

Three Ways to Support Israel

USCJ and our Movement partners stand with the citizens of Israel as they battle this terrorist onslaught. We send love and support to our rabbinic colleagues, to the leaders and members of our kehillot, and those with loved ones impacted by the war in Israel.

1. Connect and Pray

We encourage everyone to reach into your networks to support family, friends and colleagues in Israel. Please find several opportunities to pray as a community listed below:

- Fuchsberg Jerusalem Center invites you to join them in a daily prayer service for Israel beginning Wednesday, October 11 at 9am PT, 12pm ET, 5pm UK, and 7pm Israel. You can register here to receive a Zoom link to join.
- USCJ and our Movement partners will hold a worldwide prayer service for the safety of the captives, the healing of the wounded, the memory of the murdered and the safety and security of IDF soldiers, security and rescue forces and all citizens of Israel. Register here to join this global Prayer Service for the State of Israel on Thursday, October 12 at 10am PT, 1pm ET, 6pm UK, and 8pm Israel.

We can also hold people who have been affected in our prayers for healing and for redeeming captives. Submit names here and we will add them to our Movement's list of people being kept in our prayers.

2. Get Resources

USCJ has compiled these resources to share with your community. We will update these as more resources become available.

3. Donate

USCJ and our Masorti Movement in Israel are partnering with Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA) to send aid directly to vetted nonprofits on the ground in Israel. 100% of proceeds go to Israel, and will also benefit projects linked to our Masorti communities. Please donate by clicking here.

Am Yisrael Hai!

Rabbi Jacob Blumenthal
CEO, The Rabbinical Assembly and USCJ