Join us for a special Shabbat service to honor our hard-working board and install our new Board of Directors for the 2018-2019 year.
We will thank outgoing board members: Scott Roseman who has been President of our temple for the past two years, Past President Gail Levine, and Wally Brondstatter for their many years of service to our congregation.
We will welcome incoming President Amy Katzenstein-Harrington as our new board President. Joining the board this year will be Melody Randel as VP of Membership Engagement and Doug Sommerville as VP of Operations.
We will also be recognizing all board members for their continued dedication to our community.

New Coffee Lounge
—All that is missing is You!
Our new adult coffee lounge and meeting space in the Litvak Wing is open and even more beautiful than imagined! It is a wonderful mix of indoor and outdoor seating. Kerith Koontz has begun placing plants and flowers on the tables as well. It is a wonderful place to meet a friend, escape the freeway traffic (like that ever happens), read a book, logon to your computer and do some work, or just run into friends. And if you happen to find yourself with more fruit on your trees than you know what to do with, think of sharing some here. Please let us know what ideas you have for this new amazing space too—see you there!

ALL ARE INVITED!
Please join us for lunch in the social hall after the bar mitzvah service for Jordan Weiss-Penzias, son of Rabbi Shifra and Peter Weiss-Penzias. Please go to page 7 for more information.

EARLY DEADLINE FOR SEPTEMBER SHOFAR ARTICLES
The Shofar is not published in July and August. Submissions are due by Friday, July 20th, for the September issue. Get more information on page 3.

Sisterhood Gift Shop
Over the summer—June, July and August—we will be open Wednesdays from 2:30 to 5:00 PM. For special orders, or to open the shop at other times, please call Ruth at (831) 476-1154. We are happy to serve you!
The month of June often feels to me like the end and beginning of cycles. Students graduate, some members of our board of directors leave the board and some new people join, our new class of B’nai Mitzvah students begin their prayers and blessings class—and the list goes on.

As we come to this time of the year, I want to thank Scott Roseman for his many hours of dedication to this congregation. I’d like to take a bit of credit for Scott’s success because many years ago I had lunch with Scott and encouraged him to join TBE. As he became more and more involved in our community, he found a myriad of ways to contribute his wisdom and great big vision. Scott has prodded and pushed us to become a more open and inclusive congregation. His keen ability to anticipate the future was the catalyst for our voluntary membership contribution (often referred to as dues), policy and the decision to invite the whole community to our High Holiday services. And Scott’s business acumen has helped us navigate the many changes our congregation has faced over these past two years. As Scott leaves his position as president, he will remain on the board, heading up our leadership development efforts. If you are interested in helping him with this important program, or you are interested in learning more about what it means to become a leader in our congregation, please contact Scott—after his hard-earned summer vacation.

We have two long-time board members who are leaving the board. Gail Levine is stepping off after having served in multiple positions, most recently as our past president. Gail is not only a public leader; she has devoted herself to behind the scenes efforts through her service on our Film Festival Committee, Senior Connections, Education and too many others to count. Gail has washed dishes, schlepped chairs and answered phones. As Gail transitions off of the board, she will be serving as a mentor for new leaders and chair of our Engagement (formally Membership) Committee.

And last but certainly not least, Wally Brondstatter, who has poured his heart, soul and body into our community. It’s hard to fathom how much Wally has done for us over his many years of service. The new Litvak wing, the purchase and improvement of the Soquel Cemetery, encouraging us to hire Harry Reinert and the new and improved Simcha playground are just a few of the large projects Wally has undertaken. We could never have achieved even half of our goals without Wally’s many hours of service to our congregation.

In closing, I want to encourage all of you to celebrate our board members at our Shabbat evening service on June 22. This will be a wonderful opportunity to thank them for all they do and to welcome our new board members.

― Rabbi Paula Marcus

Shaina Hall will facilitate an exploration of the destruction of the second temple and how we feel when something beautiful that we love is destroyed. We will meditate on how to rebuild our inner temple.

A Message From Our Incoming Board President

Dear Congregants,

As your new upcoming president I would like to introduce you to our Interim Executive Director Esther Herst. I am excited to begin planning and envisioning with Esther and all of you in the upcoming months. I hope many of you will be able to meet her at our board installation on June 22, at 7:30 PM, or sooner.

Esther Herst is a native Chicagoan who has lived in Seattle for 31 years. Since 2012, she has made a career of serving Reform synagogues that are in transition or face unusual challenges—as their interim executive director. She has led temples from the Upper East Side of New York to Orange County, from Pittsburgh to suburban Chicago. Her role as an interim director requires her to move into the community and become an integral part of each congregation. She and her therapy dog Hope, settle into the rhythm of each synagogue. Esther becomes part of the temple leadership as the director and as a consultant to the board, clergy and staff regarding policies and procedures, as well as a guide to the search process for a permanent executive director.

Prior to being a roving synagogue director, Esther served as a permanent director to two Seattle-based congregations. Her first career was as a national political organizer and advocate on issues of constitutional rights including twelve years as a civil liberties lobbyist in Washington DC.

Esther’s husband, Gino Gianola, teaches bioethics to medical and physician assistant students at the University of Washington and will come to visit her a couple of times during her stay with Temple Beth El. She and Gino have two grown sons, one in LA and one in Seattle.

I look forward to meeting new members and getting your ideas to continue having a vibrant Jewish community here in Santa Cruz.

—Amy Katzenstein-Harrington

Hello From Our Interim Executive Director

As your new interim executive director, I feel honored to be a part of the TBE family. I have worked at many synagogues, helping to guide them through changes and other challenges. I love experiencing different approaches to music, worship, temple structure, and programming. I hope to become immersed in the unique culture of Temple Beth El and I welcome all your help and ideas.

As a synagogue executive director, I partner in leadership with the Rabbis and the board president. While I’m here, I’ll handle the usual directorial tasks and I’ll also observe and evaluate the systems and practices with a new set of eyes. I’ll guide the search for a permanent executive director and I’ll deliver recommendations to TBE’s leadership to strengthen Temple Beth El as you move into your future.

Please come by my office and offer your own insights into how this congregation can become even more supportive and inspirational.

—L’shalom, Esther

Board Report

The Board met on May 1st with an agenda full of excitement and gratitude. We started by greeting our temple’s new Interim Director, Esther Herst. We also had to say goodbye and thank you to two very long-serving board members: Wally Brondstatter and Gail Levine. Personal memories and stories were shared as well as immense heartfelt appreciation, and some overwhelming themes emerged—integrity, commitment, dedication, tireless contributions and heart. We will let you take some well-deserved time off folks, but please don’t go too far!

We are pleased to nominate one new and one returning board member: Doug Sommerville who will join us as V.P. of Operations. And after a year off, Melody Randel will return to the board as V.P. of Engagement. We are still accepting nominations for two additional board positions. Please contact Amy Harrington if you would like to nominate someone.

Careful line-by-line budget analysis was also conducted, but the bottom line (accounting pun intended) is that we are in a very good place financially, no doubt in great part to many folks—Paul Jacobson, Nick Scalzo, Margaret Gordon, Ilya Starzhevskiy, Susan McAnerney and Alida Edelman—who have put in a great deal of time and effort into organizing, correcting, monitoring, cultivating and streamlining our financials.

One last item: During Board President Scott Roseman’s state of the temple’s speech at the Congregational Meeting on May 6, he reiterated that we are in a very good place financially, no doubt in great part to many folks—Paul Jacobson, Nick Scalzo, Margaret Gordon, Ilya Starzhevskiy, Susan McAnerney and Alida Edelman—who have put in a great deal of time and effort into organizing, correcting, monitoring, cultivating and streamlining our financials.

Thank you, Silvia!

As Rabbi Paula said, once you’re a part of the Simcha community, it’s forever. While Silvia’s tour as Director concludes in June, we look forward to seeing her as director emeritus for many years to come, and to dancing with her at Simcha’s fifty-year celebration in 2028. Silvia, we wish you all the very best and send you our profound thanks. We love you, Silvia!

Special thanks to some of the many people who helped make this event happen: Arielle Gray, Sossity Nico, Wilma Gold, Shani Ginsburg, Jackie Tuttle, Lori Veitch, Antoine Del Bonta, Sashka Rothchild, Tamar Dittman, Andrew Ow, Shira Coleman, Michelle Dennis, Jessica Zovar, Brent Jensen, Max and David Kashnow (The Bluebirds), Jen Vered, Melissa Sunberg and Benjamin Flatauer.

Nominate a Woman of Valor

Do you know a woman of valor? Nominate her for the Candy Coonerty Woman of Valor award! Every year, the Candy Coonerty Woman of Valor Committee gathers nominations and selects a Jewish woman who meaningfully serves the Jewish community and the community at large. The committee, made up of former Women of Valor honorees and family and friends of Candy, would love to have input from temple members to help with the selection process. The committee meets once each year to review the good works of all those who have been nominated along with women who have made an impact during the past year and selects one nominee to honor in the spirit of the award. Email caseycoonerty@hotmail.com with any nominations and include a few lines about why you think they are a Woman of Valor. Nominations are accepted year round.

Library Mysteries: The Case of the Walking Books

In a baffling development, library books have begun to grow legs and walk away on their own—at least that’s preferable to the possibility that members are taking books without checking them out. While we like to see the books used, it would be far better to know when, or if, they will be coming back. One TBE library book showed up at Grey Bears—quite the hike for little book legs!

When we notice a book has gone walking, we can only hope it will find its way back home. When they don't show up after a while, we must write them off. Sometimes we can buy replacements, entailing extra work and unnecessary costs. Sometimes we have to do without. Either way it's a loss for our community.

Here is a list of selected missing items, including a few we already replaced and others we still hope will come back on their own:

- Basic Judaism, Milton Steinberg - replaced
- A Guide to the Zohar, Arthur Green - replaced
- Someone to Run With, David Grossman - replaced
- A Horse Walks Into A Bar, David Grossman
- Duel, David Grossman
- Justice, Faye Kellerman
- Kitchen Table Wisdom, Naomi Remen
- The Haunted Smile, Lawrence Epstein
- The Plot, Will Eisner

If you see these or any other runaway books, we ask you to help them find their way to the book return near the library entrance. And, if you notice any books heading out the door, make sure they are checked out before they leave the building. The new check-out system is fast and easy: it takes three simple steps and your email address (or library card). If you run into problems, send a note to librarytbe@gmail.com and we will check it out for you.

Temple School fosters a love of Jewish learning in a joyful, engaging and supportive community.

Those of you who attended our very moving Senior Send-off Shabbat got to witness 16 graduating high school seniors demonstrate how much our dynamic, values-based Jewish programming helps shape the lives of so many young people. You also may have noticed me completely break down crying on the bimah when they sang Hashkiveynu. When these amazing college-bound students sang the words “guard us from all harmful things,” I thought about the uncertain future of our country and our planet and I prayed that they will not only be safe, successful and happy, but also that they will be leaders in guiding the world in a positive direction. I hope that their experiences at TBE have given them some guidance to help along the way.

This has been a wonderful year at Temple School. As I write this, we have just had our last Wednesday classes, including a Lag B’omer celebration, complete with campfire and archery (thanks Michael McKay!). Thanks so much to Sarah Clarkson for everything she does to keep Temple School running, including organizing another fantastic Mitzvah Day with well over 112 participants. Thanks to the TBE Green Team we had a new mitzvah at this year’s Mitzvah Day, encouraging people to write postcards to national and local officials regarding legislation that could affect climate change. I look forward to this becoming an annual tradition. Please save the date for Opening Day at the community-wide picnic on September 30th, and help spread the word about Temple School, Camp Kayetz and Simcha Preschool to any parents of Jewish children that you may know. Word of mouth is our best community-builder. I hope you have a wonderful summer.

Simcha’s 40th Reunion and a Thank you

Simcha’s 40th Reunion Celebration was a dream come true—such an amazing, special event both for me and for all of those who came together to celebrate. A special thank you goes out to everyone who worked so hard to plan this first reunion and my retirement celebration. My love and commitment to Simcha made it my highest priority that the program continue to thrive and be a safe, loving, respectful and stimulating home for children and families. Simcha will be welcoming our new Director, Lisa Mendez, as I take my leave the beginning of July. I look forward to maintaining my connection to the temple and to all of you. Thank you for having entrusted me to be such an integral part of the Temple Beth El community.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL MITZVAH DAY!

Thank you to all who participated in Mitzvah Day 2018 on Sunday, April 22nd. We had over 112 participants this year! Thank you to Jeremy Dennis for counting our participants.

Many people went to clean up Rio Del Mar beach with Save Our Shores. Thank you to Mike Rein who was our captain once again for this important Mitzvah project. SRFY cleaned up the beaches off of Westcliff near Natural Bridges. We had people selling lemonade at Pleasure Point who raised $91 for the Santa Cruz Animal Shelter and $41 for the Santa Cruz AIDS Project. We made over 100 peanut butter and jelly sandwiches for the homeless which were distributed to the River Street Shelter.

Many volunteers stayed at TBE and helped at the community garden. A special thank you to Kerith Koontz who was the captain of that Mitzvah Project. Silvia Ferguson guided many helpers in spreading sand and mulch on the Simcha playground. New this year: we had a letter writing campaign where TBE’s Green Committee encouraged people to write postcards to national and local officials regarding legislation that could affect climate change.

See pictures from the day on the back cover. It was a great Mitzvah/Earth Day for everyone. Thank you!

All of TBE is invited!

Join Brotherhood at the ballgame! The San Jose Giants take on the Lancaster JetHawks at Municipal Stadium, 588 East Alma Avenue in San Jose. Brotherhood purchased general admission tickets at a discount: adults $11, kids 5–12 and seniors 65+ $8. RSVP by contacting Bob Feldman at rfeldfam@aol.com. We’ll be sitting close to the action in this historic stadium to cheer on the SF Giants’ minor league team. We’ll try to arrange carpools up to the game. It’s the perfect family outing! Oh, the first 500 people at the ballpark get a free Italian-themed giveaway. Come play ball with Brotherhood!

Brotherhood has arranged for UCSC docents to provide us with a guided tour of the UCS Arboretum & Botanical Garden, home to over 300 diverse plant families from around the world. But we won’t just be learning about plants, birds and wildlife and getting a little fresh air and exercise. This tour is also for photographers. Long-time temple photographers Lee Jaffe (birding and bird photography) and Terry Rein (flower and plant photography) will join our tours. Participants will be able to share tips about positioning for the best shots, distance, lighting, time of day, shutter speed, focal length, advantages of using a tripod vs. hand-held, and other factors.

But there’s more! A Brotherhood brunch at the Arboretum will follow. We are limited to 30 people so please let Mike know at mike@reinlaw.net if you can come. The tour will take roughly 90 minutes. Cost: $13 adults, $8 kids 12 and under.
