The holidays are right on time

by Cory Weiss
Rabbi

“

We will all welcome 5782 wherever we find ourselves, and we will be a Har Zion family where we are.

Every year Jewish professionals and synagogue staff complain: “The High Holy Days are so early this year!” Or, “The High Holy Days are so late this year! It throws off the school schedule!” I have news for us: the High Holy Days are coming right on time — Rosh HaShanah is the 1st of Tishrei; Yom Kippur is on the 10th, and Sukkot starts the 15th. Same as every other year!

The difference, of course, is in the Gregorian Calendar, the one we live with in the secular world. Because we’ve gone two years without a Jewish leap year (in which we add a 13th month), our calendar has shifted backwards 11 days each year. That’s why the holidays seem so “early.” And when your clergy have to start planning services for the High Holy Days in May... now you know why we complain!

But here we are, and 5782 will begin the evening of Labour Day (September 6th). I can’t tell you how much I’m looking forward to seeing some of you in person over the holidays. If you will be here for a service, machzorim will be available, or you can follow along on the screen in the sanctuary. For those of you who are not coming in person, we’ll feel your presence wherever you are. All of the liturgy will be on-screen, just like last year, so you can pray along at home.

If you’ll be streaming, remember to try and make your home a mikdash m’at — a mini-sanctuary. Make your prayer space feel like a prayer space. Decorate with flowers for the New Year. Choose a comfy chair. If you’re watching on a computer, cover your desk or table with a tablecloth so it feels less like an office. If you can connect your computer to a TV by HDMI, you’ll be able to see the prayers more easily. Dress for the holidays. Limit distractions if you can. Gather with family if they’re in your bubble and vaccinated.

We will all welcome in 5782 wherever we find ourselves, and we will be a Har Zion family wherever we are. I wish everyone a joyous and healthy year, and a year in which we are finally able to come back together in person, as a whole congregation, to celebrate our joys and lift up our voices in song!

Shanah Tovah uM’tukah — A Good and Sweet New Year to all of you,

Rabbi Cory Weiss

Optimism

by Sheree Davis
President

I want us to move forward with optimism so that we can continue to thrive as the caring, Jewish community we have been for almost 50 years.

I've been thinking about optimism — hopefulness and confidence about the future. We are shortly beginning 5782 — a new year. Why don't we all strive to begin each new year with optimism?

Some of us are worried about the Delta variant and what new variant might come next. Many of us are adjusting to the continually new normal. We are worried about our jobs, income, health and education. At the same time, think about our practise of Tashlich — casting off of our sins, our fears and our worries of the past year. There is a reason for that. I think it is so we can move forward in a positive and hopeful manner.

It is true that the COVID-19 case numbers have been rising at the time of my writing this article. The majority of the cases are the highly communicable Delta Variant and 90 per cent are affecting the unvaccinated. Where we were experiencing daily new case counts of over 4,200 in January of this year, we are currently experiencing daily case counts over 500. At the same time, there are now effective vaccines to address COVID-19. Over 70 per cent of the population has been fully vaccinated and 80 per cent have received one of two doses. We know that properly wearing masks and physical distancing are effective tools in managing the spread. The experience of the last year-and-a-half has prompted many people to make changes in their careers, in where they live and how they want to live moving forward. That is change. That is progress. That is positive. That is hopeful.

As I think about this new year, I'm reminded of something a late colleague of mine wrote about the importance of being an optimist. Dr. Brenda Zimmerman was Co-Designer and Co-Director of the Graduate Diploma in Social Innovation at the University of Waterloo from 2010-2014 and Professor of Strategic Management at the Schulich School of Business at York University in Toronto. After her funeral, her niece posted the following advice she received from her aunt on Facebook. It is worth considering.

It is not an accomplishment to become a pessimist.

Some people take great pride in labelling themselves pessimists, believing that they see the world more clearly than the rest of us. In reality, those people have chosen to focus on the darkness — they have lost.

However, choosing to be an optimist throughout your life is a rare achievement. It means that you choose to see the world as a place of possibility.

It doesn't mean that you are unaware of the negatives in the world, but rather that instead of giving up on the world; you choose to keep trying to make it a better place. You focus on your own circle of influence.

Well, for the next two years at least, the THZ community is part of my sphere of influence. I want us to move forward with optimism so that we can continue to thrive as the caring, Jewish community we have been for almost 50 years. I am confident that we can not only sustain Har Zion's promise, we should continue to renew it. There will be opportunities for each of us to do that every day in the coming new year.

We will surely experience new ways of working, different approaches to health care and education, changes in sports teams, shopping and entertainment. Let us find the opportunity in all of this for good — for our ourselves, our loved ones, our THZ community and the community at large. Let's stay positive and be hopeful.

I wish you and your loved ones Shanah Tovah and G'mar Hatimah Tovah.

Staying connected

by Dara Kideckel
Morning Minyan Coordinator

Looking to stay connected with the Har Zion community or maybe make some new friends in a safe, easy way? Come and Zoom with us.

Since March 2020, Temple Har Zion has been holding morning services on Zoom. We used to meet pre-Covid in the library chapel every day except Shabbat. In our initial trial we decided to meet just twice during the week — Tuesdays and Thursdays. We also continue to meet on Sundays, which is our most “popular” service, being on a weekend and at a later time. To our surprise, we have ended up getting more people on a regular basis attending the three services than when we met in person! Besides the convenience of rolling out of bed and just opening your computer to make a 7:15 service, there are the advantages of no driving, traffic, weather, parking, etc.

People also feel more comfortable joining in late, if they sleep a bit longer, than they would feel joining the service in progress when it was “live.”

All our regular attendees are people who lost someone dear to them and decided to join the service so that they could say Kaddish in their memory. They continue to stay on in order to support those who newly join the group. The sad reality is that there are always people passing away, as well as the annual yahrzeit to commemorate them. While we cannot provide the same support as we did in person, I believe that those who have joined over the past year have received some sense of comfort from the group.

The service itself is quite brief — approximately 20 minutes and is based on the synagogue’s Shabbat/Festival prayer book, Mishkan T’filah and is available for download from the Temple’s website. Since everyone is muted except the leader, no one needs to worry about their ability to follow along. You are free to sing at the top of your lungs or not at all and we won’t really know. Following the service, the group schmoozes for a while, chatting about important subjects such as how to cut your hair at home, will the Blue Jays win, to solving the entire pandemic and all world problems.

So, start your morning off with nice soothing melodies, chanted by our dedicated and wonderful lay leaders... combined with a regular supportive group discussion on any possible topic. Make us a part of your New Year routine.

Kol HaKavod!

A big ‘Thank You’ to Louise Rosenbloom, and Suzi and Zoe Winterstein, for everything they did to ensure that our THZ family will begin 5782 with sweetness. We’re lucky to have such wonderful volunteers!

I miss...

by Eleanor Ackerman Rice
Music Director

What will you miss most at this year's High Holy Days Services? Greeting each other, milling about the sanctuary before the service? The sound of the communal voices reading the prayers in unison? Maybe even the proud feeling when we're all together realizing that we are part of a great community? Solidarity! Sure!

But I can tell you exactly what I will miss most.

THE CHOIR!

That wonderful group of caring people who give their two most precious gifts to your synagogue: Their time and their dedication.

Covid has presented the choir with an unprecedented challenge and one that I know none of them expected to fulfill when they first joined: The preparation of "Choir in a Box."

I am referring to the choir as viewed on your computer screen. You see them singing together, yet all alone in their own little cubes. This is not what they signed up for! Nor is it the way a choir functions. Choir members sing while they listen to each other. Their performance depends on them hearing each other. Performing for public in isolation is not choir protocol. It is intimidating and lonely!

Let me explain how they do it. I record four tracks, one for each choral part: Soprano, Tenor, Alto and Bass. Each choir member records a video of himself or herself singing their part while listening to my recording on headphones.

No errors are permitted.

Jessie Saunders Drutz then compiles all the tracks. With her technological skill, musical sensitivity and hours of preparation, she creates our Temple Har Zion "Choir in a Box."

This year I will pray that we will all be together soon in our sanctuary with our canaries OUT OF THEIR BOX and BACK IN THE BAY!

We at THZ all strive to Connect, Engage and Inspire!

Wherever we may be, we're always connected

RECIPES

Some of our dedicated Out Of The Cold kitchen volunteers have sent in some delicious recipes, and we're delighted to share them with you for the High Holy Days. ENJOY!

Recipe courtesy of Sharon Hochberg, THZ member since 2014

"I share, with great pleasure, a Windsor 'thing', a recipe for a cake that is NOT a cake. I always make this ahead of time, wrap in foil to freeze, thaw (unopened) day of serving and warm in oven still wrapped. Slice and serve WITH the meal."

CARROT 'CAKE'

INGREDIENTS / DIRECTIONS

Cream together:

- 1 cup solid Crisco
- 1-1/2 cups brown sugar
- 4 egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons water

Sift together:

- 2 cups cake flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Add dry ingredients to the creamed mixture

Add to this:

- 3 cups coarsely grated carrots, well packed.

Beat:

- 4 egg whites to which 2 tablespoons of sugar have been added until stiff.

Fold egg whites into the batter.

Preheat the oven to 350°F. Grease or spray a bundt pan. Bake 50-60 minutes or until done. Turn out of pan immediately to cool on a wire rack.

Recipes courtesy of Edyse Fisher, THZ member since 1976

SALTY POPPYSEED CRACKERS

INGREDIENTS

- 3 large onions, chopped finely in food processor
- 1/2 cup water
- 1-1/2 tablespoons kosher salt
- 5 cups flour
- 1 cup oil
- 1/2 cup poppyseeds

DIRECTIONS

Mix all ingredients well. Dough should not be sticky. Roll dough to 1/8" thickness, or even thinner if you can. Cut with small glass. Continue rolling and cutting remaining dough a little at a time so it will not get tough.

Place rounds close together on ungreased cookie sheets and prick with a fork.

Bake at 400°F for 12 minutes on lower oven shelf. (Might need longer. Check the bottoms to see if they are brown). Turn and place on upper shelf for 5 minutes.

Check bottom of rounds to see when they are browned, then turn and bake again until bottoms are browned and they look crispy like crackers. Superb with mushroom pâté!

MUSHROOM PÂTÉ

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 3 hard boiled eggs
- 1/4 lb. walnuts
- Salt and pepper to taste

DIRECTIONS

Fry the onions and mushrooms in the oil until golden brown.

Chop the walnuts finely in a food processor.

Add the remaining ingredients and continue chopping until you reach the desired consistency.

Refrigerate.

Scrumptious on crackers, or dip with a chip!

Recipe courtesy of Marlene Waiser, THZ member since 1989

A FAVOURITE FROM NIGELLA LAWSON

CHOCOLATE HONEY CAKE

INGREDIENTS

For the cake:

4 oz. semi-sweet chocolate broken into pieces, melted
1-1/3 cups light brown sugar
2 sticks unsalted butter, softened
1/2 cup honey, room temperature
2 eggs, room temperature
1-2/3 cups all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon cocoa powder
1 cup boiling water

For the sticky honey glaze:

1/4 cup water	1/4 cup honey
6 oz. semi sweet chocolate	3/4 cup icing sugar

DIRECTIONS

To make the cake:

Preheat the oven to 350°F. Butter a 9-inch springform pan and line the bottom with wax paper. Sift flour, baking soda and cocoa together.

Beat the sugar and butter until creamy and airy. Add the honey. Add eggs one at a time, adding a tablespoon of flour with each.

Add the slightly-cooled melted chocolate, followed by the dry ingredients.

Then add the boiling water, mixing well to make a smooth batter.

Pour into prepared pan and bake 1 hour or until a cake tester comes out clean.

If the cake is still loose after 45 minutes, yet the top appears quite cooked, gently lay a piece of foil on top of the cake.

Cool completely.

To make the glaze:

Bring honey and water to a boil. Turn off heat and add the chocolate. Let it rest while the chocolate melts, then whisk gently. Sift the sugar into the pan to avoid lumps and whisk until smooth.

Make the glaze in plenty of time to let it cool. If the glaze is still warm, it will run right off the cake. Pour over the cake.

One of our High Holy Day traditions is tashlich (pronounced tash-leekh) — the casting off of sins and mistakes.

After the service on Rosh HaShanah Day 2, THZ members walk down the hill to the Don River, as a community, and symbolically cast away our sins by tossing pieces of wood or twigs into the flowing stream. It is an opportunity to consciously release the mistakes and burdens of the last year and begin spiritually lighter — fresh and optimistic.

Not all of us will be able to do that together at Temple this year. Those of you who will be watching via livestream, or those unable to do so, can still complete the practice of tashlich.

Here I am again ready to let go of my mistakes.

Help me to release myself from all the ways I've missed the mark.

Help me to stop carrying the karmic baggage of my poor choices.

As I cast this bread upon the waters lift my troubles off my shoulders.

Help me to know that last year is over, washed away like crumbs in the current.

Open my heart to blessing and gratitude.

Renew my soul as the dew renews the grasses.

And we say together: Amen.
