August Celebratory Shabbats To Welcome Prospective Members To CNT

Congregation Ner Tamid welcomes its Members, and all Prospective Members new to the area, to a Back To Shul Shabbat on Friday, August 11, at 7:00 p.m., with Birthday Blessings and a “crazy” ice cream oneg. CNT will welcome all Preschool and Religious School students and their parents to celebrate the kick-off of the new school year.

Wear your favorite concert T-shirt or dress up like a member of your favorite musical group at Greatest Hits Shabbat, featuring The Shabbatones, on Friday, August 18, at 6:15 p.m. Last year, CNT introduced the family-friendly Greatest Hits Shabbat to showcase the music of high-profile bands with new high-energy arrangements. CNT invites Members and Not Yet-Members alike to attend this encore Shabbat and find out if their favorite hit songs have been paired with their favorite prayers. There will be a NTTY Lounge Night until 10:00 p.m.

On Friday, August 25, at 7:00 p.m., CNT is proud to present a Social Action/ Justice Shabbat in the Round. At the center of CNT’s Tikkun Olam programs is its Social Action/ Justice, Chesed, and Nevadans for the Common Good Committees which provide central resources for social action to both Temple organizations and individuals. Group representatives will be in attendance to talk about their projects and initiatives and offer membership to their committees.

CNT Members are encouraged to bring friends, family and Prospective Members to these three special Shabbats to help enlarge our family and to showcase CNT as a special place to belong.

My first Presidential Perspective! Wow, what a whirlwind this has been, and I am extremely happy to be your new President of the Congregation Ner Tamid Board.

I'd like to begin by letting everyone know a little bit about myself. I was born to Jewish parents in Upstate New York in 1963. For the first few years of my schooling, I attended Hillel Academy, a Jewish private school. One day in fourth grade, I came home convinced I would become a Rabbi. My mother pulled me out of private school and sent me to public school the following year. Telling her I wanted to be a Rabbi probably wasn't the best thing in fourth grade, and she obviously wanted me to get exposure to other career options.

After graduating high school, I went on to Syracuse University where I received a degree in accounting and followed that up with an MBA. I started my career in New York City and Northern New Jersey straight out of college (what a culture shock after growing up in the farmlands of Upstate New York), and then moved to Northern California with the company I worked for at the time in 2009.

I met my beautiful wife Bonnie in NorCal and was married in 1992. We had our daughter Megan while living in NorCal then moved to Henderson in 2000 where both our parents lived at the time. We went on to have two additional children, Jonathan and Brandon, after moving to Nevada.

I have been a member of our Temple for 20-plus years, and all my children celebrated their Bar/ Bat Mitzvahs in our Synagogue. My daughter, who is now married, had her wedding officiated by our clergy, and my only grandchild was named by our clergy.

There are a number of things I have a passion for in life, one being my grandson, but I am also a huge Vegas Golden Knights fan, as I attend almost every home game, and watch all the road games on TV. So, come up to me and talk about anything VGK related, and I will be more than happy to do so.

As for becoming your President of the Board, I would love to meet every one of you, so if you see me in the hall, or at one of our events please don't hesitate to come up and introduce yourself. It is important to me that our Synagogue remains a very inviting community, where we welcome all with open arms, and we are very approachable. The space we share should not only be a place of worship, but a place we can call community and home. We have a lot of exciting events coming up over the next couple of years, as our Congregation will be celebrating its 50th anniversary, and as we continue to add additional programs as we revert to normalcy from the Covid days.

Once again, I look forward to meeting you all.

One of the highlights of our summer took place in mid-July when we hosted Reverend Adrian Doll from Green Valley Presbyterian Church. After Shabbat services, we had a wonderful interfaith discussion that reflected our enduring friendship and the desire to model civic discourse in a country too often framed by its differences than common values. In turn, we continued the dialogue on Sunday at his Church.

As many of you know, I have been active and a founding member of the Interfaith Council of Southern Nevada which represents a very broad umbrella of world religions. The concept of “inter-faith” is not readily accepted by all religious traditions, including the more orthodox traditions of Judaism. But, I find it imperative that we build friendships among different faith traditions because we need to not only learn from each other but stand up for each other. Several years ago, when the Muslim community was attacked, (their mortuary was burned to the ground and arson was suspected), I was there to stand with them in solidarity. I decried the bigotry and possible hatred that had ensued. Their profuse gratitude that I was there to stand in solidarity with them is still with me. Likewise, several years ago, when the Tree of Life shooting took place, I organized a community gathering which was held at Temple Beth Shalom and attended by more than 1,000 people. Among those in attendance were members of our interfaith community. After the solidarity service, we sang “Oseh Shalom” and I will never forget that a leader of the Israeli community and a leader of the Muslim community stood there singing the words together!

Not to paper over our differences, we should realize that religion at its core seeks to bring people together. Our differences may be many in how we practice our faith, but in a perfect aspirational world, when we seek to find our common humanity, we become stronger when we work together.

Toward this goal, I will once again be attending the Parliament of the World’s Religions. This organization was started in 1893 in an attempt to create a global dialogue of faiths. This was the first interfaith gathering of its kind. Over the last century, the organization has met in different parts of the world, every few years, and now every two years. In 2015, I attended the gathering held in Salt Lake City which attracted nearly 10,000 people from all over 73 countries! This year’s gathering will take place in mid-August in Chicago, the birthplace of this idea. Reform Judaism’s own Rabbi David Saperstein will be one of the keynote speakers. Over the years the convention has hosted the Dalai Lama, Cardinal Joseph Bernardin, Dr. Michael Beckwith, and Dr. Mary Morrissey to name a few scholars and religious leaders.

I am excited and appreciative of the opportunity to attend this gathering. While we are prone to point out the differences in our world, I believe we live in a pivotal moment. Climate change, wide disparity in wealth between countries, water scarcity, and the challenges of overpopulation impact all of us regardless of religious beliefs. Gatherings such as this emphasize our common humanity and get us thinking about what we can do within our faith traditions, our communities, and our own individual families to change the world for the better. It may be aspirational, but I believe, that dreams need to start somewhere. And who are bigger dreamers than Jews? It was Theodore Herzl who said, “If you will it, it is no dream.”

Together we will find the way; that is our hope, that is our strength, and that must indeed be our path forward.

One of my favorite summer activities used to be watching the Olympics. I know we have another year before the next summer games, but I find myself reminiscing. Sure, the gymnasts, swimmers, and volleyball players are fun to watch, but perhaps the most exciting part is watching the faces of the athletes right after they give one hundred percent and waiting anxiously for the results to appear on the screen.

Waiting for an outcome after giving of ourselves is one of the most stress-inducing moments we can have. We have all been there, probably multiple times. Have you ever taken a test (medical or educational), interviewed for a job, auditioned for a part, or competed in a challenge? Then you probably know the feeling of that moment in time when you are waiting for the results.

At the beginning of August, we begin to prepare for Yamim HaNoraim, the days of awe, introspection, soul accounting, and t'shuvah (repentance). The first parsha that brings this into focus is Eikev, which translates to "As a result." It is a parsha filled with a problematic line or three because it lays out the idea of crime and punishment. It is a part of our text that teaches us that our outcomes are a result of our doings or wrongdoings. As scholars have studied this text, year after year, century after century, we have come to understand that this is not literal. It is not one hundred and fire degrees outside because you disobey a commandment. You did not get cancer because you were disrespectful to your parents during your childhood. A loved one did not die because you have been wasting water. Unfortunate circumstances are not a direct result of our actions, but when those rough times hit, we can reach inward and access the best parts of ourselves to seek strength and comfort for ourselves and the people around us.

Parashat Eikev does, quite literally, say that if you act in one way, the result will follow. But Rabbi Stan Levy, of blessed memory, reframed Deuteronomy 11:13 so that we can derive meaning that makes better sense of the lessons of Eikev (As a result...).

If we can hear the words from Sinai/ then love will flow from us/and we shall serve all that is holy/ with all our intellect and all our passion/ and all our life.
If we can serve all that is holy,/ we shall be doing all that humans can,/ to help the rains to flow,/ the grasses to be green...

In other words, we can make a difference in the world. What we do today could impact generations many years in the future. We cannot, however, determine life's outcome as a long jumper receives a white or red flag following their jump. Next time you are finding yourself sulking in the "Why me?" or "Why them?" challenge yourself to reframe the question. "What can I do to push through or rise up through this difficult experience?" or "How can I help make a difference so that the future does not have to experience what I have?"

If we walk into our new school year and our holy season of "repair and restart" with a little more compassion for ourselves and the world, gratitude for what we have, even amongst our greatest challenges and sorrows, and a purposeful intention to spread and accept love, we will begin to understand the meaning and message of these latter parshiot in Deuteronomy.

Seniors Program At Congregation Ner Tamid Gets Ready To Disco

When it's 115 degrees outside, what better place is there to be than in Congregation Ner Tamid's air-conditioned Social Hall, mingling with good people, being entertained, and enjoying a great lunch?

CNT's Senior Programs have continued through the summer with cool events to help you forget about the heat. On Monday, July 24, we enjoyed "A Day at the Beach Karaoke" with a beach-themed party and summer favorites including burgers, fries, and watermelon. Everyone sang their favorite songs and we had a special guest performance by one of our own.

As the weather gets hotter, so does our theme for our Monday, August 21, event. Do you remember singing "Burn Baby Burn, Disco Inferno?" Dress to impress in your best Disco duds and win a prize at our upcoming Disco Dance Party. Get ready to dance to the music of top entertainer Leon Gilliam, formerly of Buck Ram's Platters.

On Monday, September 11, we'll offer a "Red, White, and Blue and You" program remembering important dates in our country's history. Plus, CNT's Rabbi Sanford Akselrad will speak about his new book Love in the Time of Corona. He will also be signing books available for the purchase price of $15 (cash please). They are also available on Amazon (bit.ly/42Hd1BO).

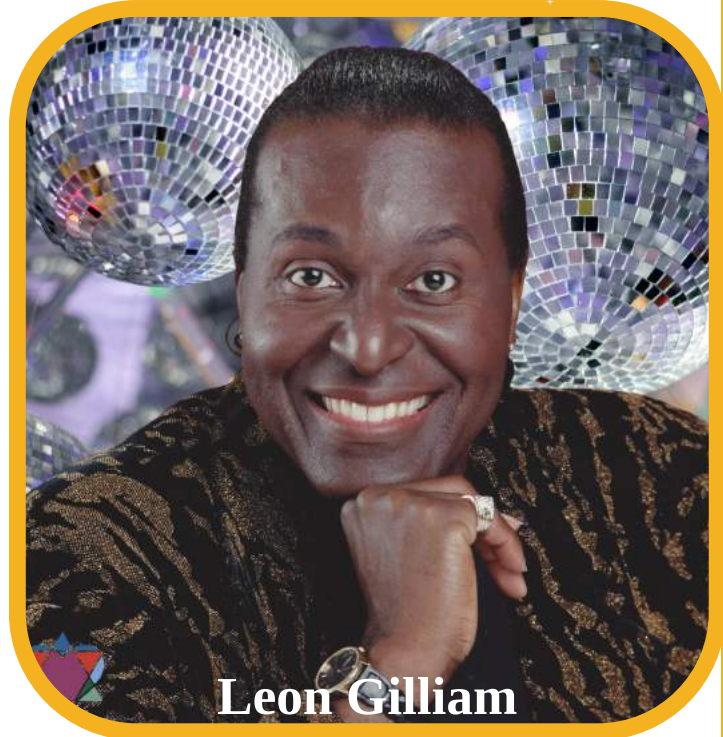

As for the rest of 2023, we will host a Monday, October 23, Seniors Program Special Anniversary Celebration, a Monday, November 20, Pre-Thanksgiving Turkey feast, and a Monday, December 11, Partying Hanukkah-style event.

We are thrilled with our Seniors Program attendance and all the great comments we have received. We appreciate all the recommendations and great ideas that participants have contributed. A big thank you to all the volunteers who help at the events and most importantly, to David Mizrahi who sponsors the senior programs in honor of his father Joseph Mizrahi.

All of CNT's Seniors Programs are held on Mondays, from 12:00 p.m. - 2:00 p.m., and are open to the public for those aged 65 and older. Remember to RSVP on Congregation Ner Tamid's website, www.lvnertamid.org, so we can get an accurate count and order food.

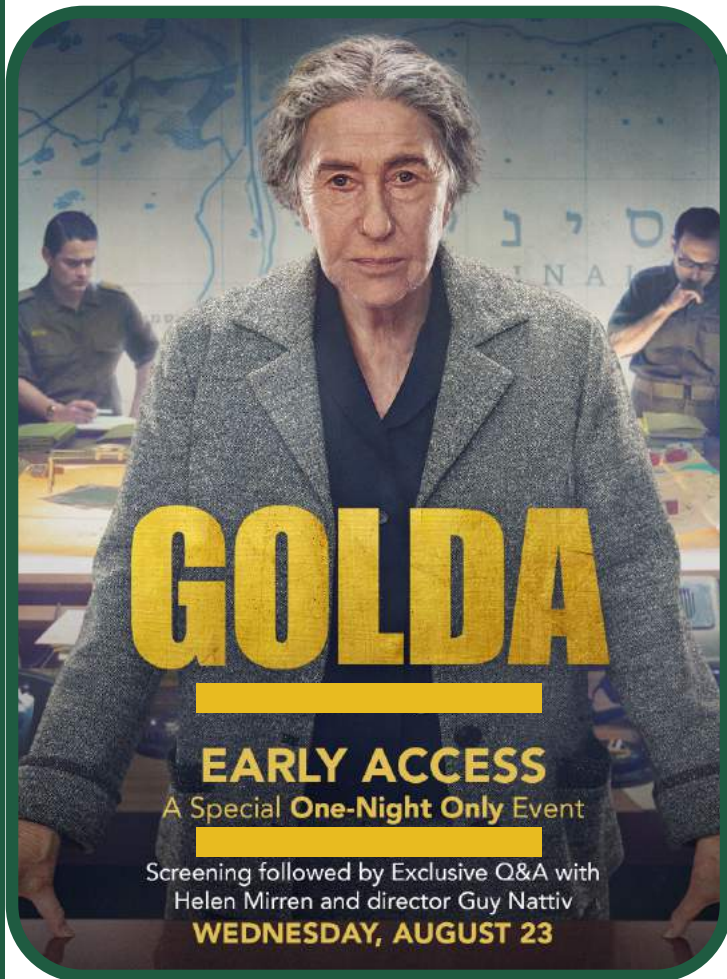

CNT Members are always free and there is a $18 charge for Not-Yet Members.

Please join us at our next Seniors Program event at CNT!

CNT To Host Exclusive Screening Of “Golda” At South Point

Congregation Ner Tamid and CNT's Film Chavurah are hosting a sneak screening of “Golda,” starring Academy Award winner Helen Mirren, on Wednesday, August 23, at 7:00 p.m. Doors open at 6:30 p.m.

CNT has secured a private theater at the Cinemark Century 16 South Point and XD at the South Point Casino, 9777 Las Vegas Blvd. S., to present this special event held two days before the movie’s nationwide release.

Go to our website, calendar, or <https://lvnertamid.shulcloud.com/event/golda-movie-screening.html>, or the QR code below, to buy your tickets for $15 each. The price goes up to $20 on Sunday, August 10. Once tickets are purchased we cannot offer refunds.

Directed by Academy Award winner Guy Nattiv, “Golda” is a ticking-clock thriller set during the tense 19 days of the Yom Kippur War in 1973.

Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir, portrayed by Mirren, faced with the potential of Israel’s complete destruction, must navigate overwhelming odds, a skeptical cabinet, and a complex relationship with U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger (portrayed by Liev Schreiber), with millions of lives in the balance. Her tough leadership and compassion would ultimately decide the fate of her nation and leave her with a controversial legacy around the world.

Plus, after CNT’s private screening, you’ll get to watch an exclusive 20-minute Q&A video with actress Mirren and director Nattiv.

“One of the most iconic women in Jewish history is Golda Meir,” CNT’s Rabbi Akselrad said. “Helen Mirren is an accomplished Academy Award-winning actress who I think will do a tremendous job in portraying this historic woman with all her subtleties and all her complexities. I encourage everyone to attend and make this a fun and interesting event for our Membership.”

Nevadans for the Common Good

“What do we live for, if it is not to make life less difficult for each other?” – George Eliot

This quote could be the mission statement for Nevadans for the Common Good (NCG). Always working for the betterment of our community, NCG takes action around issues impacting the lives of Nevadans. Our year ended on Thursday, June 29, with a Delegates Assembly at Christ the King Catholic Church. Members of our 37 religious and nonprofit institutions came together to ratify our plans for next year. This included our budget, upcoming trainings, house meetings, and the work of our housing and mental health teams.

Prior to bringing the meeting to order, five members of the mental health team provided a public service announcement based on an article titled “Top Five Strategies to Cultivating Your Mental Health.” The strategies included hobbies, sleep, exercise, social connections, and diet.

Delegate Assemblies always begin with a roll call. Representing Congregation Ner Tamid was Fern Sherri Levine. CNT’s Cindy Jensen summarized all the work of the mental health team. This included our meetings with Henderson’s Mayor Michelle Romero, Las Vegas City Councilman Brian Knudsen, Dr. Joanne Leovy, Attorneys Kim Abbott and Jonathan Norman from Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada and the City of Henderson, Hayley Jarolimek, Neighborhood Services Manager; Stacy DiNicola, Community Resource Coordinator; and Lisa Kelso, Community Resource and Resilience Center Supervisor.

Cindy told of some positive ideas in the works, and she told of the challenges that lie ahead.

The meeting was closed out by Rabbi Akselrad and Cantor Hutchings. Their words of wisdom were encouraging as they called our community to take action and “Stand Tall.”

The CNT NCG team meets on the third Thursday of the month on Zoom. If you are interested in joining us, please contact Dorie Kirtman or Susie Sernoe.

Cindy Jensen speaks about the work of the Mental Health Team.

Social Action/ Justice Committee Invites Congregation To Special Shabbat In The Round

One of the many things that make Congregation Ner Tamid a special place to belong is the passion we have for helping others and making a difference in the world. It is heartwarming to see how many of our Congregants, of all ages, are actively involved with programs and activities throughout our community that are repairing our world in different ways. There are also Congregants looking to fulfill their yearning to help others.

The Social Action/ Justice Committee is looking for programs or activities that will provide our Congregation with opportunities for Tikkun Olam. If you have a project, program, cause, or idea that you are passionate about, please contact the Social Action/ Justice Committee to see if we can help you share your passion with others.

Please join us on Friday, August 25, at 7:00 p.m., for our Social Action/ Justice Perspective Member Shabbat in the Round. At the center of CNT's Tikkun Olam programs is its Social Action/ Justice, Chesed, and Nevadans for the Common Good Committees which provide central resources for social action to both Temple organizations and individuals. Group representatives will be in attendance to talk about their projects and offer membership to their committees. You can also contact us at: ckjensen@cox.net or (702) 239-4998.

WE WILL BE ENGRAVING Yahrzeit Plaques DURING THE FIRST WEEK OF SEPTEMBER...

When a loved one passes away, Jewish tradition teaches us to remember them annually by lighting a candle on the date of their passing, or Yahrzeit.

We honor and show our love for the departed and remember that those who have passed away never truly leave us as long as we hold them in our hearts and adopt their life lessons into our own daily lives.

If you'd like to pay homage to a loved one, add their name to our Rows of Remembrance.

*To reserve or to purchase a Yahrzeit plaque,
please contact*
