TBE President David Sacks

A message from your temple president ...

Happy New Year. First, thank you to our Congregation for all that you have accomplished this year. The funds we have raised, the projects completed and for all the volunteer efforts, we are most grateful. The response has been impactful. We have truly created a new paradigm for Temple Beth-El. Thank you. We still have opportunities for 2023. Together we will make this a great year.

Please remember, all CAPITAL CAMPAIGN pledges are due to be paid in full by January 31st so we can get the full $350,000. match from Larry and Andrea Frank. To date we have received $337,146 of the $380,000 pledged. Thank you

As we all invest our resources in our Temple, I think we must consider the issue of rising antisemitism and the impact this might have on our future. Will our membership grow or decline? What is our younger generation thinking? WE certainly have cause for concern. Personally, I struggle to understand why this is happening. We are vigilant in our attempts to dissuade it, to prevent and protect our community. Our School has been a beacon of light against it for over 40 years. Over 90% of our students are not Jewish. Individually we try to be good citizens. And our Jewish Federation certainly supports the community at large through many programs -the food bank, the backpack program, veterans support, and the Thanksgiving and Christmas food drives. The Federation also garners much support from outside the Jewish community. We must be vigilant against antisemitism. WE must also fervently support our Temple. Indeed, this is our Holy ground. This is where we stand, celebrate, pray and practice our faith. We, each of us, in our own way, must confront and deal with this issue. Antisemitism affects us all and our families. Our children deal with it, and our parents have dealt with it. Now, as always, we must stand together and with those who support the constitutional right to freedom and freedom of religion - All Religions. We must not tolerate or support those who spew hatred. As we confront the new year and the challenges and opportunities presented, let us be forthright and vigilant in our support of these freedoms that WE ALL SHARE.

Our January board meeting will be on the 18th. You are welcome to join us at 6:30. We will have presentation from TOP Jewish Federation. This is a Jewish investment group that facilitates and manages endowment funds. They can also aid us in our fundraising efforts. We are considering them to help us manage our endowment funds. To date, 12/23/2022, we have already raised $90,000.00 for our fund. When we place it in the actual fund, we have the Larry and Andrea Frank match for a total of $180,000.00. This is a wonderful start. Thank you to all who have contributed and to those who are considering.

Our committees are working hard. We need more member involvement and input. Please contact the Temple office and let us know where your interest lies.

Here are just a few highlights

House committee – Our sukkah was damaged in the storms and must come down. We are considering what to do. Our courtyard out front is another area we are trying to improve.

Cookbook fundraiser – Our 5th edition is in the works, and we want to kick it off with a Gala.

WRJ - The new gift shop is open and we are planning for the Passover Seder

Rabbi Search – This is a hard working engaged committee. Please see Gayle's article and the exciting plans

Membership – We need everyone involved here. We continue to grow. Shelly Fisher is so diligent and so kind. We need to support her.

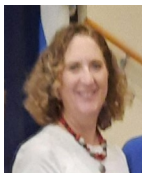
Rabbinic Search Update



Gayle Belin
Chair
Rabbinic Search Committee

As many in the congregation know, since January 2022, a search committee has been diligently working to recruit a Rabbi for TBE. After numerous zoom and in-person sessions we submitted an application to the Central Conference of American Rabbis (CCAR), first for an interim rabbi and then for a settled rabbi.

We are pleased to announce that after multiple preliminary candidate zoom interviews with five candidates, we have asked Rabbi Dawn Rose to visit our congregation from January 12-15, 2023. She is looking for a new spiritual home and some warmer weather. Her current residence is Lowell, MA. She has experience with youth, interfaith activities, sacred aging issues, rural and suburban congregations. She is a published author of religious and secular topics. Rabbi Rose has agreed to present a D'Var Torah during Shabbat services on Friday, January 13th and has offered to lead a Torah study on Saturday, January 14th. This will be followed by a kiddush lunch and an open session for the congregation to meet her and ask her questions.

The search committee is requesting that you please attend services during Rabbi Rose's visit. We are anxious to hear her and make very critical decisions for TBE. Your participation is crucial. All TBE members will receive a copy of her resume and statement in the coming days.

We are also in conversation with another rabbi, Rabbi Jim Simon of Miami, FL, who would be interested in an interim position, something he has done for the last 11 years. We hope to bring him to TBE early in February. Stay tuned for further updates.

Sisterhood

We finally did it! The WRJ Sisterhood has the Harriet Altman-Dougaf Judaica Shop open and back in action! We can even take credit cards! It was so much fun ordering all the new things in time for Hanukkah and getting everything set up! We will be redoing the display cases in the Temple lobby and changing over the shelves for Passover items after the Holidays.

A great big huge thank you to everyone that helped get it all together: Steven got all the cases and shelving in, painted the walls and cleaned up the room. Natalie helped price and get everything on the shelves in time for Hanukkah. Being able to take credit cards is huge for us! Thank you Natalie and Robert!

Sue, Dot, Shelly and I worked on getting everything priced and packed up for the Hard Rock Hanukkah Festival. With the help of those hardworking women and, Suzanne Furman helping us sell at the Festival, we were able to sell almost everything!

While we were all working on putting everything back after the Festival, a box came addressed to the Temple. It was a big box and we weren't sure who it was for. So, of course we had to open it! The box was full of Hanukkah items from a lady in Michigan whose friend had moved, and she had all those things she wanted to share. A lovely letter was inside explaining that she had been reading about our hurricanes, and so she looked up a temple in the area that she could send these things to. All of the things she sent are in the shop, ready to go home with someone to treasure! What a wonderful Hanukkah gift! We sent her a thank you letter and told her all about our Temple and our Sisterhood.

WRJ Sisterhood will be holding a planning meeting very soon, please watch for details of all the new events we have in store!

Hope you all had a wonderful Holiday and Happy New Year!

WE'RE PLANNING AHEAD FOR A TEMPLE BETH-EL PROGRESSIVE DINNER

Saturday, February 11, 2023 is the tentative date.

So what is a Progressive Dinner?

We will begin our evening with hors d'oeuvres at the home of Linda and Neil Samuels, progress to various homes for dinner and reconvene for dessert at the home of Trienah Meyers. If you would like to offer to make the dinner portion for 6-8 others, please contact Gayle Belin

This is a very fun activity. Time for schmoozing. Time for eating. Opportunities to meet congregants you might not already know. SO very satisfying!!

Looking for Temple members to help plan out the details, such as what to serve for the dinner, whose homes are being volunteered, how much to charge, if there is a theme, etc.
Contact Gayle Belin if you are interested in working on this: gayle.belin@gmail.com
Or contact Gayle if you can offer your home for appetizers, or for a dinner for 6-10 or for dessert.

Jewish Soldiers in Blue and Gray

The Civil War divided Jews as it did all Americans. Southern Jews supported the Confederacy while Northern Jews favored the Union. Prior to the war, Jews as a group never took a public stand on slavery, although may shared anti-slavery opinions. They viewed the Christian-oriented abolitionist movement with suspicion.

Thousands of Jews volunteered to fight, and many died on both sides of the conflict. About 8400 Jews fought for the Union while 10,000 fought for the Confederate forces. These numbers were greater than their percentage in the general population.

There were nine Jewish generals in the North and several in the South. Six Jewish soldiers in the Union army received the coveted Congressional Medal of Honor for their bravery. In the South, Judah P. Benjamin was the most prominent Jew in the Confederacy service as President Jefferson Davis's second-in-command as Secretary of War and State.

Jews fought not only for their respective causes but also for equal treatment for themselves. As for slavery, they never took any steps with regard to it. As citizens, they deemed it their policy "to have everyone choose whichever side one may deem best to promote their own interests and the welfare of their country". The objects of so much mean prejudice and unrighteous oppression as they had been subjected to for ages, surely, they, more than any other denomination, ought to have been enemies of caste and friends of universal freedom.

Two vocal Jewish abolitionists were Ernestine Rose and Rabbi David Einhorn. Rose, a Polish immigrant, was a popular speaker and outspoken advocate of women's' rights, while Einhorn used his pulpit at Baltimore congregation Har Sinai to preach, "it is the duty of Jews to fight bigotry, since for thousands of years Jews have consciously or unconsciously fought for freedom of conscience."

Consequently, Jewish family loyalties mirrored what occurred throughout the United States where brother fought brother. Because Jews did not live in one concentrated area, it was extremely difficult for Jewish men to form Jewish units as did the Irish, Blacks and French Creoles. Most served alongside their Christian counterparts.

The North was fighting for reunification and the South for independence. As the war progressed it turned into a social, economic and political revolution with unforeseen consequences that still affect us today.

The Brotherhood wishes all a very happy and healthy new year. Our famous breakfasts and programs are right around the corner in their new year with new hope.

The Brotherhood is Back!

The TBE Brotherhood will start meeting again after the first of the year. We would love for you to join us! Please see the Brotherhood Application on the bottom of page 9. Cut it out, complete the application, and mail your payment and completed application to the address on the form.

Religious School

Religious School Cantor Nina Fine

On January 6, join Cantor Fine for a young family interactive Shabbat and craft at 6 and a Family Friendly Musical Shabbat at 7.

Religious School is on January 8th and 22nd with Hebrew for 3rd grade and up on Jan 11th and 25th.

We have special events scheduled on January 15th and 29th, but these special events can only happen if families commit to coming and helping to run them. This includes our Purim Carnival coming up in March. Cantor Fine will be reaching out to families over the break to create a special events committee. If each family commits to helping out with at least one event for the remainder of the year, we should have enough people to enable us to offer this special young family programming.

Thank you so much and may your holidays be full of light!

Barbara Steinberg
Trustee Representative to Family Renew

Family Renew Community

Last week I was honored by the FRC Board of Trustees. One other Trustee Representative to the Board and I were asked to serve one more full year after we had "timed out" by serving our allowed terms of six full years. The motion was voted and passed unanimously, so we are both serving one more year.

We have a newly elected and energized Board who has decided that their theme for 2023 will be "Thrive, not just survive!" I fully endorse this theme and the intentions behind it. We have already agreed to meet as a Board every calendar month from January through December which has become necessary so all can keep abreast of the new and innovative programs at FRC.

In addition, there will be a "tightening" of our organizational structure with revised bylaws, new standing committee members and more involvement opportunities for Trustees and congregations. I will be keeping y'all informed of these opportunities.

We are looking for someone who has IT experience to help with our web site. Our current one is functional, but it is eight years old and limited in how it operates and what it can offer everyone affiliated or has interest in Family Renew. If anyone in our congregation can do that or knows of someone who can, please send me that information so I can contact them about this issue. It would be a gift!

Also, there will be more outreach with other non-profit organizations, such as the Jewish Federation and the Volusia Literacy Council. We are also looking for parent educators, nutritionists, and family therapists who can focus on interfamilial communication. All these can help our residents develop additional life skills that go beyond holding down a job and budgeting the family finances.

Again, it is my honor to serve another year as the Temple Beth-El Trustee Representative to the FRC Board. I will continue to look for a replacement to serve beginning in 2024.

"A full-service law firm providing trusted legal services since 1988"

We recognize that many individuals, and nearly every business, will face multiple legal issues through the years. In today's legal environment, matching your needs with the correct law firm is crucial.

As a full-service law firm, one of our strengths is the depth and breadth of our services. By offering a broad range of practice areas, we ensure that once our clients establish a relationship with us, they do not have to look elsewhere for their future legal needs. Our commitment to excellence in our individual areas of practice begins with the credentials and accomplishments of our named partners, each of whom is a Board-Certified Specialist in one or more areas of practice.

Call us, or visit our website, to receive additional information about our firm. We welcome the opportunity to speak with you in person.
