SHABBAT MORNING SERVICE

Am Shalom Glencoe, Illinois

SHABBAT SHALOM ~ שַׁבָּת שָׁלוֹם WELCOME TO AM SHALOM!

BAR / BAT MITZVAH

Bar Mitzvah means son of the Commandment. Bat Mitzvah means daughter of the Commandment.

A Bar or Bat Mitzvah is not something one has, but rather something one becomes.

According to Jewish tradition, upon reaching age thirteen, one becomes responsible for the ritual and ethical obligations of Jewish life. This milestone is often marked by a prayer service during which the student leads the congregation in prayer and reads from the Torah and a selection from the Prophets, call the Haftarah.

OUR SANCTUARY

Directly in front of you is the bima ~ a raised platform from which services are led. Also at the front of the room is the Aron Ha-Kodesh ~ Holy Ark, in which the Torah scrolls are kept. Above the Ark is the Ner Tamid ~ Eternal Light. This continuously burning light is reminiscent of the flame in the ancient Tabernacle. It represents the constant presence of God.

On the wall in the front of the main Sanctuary is a Hebrew inscription above the Ark, which reads:

(Da lif-nei mi a-tah o-meid) ~ דע לפני מי אתה עומד Know before whom you stand.

The stained glass windows that surround the main sanctuary depict five of the twelve tribes of Israel: Benjamin, Levi, Reuben, Simeon, and Zebulon, along with a sixth window illustrating a quotation from Psalms:

(Sh'-lach or-cha va-a-mit-cha) ~ אוֹרָך נּאֲמִתְּנֶדּ Send forth thy light and thy truth. ~ Psalms 43:3

La-mad ~ To Study

In Eilu D'varim, one of the prayers that begins this service, we are taught that the most valuable things in the universe are honoring our parents, engaging in deeds of compassion, continuous learning, hospitality, caring for the ill, celebrating with people in joyous times and comforting them in grief, praying with sincerity, and making peace.

But, the prayer concludes, the study of Torah encompasses them all.

And, as Torah encompasses everything, in this prayer book we have strived to encompass just a taste of the entire Torah.

There are infinite themes, values, lessons, ideas and ideals within the Torah. The pursuit of exploring and studying, not just Torah, but everything from which we can learn, is a life-long journey.

In addition to the prayers we will speak and sing together during this service, throughout the prayer book you will find musings and teachings about study, teaching and learning, along with a brief introduction to each Torah portion and some thoughts about one of the many themes each portion suggests. The Torah portions are purposefully not presented in chronological order, but rather matched with prayers and readings in ways we hope will resonate and be educational, meaningful, and inspirational.

INTRODUCTION TO THE SERVICE

K'HILAH K'DOSHA ~ קְּהָלָה קְדוֹשָׁה CREATING A HOLY COMMUNITY

This siddur was uniquely created for Am Shalom to encourage everyone present to find holiness within and join together to form a holy community for the brief time of the service.

We hope that the explanations and transliterations in this siddur will help you learn, enjoy and especially participate in this morning's Shabbat service.

And...one way that each of us can both help ourselves enter a moment of holiness, and also help the Bar or Bat Mitzvah student know he or she is not at a performance, but rather surrounded by a community of prayer, is for each of us to join our voices together in song and prayer.

We welcome you as part of our holy community ~ please join us!

PRAYER SERVICE

The Hebrew word for prayer book is siddur, which means order.

Jewish prayer services are an ordered series of prayers, songs, and readings from Bible, traditional liturgy, and other sacred texts. In addition, contemporary readings may be added to reflect traditional prayer themes in creative ways.

The morning service at Am Shalom is structured into these five sections:

- Introduction ~ songs and prayers to help set the mood for the service and get into the spirit of prayer.
- Early prayers ~ the first formal blessings of the liturgy.
- T'filah (prayer) ~ a series of blessings, prayers, and meditations, including praise to God and expressions of gratitude, that comprise the central part of Jewish liturgy.
- The Torah service.
- Concluding prayers.

LEADERS OF THE SERVICE

Jewish clergy includes rabbis and cantors. The word rabbi literally means teacher. Rabbis teach, counsel people in the study and practice of Judaism, lead prayer, officiate at life-cycle events and Jewish rituals, and are the spiritual leaders of their congregations. In addition to teaching and other clergy roles, a cantor brings music and song to prayer services and other Jewish occasions.

Jewish tradition, however, does not require a clergy person to lead prayer.

Bar and Bat Mitzvah students lead prayer, and family and friends are invited to lead readings throughout the service.

GUIDE TO TRANSLITERATION

Transliteration of Hebrew is included for almost everything in the service in order to enable those who don't read Hebrew to follow along, as well as join in communal readings. Generally, hyphens indicate syllables. The transliteration style used is as follows:

a as in far	e as in let	ei as in weigh
i as in ink	o as in coat	u as in flute

ai as in aisle oi as in boil ch as in challah or Chanukah

In addition, communal readings are indicated with bold and italicized text.

The service begins with one or more songs and readings to "warm up" or set the mood, and prepare ourselves for thought, prayer, and study,.

The most direct means for attaching ourselves to God from this material world is through music and song. So even if you think you can't sing well, sing....

~ Rabbi Nachman of Bratslav [adapted]

בלק

Parashat Balak Numbers 22:5-25:9

The song Ma Tovu derives from this Torah portion.

In the story, the prophet Balaam is charged to curse the Israelites by the Moabite king Balak. When he opens his mouth, blessings emerge (How goodly are your tents, O Jacob!) instead of curses.

One theme in this portion is truly seeing:

If you want to see the world,
don't look through the window
before you have looked within.
~ Taoist Teaching
translated by
Rabbi Chaim Stern

It is only with the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye. ~ Antoine de Saint-Exupéry

MA YAFEH HA-YOM ~ מָה-יַּפֶה הַיּוֹם

Ma-ya-feh ha-yom: Sha-bat sha-lom. Sha-bat, Sha-bat sha-lom. מַה-יָּפֶה הַיּוֹם: שַׁבָּת שָׁלוֹם. שַׁבָּת, שַׁבָּת שָׁלוֹם.

How beautiful is this day. Shabbat peace.

How goodly are your tents, O Jacob! How lovely are your sanctuaries, O Israel! By Your abounding love, O God, I enter your house; with awe I worship in Your holy temple.

O God, I love the house where you dwell and the place where Your glory resides. I shall prostrate myself and bow, I shall kneel before God, my maker.

To You goes my prayer: may this be a time of Your favor.

In Your great love, O God, answer me with Your saving truth.

~ Numbers 24:5, with parts of several Psalms

TALIT PRESENTATION

The Talit is a religious symbol, a garment, a shroud, a canopy.

It is a cloak which envelops a Jewish person, both physically and spiritually.

We present you with this Talit with the hope that as you wrap yourself in it you will feel spiritually wrapped in all of the love and joy that surrounds you today.

We hope that you will have many occasions to wear it in the future, and that each time you will be reminded of the memories of this extraordinary day.

We now invite you to offer the blessing for wearing a Talit.

Bless Adonai, O my soul. Adonai, my God, You are very great.

You are clothed in glory and majesty.

Enveloped in light as a garment.

Spreading the heavens as a vast curtain.

~ Psalm 104

May your Talit always envelop you in light.

May it always remind you of all the glory and majesty in the world.

May it always connect you to all the joy and wonders to be found beneath the heavens.

We now invite you to offer the blessing for wearing a Talit.

BIRKAT TALIT ~ בָּרְכַּת TALIT BLESSING

Blessed are You, Adonai our God, Sovereign of the universe. You make us holy with mitzvot, and teach us to wrap ourselves in the fringed Talit. The Talit is a fringed prayer shawl worn as a reminder of the commandments. The Talit also connects the wearer to thousands of years of Jewish history and tradition, while at the same time creating a personal sanctuary for prayer.

Parashat Sh'lach L'cha Numbers 13:1-15:41

The commandment to wear tzi-tzit (fringes) is in this Torah portion ~

Adonai said to Moses: Speak to the Children of Israel and instruct them to make for themselves fringes on the corners of their garments throughout the generations....

~ Numbers 16:37-38

The main story of this portion falls after the Exodus from Egypt and describes Moses sending twelve scouts to spy out the land the Children of Israel are about to enter.

Though they confirm the Promised Land "does indeed flow with milk and honey," ten of the twelve spies are too afraid to encourage the people to enter.

A significant theme in the portion is courage.

Morality may consist solely in the courage of making a choice. ~ Léon Blum

Courage is resistance of fear;
mastery of fear;
not absence of fear.
~ Mark Twain

La'asok B'divrei Torah, also called the blessing for study, is said in gratitude for the gift of Torah and for the freedom to study.

Eilu D'varim reminds us of the core ethical values of Judaism and that each of these teachings is learned through the study of Torah.

Parashat Ki Tavo Deuteronomy 26:1-29:8

The word Torah means teaching. In this portion Moses tells the Children of Israel they are to set up large stones and carve the Teaching into them to be permanent and able to be understood by future generations.

A teacher affects eternity. One can never tell where one's influence will stop. ~ Henry Brooks Adams

דברים

Parashat D'varim Deuteronomy 1:1-3:22

In this portion, Moses begins his grand oration to the Children of Israel, who are getting ready to enter the Promised Land. He explains he could not lead without help and tells them to choose leaders in each of their tribes who are wise, insightful, and seasoned.

You are wise if you are willing to seem foolish in order to learn...for those afraid to ask questions show themselves to be fools ~ Vitry

There are obligations without measure, whose rewards, too, are without measure. They are:

~ unknown

The best remedy for those who are afraid, lonely, or unhappy is to go outside, somewhere where they can be quite alone with the heavens, nature, and God.

Because only then does one feel that all is as it should be and that God wishes to see people happy, amidst the simple beauty of nature.

As long as this exists, and it certainly always will, I know that then there will always be comfort for every sorrow, whatever the circumstances may be.

~ Anne Frank

Following the warm up, "Sh'ma and its Blessings" begins the next section of the service.

Bar'chu is the "call to worship." The first part of the service prepares the individual. Bar'chu signals to the congregation that, following the "warm up," it is now time for the more formal, and communal prayer to begin.

תרומה

Parashat T'rumah Exodus 25:1-27:19

This portion includes the instructions to the Israelites to build a sanctuary for prayer to take with them on their journey through the wilderness. The materials used were to be gifts of the heart, given freely by the people.

The only gift is a portion of thyself. ~ Ralph Waldo Emerson

אמר

Parashat Emor Leviticus 21:1-24:23

Emor describes laws for Aaron, his sons, future generations of leaders, and the people as a whole. It contains rules for the harvest, including instructions to ensure the poor are cared for. A major theme is kindness.

Be kind whenever possible.

It is always possible.

~ Tenzin Gyatso
the 14th Dalai Lama

Three things in human life are important: the first is to be kind; the second is to be kind; the third is to be kind. ~ Henry James Yotzeir Or literally means Creator of light. It thanks and praises God for creating nature and all the wonders of the universe.

בראשית

Parashat B'reishit Genesis 1:1-6:8

The first portion of the Torah tells the story of creation.

The whole difference

after it is constructed;
but a thing created
is loved before it exists.
~ Charles Dickens

Far out thinking is a means to an end ~ to one whose elastic and vigorous thinking keeps pace with the sun, the day is perpetual morning. ~ Henry David Thoreau

תצוה

Parashat T'tzaveh Exodus 27:20-30:10

In this portion, the Children of Israel are given the task to keep a light burning continually. The eternal light kept burning over the ark in our synagogues today derives from this teaching. Light is also as a metaphor for God, understanding, and enlightenment.

There is a crack in everything, that's how the light gets in.
~ Leonard Cohen

Every person must decide whether they will walk in the light of creative altruism or in the darkness of destructive selfishness.

ואתוזבן

Parashat Va-et-chanan Deuteronomy 2:23-7:11

This portion continues Moses' speech to the people as he prepares them to be led by Joshua in the new land. Moses describes God's laws and rules, and warns the people to follow them. The Sh'ma is written in this portion, suggesting themes of oneness.

Monotheism is about the capacity to glimpse the One in and through the changing forms of many, to see the whole in and through its infinite images. Despite the fractured, scattered, and conflicted nature of our experience, there is unity that embraces and contains our diversity and connects all things to each other. ~ Dr. Judith Plaskow

Sh'ma is written in the Torah with the last letter of the first word 💆 and the first letter of > the last word enlarged.

These letters spell the Hebrew word EID, meaning witness.

This teaches us that we are witnesses for God ~ a reminder of our ethical responsibilities and ongoing tasks to make our lives holy, especially in our relationships with others and our stewardship of the earth. ~ Harvey J. Fields

And you shall love, Adonai your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your being.

Take these instructions which I command you this day.

Teach them faithfully to your children; speak of them in your home and on your way, when you lie down and when you rise up.

Bind them as a sign upon your hand; let them be a symbol before your eyes; inscribe them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates.

Thus you shall remember and observe all My commandments, and be holy to your God.

I am Adonai, your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God; I am Adonai, your God.

Standing on the parted shores of history, we still believe what we were taught before we ever stood at Sinai:

That wherever we are, it is eternally Egypt

That there is a better place, a Promised Land:

That the winding way to that promise passes through the wilderness.

That there is no way to get from here to there:

In this portion, Moses assembles the people and tells them about the sanctuary they are to build. This portion contains the commandment to rest on the Sabbath, but also teaches that we must work first and then rest.

Every person needs to take one day away. A day in which one consciously separates the past from the future. Jobs, family, employers, and friends can exist one day without any one of us, and if our egos permit us to confess, they could exist eternally in our absence. Each person deserves a day away in which no problems are confronted, no solutions searched for. Each of us needs to withdraw from the cares which will not withdraw from us. ~ Maya Angelou

Parashat Ekev Deuteronomy 7:12-11:25

In this portion, Moses reminds the people of the connection to God. Themes include discovering our selves.

He allowed himself to be swayed by his conviction that human beings are not born once...but that life obliges them over and over again to give birth to themselves. ~ Gabriel García Márquez

The children of Israel shall keep Shabbat, observing Shabbat in every generation as a covenant for all time. It is a sign forever between Me and the people Israel, for in six days the Eternal God made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day God ceased from work and was refreshed.

An artist cannot be continually wielding a brush.

Artists must stop at times in their painting to freshen their vision of the object, the meaning of which they wish to express on their canvas.

Living is also an art.

We dare not become absorbed in its technical processes and lose our consciousness of its general plan....

Shabbat represents those moments when we pause in our brushwork to renew our vision of this object called living.

Having done so we take ourselves to our painting with clarified vision and renewed energy.

This applies to the individual and the community alike.

We ask Your blessings for the State of Israel, for the Land of Israel, and the People of Israel. Bless the defenders of the Land who guard its frontiers:

Watch over its homes and protect its people.

Bless the leaders of Israel with wisdom and courage:

Grant them vision and dedication.

May the people of Israel make of her a beacon of hope for those who are oppressed, an inspiration to those who are free, a source of light to all humanity. We pray for the peace of Israel and all the nations:

May they be strong in the face of danger, resolute in the face of challenge, and unwavering in the search for peace.

Fulfill in our times the ancient promise:

"They shall abide in peaceful habitations, in safe dwellings, and in quiet resting places. Zion shall be redeemed through justice, and its inhabitants through righteousness."

Parashat Ki Tisa Exodus 30:11-34:35

In Ki Tisa, God's instructions to Moses conclude. The Israelites are impatient as they wait from Moses to return from Mt. Sinai and they make themselves a golden calf. Moses pleads with God to be with them on their quest.

If you were to lose a diamond in a haystack, you would look for it and not give up until you had found it.

THOUGHTS FOR PERSONAL MEDITATION

 $I_{
m n}$  this moment of silent communion, a still, small voice beckons me:

To pursue my life's work with full attention though no eye is upon me;

To be gentle in the face of ingratitude, even when slander distorts my nobler impulses;

To meet the end of each day with the certainty that I've used my gifts well and with dignity.

O let me become ever braver in facing life's trials with distinction, that I may live on in deeds that bless others.

~ adapted from the Union Prayer Book

We pray for children who bring us sticky kisses and fistfuls of dandelions, Who sleep with the dog and bury their goldfish, Who hug us in a hurry and forget their lunch money, Who cover themselves with band-aids and sing off key, Who squeeze toothpaste all over the sink, who slurp their soup.

And, we pray for those who never get dessert, Who have no safe blankie to drag behind them, Who watch their parents watch them die, Who can't find any bread to steal, Who don't have any rooms to clean up, Whose pictures aren't on anybody's dresser, Whose monsters are real.

We pray for children who spend all their allowance before Tuesday, Who throw tantrums in the grocery store and pick at their food, Who like ghost stories,

Who shove dirty clothes under the bed and never rinse out the tub, Who love visits from the tooth fairy,

Who don't like to be kissed in front of the school bus,

Who squirm in church or synagogue, and scream into the telephone.

And, we pray for those whose nightmares come in the daytime,

Who will eat anything,

Who have never seen a dentist,

Who aren't spoiled by anybody,

Who go to bed hungry and cry themselves to sleep,

Who live and move and have no being.

We pray for children who want to be carried and for those who must, For those we never give up on,

And for those who will grab the hand of anyone kind enough to offer it.

O God, hear our prayers for all children.

אוזרי מות

Parashat Acharei Mot Leviticus 19:1-20:27

This portion is about instructions to Aaron after the death of his two sons earlier in the Torah. Aaron is warned, through Moses, not to come too close to the awesome power of the Divine Presence. Themes include what happens beyond death.

What we have done for ourselves dies with us. What we have done for others...remains and is immortal. ~ Albert Pine

Y oung is an attitude, a spirit, a way of looking at things and of responding to them.

It is not an age.

Young can be a child examining her first dandelion with wonder and delight... or a Verdi at 81, composing his finest opera...

Young can be a teenager riding the ocean's surf...

or Einstein in his 70's working on his unified field theory, playing his beloved fiddle.

Young is not a monopoly of youth.

It survives and flourishes where vision is kept fresh, the muscles of the mind exercised.

It is our sacred obligation to never stop learning, and by so doing, stay forever young.

Parashat Yitro Exodus 18:1-21:23

Yitro describes the experiences of the people at Mt. Sinai... literally, "assembled at a mountain." Jewish tradition teaches that all the Children of Israel ~ past, present, and future ~ were there at Sinai.

Therefore, the revelation of God's presence and teachings is everywhere and continually unfolding.

The surest way of misunderstanding revelation is to take it literally, to imagine that God spoke to the prophet on a long-distance telephone. Yet most of us succumb to such a fancy, forgetting that the cardinal sin in thinking about ultimate issues is literal mindedness. The error of literal mindedness is in assuming that things and words have only one meaning.

One who does not believe that revelation is continuous does not believe in revelation at all. ~ George Bernard Shaw Hakafa means to encircle or go around. It is the procession with the Torah scrolls. This is done as a means of allowing everyone present direct contact with the Torah.

Shalshelet ha-Kabbalah is the chain of tradition ~ the custom of passing the Torah scroll from generation to generation as a way of symbolizing that all of its teachings and values are an inheritance from all Jewish people throughout history.

D'var Torah means a word of Torah. It is an explanation, interpretation, commentary and lesson about the Torah and Haftarah readings delivered during the service.

Parashat Vayeilech Deuteronomy 31

In Vayeilech, Moses informs the people that he can no longer lead them and will pass on the role to Joshua. To ensure that the Teaching will go on, Moses writes it down and entrusts it to the priests and elders who are to continue passing it down.

The word aliyah means to go up. It refers to the honor of being called to the bima to recite blessings before and after each section of Torah is read. Though the student may read from the Torah, for more than one section, it is actually reciting the blessings for his or her self on the final aliyah that ritually marks becoming a Bar or Bat Mitzvah.

Siman Tov is sung after a Bar or Bat Mitzvah completes their Torah reading as a joyous celebration of their learning.

Hagbaha is the lifting of the Torah scroll wide enough for everyone present to see at least three columns of the text. This is another way to be sure everyone has direct access to the Torah.

G'lilah, meaning to roll, is the ritual honor of helping dress the Torah and holding the scroll until it is returned to the Ark.

Mi Shebeirach is a prayer for healing.

Parashat Tazri'a and Parashat M'tzora Leviticus 12:1 - 15:33

These two portions are another set that may be read together in some years. They both discuss disease and afflictions of body and homes. Themes include health, suffering and adversity.

Blessed are You, Eternal God, Ruler of the universe, Rock of all creation, Righteous One of all generations, the faithful God whose word is deed, whose every command is just and true. For the Torah, for the privilege of worship, for the prophets, and for this Shabbat that You, O God, have given us for holiness and rest, for honor and glory, we thank and bless You. May Your name be blessed forever by every living being. Blessed are You, Eternal God, for the Sabbath and its holiness.

Haftarah is a selection from the Prophets recited following the Torah reading. One explanation for the origin of Haftarah is that it was used to replace censored Torah texts during times of Jewish persecution. While the custom began as a thematic replacement for Torah study, eventually Haftarah became a fixed part of the Shabbat worship service to help add additional depth, meaning, and understanding to our studies.

Parashat Chukat Numbers 19:1 - 22:1

Chukat contains the story of Moses who, frustrated by the people's complaints about no water, strikes the rock instead of following God's directions. Themes include reward and punishment.

The reward for a thing well done is to have done it. ~ Ralph Waldo Emerson

One pang of conscience is worth more than many lashes.

~ Talmud

Parashat Bo Exodus 10:1-13:16

Bo is the climax of the Israelites struggle for freedom. Pharaoh is willing to let some go, but Moses insists on freedom for all. This portion also contains the description of the Passover celebration and the instruction that laws shall be the same for both native and stranger. Themes include community and justice.

The entire community will fall into ruins if its people insist on the letter of the law in every matter, however small, and show no inclination to temper justice with mercy.

~ Talmud

The person who tries to live alone will not succeed as a human being. Our hearts wither if they do not answer another heart. Our minds shrink away if we hear only the echoes of our own thoughts and find no other inspiration ~ Pearl S. Buck

Let us now praise the Sovereign of the universe, and proclaim the greatness of the Creator who has set us apart from the other families of the earth, giving us a destiny unique among the nations.

And then all that has divided us will merge

And then compassion will be wedded to power

And then softness will come to a world that is harsh and unkind

And then both men and women will be gentle

And then both women and men will be strong

And then no person will be subject to another's will

And then all will be rich and free and varied

And then the greed of some will give way to the needs of many

And then all will share equally in the earth's abundance

And then all will care for the sick and the weak and the old

And then all will nourish the young

And then all will cherish life's creatures

And then all will live in harmony with each other and the earth

And then everywhere will be called Eden once again.

Kaddish Yatom, or Mourner's Kaddish, is said near the end of most Jewish services. Its name derives from the Hebrew root word meaning holy. While it is used as a means of remembering the dead, it does not mention death or mourning. Rather it is an affirmation of faith, even in times of pain and longing.

Parashat Chayei Sarah Genesis 23:1-25:18

Although named the "Life of Sarah," this portion begins with Sarah's death.
Choosing her burial ground is perhaps the first recorded history we have of memorializing the dead; the story also continues with Isaac finding comfort for his mourning in his new wife.

Die when I may,
I want it said of me,
by those who knew me best,
that I always plucked a thistle and
planted a flower,
when I thought
a flower would grow.
~ Abraham Lincoln

Kiddush, from the Hebrew root word meaning holy, is the blessing said to sanctify wine. Motzi, the blessing said over challah (special bread eaten on Shabbat), literally means the One Who brings forth. The blessing gives thanks for the "bringing forth" of the grain from the earth that we use to make bread.

Shabbat is to teach us that life can be filled with holiness and happiness only if we take the time to experience what the world has to offer. The commandment to bless the fruit of the vine is a commandment to drink life as deeply as we drink from the Kiddush cup. To bless life and love deeply; to remember with a Shabbat heart; act with Shabbat hands; see the world with Shabbat eves; laugh until we are all laughter; sing until we are all song; dance until we are all dance; love until we are all love. Parashat Lech L'cha Genesis 12:1-17:27

In this portion, God tells Abram to leave his native home and go to a new land that God will show him. God promises him he will become the father of a great nation. Abram complies, and sets off with his wife, nephew, and travelling party. Ultimately, Abram settles in the new land and God changes his name to Abraham.

The song L'chi Lach is based on this Torah portion. The Hebrew words lech l'cha (l'chi lach is the female form) have been interpreted several ways, including to mean "to go into yourself." In addition to Abraham's literal journey in the story, it is also thought of as representing our metaphoric journeys.

Sing, sing a song.
Sing out loud,
sing out strong...
Don't worry
that it's not good enough
for anyone else to hear,
Just sing, sing a song.
~ Joe Raposo

L'DOR VA-DOR HALLELUYAH ~ לְדֹר נָדֹר הַלְלוּיָהּיִ

L'dor vador, l'dor vador...Halleluyah! From one generation to the next... We give you the traditions from our past, And wish you the best for your life. L'dor vador, l'dor vador...Halleluyah! ~ Adam Kahan

AND THOU SHALT LOVE V'AHAVTA ~ וָאָתַבְּתּ

And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart With all thy soul and with all thy might And all these words which I command you on this day Shall be upon your heart; Shall be upon your heart

And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children And thou shalt speak of them when thou sittest in thy house When thou walkest by the way and when thou liest down And when thou risest up and when thou risest up

And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thy hand And they shall be for frontlets between thine eyes And thou shalt write them on the doorposts of thy house And upon thy gates and upon thy gates

That ye may remember and do all of my commandments And be holy unto your God unto your God unto your God. ~ Arranged by Debbie Friedman, based on V'ahavta, Deuteronomy 6:5-9

SH'MA BINI ~ שְׁמע בְּנִי

Sh'ma bi'ni ~ אָׁמע בְּנִי * take these wings to fly with, Shi'mi bi'ti ~ אַׁמִּטִי * with these roots you will grow. This is my promise, this is my blessing, You are the promise, you are the blessing. Sh'ma bi'ni - Shi'mi bi'ti.

May you live to see the wonder
In this world and those yet to come.
To care for those who came before you,
To trust in those who are yet to come.
Ufros Aleinu sukkat sh'lomecha ~ אַבְּינוּ סָבַּת שָׁלוֹבֶוּךְ

עריסי Aleinu sukkat sh'iomecha ~ אָנוּנ שְלוּנֶן אָלוּנּ שְלוּנֶן אַלוּנְן אַנוּנ אָלוּנְין אַנוּנ אָלוּגיין אַנוּנ אָלוּגיין אַנוּנ אָלוּגיין אַנּוּנ

May your neart be filled with wisdom, May your mind be filled with love, May your lips be filled with sweetness, May you shine like the stars above. Ufros Aleinu sukkat sh'lomecha.

So you shall fly on wings of eagles. And you will grow to be straight and tall. This is my promise, this is my blessing, You are the promise and you are the blessing. Sh'ma Bi'ni, Shi'mi Bi'ti. ~ Craig Taubman *translations:

Sh'ma Bi'ni - listen my son. Shi'mi Bi'ti - listen my daughter. Ut'ros Aleinu sukkat sh'lomecha - spread over us the shelter of Your peace.

God is the eternal God, who reigned before any being had yet been created; when all was done according to God's will, already then God's name was Ruler. And after all has ceased to be, still will God reign in solitary majesty; God was, God is, and God shall be in glory. And God is One; none other can compare to God, or consort with God; God is without beginning, without end; to God alone belongs power and dominion. And God is my God, my living Redeemer, my Rock in time of trouble and distress; God is my banner and my refuge, my benefactor when I call. Into God's hands I entrust my spirit, when I sleep and when I wake. And with my spirit and my body, God is with me; I will not be afraid.

So long as still within the inmost heart the soul of the Jew longs, and they turn eastward, their eye looking toward Zion, Our hope is not yet lost, that hope of two thousand years, to be a free people in our land, the land of Zion and Jerusalem.

~ Naphtali Imber

Adon Olam is a poem, believed to have been written in medieval times, that sings of God alone as eternal, without beginning or end, and is a reminder that God is part of everything.

Hatikvah, which means "the hope" in Hebrew, is Israel's national anthem.

Music is the wine that fills the cup of silence. ~ Robert Fripp

The best music, you can seek some shelter in momentarily, but it's essentially there to provide you something to face the world with. ~ Bruce Springsteen

Music produces a kind of pleasure which human nature cannot do without. ~ Confucius

Music is given to us with the sole purpose of establishing
an order in things,
the coordination between humanity and time.
~ Igor Stravinsky

Music takes us out of the actual
and whispers to us
dim secrets
that startle
our wonder
as to who we are,
and for what,
whence,
and whereto.
~ Ralph Waldo Emerson

Peace, Salaam, Shalom, a song using the English, Arabic, and Hebrew words for peace, was written by Pat Humphries and Sandy Opatow of Emma's Revolution. They wrote this song two days after the 9/11 attack on the World Trade Center in response to the messages of hate that were already being circulated.

Ein Keiloheinu is a song believed to be more than one thousand years old, which praises God. Originally it began with the question "who is like our...", but the lines where changed so that the first letters of lines 1, 5, and 9 spell Amen in Hebrew. Lines 13 - 16 begin with Baruch, meaning bless, the word which begins nearly all Hebrew blessings.

All of God's wisdom is encased in a garment...music. When we speak, you may say "yes" and I may say "no" and we are already opposed to each other. In music, what is absolutely unbelievable, is that I can sing a melody, you can sing different notes, and it's the deepest harmony. ~ Rabbi Shlomo Carlebach

Music gives a soul to the universe,
wings to the mind,
flight to the imagination,
and life to everything.
~ Plato

There is none like...our God; our Sovereign; our Ruler; our Savior. Who is like...our God; our Sovereign; our Ruler; our Savior? We give thanks to...our God; our Sovereign; our Ruler; our Savior. Blessed is...our God; our Sovereign; our Ruler; our Savior. You are...our God; our Sovereign; our Ruler; our Savior.

HOLY GROUND

Every second, every minute, every hour, every day... Everything, everyone, every place, every way. Where you walk ~ where you stand. Where you love ~ where you praise. All of life is holy ground.

Every he, every she, every what, every who... It's in her, it's in them, it's in me, it's in you. In the bitter, in the sweet, in the calm, in the storm. All of life is holy ground.

So walk as if it's holy ground, Breathe as if it's all around, Talk and make a holy sound, Take your shoes off, you're on holy ground.

When you hurt  $\sim$  when you heal. When you laugh  $\sim$  when you pray. When you hold  $\sim$  when you keep. When you give it away.

Every second, every minute, every hour, every day...All of life is holy ground. So walk as if it's holy ground, Breathe as if it's all around, Talk and make a holy sound, We take our shoes off, we're on holy ground.

We are one people, one story, one tapestry we weave... One journey, one glory, one legacy we leave. Every second, every minute, every hour, every day... Everything, everyone, every place, every way. Where you walk ~ where you stand. Where you love ~ where you praise.

All of life is holy ground.
Can you feel the holy ground?
Take your shoes off, you're on holy ground.

 $\sim {\rm Craig\ Taubman}$

L'DOR VA-DOR

We are gifts and we are blessings, we are history in song We are hope and we are healing, we are learning to be strong We are words and we are stories, we are pictures of the past We are carriers of wisdom, not the first and not the last.

L'dor vador nagid godlecha  $\sim$  לְּדֵּלֶּךְ גָּיִלְ נְּלִּלְ נְדִּלֹר (From generation to generation, we will tell of Your greatness.)

L'dor vador... we protect this chain From generation to generation L'dor vador, these lips will praise Your name.

Looking back on the journey that we carry in our heart From the shadow of the mountain to the waters that would part We are blessed and we are holy, we are children of Your way And the words that bring us meaning, we will have the strength to say

L'dor vador... ~ Josh Nelson

All we do our whole lives is go from one piece of Holy Ground to the next.

~ J.D. Salinger

Each place
is the right place.
The place where I am
right now
can be a sacred space.
~ Ravi Ravindra

I've often thought of the forest as a living cathedral, but this might diminish what it truly is.... the forest is not merely an expression or representation of sacredness, nor a place to invoke the sacred; the forest is sacredness itself. Nature is not merely created by God; nature is God. Whoever moves within the forest can partake directly of sacredness, experience sacredness with their entire body, breathe sacredness and contain it within themselves, drink the sacred water as a living communion, bury their feet in sacredness, touch the living branch and feel the sacredness, open their eyes and witness the burning beauty of sacredness. ~ Richard Nelson

Books are the legacies that a great genius leaves to humankind, which are delivered down from generation to generation as presents to the posterity of those who are yet unborn. ~ Joseph Addison

If I were given the opportunity to present a gift to the next generation, it would be the ability for each individual to learn to laugh at his or her self.

~ Charles Schultz

ABOUT THE COVER

The cover, intended to evoke the entirety of Torah, was created by Susan Klingman, using photographs taken by Richard Shay [richardshay.com], and with photo editing by Rhonda Schaefer. The front of the siddur is a composite of photographs of the very first and very last columns in one of the Am Shalom Torah scrolls. The right side is the first column of text in the Torah, beginning with the very first word, B'reishit ~ in the beginning. The left side is the last column of text in the Torah, ending with the final word, Yisrael ~ Israel. The back of the siddur, intended to evoke the infinity of the Torah's teachings, is a photograph of the same scroll unrolled.
