We tried something new in Religious School this year. We experimented, and like most experiments, we didn't know at the beginning of the year whether or not we would have success. Our experiment was moving 8th and 9th grade Religious School from Sunday morning to Wednesday night, but the timing was only a small part of what made this class different. This new class is called haSicha – The Conversation, and it represents a shift in how to approach Jewish learning for our teens. This class was meant to be more back and forth between teachers and students, and between students themselves. It was meant to be a conversation about our values, our identities, and our responsibilities to the world.

Our curriculum involved a weekly “dinner talk” topic suggested by the students. The topics ranged from the weekly Torah portion, current events in Israel, anti-Semitism, Jewish food, the history of Reform Judaism, LGBT rights, and what being Jewish means to you.

After dinner talk, we followed a curriculum based around tzedakah, and the idea that giving tzedakah means participating in the work of repairing the world. While “philanthropy” is the word most associated with charitable giving, the Hebrew word tzedakah means “justice.” We give tzedakah, and we do the work of tzedakah because we are pursuing justice in our world.

The class started with a fund of $1,500, which they had to choose how to disburse. Our class learned about the Jewish values around tzedakah, and then had to choose an area to focus our giving on. The class decided to search for organizations which increased educational opportunities for underserved populations.

This meant learning about different types of non-profits, what makes a good and effective non-profit, and how non-profits get funded. Eventually the class chose 7 organizations to invite to apply for the inaugural KKBE haSicha Tzedakah Fund grant, and we met with representatives from several organizations. Ultimately the class chose to give a $1,500 grant to ChuckTown Squash Scholars, a wonderful organization that teaches study skills and self-confidence, and offers mentorship through the sport of squash. ChuckTown Squash Scholars is a partner with the College of Charleston, and we are proud to be part of their ongoing work.

Since our 8th and 9th graders are together in this class, the curriculum will rotate every other year. This fall, our haSicha conversation will be on Interfaith and Interreligious Dialogue. We'll be learning about other religions, and building relationships between houses of worship. As part of this class, we'll be taking our first ever 8th and 9th grade trip to New York City from March 31st to April 3rd. We'll experience the diverse Jewish world that NYC has to offer, and learn about Jewish identity and evolution from the past and into the future.

Our experiment was a success, thanks to the engaged participation of our 8th and 9th graders, the hard work of their teachers, and the many guests who helped make our class possible.

So if you're going into 8th or 9th grade in the fall, mark your calendars, and I hope you'll join me and the haSicha conversation in New York City from March 31st to April 3rd.

President's Message

Ben Glass

"The journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step."
Lao Tzu

The time has come. For years, we have looked nervously at the ceiling of the sanctuary, hoping we will not be the one on whom a wayward piece of plaster falls. Some view the condition of our ceiling as a safety issue; some view it as an embarrassing sign that we have not cared appropriately for our home; and some have turned it into a game to distract and pass time while sitting in the sanctuary (I won't name any names). All agree, however, that the situation has to be addressed, and repairs have to be made.

I am pleased to share that one of the goals set by your Board of Trustees at our Board Retreat in May was that by the end of this fiscal year, we will have a plan in place for the restoration of our historic sanctuary, and a path forward to pay for it. Make no mistake – this is going to be a big job. It will cost about a million dollars, and it will take months to complete. We will be inconvenienced for a time while we are unable to worship in our historic sanctuary. It will take a lot of money, a lot of hard work, and a lot of patience to complete.

It will be a long journey, but we are taking a first step. A group is being formed to study exactly what needs to be done. While the ceiling is being repaired, there are some other renovations we'd like to make to the sanctuary, and this group will consult with congregants and consultants to determine the precise scope of work to be undertaken. They will work with contractors to solicit bids and make recommendations to the Board, and they will remain engaged as the work takes place.

Working with our Development Group, some of the Sanctuary Restoration team will work on planning and executing a blueprint for funding the work. I am not saying that the work will be done by the end of this year, and I cannot even say that we will have all of the necessary funds in place by this time next year, but I can say with confidence that we are moving forward with the work, and we will have a plan to complete it.

If this is an area of passion for you, I invite you to contact Melissa Sigmond and volunteer to be a part of this team. If you are asked for help, I hope you will agree to do whatever you can to contribute to this project. The road is long, and we cannot yet see the end in sight, but we have taken our first steps, and the journey has begun.

B'shalom,

Interim Executive Director's Message

Melissa Sigmond

Working hard for something we don't care about is called "stress". Working hard for something we love is called "passion". ~ Simon Sinek

For some, for most, the summer means "playtime". And the arrival of June only punctuates this with the conclusion of the school year and the start of summer camps, family vacations and road trips — for everyone it means either escaping to the beach or the cooler neighboring Blue Ridge Mountains. However, while most are at leisure and play from Memorial Day right through Labor Day for the staff here at KKBE, summer is time to prepare for the forthcoming High Holy Days, Sukkot, the second annual Lowcountry Nosh Food and Heritage Festival right through Hanukkah.

With the work side of things in mind, please note that this summer we will also be conducting some maintenance and repairs throughout the KKBE campus. I recently met with Steve Ziff, KKBE's Chair of Buildings and Grounds to conduct our annual inspection of the property. Steve will be working with our facilities administrator to prioritize necessary repairs that will take place while religious school is out and in preparation for a busy fall schedule.

With work over its time to play! May and June are also high tourists season here in the Lowcountry, where our Register National Landmark sanctuary receives guests from all over the world. These visitors enjoy 30-minute guided tours of not only the sanctuary, but also the museum and the art hung throughout the campus. Over the last three months KKBE welcomed over a 1,000 tourists alone. Including my very own aunt and uncle who came all the way from the San Juan Islands of the coast of Washington state to see our historic gem. If you have out of visitors who wish to visit KKBE, please know that reservations are required for groups of 10 or more. Simply schedule such tours with the office by contacting Irene or Alexandra at (843) 723-1090. If you need additional assistance or have questions, please know my office is always open.

Of course the end of May also brings to Charleston, Piccolo Spoleto, which kicks-off Friday, May 27th. And once again KKBE host a series of musical programs for the "World of Jewish Culture" series. These events include:

The Jewish Choral Society: KKBE will provide the stage for the eighteenth season performance of The Jewish Choral Society, who will perform Jewish Music Around the World, as well as pieces that honor Yom Yerushalayim ("Jerusalem Day"). Sunday, June 5, 1pm.

Hazzan Alberto Mizrahi: A Voice of the People: Greek-born tenor Alberto Mizrahi, is one of the world's leading interpreters of Jewish music and serves as the Hazzan of the historic Anshe Emet Synagogue in Chicago. His repertoire spanning nine languages, makes his performances unique. Sunday, June 5, 3pm.

Chamber Music with Yuriy Bekker, Natalia Khoma, and Andrew Armstrong: Enjoy an evening of intimate chamber music by Jewish composers in the beautiful and historic KKBE Synagogue. Charleston's own, Yuriy Bekker (violin), together with renowned pianist, Andrew Armstrong, will perform selected works by Copland and Korngold. The duo will also play a new composition by up-and-coming composer, Jeremiah Klarman. Beloved local cellist, Natalia Khoma, will then join for a performance of the lush and epic Piano Trio in C minor by Mendelssohn. Sunday, June 5, 6pm.

All of us here at the KKBE offices look forward to seeing you this summer — whether it is for work, or for play.

B'shalom,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Melissa". The script is fluid and cursive, with a large, stylized "M" at the beginning.

By way of introduction...

On the first day of school, when I taught third grade in Pittsburgh, I always asked my students to write on the topic, "All About Me." Years later, I realized how much better it would have been to ask the children to introduce another classmate by interviewing someone they didn't know well and then write an "All About You" paper!

Now that I've been given my first writing assignment—introducing myself as co-president of Sisterhood, I believe what's important is "All About Us", with key ingredients of co-operation, creativity and compassion!

I look forward to working with Mary, and learning from my many mentors, just to mention a few, Lynda, Lois, Frieda, Patricia, Paige, Missee, Nadine, and of course Naomi. I appreciate my "sisters" who have already volunteered to become more active and to those who will give their support and add their special talents, enriching our Sisterhood.

B'shalom,

Mazel Tov to our Confirmation Class of 5776!

Confirmation Class 5776

Back Row: Rabbi Terkel, Sophia Karesh, Taylor Kahn-Perry, Zachary Kronsberg, Brett Schlesinger, Hannah Glass, Rabbi Alexander.

We need your help! Hopefully most of you know that the Coming Street Cemetery has gone thru fix-up and clean-up. Anita Rosenberg and the Coming Street Cemetery Committee are looking for people who would like to be Docents. It's not a hard job. It's an interesting job. You would be responsible for opening the gate and teaching and showing a great slice of our Jewish history and heritage. Please, if you are interested, contact Anita at (843) 696-5001. It won't take a lot of your time and it could be a great experience for you and the visitors.

The last Brotherhood event of this season is our Father's Day oneg on Friday night, June 17th. It's the Brotherhood Service and Oneg. Please attend. Bring your friends. Bring your friends' friends. How about a challenge? Brotherhood currently has 50 members. If everybody who attends brings somebody, not including spouses because that is a given, we could have a chance of 50 more members...or at least 5 or 10.

Speaking of Onegs - A suggestion came up at the Board Meeting that the ushers stay for the Oneg and act as an ambassador for the visitors who are first timers to KKBE. I personally try to do this every time I am involved in a temple event. It's great PR.

The Fun in the Sun Day at the Citadel Beach House on August 14th is still happening. We will be using the pavilion that was not damaged in the fire. The Grill Master will be in attendance and will need some volunteers.

See you all at the Father's Day service. Summer is upon us. Be safe out there, please.

B'shalom,

Martin Hoxenhorn

A HUGE THANK YOU to all who supported the Coming Street Cemetery on Lowcountry Giving Day!

Through your generous donations we were able to raise $34,036!

Again, thank you to all who participated and to the Pearlstine Family Fund, Dr. Michael S. Kogan, Rich & Randi Serrins, Kerry & Cindi Solomon, Amy Davis & Phil Saul, and Cynthia Stetzer for providing our matching grants!

We are truly grateful for your support on Lowcountry Giving Day and your continued support of the Coming Street Cemetery throughout the year! Your donations allow us to continue the extensive preservation work at the cemetery.

LIBRARY NEWS!

The 51st Annual Association of Jewish Libraries (AJL) Conference will be held in Charleston for the first time that I can ever remember, from June 19-22. I've been fortunate to attend several of these conferences in the past and I must admit that it was through the members of this Association that I learned how to put our KKBE library together. Check out their website--www.jewishlibraries.org.

And if you would like to volunteer with me at the Conference, please let me know.

I'm excited to share the names of the new CHARLEY board for 2016-2017!

President: Lani Chavin
Programming VP: Cady Haller
Social Action VP: Nina Krasnoff
Ritual & Cultural VP: Ellie Dessner
Membership VP: Brooke Rovner
Communications VP: Sophia Karesh

I want to thank our past board members: Julie Strobing, Taylor Kahn-Perry, Hannah Glass, Brooke Rovner, Reese Alspector, and Alec Goldberg for their hard work and dedication this year. They successfully organized a Yom Kippur service, an interfaith lock-in, a philanthropic scavenger hunt to benefit Lowcountry Orphan Relief, a Sky Zone Social, the Camp Jenny Purim Carnival, numerous meetings, and so much more! They served as true role models and leaders during Kallot and local events. It was an honor and a pleasure to work with all of them. I'm so very proud of their efforts. In addition, they created a legacy project of renovating the CHARLEY lounge to create a more inviting space for teens to gather, study, pray, socialize, and "hang" out.

Again, thank you to our KKBE Sisterhood who generously donated money to purchase new furniture for the lounge.

Religious School registration is open. Please be sure to register as soon as possible so we can plan ahead for proper staffing. You can register online by clicking here: <http://goo.gl/forms/Nb4iGwABDo>

I hope you are enjoying a wonderful summer!

B'shalom,

Melanie
