Message from Rabbi Berkman

Purim, Hamen and Genocide

This year, after a double month of Adar, Purim begins on Saturday night, March 23rd. When Purim comes on the heels of Shabbat, certain preparations must be made ahead of time in order not to transgress the laws of Shabbat. For example, the making of mishloach manot to be handed out Saturday night or the bringing of a megillah to synagogue on Friday afternoon. Another interesting result of the Shabbat-Purim nexus is the reading on Shabbat morning of a special Torah section known as Parshat Zachor. In Zachor we learn of the commandment to always remember how the Amalekites viciously attacked Israel after they crossed through the Sea. In Deuteronomy 25, we read:

“Remember what Amalek did to you on your journey, after you left Egypt— how, undeterred by fear of God, he surprised you on the march, when you were famished and weary, and cut down all the stragglers in your rear. Therefore, when your God grants you safety from all your enemies around you, in the land that your God is giving you as a hereditary portion, you shall blot out the memory of Amalek from under heaven. Do not forget!”

The portion is read on the Shabbat immediately preceding Purim which means that this year, Zachor and the Megillah are read almost back-to-back, separated by only a few hours. The connection between Zachor, Amalak and Purim becomes clear when we are introduced in the third chapter of megillah reading to Haman, son of Hammedatha the Agagite. Hamen was a descendant of Amalek! We are therefore commanded to erase his memory, hence the noise makers when his name is read on Purim.

Many in the non-bible literate world were recently awakened to this passage in Deuteronomy when Israeli Prime Minister, Bibi Netanyahu referenced it in an address to the nation last October 28th, only two weeks after the October 7th war began. Here’s what he said about the Israeli soldiers preparing to enter Gaza:

“They are longing to recompense the murderers for the horrific acts they perpetrated on our children, our women, our parents, and our friends. They are committed to eradicating this evil from the world, for our existence, and I add, for the good of all humanity. The entire people, and the leadership of the people, embrace them and believe in them. “Remember what Amalek did to you.” We remember and we fight.”

Netanyahu was voicing something felt by Jews throughout Israel and around the world. The brutal surprise attack by Hamas on 10/7 tapped into the Jewish People’s worst fears. It touched on long dormant feelings of vulnerability, defenselessness, and powerlessness. Throughout Jewish history, Jews have identified as Amalek their worst enemies and attackers, of which there were many. Amalek as an antient and extinct nation poses no threat however, our tradition teaches that in every generation Israel will face the forces of evil. The command to “blot out their memory from under the heavens” represents an ongoing struggle with an idea as much as an existential danger.

For Jews living in the diaspora during the last eighteen hundred years, the command to “blot out” was mostly academic. Between the destruction of the Temple in 70 CE and the re-birth of the state of Israel in 1948, never was there a Jewish army who could exact punishment on the Amalek of the day.

However, the world heard Netanyahu’s words differently. What the world heard was a call to destroy a people. The book of Samuel describes God’s directive to Saul to utterly destroy Amalek – every male, female, infant, ox and camel. Netanyahu’s speech, a call to arms against a murderous and vicious enemy, Hamas, was viewed as a call for genocide against the entire Palestinian people. The response to his statement was swift condemnation in the court of world opinion. Together with inflammatory language offered by some members of the Knesset as well as the military, the Amalek analogy became a centerpiece of the genocide case brought to the International Court of Justice by South Africa.

It is difficult, from the full context of Netanyahu’s statement, to make a good case that Netanyahu was advocating the destruction of Gaza and its people. That his intentions were sighted on Hamas is implicit in his statement but also explicit in the multiple public statements, conversations, and news conferences, in which Netanyahu has stated the need to protect innocent civilians in Gaza. Netanyahu makes it clear that avoiding civilian deaths is a priority for the Israeli military. Indeed, were Israel intent on genocide, it would have finished the job in a few days of carpet bombing rather than sending its soldiers into Gaza to die in street battles and underground. Nevertheless, domestic and international media seized on Netanyahu’s biblical reference insisting that it be read for its literal meaning rather than its intended emotional resonance. Here is a small fraction of the searchable responses in the press: Sarajevo Times: “Israeli PM Tried to Justify the Killing of Palestinians - Remember what our bible says”; Mother Jones: “The Dangerous History Behind Netanyahu’s Amalek Rhetoric.... Long been used by the Israeli far right to justify killing Palestinians”; Times of India: “Netanyahu Cites ‘Amalek’ Theory to Justify Gaza killings”; Financial World: “Netanyahu Openly Calls for Genocide Citing the Bible”. Claims accusing Israel of genocidal intent are outrageous, particularly since Hamas openly and proudly declares in its charter the mission to eradicate Israel and the Jewish people (in 2017 Hamas exchanged the word “Jews” for Zionist occupation” to soften its image in among western countries).

However, the comparison of Hamas to Amalek is not unfounded. First, the attack on 10/7 was beyond brutal, one might even be tempted to say that it was of biblical proportions were it not for the fact that nowhere in the Bible is there a description of such acts of barbarity, even in its most graphic accounts of battle. Secondly, like the biblical Amalek, the attack was perpetrated mostly on innocent people – the elderly, women and children, unarmed concert goers, entire families. Comparisons to Amalek among our people are reserved for this level of depravity. It is a painful irony that the majority of those murdered or taken hostage on that day have been the most vocal in their support for peace efforts, some of them actively involved in covertly bringing Gazans needing medical attention to Israeli hospitals.

The world’s accusations of genocide are a perverse inversion of a term meant to describe the deliberate and calculated erasure of a people. It trivializes the experience of the Holocaust and the many other actual genocides that are happening even now.

Netanyahu was not wrong in invoking the memory of Amalek. He understood that for the Jewish people, biblical Amalek remains a powerful idea defining a category of evil that defies all norms of humanity. Hamas has proven again and again that it is the embodiment of that corrupt spirit. It must be blotted out from under the heavens, worldwide condemnation notwithstanding.

Message from President Jonathan Goldberg

Wait, it is the beginning of March-where's Purim? Usually by now, my kitchen is covered with remnants of flour left over from my wife's award-winning hamantaschen. (Note: this is NOT just a proud husband's hyperbole. She literally did win a contest a few years ago!)

Aah, yes. It's because of Jewish leap year. The wacky occurrence that causes an additional month to be added after Adar, creatively called, naturally Adar II. Although something like "The Revenge of Adar" or "Adar Strikes Back" would have been much more marketable. But this addition moves everything back, so Purim will now be March 23-24.

This is the perfect opportunity to remind everyone to join us for Megillah reading on Saturday evening and/or Sunday morning. If you like dressing up for Halloween, the craziness of Mardi Gras and the loud screaming of thousands of Swifties during the Eras Tour rolled into one, I have just the event for you!

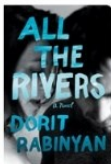

I know many of us aren't feeling joyous too often-certainly not when we see the news from Israel and remind ourselves of our brothers and sisters who continue to be held hostage. But these are the times when we need to feel a little of that levity the most. We are Jews-it's our humor that has helped us survive through the worst things the world has thrown at us-persecution, war, hatred, bad digestive systems and even overbearing mothers. (See how that works?)

Please check our website and weekly newsletter for all the Purim programming for members and families. There's always a lot going on and we'd love to see you there!

L'Shalom,

Jonathan Goldberg

A bold portrayal of the strains—and delights—of a forbidden relationship, All the Rivers (published in Israel as Borderline) is a love story and a war story, a New York story and a Middle East story, an unflinching foray into the forces that bind us and divide us. RABBI DAVID-SETH KIRSHNER

On October 7th, 2023, David-Seth Kirshner woke up excited to celebrate his 50th birthday. Instead of eating cake, Rabbi Kirshner was glued to the news as the horrible attack by Hamas upon innocent Israelis began to unfold.

Written during those first 50 days, Streams of Shattered Consciousness is a chronicle of Rabbi Kirshner's emotions and opinions with a healthy dose of history lessons. This newly released book is a record of a watershed moment in the history of the Jewish people.

Anger, rage, surprise, fear, hope, frustration, anxiety, conviction, and grief inhabited his mind and body.

The New City Jewish Center will present a conversation with Temple Emani-EI in Closter's Rabbi Kirshner author of Streams of Shattered Consciousness. Please join us for this very important discussion.

SETH KIRSHNER

On October 7th, 2023, David-Seth Kirshner woke up excited to celebrate his 50th birthday. Instead of eating cake, Rabbi Kirshner was glued to the news as the horrible attack by Hamas upon innocent Israelis began to unfold.

Written during those first 50 days, Streams of Shattered Consciousness is a chronicle of Rabbi Kirshner's emotions and opinions with a healthy dose of history lessons. This newly released book is a record of a watershed moment in the history of the Jewish people.

Anger, rage, surprise, fear, hope, frustration, anxiety, conviction, and grief inhabited his mind and body.

The New City Jewish Center will present a conversation with Temple Emanu-El in Closter's Rabbi Kirshner author of Streams of Shattered Consciousness. Please join us for this very important discussion.

Message from Men's Club

Happy spring! Though the vernal equinox begins on March 20, I was pleased to learn recently that meteorologists consider spring to start on March 1. We have several events to look forward to this month and beyond.

Do you miss our Sunday Men's Club breakfasts? In conjunction with our Adult Education committee chaired by Ron Federman, we have an Adult Ed breakfast on Sunday, March 17 at 9:30 AM. Rabbi David-Seth Kirshner will be speaking on the topic, "Streams of Shattered Consciousness". His recently released book with this title is about the first 50 days following October 7. He chronicles his emotions and opinions during this time with a healthy dose of history lessons. I note that Rabbi Kirshner works with our former assistant Rabbi Ruberg at Temple Emanu-El in Closter, NJ. Though a paper copy of the book is more expensive, you can purchase an eBook copy for $2.99 at either bn.com or amazon.com.

Our Passover wine sale begins the middle of this month. Look for Larry Geisinger at our Purim Carnival where he will again be selling and providing samples of kosher wine. The order form is expected to be published in the March 15 and subsequent weekly emails.

Sponsorship of Friday night services at West Point Jewish Chapel is an event we have been organizing most years since 2005! Our next event will be on April 12 at 7:00 pm, though you will need to arrive early to pick up visitor passes. Please see the flyer elsewhere in this issue of Hakol. Reservations must be submitted by March 31.

As for events next month, our Mensch & Youth of the Year Breakfast will take place at NCJC on Sunday, April 7. I am honored to be the mensch this year. The youths being honored are Noa Epstein & Zachary Degen. We are grateful for the designations. Please join us to enjoy the camaraderie. Later, on Sunday, June 2, we will have region event honors at a brunch at OJC.

This past month, we had the World Wide Wrap where an emphasis is placed on learning to put on tefillin at morning services. Accompanying this article are several photos:

- 1) Though we did not take a photo at services this year, we have included a photo from our archives from a few years ago.
- 2) From the presentation by Rabbi Schneid this year, the next photo shows what tefillin looks like when the leather is in process of being stretched.
- 3) Very large tefillin, and very small tefillin about the size of dice.

We continue to recommend the FJMC webinars. A couple of the webinars this past month were "Food in American Jewish Comedy" and "Live from Israel: David Kufeld, First Orthodox Jew selected in the NBA Draft." Refer to fjmc.org/initiatives/affinity-groups-webinars for additional information. Another event coming up is the Yom Hashoah Yellow Candle distribution organized by Mike Backelman. We are working on a Yankee game for the Sunday after Mother's Day. Look for additional information in next month's Hakol.

There was a recent article in Atlantic Magazine, "Why Americans Suddenly Stopped Hanging Out". We ask that you consider hanging out with us – whether it is at the Men's Club first Wednesday of the month meeting at 8 pm or at other NCJC activities. We need one another.

B'Shalom, Andy Alper

Friday Night Shabbat Service at West Point

The Men's Clubs and Brotherhoods of the Hudson Valley Region of the Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs (HVR FJMC) invite you to join with us as we sponsor a Shabbat service at West Point Jewish Chapel on Friday night, April 12, 2024, at 7:00pm. We will meet the cadets, greet the chaplain, Rabbi Heather Borshof, and join in the service. The service will be followed by a light dinner. A reservation is required no later than Sunday, March 31, 2024. The Visitor Control Center has asked for this two-week lead time so security passes can be arranged for everyone 18 years and older.

Everyone is invited. To help defray the costs we are asking for $20 per adult ages 18 and over. There is no charge for those age 17 or younger. Please also consider making a donation to sponsor a cadet for the dinner.

Please register to attend at hudsonvalleyfjmc.org no later than Sunday, March 31, 2024. Under security procedures, those age 18 and over must have a pass to enter West Point. If you do not already have a valid pass, please have the dates of birth and drivers' licenses (or state ID) available for all attendees when you register. Payment will be made online.

Prior to entering through the gate, we will distribute the passes from the center grass median of the parking lot of the Visitor Control Center, 2107 New South Post Rd, Highland Falls, NY (look for the elevated cannon at the entrance) from 6:00pm to 6:45pm before the service. Please bring your ID when you pick up your pass. After you go through the gate and present the pass, the Jewish Chapel is at 750 Merritt Rd, West Point, NY.

If you would like to make an additional donation directly to the West Point Jewish Chapel Fund, we invite you to do so at www.westpointjewishchapel.com.

For questions, please contact Andy Alper at andyalper@outlook.com or 845-729-9332 (mobile – leave message if needed).

Our 2023-2024

Kol Yisrael Arevim Zeh Ba'Zeh Campaign

All the people of Israel are responsible for one another

We strive to make a significant impact through scholarships and programs that benefit students at The Jewish Theological Seminary, Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies, Schechter Institutes, Seminario Rabinico Latinoamericano and Zacharias Frankel College.

Thanks to the generosity of our donors, we help committed Jewish students become the rabbis, cantors, educators, synagogue administrators, social workers, scholars, researchers and lay leaders of tomorrow.

When you support Torah Fund, you help educate students in New York, Los Angeles, Israel, Latin America and Europe—and you align with those who value learning, knowledge and providing the future generation with relevant skills to fortify the Jewish people.

This pin highlights the word 'arevut,' responsibility. It corresponds to the theme from the Babylonian Talmud, Shevuot 39a, that all the people of Israel are responsible for one another, and we assume that responsibility through our support of the five Conservative/Masorti institutions of higher education.

New City Jewish Center Sisterhood is looking for "Stars" to add sparkle to our fundraising efforts.

Our Sisterhood is the "Heart of the Synagogue". Sisterhood donations help provide the New City Jewish Center community with funds supporting many physical and spiritual needs. Sisterhood funds have helped to build and maintain the Caplan/Diamond Playground and provide programs for NCJC's Hebrew School children. Most recently, Sisterhood sponsored a wonderful congregational dinner and program commemorating the first yahrzeit of our beloved Lynne Diwinsky.

In order to continue funding exciting programs and provide financial support for NCJC, Sisterhood needs your help. We have created a fund for additional contributions to Sisterhood. Women who become Sisterhood Stars pledge $36 per year for 3 years. Those who choose to contribute will have their names listed in Hakol and will receive a certificate. Discussion & Presentation

with Simon Jeruchim
Author & Holocaust Survivor

Meet the author, who was twelve years old when his secure world came to an end. He relates how he came to hide in a small hamlet in Normandy, and work on a farm, a harsh life for a small Parisian boy. He hid his identity from everyone. An optimist by nature, he was looking forward to the end of the war and reunion with his family. He was reunited with his brother and sister, but his parents did not survive, unfortunately. This book is a beautiful example of a boy's courage and determination to stay alive.

THE BOOK MAY BE PURCHASED ($15) OR

CHESED CALLERS

What does it mean to be a part of a "caring community" and how can we create this type of community within our synagogue? In responding to these questions, the Gemilut Chesed Committee is pleased to be launching a new response team called the "Chesed Callers". Our Chesed Callers are a group of people who make phone calls with compassion and love for those members of our congregation who could use a little kindness.

If you, yourself, would benefit from the helping hands of our team, or know someone else who would, please be in touch with us! We thank you, in advance, for the opportunity to do such an important mitzvah!!

CEMETERY PLOTS AVAILABLE THROUGH NCJC

"It is an ancient Jewish custom to purchase a gravesite during one's lifetime and to own it outright prior to burial. The Bible states explicitly that Abraham brought a grave for Sarah. Likewise, Joseph was buried in the family plot that his father Jacob had acquired in the city of Shechem". (From The Jewish Way in Death and Mourning by Maurice Lamm)

Have you put off arranging your final resting place because you just don't want to deal with the details? Allow us to assist you in making this an easy process with minimal hassle. New City Jewish Center currently has numerous plots available for purchase at Gates of Zion Cemetery located at 670 Saddle River Road in Monsey. Additionally, in comparison to other area cemeteries the cost is more reasonable, and the check is made payable to NCJC.

For further details or to make an appointment to schedule a personal tour of available plots please call our cemetery chairperson Jay Shaffer at 845-634-5697.
