“Chezi’s Chochma” by Rabbi Zionce

Shalom,

This week's Torah portion describes the building of the Tabernacle – the forerunner of the Temple in Jerusalem. G-d tells the Jewish people: “V’asu li mikdash v’shochanti b’tochem – And you shall make for me a sanctuary and I will dwell amongst you.”

The first article made for the sanctuary is that of the Holy Ark, which was to house the tablets containing the Ten Commandments. The Torah describes in minute detail how the Ark was to be built. In the Bible we are told that the Ark that was made for the Tabernacle had to be covered with gold inside and out.

The rabbis in the Talmud asked: "we can understand why there had to be gold on the outside of the ark; that's where everyone would see it and be impressed by its grandeur. But why the need for gold on the inside where it would remain unseen?"

And the rabbis respond that from this we learn that the ideal for a person is to be tocho k'baro – inwardly what they appear to be outwardly.

The lesson is clear: every time we come to shul and we direct our prayers toward the Ark, the Ark is there to remind us that coming to shul and praying to G-d is not enough if it is not matched by what is going on inside of YOU!

Let us take this lesson to heart and do our utmost to be the best we can be.

Shabbat Shalom,

A message from our Co-Presidents

Our leadership, members, and Board of Directors are sad to see Rabbi Zionce leave us, but we understand, and accept that people make choices with their families foremost in their minds.

We have begun our search for a new rabbi. The search committee that was originally tasked with looking for a cantor has changed gears and rapidly edited the job description to meet the need for an incoming rabbi. It has been in touch with the Rabbinical Assembly of America, and the position of Senior Rabbi is now posted with their organization. Consultants and advisors in the Jewish community have assured us that we will have little difficulty finding an ideal rabbi for Beit Rayim. They have reminded us that we are located in a vibrant community, with a prime location in our JCC facility. Our professional staff administers our needs from a logistic and programmatic standpoint. We have dynamic and dedicated lay leaders, strong Shabbat service and event participation with vibrant volunteer support. All of this makes Beit Rayim a most appealing choice for clergy seeking a new opportunity. As part of our process we plan to bring successful candidates to shul periodically to participate in Shabbat services and meet members. Depending on our own calendar, candidates will join in Beit Rayim activities providing additional opportunities for engagement. The first of these, Rabbi Joshua Corber, will be joining us from February 23 – 25th. Please feel free to join us that weekend; click here or see the insert for more information.

Thank you to the members of the search committee for their ongoing efforts. We are grateful for the feedback and comments we have received. Should you have any questions or concerns, please contact us by email at president@beitrayim.org. We will continue to update you as our search progresses.

Bryan Gerson and Lawrence Janit
