Weekly Halacha - Parshas Tzav
R' Mordechai Torczyner – torczyner@torontotorah.com

Is there a preference for sitting or standing while the Rav recites kiddush in shul?

Ideally, one should recite kiddush (or havdalah) on behalf of another person only when both parties are seated at the same table, in order to establish and define the group that is fulfilling its mitzvah together. However, if a group of people gathers in a clearly defined space with intent to perform a mitzvah as one, then standing is acceptable.

In another halachah related to sitting at a shul kiddush: one should sit while reciting hamotzi, birkat hamazon and al hamichyah. This is meant to display respect for the berachah, and to aid concentration. However, one who eats cookies or cake while walking to a destination may stand while reciting al hamichyah; this is not considered disrespectful, because the eating itself takes place while standing, and because sitting down for the berachah would cause a distracting delay in the trip.

(Berachot 43a; Tosafot ibid. ho'il; Shulchan Aruch Orach Chaim 167:11, 183:9-10; 184:; 213:1; Mishneh Berurah 271:46; Aruch haShulchan Orach Chaim 271:24; Rivivot Ephraim 1:151:6)

PARSHAS QUESTIONS TZAV
BY: THE RAV

First Aliyah: (6:2) Why the small "mem" in the word "mokdah" (flame)?
Second Aliyah: (6:15) Why is the Kohen Gadol sometimes called the "anointed Kohen," as in this verse?
Third Aliyah: (7:23) Why does the Torah prohibit eating certain fats (cheilev) of kosher animals?
Fourth Aliyah: (8:7-9) Why did Moshe have to dress Aharon – couldn't he do it himself?
Fifth Aliyah: (8:14) Why did Aharon and his sons have to bring a sin offering (chatas) in order to be inaugurated as kohanim – what "sin" were they atoning for?
Sixth Aliyah: (8:23) What was the significance of placing the blood of the korban on Aharon's ear, thumb and big toe?
Seventh Aliyah: (8:35) Why did Moshe have to repeat the fact that "he had been commanded" to have Aharon and his sons stay in the Mishkan for seven days?
