A MESSAGE FROM YOUR PRESIDENT...

Dear Fellow Congregants,

It has been over a week since Art and I returned from Santa Fe and Albuquerque, New Mexico. I tried writing this article from a computer in the hotel lobby, thinking it was due on the 9th, not the 20th like I had written on my calendar. Of course, I had forgotten my password, but I thought I had circumvented the problem, and composed what I thought at the time was a short paragraph, comparing our various members to the many shapes of the beautiful, colorful balloons rising into the sky. Apparently, my letter went up into the clouds as well, never to be received by Richard Zachary, who has been compiling this Newsletter for years.

Vicki Lewis

Unfortunately, times quickly changed, since Art and I had the opportunity to glide up into the sky where there was quiet and peace. And then war began against our beloved state of Israel. The Jewish people have got to stay strong, both in Israel and the diaspora. We have to be aware, vigilant, but also hopeful.

I had a conference yesterday with Michael Dzik, Director of our Chattanooga Jewish Federation, about security. One of the things that came to my mind and my heart was the fact that we are all in this together as one community. Last month when I talked about receiving our security grants, I failed to mention the importance of the American Jewish Federation which helped us achieve those grants.

The NSGP funds – These are federal funds for which the Federation system actively lobbies congress. Michael connected us with Rob Goldberg who helped us write the grant. which was for the building, not individual congregations. We will continue to upgrade the security of our building.

The TN State Grant for Personnel Costs – Chattanooga, Knoxville, Nashville and Memphis all pooled our time and money to hire lobbyists in Nashville for the past 2 years. They were able to get the Governor to put $500,000 last year's budget specifically for religious institutions – and specifically to pay for direct personnel costs. It's a grant process that is open to all faiths. This year the Federations again lobbied and got an increase to $750,000 available funds. Michael personally completed the Mizpah/BZ/Machanooga application. NOTE: Organizations with the same address could only make ONE application, hence a joint application.

All we need to do is apply for the grant after we spend the money for the personnel. This will be administered by Mizpah for our events, BZ for their events, and Machanooga for its events. I want us to acknowledge that we are all Jews; that we all need to stand strong. We need to show up for activities at Mizpah, but we also need to show up for Federation events because right now Jews in Israel need our help And the quickest way for you to get it there is to donate through Chattanooga Jewish Federation. Am I biased? Absolutely!!!

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR RABBI...

October was a challenging month for Jews around the world, and most trying for our kinsmen, the citizens of Israel. I was talking to friends the other day who asked how I was doing. I answered, "Okay, but I just have this ever-present feeling of "yuck." However, I cannot allow that feeling to dominate my life. Israel needs Jews around the world to remain strong, healthy, confident, and informed. I have made a point of doing the things that take my mind off of the very serious world events: family time, playing with my pets, and watching the Chiefs. I advise this for everyone. My mantra has been: "There is a difference between staying informed and "doom scrolling." So, go outside. Take a walk. Go to the gym. Go shopping. Be present for your kids and grandkids. The news will still be there when you get back, and it does not update as quickly as we tend to think.

Rabbi Craig Lewis

Personally, I feel the most "normal" when I am outside running: no news, no stress, just music and the road in front of me. On October 15, I had the opportunity to run in a half-marathon. Wearing Israel flag arm sleeves, intentionally showing my Jewish pride, I enjoyed a beautiful autumn day. My music playlist, titled "Fun Songs," was one that I listened to most days that I ran during July in Israel. During my run, my mind took me back to the Shvil Ha-rakevet, the Train Path, repurposed train tracks turned into a long running, walking, biking trail. My body was on the Tennessee River Walk, but my mind was on a running trail in Jerusalem. I could see it - the construction walls announcing Jerusalem's attempts to add more green spaces and to develop the city in an eco-friendly way. I could see the people who passed by, fellow runners, even Orthodox women in leggings and long skirts to maintain modesty during their boot camp training. There were also Muslims, including women in hijab, all sharing the same trail, in their shared city. I was transported to a special time and a place, and the memories, along with endorphins, made me smile throughout the 13 mile race. I needed that, and every time I have exercised since, I try to return to that same place. I hope we all find our own outlets that can help us pace ourselves through these difficult days and guide us to the feeling I described during our Israel Solidarity event at the Jewish Federation on October 10 - Nechemtah.

Here are some of my remarks:

Nechemtah is consolation, a feeling of repose and relief, a moment of healing that allows us to move forward. In Judaism, we think not just in days or years, but in generations. After all, we are a people who plant seeds not for ourselves, but so that our grandchildren can enjoy the shade of the trees we provided. In the meantime, we mourn. We share our grief. We comfort our friends. We express our solidarity. We make an outward showing that the Jewish homeland matters, even for we who live half a world away. Israel is our family, an integral part of who we are. And so, if we remember the heart of the people of Israel is broken, but not our backs, we know nechemtah will come. If we stand together in solidarity with the Jewish state, we know nechemtah will come. If we look forward to moments of celebration when a hostage is freed, we know nechemtah will come. If we await the day when Israel's borders are secured..., we know nechemtah will come. If we take the time to mourn and honor every innocent lost life, and give meaning to their sacrifice with the promise: "Never again," we know nechemtah will come."

Another thought on nechemtah relates to this month of November. We must remember to count our blessings and offer thanks. I already talked about embracing time with friends, family, and pets. Those are blessings worthy of thanksgiving. We live safely and freely in a nation whose borders are secure and endeavors to protect us. For this we give thanks. We had more than 20 representatives from churches across Chattanooga attend our Shirei Shalom service to show their love for Israel and the Jewish people. For this we give thanks. We will host at Mizpah a beautiful music concert on November 5th. For this we give thanks. We will host an interfaith dialogue about the Catholic Church's statements on reconciling relations with Jews on November 15th. For this we give thanks. We will participate in an interfaith Thanksgiving service on November 19th. For this we give thanks. We will enter into a holiday season filled with cheer, and reminders of the cycles of history, that there is always a brighter time somewhere in the future, a time filled with nechemtah - consolation and repose. For this and all our blessings we give thanks.

May we all enter November with a mission that this and every month after will bring us closer to nechemtah and peace for Israel and all people everywhere.

I am a history teacher at Marist School in Atlanta who is about to start his 30th year at the school! Crazy. The class I'm hoping to bring to Chattanooga is one I developed as part of my position on the Committee for Ecumenical and Interreligious Dialogue for the Archdiocese of Atlanta and has been endorsed by Archbishop Hartmayer. The class covers the history and Christian anti-Judaism, the watershed proclamation of Nostra Aetate, and current and future Jewish-Christian relations.

Recent events

Mizpah Rabbi Craig Lewis was photographed crossing the finish line at the October 15th 7 Bridges Half Marathon. We are happy to share this bit of glory. Mazal Tov! And to think he finds time to train and be our rabbi!

SHIREI SHALOM

Photos compliments of Andy Hodes taken our recent Shirei Shalom worship service. On the 3rd Shabbat of each month, Amy Cohen leads the congregation in song, prayer and meditation, while Rabbi Lewis facilitates a spirited and timely discussion. We conclude the evening with our self-named Chardonnay Shabbat, aptly named for the array of wine to share with Mogen David. The service is held in our Feinstein Chapel.

NOAH MOSS BAR MITZVAH

Saturday, October 21, 2023, Noah Moss, son of Vanessa and Charlie Moss, celebrated his Bar Mitzvah at Mizpah, Rabbi Craig Lewis officiating. Noah presented this art piece as part of his Torah drash, or commentary. As told to his Dad: This piece, based on the Torah reading Noach, depicts Noah finding land after God flooded the Earth. The colors represent the hardships Noah faced but the fact they found land meant there was still hope when all hope had been lost.

FEDERATION CAMP AND ISRAEL SCHOLARSHIPS

NEW THIS YEAR – The Chattanooga Jewish Federation is partnering with One Happy Camper (OHC) and PJ Goes to Camp for first time campers. Been to camp more than once? More than twice? Three times? Your Chattanooga Federation offers camp scholarships for ALL!

Applications go through OHC: jewishcamp.org. NOTE – If this is not your first time, the application may “deny” your grant. Not to worry - OHC collects that data for Chattanooga and you WILL get a grant! Grants range from $1,000-$1,750 per child, per summer. Requirements • Must be an approved Jewish summer camp • Family must live in the Chattanooga metro area • Family must make annual campaign gift (and in good standing) to Federation – at any level. The Federation recognizes the life-long benefits of Jewish summer camp, building Jewish identity, friendships and independence.

BOOK CLUB

Come read with us! Your Mizpah Book club is reading Isabel Allende's The Wind Knows My Name. We will meet at the home of Vicki and Art Lewis on Sunday, November 12th at 10:30am. Contact Amy at amyjcohen@gmail.com for info! We meet to learn and talk, but really we come for the food and friends. Try it out!

RABBI LEWIS AND ERNEST
Rabbi Lewis presents Sgt. Ernest Crow an official jacket from the IDF. Rabbi Lewis brought this from Israel, and asked the seller was it OK to give it to our non-Jewish security officer, who said, “anyone, anywhere who guards Jews is in our Army!”

SOCIAL ACTION

Our Pride event was extremely successful this year! We had an excellent turnout from Mizpah for the parade, and at the Convention Center. This was our first year that we were Silver Sponsors of a booth held at the Convention Center. The crowds overwhelmed us at our booth, folks loved our trinkets, but more importantly, they were extremely interested in learning about Mizpah and our welcoming synagogue. Rabbi Lewis not only marched in the parade with us, but spent most of the day in the booth speaking with curious visitors. A special thanks goes to all of our volunteers who took shifts at our booth to make the day so successful: Ellen Hays, Hope Flammer, Rabbi Lewis, Marissa Street, Olivia Center, Maddie Gabelman, Eden & Jen Lewis. In addition, I especially appreciate Alex Birghenthal for her contribution in providing our booth with a beautiful sign. We truly had fabulous participation which made our event even more enjoyable.

Our next event coming up is the "Grateful Gobbler." Ellen Hays who informed me Mizpah participated on a regular basis in the past. We are renewing this event this year and have formed the Mizpah Team. Please sign-up so that Tom, Ellen, and I don't have to march alone! Please indicate after you register "Mizpah Congregation Team" Let's walk together for a great cause! www.gratefulgobblerwalk.org/

Finally, I am very pleased to share that we have two new Social Action Chairs that are looking forward to getting started in November. Please welcome Stefanie deOllouqui and Brenda Binder to their new roles. It has been a pleasure serving you these past 2.5 years.

Debra Dubow

MIZPAH GARDEN OF LIFE

Have you recently been in the Garden of Life and felt like something was missing? The Garden bench (shown at right) that was a fixture for a long time had a significant amount of rotten wood and for safety reasons had to be removed. If you would like to purchase a new bench in memory of or in honor of someone, please contact the Temple Office. There are several designs that you can choose from and Angela can send you the link to look at the pictures. Please know that you and the recipients will be duly noted with proper marking.
