MESSAGE FROM RABBI STEVEN MORGEN

On the 5th and 6th of June we will celebrate the Festival of Shavuot. This holiday commemorates the dramatic experience at Mount Sinai when the Ten Commandments were revealed to Moses and the Israelites. Every year on the eve of Shavuot we conduct a Tikkun Leyl Shavuot – a program of Jewish text study – to celebrate this momentous occasion.

This year, we are joining together with several other Houston congregations to hold a joint Tikkun which will be hosted by Congregation Brith Shalom. Rabbis Strauss, Fort and I will be presenting talks at this event.

Our Sages had many wonderful tales about what the experience at Sinai must have been like. These midrashim are usually based on some peculiar wording of the Hebrew text. My favorite midrash is based on the very first words uttered by God in the Ten Commandments. In Hebrew it says: “Anokhi Adonai Elohekha.” Which means: “I am YHVH your God.” But in modern English “your” can be plural or singular. In Hebrew it is clearly singular. That is, it is not – as we say in Texan – “I am YHVH y’all’s God.”

But God was speaking to all the Israelites gathered at Mount Sinai. According to the Torah that would be some 600,000 men of fighting age (20 years or older) plus women and children – perhaps around 2 million people! Why does God use the singular “your God” instead of the plural “y’all’s God?”

Rabbi Levi said: The Holy One appeared to [Israel at Sinai] as though He were a statue with faces on every side so that a thousand people might be looking at the statue, but they would be led to believe that it was looking directly at each one of them. So, too, when the Holy One spoke, each and every person in Israel could say, “The Divine Word is addressing me.” Note that the Scripture does not say, “I am the LORD your [plural] God,” but I am the LORD thy [singular] God. Moreover, said R. Jose bar R. Hanina, the The Divine Word spoke to each and every person according to his particular capacity.

What this astonishing Midrash is teaching us is that God communicates with each one of us in a way that we can particularly understand. And we may not “hear” exactly the same thing as our neighbor or friend. Our relationship with God is unique to each one of us.

What is amazing to me is that this remarkable interpretation was not created in the 21st century by a radical Rabbi, but rather was probably written down around the 5th or 6th century in a collection of midrashim called Pesikta d’Rav Kahana.

As we celebrate the giving of the Ten Commandments, may we be inspired with the wisdom of the Torah and the brilliance of our sacred tradition. And perhaps we, too, can sense God’s “words” to us while we imagine ourselves standing at Sinai.

A Notice About Bereavement Communications

Bereavement notices for our synagogue family are distributed with the permission of the deceased's family, and the timing of these notices is dictated by the family's request. Of course, each family grieves in its own way, and we are grateful for our congregation's patience and understanding with different families' preferences about how their loss is publicized.

Torah Cover Dedication Opportunity

Follow the process
on Instagram
@KuvinOrenArt

Upon the opening of the Ark, we are greeted with our sacred Torahs. With gratitude to Sarah Braham, Andrea Stein and Arlene Staller, we are updating our Torah covers with one-of-a-kind, beautiful coverings made specifically for Congregation Beth Yeshurun. Each Torah cover represents one of the seven species and are handmade by Jeanette Kuvin Oren on individually hand-dyed velvet.

Dedicating a Torah cover is a meaningful way to honor an individual or memorialize a loved one with an enduring testimonial that will stand as a living tribute. Dedication opportunities include a personalized message sewn inside of a Torah cover.

The number of possible opportunities is extremely limited and the deadline for all dedications is July 1st. A portion of the funds raised will benefit the Congregation's Torah ReJEWvination project, which strives to repair and maintain our Congregation's precious Torah scrolls. Over time, a number of our Torahs have been rendered not kosher due to separation between the Torah's parchment and seams; discoloration or cracking of the ink used by the Sofer to scribe the Torah; or detachment of the Eitz Chaim. Torah ReJEWvination contributions ensure continued maintenance and repair to all of Congregation Beth Yeshurun's scrolls, ensuring that we fulfill the commandment to show great respect and sanctify our Torahs.

All proceeds from this sale benefit the students of our Shul and School.
