

Meet Yehonatan Friedman, Temple Sinai's Teen Rishon, 2018-'19

Yehonatan will be teaching our K-12 students and teens on Sundays. He will create special experiential lessons and games to help our children/teens to develop a love for Israel. We welcome Yehonatan!

Yehonatan lives in Kiryat Shmona, in the north of Israel. He is the third of 7 children in his family. He majored in biology in high school.

Yehonatan was a counselor in the "B'nei Akiva" youth movement and volunteered for "Krembo Wings," a youth movement for kids and teens with special needs. He also volunteered for Magen David Adom, Israel's national ambulance, blood-services, and disaster-relief organization.

He was a junior counselor in the Diller Teen Fellows program, and enjoys hiking in his free time.
