the amazing men & women who put their lives on the line every day to keep us safe!

We will be bringing dinner to the Thornhill Fire Station (corner of Clark and Bathurst) at 4:30 PM, and we are looking for families to volunteer and cook for the firefighters.

To volunteer to cook, please email Lindsay Kochman at lindsay.kochman@gmail.com

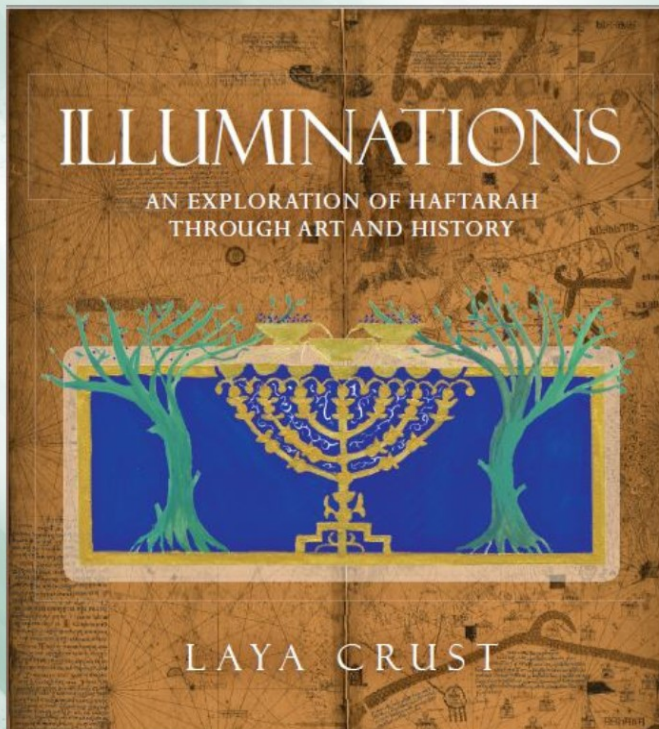

ILLUMINATIONS, An Exploration of Haftarah through Art & History

In her book ILLUMINATIONS,
Toronto artist Laya Crust has created stunning art to illustrate all 82 haftorot.

Laya will present stories behind her art
