BOWIE KALLAH! A DIFFERENT SHABBAT EXPERIENCE

BY CANTOR RACHEL GOLDMAN

Before anyone walks into the Barg sanctuary for Shabbat services on March 3rd and thinks what in the Bon Jovi is going on here, let me share four things you should know about me. First, I will do just about anything I possibly can to get the words of our t'fillah on the lips of our children. It's a mitzvah. Second, I feel deeply that we come to the spaces of our sanctuaries to vibe. In seeking a bit of shalom from the craziness of our weeks, we breathe together, we hear each other, we listen to each other, we share an energy. During Shabbat, I feel our services should always also exude a spirit of joy as part of this energy. Second, as we are all also on our own personal Jewish journeys, I fully encourage a well-rounded davening experience throughout everyone's lifetime. Third, I really love LOVE Purim. I especially love that it is a holiday that fully embraces completely turning everything upside-down. Also, it's centered around dressing according to a theme, so count me IN.

That being said, let me tell y'all a little bit about the adventure I'm about to take Congregation Beth Yeshurun on for an hour-ish. As a lead-in to the weekend of Purim, we decided to turn things upside down for Shabbat and really crank up the joy factor—and, most likely, the volume as well. Aside from a few standards that I kept off-limits (it will occasionally still feel 'normal'), almost all of the liturgy that Friday night will not be set to their usual melodies. Instead, they will be set to classic rock songs. Yes, I'm serious. Yes, I promise it will be fun. We are leaning hard into this musical genre for the night without deleting a single word of Hebrew. If you are expecting an inside-the-box prayer experience that Friday night in the main sanctuary service, I'm sorry to say that I will have blown up the box in the main sanctuary for one night. Our traditional minyanim are still available, don't worry...and the "box" will be re-assembled by the next morning, I give you all my word.

Though our final song selections are a secret, I can say this: there are good rock songs, there are great rock songs, and then there are iconic rock songs—the ones you can recognize from the first four notes. Since we are going for joy turned up, I aimed for all songs in the iconic category. This way, if the Hebrew words are already on your lips, you'll most likely be able to sing along with just a prayer book. I added some fun English words along the way too but promise you won't be lost in the service. Both our day school and religious school students have been practicing some select prayers with me for months now. This also means that, if you really want to know a few of the songs, you might be able to bribe it out of one of our students.

While various life lessons of adulting are learned through B'nai Mitzvah preparation, I tell all of my B'nai Mitzvah students that the best events during adulting will have dress codes (and then I usually lead into the standard-Bema-attire conversation being no different). Therefore, let's aim for this to be one of those amazing events with a dress code as well! Please feel free to dress with a bit of a rocker edge when you come pray with us that night. Bring out your band shirts, your leather pants and a seatbelt to buckle up, because we are going to have a prayer adventure together. I can't wait to see you there!

Check out what's happening on and around campus!

Condolences

The congregation extends its sincerest condolences to the families of:

Meyer Chaskin, Shifra Fenson, Jacob Bernard Hochstein, Eric Isaac Kaminsky, Martin Koslin, Bernard "Bob" Loring, Jerry Melman, Edna Noroski Mendoza, Linda Steele Rubinfeld, and Seymour Sugar.

May their memories be for a blessing.

A Notice About Bereavement Communications

Bereavement notices for our synagogue family are distributed with the permission of the deceased's family, and the timing of these notices is dictated by the family's request. Of course, each family grieves in its own way, and we are grateful for our congregation's patience and understanding with different families' preferences about how their loss is publicized.

Professor Susannah Heschel is the Eli M. Black Distinguished Professor of Jewish Studies at Dartmouth College and Chair of the Jewish Studies Program. Her scholarship focuses on Jewish and Protestant thought during the 19th and 20th centuries, including the history of biblical scholarship, Jewish scholarship on Islam, and the history of anti-Semitism.

She has received four honorary doctorates from universities in the United States, Canada, and Germany. Currently she is a Guggenheim Fellow and is writing a book on the history of European Jewish scholarship on Islam. In 2015 she was elected a member of the American Society for the Study of Religion.

The author of over one hundred articles, she has also edited several books, including Muslims Responses to European Orientalism (with Umar Ryad); Moral Grandeur and Spiritual Audacity: Essays of Abraham Joshua Heschel; Betrayal: German Churches and the Holocaust (with Robert P. Ericksen); Insider/Outsider: American Jews and Multiculturalism (with David Biale and Michael Galchinsky). She serves on the academic advisory council of the Center for Jewish Studies in Berlin and on the Board of Trustees of Trinity College.

ANNUAL MEETING

Sunday, May 21, 2023 | 6:00PM

Congregation Beth Yeshurun will soon elect new members of the Board of Trustees. In order to learn about as many candidates as possible, we would like to have congregants forward names of people for consideration to the Nominations Committee. The number of open Board positions is limited; all candidates will be considered, but not all will be able to be nominated. Please note that the deadline to receive this completed form is April 21, 2023.

Jerrad Bloome, Nominations Committee Chair, is asking members for recommendations for nominees to the Board of Trustees. You may recommend yourself or someone else for consideration by the Nominations Committee. The only Constitutional requirement is that the nominee must be a member of Beth Yeshurun in good standing for at least one year prior to election (this year, May 21, 2023).

Mind the Museum

If you've ever taken a close look at the Museum's Chagall etchings near the Chapel hall, you would have seen this somewhat whimsical etching called "The Rabbi." It is from a series titled Mein Leben (My Life), published in Berlin in 1923. It shows the Rabbi with all the accoutrement of Sukkot plus a little something extra on his head! These are some of his best works. Check them out!

Family member or friend in the hospital or nursing care?

The CBY Clergy and/or Hospital Visiting Group members are happy to reach out to them with spiritual comfort.

Please contact Lisa Unsell at LUNSELL@BETHYESHURUN.ORG or 713.255.8017 to request a phone call (or visit in person, if possible) for your loved one.

Your Sisterhood Giftshop is here for all your Judaica needs!

Open Tuesday-Thursday 10am-4pm; Friday 10am-2:00pm; Sunday 10am-1:00pm; Closed Saturday & Monday.
