Rabbi Konigsburg visits the local hospitals on a regular basis. An important part of his duties is to bring comfort and healing to those who are sick. Due to privacy laws, the hospitals can't tell him if one of our members has been admitted. He could be just down the hall, but if he doesn't know someone is there, he will not know to make a visit. ## Faith, Hope and Prayer

When we go to a magic show, as children or adults, we go in looking to be entertained. We don't believe in the magic; we know there is no such thing as magic, but the sleight of hand and the appearance of magic are fun and we leave scratching our heads and saying, "How did he DO that?"

Rosh Hashana is NOT a magic show. It is not about entertainment. Nothing is going to happen that will leave you amazed or puzzled. We use the same Machzor, the melodies are always familiar, and it takes a really long time to get through it all.

But Rosh Hashana is about seeing old friends, the kind who always sit in seats near us, and the prayers that, over the years, have become "friends" as well. But the real Rosh Hashana does not happen in synagogue, not on the bima and not in congregation. The real Rosh Hashana happens inside ourselves. And it happens only if we let our guard down long enough for our faith to do the work that needs to be done.

The prayers in the Machzor do not change, but they do change us. Often we spend so much time on the physical parts of the service: reading the prayers, standing and sitting, listening to music, reading the explanations and the poetry in the margins of the Machzor. But we hardly even let the prayers into our hearts, to realize that they are trying to tell us something – Something about last year and something about the year that is starting. The prayers are trying to tell us that the time we have together is limited: it is limited by the holiday, limited by the number of days in the year, and limited by the number of years in our lives. Just like an old friend will tell us when we are doing something good or bad, these prayers help us define our actions in the past and help us find meaning and direction in the year that is beginning.

Rosh Hashana may be at the beginning of the year, but it is also about the beginning of the rest of our lives. Nothing in life is so carved in granite that it can't be changed. We can change the direction of our lives, we can fill our time doing acts that make us feel existentially joyful. We can make a difference that could change the world for the better if we but try.

Don't read the words in the Machzor this year. "Listen" to the words. What are they telling you? We are in synagogue because we want to be better in the new year and we don't know how. The Machzor is telling us how, if we only stop to listen to what it has to say. This Rosh Hashana, don't worry about standing and sitting or being on the "correct" page. There will be one page in your book that will call out to you to stop and listen. So stop and listen: listen deeply, maybe find a quiet place at home and contemplate what you have heard. Open your heart and your mind to what your prayers have to say and then you will know – you will really know – why this year it was so important to be in shul for Rosh Hashana.

Jewish History 101

Elul – Tishrei

1 Tishrei – On the Jewish calendar, the first day of Tishrei marks the creation of the world. The Jewish calendar began seven months ago, in Nisan, the time we mark as the beginning of our lives as a free people. Tishrei is the seventh month, but it commemorates the creation of the world. The world was not created on 1 Tishrei; creation is said to have begun seven days earlier. 1 Tishrei marks the first Shabbat, the end of creation, when all of creation was declared by God to be "Very good." Pesach marks the beginning of the people of Israel; Rosh Hashana marks the beginning of the relationship between God and humanity. At this time of year we stop to hear God calling us as God called us on that first Shabbat, to rest, to renew ourselves, and to contemplate how this relationship with the divine will help guide our lives.

Words from the President

I have to be honest; I've been dreading writing my column this month. I mean, it's September...it's Rosh Hashana, it's Yom Kippur... who am I to be writing a column for the entire congregation? Should I write something inspiring? Should it be deep and meaningful? There's really no guide for this - and I partly blame my predecessors for that.

But having said that, would a guide even be appropriate this year? I mean, I'm not leading our synagogue through the depths of a global pandemic (thanks, Jack & Dawn), so all should be back to normal, right? How I wish it were so.

So much has changed over the last two years. We've all gotten used to, and have accepted that, some level of Covid precautions will be part of our daily lives for the foreseeable future. We've become accustomed to remote everything: work, school, prayer. And even though I've been impressed by how adaptable our congregation has been, I find myself asking - at what cost?

Synagogues, churches, mosques (we're not alone here) - all have either come to the realization, or are discovering it now, that some of those people who stayed remote, are now questioning whether or not to come back. In fact, some of them have already made their decisions.

Here's what I'd like to ask all of you. If you're reading this column, chances are that you're an active member of the congregation, and we'll be seeing you for the High Holidays. When you get here, look around. Who aren't you seeing? Who did you see in 2019 (our last normal year) whom you don't see now? Who do you know who's celebrating Rosh Hashanah with a family gathering, but may have decided to "skip the shul part" this year?

And now call them, talk to them, remind them that a synagogue is more than just a place to go and pray. A synagogue, OUR synagogue, is about bringing people together. It's about bringing people together to grow both literally and figuratively. It's about having a place where we can replenish our spirit and nurture our soul. It's about having this place, this community, for our children...and their children too.

I sincerely hope to see you all for the holidays and beyond. And on behalf of my wife Debbie, and my daughters Jordana and Allyson, we all wish you a happy and a healthy year to come. L'shana Tova Tikateyvu!

High Holiday Pages

Selichot at BSBI

Saturday, September 17, beginning at 9:00 pm.

Rabbi Konigsburg and Rabbi Lefkowitz will officiate Selichot. It is the official start of the Yomim Noraim, the Days of Awe, the High Holy Day period of the Jewish calendar. Traditionally, it was held at midnight to show that we wanted to begin the cycle of penitence and forgiveness at the first possible moment. We will also have a special service that night to change the Torah mantles to their white mantles for the New Year. Join us on Sat. night for this special event as well.

Tashlich – Casting Away our Sins

Monday, September 26, at 5:00 pm

Tashlich is on the first day of Rosh Hashana. Tashlich (meaning “casting off”) is a practice on the first day of Rosh Hashana. We go to a natural body of flowing water such as a river or brook and throw some breadcrumbs or similar food item into the water symbolically casting off our sins of the previous year. We invite you and your family to join us and participate in this special service. Please bring some breadcrumbs to “cast on the water.”

This year we are meeting again at The Old Woodbridge Farm at Manchester Green (behind the pizza restaurant). Our members and their guests are invited to observe this custom of symbolically throwing away our sins as we cast breadcrumbs on the water. We will meet at the stream on the farm at 5:00 pm. There is street parking in front of the farm and plenty of parking behind the Manchester Senior Center right next door. If you have never participated in this ritual, this is a great year to start.

Kever Avot

Sunday, October 2, at 10:00 am

It is a long-standing tradition to visit the graves of family members during the days between Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur. This visit is called Kever Avot, literally “Parents’ Graves.”

At this holiday time it is appropriate to remember those who are now gone from our family with this visit. We will hold this service at our cemetery in Manchester on Sunday, October 2, at 10:00 am. Everyone, no matter where their loved ones may be buried, will have the opportunity to have their loved ones remembered at this service.

Lulav and Etrog Sets

To fully observe the holiday of Sukkot, you will want to own a set of arba minim, the four species (a set of Lulav and Etrog), which will be blessed each morning of the holiday to remind us of God’s bounties. We will place a group order and have them available at BSBI to pick up before the Sukkot holiday.

Send your check to our office to reserve your set. PRICE $45 (subject to change based on supply). Please contact the office to order your set. We must have your order before Rosh Hashana to ensure delivery before Sukkot.

Contact the office: (860) 643-9563 Admin@myshul.org

Sukkot

Sukkot is the joyous culmination of the holiday season. It is the third of the three Pilgrimage Festivals. The other two are Pesach and Shavuot. While Pesach is overwhelmingly a home festival, and Shavuot is mainly a synagogue holiday, Sukkot has observances that make it both home- and synagogue-centered.

If you would like to build a Sukkah at your home, which is a great way to fully observe the holiday with your family, please contact the Rabbi for instructions. You can check out the website www.sukkot.com for excellent kits.

Services for Sukkot will be held according to the schedule found on page 5. The arba minim (lulav and etrog) will be used at the morning service on Monday, October 10 and Tuesday, October 11, and the blessing is said every other morning at home.

Hoshana Rabba

Sunday, October 16 at 10:00 am

Join us for the unique conclusion of the season of repentance with our Hoshana Rabba service. You will need to order a bundle of “hoshanot” for $6 by Yom Kippur. Contact the BSBI office if you would like to order. You will use your lulav and etrog as well.

Community

Social Action Committee

Happy New Year!

The Social Action Committee will once again be holding the High Holiday Food Drive. We are grateful to be able to be back in the synagogue for High Holy Day services, and we ask that you remember the less fortunate members of our communities by contributing groceries which will be delivered to our local food pantries. There will be a shopping cart in the lobby where the groceries can be deposited. When you're out shopping, pick up an extra toothpaste, a jar of peanut butter, a six-pack of juice packs or some baby formula to drop in the cart in the lobby. Don't let it slip your mind: A small item from you can be a bright spot in someone else's day.

We are also grateful to the volunteers who tended Jessie's Garden, which is providing fresh produce to our local food pantries. The garden is healthy and productive this summer.

A Teaching Moment from Rabbi Alan

L'shana Tova Tikateivu v'Teichateimu!

May you be inscribed for a good year and sealed for blessing in the Book of Life!

A new year is a time of hope, change and action, a promise of fresh beginnings and bright potential. A new year is unblemished by disappointment or mistakes. Anything is possible.

We acknowledge this truth with our understanding that Rosh Hashanah represents “Hayom harat olam,” the birthday of the world. On this day it all started. On this day, everything begins anew.

What a marvelous message! We really can do anything.

In this New Year we have yet to face any challenges. We have failed no tests. Whatever went wrong last year, we now get a do-over, a chance to begin again—like an artist standing before a brand-new canvas.

This promise of infinite potential is a gift from God—quite literally, because God’s holiest name in Judaism, the four-letter Hebrew word YHVH, combines the words “is,” “was,” and “will be.” God’s own nature is absolute potential. Everything is possible for God; through the new year, that possibility is shared with us.

As our school year begins, we can set new, exciting goals for ourselves—and plan to achieve them. We start this holy new year with clean hands and a pure heart.

We can choose to live lives that truly reflect our values. We can choose to make this a better year. We can choose to make our lives count—to make them holy. All we have to do is embrace this extraordinary opportunity.

May each of us find our own renewal. And may this become a year of tranquility, blessing, health, and goodness, for you and your family.

Jody joins me in wishing you, in 5783, a shana tova, a year of goodness, blessing, holiness, and hope.

Rabbi Alan

The Abitz-Angel Memorial Golf Tournament is named in memory of two dedicated men who endlessly gave back to the community. Todd Abitz was one of the tournament founders, and helped it grow to the successful fundraising event it has become today. After his passing, the tournament was renamed in Todd's honor.

Bill Angel played in the tournament for most of its existence, contributed generously, and helped the event grow for nearly two decades. Before passing away from a brain tumor in 2017, Bill asked that any memorial donations be given to the Connecticut Children's Center for Cancer & Blood Disorders. This final act of charity and selflessness inspired us to add his name to the tournament and designate Connecticut Children's as the primary beneficiary for this annual charity event.

IRA Assets and Qualified Charitable Distributions

BSBI would like to encourage charitable donations, to help our congregants optimize their charitable giving and to reach their charitable goals. On behalf of the Endowment Board of Trustees I would like to review some of the benefits of gifting Qualified Charitable Distributions (QCDs) to the Endowment. The QCDs may also be used to pay Synagogue dues as well as contribute to the Hineni Society.

Donation of "Qualified Charitable Distributions" (QCD)

In legislation at year end 2016, Congress made permanent qualified charitable distributions (QCDs) from individual retirement accounts.

What are QCDs?

A QCD permits direct transfers to a qualified charity (or charities) totaling up to $100,000 annually of tax-deferred IRA savings. QCDs offer advantages over taking a taxable IRA distribution and then contributing the proceeds of that distribution to a charity. That's because taxable IRA distributions must be included in adjusted gross income. Importantly, QCDs automatically satisfy required minimum distributions (RMDs) for the year when the QCD is made. That's a real advantage for a charitably minded IRA owner who doesn't depend on some or all of the RMD for living expenses.

What are important things to know about QCDs?

Only individuals who've attained age 70 ½ or older on the date of distribution may make QCDs. The charitable organization must be an organization that qualifies for a charitable income tax deduction of an individual. The Beth Sholom B'nai Israel Synagogue and the BSBI Endowment qualify as such organizations. The BSBI Endowment and Synagogue will be required to provide the same contribution acknowledgement to the owner of the IRA required claiming a charitable tax deduction. Failure to obtain the acknowledgement will quash the QCD. QCDs may be made from any IRA or individual retirement annuity, but not from a simplified employee pension, a simple retirement account, or an inherited IRA. Among other benefits, the use of QCDs for charity may reduce taxable income, reduce state and federal tax, reduce taxation of social security, reduce supplemental IRMMA payments to Medicare parts B and D. Individuals and couples with low as well as high incomes may benefit by contributing QCDs to charity.

Examples of using QCDs for charitable giving

There are several attractive options for the use of QCDs for charitable giving. For example one can use the QCD to pay Synagogue dues and contribute to Hineni. Another example of optimizing the use of QCD is to establish a perpetual endowment fund. By making a QCD donation to the Endowment of BSBI, the donor may create a $25,000 endowment for BSBI. This endowment may be given over the course of a number of years to reach the level necessary to provide perpetual support of a $1000 to Hineni. By adding to the donation annually the donor could reach a $45,000 over a number of years. This amount would support a perpetual Hineni donation at the $1800 per year level. Details of further possibilities and arrangements for payment can be obtained from the Endowment members or via email noted below. Since the use of QCDs for charitable giving can have specific tax advantages the donor should consult their tax advisor prior to making a QCD contribution. Some plans require significant lead time to process the paper work, so advanced planning may be necessary.

For further information, contact a member of the Endowment Committee. You may reach out to the BSBI Endowment at BSBIEndowment@myshul.org or directly to Roy Filkoff or Jeff Wasser. Remember to discuss this and all other tax matters with your tax advisor before taking any action.

Sincerely,
Jeff Wasser, MD
President of the BSBI Endowment
