Rabbi's Reflections

By Rabbi Daniel Fellman

L'shana Tova u'Metukah—a sweet and happy new year! Soon we will be gathering to celebrate Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, and I can't wait to see you and celebrate with a sanctuary (and auditorium) full of Sinai family! Being together has become so much more meaningful in our post-pandemic world, and I love the beauty of our community joining together to pray, to celebrate, to reconnect, and to dream.

This year our Jewish world calls to us in new ways. Israel, a unifying force for so long, has become divided with protests raging weekly if not daily. Our understandings of Israel have changed, and while we may disagree with policies of a particular leader or government, we must choose whether that disagreement warrants distance from the Israeli idea itself or not.

Here at home, Judaism, which for most of our lifetimes has been in expansion mode, finds itself at a crossroads. We are now living in times of contraction, of joining forces with others rather than going it alone. We have big choices in front of us: do we sit down as a community and have the tough conversations about our future or do we continue along our own paths?

And on a more personal level, how do we interact with our faith and tradition? Do we connect gastronomically, bonding over corned beef and matzah ball soup? Or do we connect over doing good for society, helping those in need, reach out to make connections? And when we reach out, are we doing so out of a sense of shared humanity or religious belief or both?

Shanah Tovah

The High Holy Days give us the opportunity to revisit the core beliefs and actions in our lives. We have time to explore how our Jewish beliefs motivate us, how they propel us, how they frame issues and ideas for us.

This year as we gather, I invite you to join me in these sacred conversations. Together we will explore our identities and our souls, pursuing clarity and direction for the new year. Together we will wrestle with our past and our future, and we will, God willing, emerge energized as we enter the new year together.

Melissa, Zach, Jake, and Lizzie join me in wishing you a sweet, healthy, and prosperous new year!

HOW DO YOU VALUE YOUR COMMUNITY?

How much do you cherish a space where we join together for meals, learning, and simchahs? What do High Holy Day and Shabbat services mean to you? What does it mean to have caring clergy celebrate and comfort you in times of joy and sorrow?

We hope that when you are finished contemplating these questions, you will make a Pledge that reflects your hopes and wishes for what we can accomplish together as a financially strong and vibrant congregation.

TITCHADESH! FROM CANTOR DAVID REINWALD

Titchadesh! This is an expression that was taught to me once upon a time by an Israeli. From the root of chadash, meaning new, it is an exclamation to enjoy the newness of the moment, whether in its physical embodiment or otherwise. I am doubtful that we have a singular word in English that captures the spirit of this expression. In line with the prominence of the idea of blessings attached to certain moments in time, like the Shehecheyanu, it is certainly an incredibly Jewish sentiment.

I feel this emotion as we head toward the new year ahead, and there always is a palpable energy at this time, as we make every detailed preparation for our High Holy Day observances. The year ahead is also a year that is marked slightly different from other years. It is a Jewish leap year, which means there will be an extra month of Adar come early spring. While this serves a purpose of offsetting the calendar to keep holidays and festivals in their correct, seasonal places, it also represents for me a year of greater opportunity in time to continue to create and build within our community.

In line with a change in the actual structure of the calendar, this year you will experience some changes in our High Holy Day services. Our quartet of singers which have graced these services beautifully for many years will not be present this year. While this was a necessary budgetary decision, it provides us with the opportunity to musically re-envision our services.

S'lichot, Saturday, Sept. 2

8 PM PANEL ON TRANSGENDER RIGHTS

9:30 PM S'lichot Service

Join us for a discussion on transgender rights from a Jewish perspective.

After the series of anti-trans legislation that has been enacted across the United States, we must be more cognizant than ever of how we can recognize and stand up against transphobia. Our panelists will explain the impacts of these laws and help us to become better allies.

We will have a panel discussion, followed by an oneg, and then the special S'lichot service to formally begin the High Holy Day season.

Our Temple Sinai Choir will now join in our Kol Nidre service, with the anticipation of the choir taking on an even fuller role in years to come. We will still enjoy the incredible passionate playing of our cellists that evening.

Furthermore, we are excited to offer Youth & Family Services during our morning services, which are even better suited to those in attendance. These services will be "hands-free" using projections of the Mishkan HaNefesh prayerbook for youth on the wall, combined with music, readings, and an experience that is targeted toward our younger members.

With all new things to come, I now reiterate "titchadesh!"

May this new year be one in which we celebrate all that is new and rededicate ourselves to all that is meaningful.

L'Shanah Tovah!

HIGH HOLY DAY SECURITY & SAFETY INFORMATION

With High Holy Days just around the corner (Erev Rosh HaShanah is Friday, September 15), it is very important that you know what to expect when coming to Temple Sinai for High Holy Day services.

- Facial coverings are optional. We require anyone six months old and up entering Temple Sinai to be "Up to Date" on vaccinations (this means fully vaccinated plus a booster when eligible; questions and exceptions for medical reasons may be addressed with Drew Barkley). We reserve the right to require proof of vaccination upon entry. For anyone who has had a positive COVID test: To again enter the building we require the person to (a) have had a subsequent negative test, (b) be free of any fever, and (c) be at least 7 days from the onset of symptoms or the first positive test. For clarity, if the first positive test was on a Thursday (Day 0) the person is allowed to return on the following Friday (Day 8). Finally, Temple Sinai reserves the right to modify these requirements at any time, even with little or no notice.
- As always, uniformed and plain clothes security officers will be present. We are working with the Pittsburgh Police and Jewish Federation Security to assure the highest levels of security.
- SHOW YOUR CARDS OF ADMISSION TO THE GREETERS AND STAFF. If you do not have your Card, a staff person will be available to help you prior to entering the building.
- Everyone who has made their 2023–2024 Pledge will receive Cards of Admission with the mid-August High Holy Day mailing.
- If you have not made your 2023–2024 Pledge before the mailing, your Cards of Admission will not be in your High Holy Day packet. Please contact Drew Barkley to make arrangements to receive your Cards of Admission prior to the High Holy Days.
- Some of our High Holy Day services, like Tot Services, are open to the community. We ask all non-members attending community services to call in advance to request Community Cards of Admission.

WOTS HOLIDAY CARDS

New Year's greeting cards can be sent to fellow congregants with our convenient online holiday program. Happy Rosh Hashanah!

This program enables you to send greetings to congregants of your choice (or the entire congregation, clergy, staff, the choir, and temple boards). This year you will also have an opportunity to make a donation to WoTS, which sponsors oneg shabbats, shiva support, scholarships for our temple youth to attend Jewish programs, support for congregants in need, Hanukkah goodies for the religious school, social justice programs, and so much more.

The donations raised by this project have consistently provided Temple Sinai with much needed financial support. The board of WoTS thanks everyone in advance for participating in this important effort to help the temple and most importantly express our appreciation and support for one another.

You will be receiving an email in mid-August from the email WOTS@HappyRoshHashanah.com that will explain how to file your selections online.

If you prefer to get a printed order form sent to your home, please call Susan Cohen at (412) 363-7745. If you have received a printed form in the past, you will automatically receive one in the mail.

Please keep in mind that the deadline for ordering the cards is September 4, 2023.

Thank you for your support.

L'Shanah Tovah!

Susan Cohen, High Holy Day Card Chair

INCLUSIVE FOR ALL

Below are ways that we make our services inclusive for all:

- We have wheelchairs available at the Krieger and Kittanning Way entrances if you need help moving from the door to the sanctuary. Just ask a greeter for assistance.
- Magnifying glasses and a limited number of large print prayerbooks are available at the reception desk near the Krieger entrance. Please make sure you return them at the end of the service so they will be available for the next service.
- Noise canceling headphones are available on request.
- Fidget tools are available at the reception desk near the Krieger entrance. Please return them at the end of the service so they will be available for the next service.
- A Quiet Room is available for parents with small children who need a break from services. It is located in the hall beside the restrooms.
- A private room is available for nursing or pumping. It is located in the school in room #210 beside Debbie Haber's office.
- We have a hearing loop system in the Leebov Sanctuary and the Falk Auditorium. Switch on your hearing aid's T-coil and choose a seat on the perimeter of the auditorium and sanctuary. Avoid sitting in the "slate area" (between the Leebov Sanctuary and the Falk Auditorium) and the middle of the sanctuary and the auditorium as the system doesn't work as well in those areas.

If there is any other way we can accommodate you to make your High Holy Day experience as meaningful as possible, contact Drew Barkley at Drew@TempleSinaiPGH.org or (412) 421-9715 ext. 111.

SONGS OF HOPE, TUESDAY, NOV. 14, 7 PM

James A. Grymes, author of the book Violins of Hope, will introduce several songs from the Holocaust, which will be performed by Cantor David Reinwald, as well as on instruments from the Violins of Hope collection.

During the Holocaust, Jews confined to concentration camps and ghettos often used music as a means to chronicle and even respond to the absurdities and atrocities that they witnessed daily. Their songs represented a glimmer of hope, even during humankind's darkest hour.

BAT MITZVAH—MAZAL TOV!

September 9, 2023

Bat Mitzvah of Rachel Beatrix Collura
Daughter of Elizabeth & Michael Collura

SIMCHAH

Welcome Nora Arndt! Nora is our new Executive Assistant to the Clergy and will work closely with Rabbi Daniel Fellman and Cantor David Reinwald. She comes to us with a lot of experience supporting C-level executives in the information technology, mortgage, and construction fields. While not at work, Nora loves to read and hike with her German Shepherd, Uno.

Mazal Tov to Reesa and Joel Rosenthal on the recent marriage of their daughter Laura to Rick Guido, son of Rick and Noreen Guido of Sewell, New Jersey.

Mazal Tov to Susan Blackman on the birth of her grandson, Wyatt Zeno Blackman, son of David and Kim Blackman of Brooklyn, born on June 9.

Mazal Tov to Rob Lieberthal on the publication of his research in the National Institute on Aging. His research is on the effects of aging on the brain and brought together a Technical Expert Panel tasked with harmonizing data about Alzheimer's Disease and Related Dementias.

Thank you to Tanya Bass, Elizabeth Collura, Deborah Freedman, Jenny Ganger, Nancy Glynn, Mara Kaplan, Andee Lowenstein, Todd Miller, Lynn Rubenson, and Harton Wolf for baking delicious treats for our onegs.

Thank you to Judy Rulin Mahan, Lynn Naman, and Carol Rosenthal for helping with our Pledge mailing.

Mazal Tov to Jan and Ed Korenman's daughter, Alicia, who was a contestant on Jeopardy! on June 29. Alicia was a bat mitzvah and confirmand of Temple Sinai and now lives in Durham, North Carolina.

Mazal Tov to Jacob "Jake" Schiller who graduated with a PhD in political science from the University of Pittsburgh.

Mazal Tov to Marvin Fein, JD, LL.M. (1956) for being named to the Taylor Alderdice Hall of Fame on May 4. Marvin is a retired attorney who dedicated his career to public service and was a founding member of the Pennsylvania Environmental Strike Force.

Thank you to Philip and Marcia Baumfeld, Jenny Ganger, Joe Weinkle, and Toby Chapman for helping our staff put flags on veterans graves in the Temple Sinai Memorial Park.

TEMPLE SINAI

5505 FORBES AVENUE
PITTSBURGH, PA 15217

YOU ARE INVITED TO JOIN WOTS!

Today's Women of Temple Sinai (WoTS) embraces progressive Jewish values as it nurtures connections among the diverse and interesting women of our synagogue. Join us in ongoing activities—Make & Eat Cooking Classes, Walking Club, Rosh Chodesh reading group—and special events, like last year's visit to the Westmoreland Museum of American Art, and our WoTS Talks (think TED Talks with a decidedly Jewish accent). Whether you care about providing scholarships so that Temple youth can participate in Jewish experiences or getting to know other amazing, active women in our congregation, WoTS might just be for you. After all, your Bubbe's sisterhood was so 20th century.

Join WoTS by September 10 and attend our October member event for free! For more information, visit TempleSinaiPGH.org/WoTS
