TEMPLE EMANUEL BULLETIN

June-July 2021 | Sivan – Tammuz - Av 5781 | Volume 87, No. 6

Dear Friends,

One of the most common questions that we are being asked as we enter into the summer season is: “When is Temple going to fully re-open?” As of this writing (mid-May), the CDC, State of Colorado and City of Denver have all indicated that many of the restrictions on public gatherings will be lifted and life will soon be able to return to some semblance of normalcy. While we have started to offer limited opportunities for communal worship and life-cycle events — both indoors and outside, we also are excited about the possibility of once again returning en-masse without any restrictions to our beautiful sanctuary — praying, singing, and creating community together.

The truth is, however, that we don’t know the timeframe for re-entry. While a large percentage of the adult members of our congregation have been vaccinated, as of this writing, many are not — especially young children.

Your clergy, professional staff, and lay leadership — together with our Reopening Task Force, are committed to ensuring both the safety and continuity of our Temple Community.

We will proceed with caution and in keeping with our values as we navigate the muddy waters of these rivers of change. We are making plans for every contingency and promise that we will communicate openly as decisions are made.

In Jewish tradition, sacred moments of transition are marked with prayers and blessings. When we name a baby, celebrate a child becoming Bar or Bat Mitzvah, stand under the chuppah, or bury our loved ones, we are acutely aware of how change impacts our lives profoundly. Returning to Temple after so many months of isolation is yet another opportunity to recognize and give thanks for the blessing of community. It also forces us to acknowledge and pay tribute to the many losses we have sustained during this time of social distancing. As we make plans for re-opening, we also will find opportunities for creating rituals of re-entry that will help us to sanctify our return to sacred space and communal gathering.

May God bless us as we travel on this road together.

– Rabbi Joseph R. Black

Focusing on Community

I recently attended a 4-day virtual conference hosted by the Union for Reform Judaism called the Scheidt Seminar. It is a relatively new conference offered by the URJ to educate and connect new North American congregation presidents. We discussed everything from Shabbat services and adult education to negotiating clergy contracts and donor development. It was incredibly useful and inspiring, but also quite sobering. There were many new leaders who were concerned their synagogues were becoming less relevant to the membership and they searched for ways to keep their synagogues vibrant and congregants engaged. Aside from the pandemic issues that we all have faced, the most universal and pressing concern was the relevancy of Jewish institutions in this country and the future of the synagogue. All discussions circulated around how we must serve our members and provide programming that our members desire, not just what we think the members want. I felt a little guilty listening to the many hardships articulated by my fellow presidents because we have one of the most engaged, involved and vibrant temple communities in the country. This is due largely to the dedication of our clergy and professional staff. But we cannot rest on our successes. We must continue to provide what the congregation wants. And that means listening to all of you. As we approach our 150th anniversary the Board of Trustees is embarking on a comprehensive strategic plan to focus on the vision, values and needs of Temple and our community so we can continue to be one of the most innovative and responsive synagogues in the URJ. I look forward to sharing updates with all of you as we proceed and we will reach out for your input and ideas.

– B'Shalom,
Danny Foster

Announcing New Ritvo Family Adult Education Fund

Temple Emanuel is excited and grateful to announce our new fund established specifically to support adult education programs. Generously started by Lynn, Roger, Roberta, Eric and Dalia Ritvo, the Ritvo Family Adult Education Fund, will support the introduction of a number of new opportunities for our congregation. The Ritvo Family, who moved to Denver and joined the congregation in 2018, is passionate about lifelong Jewish learning, from preschool to teen leadership training and through the different stages of adulthood. Because of their commitment to adult education, Temple Emanuel will be able to expand our offerings for our adult learning community for years to come.

Rabbi Emily Hyatt stated, "All else aside, the Ritvo Family is incredibly fun to learn with. Since they joined our community, it has been a pleasure to get to know them and to learn with them. As educators, Lynn and Roger ask great questions and have an insatiable thirst for knowledge and meaningful conversation. They have passed that love of learning down to their children and grandchildren (Rebecca and Felix). This incredibly generous gift is a true manifestation of their beautiful family values. It is as if they are standing outside the classroom door, welcoming adult students into the world of Jewish learning."

Upgraded programming opportunities will continue to develop. So far, it includes introductory Judaism classes, adult B'nai Mitzvah opportunities, our EmanuElders class, tracked and subject-based learning, and young adult leadership training. This summer we will kick-off the first Ritvo Fund sponsored programs by reintroducing the Melton School back into our community beginning June 28th and with our EmanuelElders class beginning June 2nd. Watch your bulletins and enotes for more information in the coming weeks.

We invite our entire community to participate in building this Adult Education fund alongside the Ritvo family. If you would like to donate, you can do so at <https://www.emanueldenver.org/payment.php>. If you need help learning how to make donations on the new Temple Emanuel membership management system, ShulCloud, see instructions below.

New Teen Engagement Lead

Hi, Everyone! My name is Emily Resnik and I am so excited to join the team at Temple Emanuel as the new Director of Teen Engagement and Education. Before moving to Denver I worked as the Engagement Associate at Northwestern University Hillel, just outside of Chicago, Illinois. I grew up in Columbus, Indiana and went to Indiana University for my bachelor's degree. During my time at IU, I spent my summers at Shwayder Camp, which inspired my passion for fostering Jewish community. I'm looking forward to creating a space for Temple Emanuel teens to learn, grow, and deepen their connection to Judaism and each other. I truly believe that the more time young Jews spend nurturing their Jewish identity and community as teenagers, the more equipped they will be to become inspired and connected Jewish adults. I can't wait to meet you all!

We recognize with sorrow the passing of:

William Bernstein – husband of Paula Bernstein, father of Erik Bernstein

Jacqueline Davine – wife of Robert Davine z"l; mother of Greg (Mindy) Davine and Lynn (Robert) Carolus

Idette Hunt – wife of Larry Hunt

Doris Springfield – mother of Raymond Springfield and Scott (Susan) Haskins

Rita Sulett – mother of Debra (Frank) Piazza; grandmother of Carla Piazza and Dana (Richard) Judd

May their memory be for a blessing
