Medicine for Burnout

Esther and I attended the 14th International Conference on Jewish Medical Ethics the Shabbat before Shavuot which is put on by Rabbi Jay Kelman's Torah in Motion. Our very own Dr. Lazer Friedman organized the speakers and the topics. Of course, the conference was attended by physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers and spouses, but there were a few of us who just wanted to understand the challenges of Halacha and medicine. Truly it was an awe-inspiring conference and very quickly I wondered why more people from the BAYT or the greater Toronto area do not attend.

While the name of the conference of Jewish Medical Ethics may scare some away, the reality is that each and every Torah observant Jew confronts the intersection of medicine and halacha from time to time. There was an emphasis on Mental Health this year, but there was much discussed besides that. Certainly coming out of the pandemic mental health has been a prime topic. I do remember saying in March of 2020 that mental health was going to be a problem after the pandemic and unfortunately, I was right. The conference confirmed my theory.

The conference had five highly qualified specialists in their field of medicine beginning with Rabbi Dr. Avraham Steinberg, author of Encyclopedia of Jewish Medical Ethic; Rabbi Dr. Aaron Glatt the Associate Rabbi at the Young Israel of Woodmere and Professor and Chair of Medicine at Mount Sinai South Nassau; Rabbi Shlomo Brody director of Ematei which navigates healthcare choices and Jewish wisdom, executive director of the Halachic Organ Donor Society and the Jewish Law Live columnist for the Jerusalem Post; Dr. Michelle Friedman who received her MD from the NYU School of Medicine and has completed advanced training at the Columbia University Psychoanalytic Center for Training and Research; and Debbie Akerman PhD, LCSW, a social worker with years of experience in addiction, recovery and trauma who brings her own personal experience of trauma and loss to her work and now to the public sphere as an inspirational speaker.

There was a very wide range of topics discussed from Challenging ethical questions in the past year, What we did right during the Covid epidemic, MAiD and religious liberty, Substance abuse and addiction in the Orthodox community, Exploring the addiction and recovery process, End of life care, New frontiers with organ donations, Recognition and prevention strategies of suicide, Impact of mental health on families, weaning from a ventilator, Halachic living wills, Resilience, End of life, Medical ethic vignettes, Raising children in today's complex age, Family estrangement, and much much more.

I don't want this message to seem like a plug for Torah in Motion, while it may seem so, it is more about each and every one of us having the tools to ask the right questions when circumstances arrive and to be knowledgeable in preparing for matters of life and death. I was surprised that more Rabbanim and medical professionals from Toronto did not attend since it was local. Two Rabbis from Australia attended, Rabbi Paul Lewin and Rabbi Nathanel Friedler. Their shul boards felt that the conference was important enough for them to attend. I was so impressed that their leadership felt going half way around the world for Jewish Medical Ethics was worth the grueling twenty hour (economy) plane ride and they both returned right after the conference ended in order to get back home for Shavuot.

It is impossible for me to summarize in a few words the some thirty Shiurim that were given from Thursday night until Sunday noon but the amount of Torah shared was incredibly inspiring, thought provoking and educating. Rabbi Glatt emphasized at his final session that all the answers are in the Torah. It is the single greatest resource and gift from Hashem as our compass. He talked about doctors experiencing burnout. The reality is that it applies to all of us. We all feel burned out but we must recognize that all that we do is in the name of Hashem and is a Kiddush Hashem. The conference recharged my batteries.

Chuck English has mentioned over the past few years that we should have a professional development retreat for the board and after attending this program, I could not agree more. Lazer and I have already begun working with Adult Education and our Rav to have some of these amazing speakers come to the BAYT in the near future with Gd's help and your philanthropy.

Last week Roger Waters dressed in a long black coat with a swastika red armband during a concert in Berlin (of all places!) brandishing a machine gun. Furthermore, he used Anne Frank's name during his widely-criticized concert. The use of her name was without the consent of the Anne Frank Foundation, which has trademarked the name and it is considering legal action.

Protesters in Munich rallied against the concert by Waters earlier this month, after the city council said it had explored possibilities of banning the performance but concluded that it wasn't legally possible to cancel a contract with the organizer. Complete cowards making it about money.

I certainly hope the Government of Canada and Ontario is aware of this matter. I intend to ask our representatives, Melissa Lantsman and Laura Smith, to have the antisemite banned from entering into Canada.

Thank you to David Lithwick and Jesse Armogida for really making our chuppah garden and the front of the shul look spectacular. Thank you to the board for financially supporting this project and of course to our members for entrusting us with your money. I suggest you hire a photographer and take some family pictures in the garden. It is that beautiful. The background is stunning.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Thank you to Jesse Nathanson, Moishe Posner and Rabbi Korobkin for organizing this year's Annual Brotherhood Shavuot Siyum in memory of Rabbi Aryeh Rosenberg z"l and to all the generous sponsors. Yishar Koach to all our members for participating. Registration for next year will be posted in the near future.

This week's Parsha (outside of Israel) is a great review for those who participate in Daf Yomi as in the past several months Nazir and Sotah were completed and Nasso is the source of these pesukim so I'm sure lots of amazing memories, drashot, and insights will come rushing back.

I was fortunate to be in Tel Aviv to visit my children for Shavuot. I attended a shul called "126", which is located at 126 Ben Yehuda. It's a very hip young shul and I highly recommend checking it out when you're in that neighbourhood. Lots of singing and ruach and of course the kiddushes are great. It's virtually impossible to go to 126 and not bump into a BAYT member. So on Shabbat I saw Sharon Belmont (Brian was under the weather) who was in Israel for Sammy's graduation from med school this past week. So a big Mazel Tov to Brian and Sharon! And wishing Sammy much success in his future endeavours.

Halacha question this week. Do I get to skip laining this Shabbat morning?

Shabbat Shalom!

Shinshinot at BAYT

BAYT is extremely fortunate to have 2 female UJA Shinshinot joining us in September!

The Shinshin program is an elite, pre-army, gap-year program where young Israelis join Jewish communities around the world to provide cutting-edge, contemporary Israeli programming. Each pair of Shinshinim work with a school and a shul (the BAYT Shinshinot will also be volunteering at Netivot HaTorah Day School).

The Shinshinim live with host families in the community. Hosting a Shinshin is truly an amazing and enriching experience. We are looking for 4 host families - 2 for September to January, and 2 for February to June.

If you are interested in applying, or to learn more, please reach out to Jessica Gilbert (jessica.anne.gilbert@gmail.com). Jessica and her husband, Steve Mendel, were privileged to host one of the Shinshinot this year and are happy to answer any questions you may have about the experience.

DIVREI TORAH & NOTICE BOARD

WEEKLY HALACHAH BY RABBI TORCZYNER TORCZYNER@TORONTOTORAH.COM

K'riat haTorah in Israel will be one parshah ahead of the Diaspora until July 1, when the Diaspora combines Chukat and Balak. Should a Torontonion in Israel go to hear the Israeli parshah read?

For at least two reasons, a non-Israeli should listen to the local parshah:

According to most authorities, the mitzvah of k'riat haTorah is communal, and therefore the "correct" parshah is determined based on the local community, not the individual; The mitzvah of k'riat haTorah may not require any particular parshah; some authorities rule that it may be fulfilled with any parshah.

What should the travelling Torontonion do about having missed a parshah? An individual is not required to arrange a minyan to hear the missing parshah, but it would be good to do so.

D'VAR TORAH BY RABBI METZGER CMETZGER@TORONTOTORAH.COM

Why does the Nazir need to bring a Korban Chatat, a sin offering? What is wrong with dedicating yourself to be closer to G-d and removing yourself from physical enkoeykneys such as drinking wine?

Rabbi Aharon Lichtenstein suggests that this is because of the complex nature of wine.

"On the one hand it can help bring about a raising of spirits, and expresses joy and can enhance it as well...

On the other hand wine can also be the cause of drunkenness. If it is not controlled, drinking can bring about a loss of control, and even a deterioration of man's nature. Wine is more significant than other pleasures in this regard, it has the potential to raise a person up to to destroy him. ...

What determines which of these two extreme results wine will bring about? The answer is control."

The Nazir gives up his control over his drinking towards the service of G-d, but it is an opposite extreme. By relinquishing control he or she removes themselves from the possible positives and negatives of wine. Losing that potential good is also worthy of a sin offering. We need to learn to harness and control ourselves, which the Maize is currently incapable of.
