Rock Shabbat

Spiritual,
Musical,
Mystical

October 20, 7:30 PM

The magic of Rock Shabbat is made possible by the rich, creative sounds of our Rock Shabbat Band: Michael Levy (piano), Rabbi Paula Marcus (guitar, vocals), Rabbi Shifra Weiss-Penzias (vocals), Peter Weiss (guitar, vocals), Dror Sinai (percussion, vocals), Shahir El-Shaieb (bass), Shmuel Thaler (harmonica), and guest artists. Andy Yanowitz handles the sound and light systems.

Sponsored by Judi Wyant, Marilyn Rigler and Marcia Meyer.

Potluck Pajama ★ Havdalah

In the Sukkah
Saturday, October 7th, 6:00 PM

The third annual Pajama Havdallah and sukkah sleepover at the temple is all set for Saturday, October 7th. Last year's event was so much fun! We hope you join us in this new temple Young Families Project tradition. For those of you who want to stay the night, you can choose to sleep with your family in the temple's beautiful sukkah or bring a tent. The Coleman family will bring one tent available for "big kids" without parents which sleeps 4-6 children. We are adding a potluck this year, so bring something to share. We will be led in a havdallah service and song circle and there will be sukkot children's books for story time. Feel free to bring wine and snacks for after the children's bedtime. Pancake breakfast will be a community affair in the morning before temple school. This is a great way to celebrate the holiday and fulfill the mitzvah of sitting in the sukkah. Come celebrate with friends and make new ones! ★

The Tent of Abraham

The Tent of Abraham is sponsoring a presentation and small group discussions on the topic of The Historic Roots and Current Implications of Anti-Semitism led by Dr. Nathaniel Deutsch at Temple Beth El on Sunday, October 29, from 2:00 to 5:00 PM.

This is the first of a three part series addressing challenges facing Jewish, Christian and Islamic communities in our community and the country.

Nathaniel Deutsch is a Professor of History at the University of California, Santa Cruz, where he holds the Baumgarten Endowed Chair and is the Director of the Center for Jewish Studies and the Institute for Humanities Research. He is also a member of our board of directors.

Simcha Torah

All School Celebration and Kindergarten Consecration Followed by Israeli Folk Dancing

Friday, October 13th, at 6:30 PM

You won't want to miss this year's Simchat Torah at TBE! Every Temple School class will present a part of this fun and dynamic service. We will begin in the sanctuary at 6:30 PM, honoring our kindergarteners as they begin what we hope will be 11 wonderful years of Jewish exploration with Temple School. This is very moving for us because we can envision them growing up to be the confident and brilliant 10th grade students presenting at confirmation, the other bookend of Temple School. After the service we move into the Social Hall, where we all help to unroll the whole Torah in a huge circle so that we can have the unique opportunity to glance at the Torah's entire glorious cycle. Then, with our own variation of the joyous Simchat Torah traditional hakafot, the whole congregation will dance around with the Torah with fabulous Israeli dance teacher Ilana Goldstein (also a Temple School Hebrew Teacher). Sleepy children (and adults) will be able to leave early, but those who stay will nosh (snack) and schmooz (chat) together as we wrap up the celebration with a delicious oneg.

THOUGHTS FROM RABBI PAULA

Rabbi Paula

With the intensity of the High Holidays behind us, only a few days later we're asked to go outside and build a sukkah. Some people actually hammer the first nail right after breaking the Yom Kippur fast. But aren't we tired? Why can't we wait a bit before we get to work? One reason is that harvests won't wait until we're ready. Since Sukkot, like other Jewish holidays is tied to the agricultural calendar, when it's time to harvest, the harvest booths had to be ready.

Maybe there's a blessing in this timing. After all the days of sitting in the sanctuary, Sukkot invites us out into the natural world. It reminds us that the beauty of creation is just as important as the prayers and meditations inside ourselves. We are invited to look up at the sky through the branches of the sukkah's roof and to gather together to eat, talk, sing learn in the sukkah, and to wave the lulav and Etrog in the six directions.

Sukkot also reminds us that we can live without all of our material possessions and comforts. On sukkot, it doesn't matter if we live in a large or small home, each one of us are vulnerable to the weather—if it rains on my sukkah, it's raining on yours too.

One of the things I loved about being in Israel for Sukkot, is that everyone built a sukkah, even secular Israelis. It's part of the general cultural ambience. We could walk around town and see sukkahs on the roofs of apartment buildings all over Jerusalem and Tel Aviv.

Sages call Sukkot "z'man simchateinu," the time of our rejoicing, and heHag, the holiday par excellence, and yet we celebrate this joyful holiday by leaving our comfortable homes and dwelling in a rickety hut, exposed to the wind and rain.

Torah teaches that the festival of Sukkot is about the journey from national homelessness to home, our ancestors' journey from Egypt through the wilderness to the land of Israel.

Here at Temple Beth EL, we have a wide range of organized opportunities to celebrate Sukkot. Please check the calendar for Sukkot celebrations. If you just want to drop by for lunch or dinner in the Sukkah please call the office to be sure that nothing else is being planned for that time.

May we find bounty, security and joy during this Sukkot festival.

—Rabbi Paula Marcus

Women's Sukkot Celebration

Thursday October 5, 6:00 PM

The women's Rosh Hodesh group and TBE Sisterhood invite all women to join us in the TBE community sukkah. Together, we'll invite our ushpizot (our ancient fore-mothers) and seven prophetesses* to join us. Rabbi Paula will lead us as we share food and blessings and songs. Please bring a veggie potluck dish to share. Dress warmly and bring your friends & family!

* The rabbis taught: "Forty-eight prophets and seven prophetesses preached to Israel...Who were the seven prophetesses? Sarah, Miriam, Deborah, Hannah, Abigail, Huldah, Esther." (Babylonian Talmud, Tractate Megillah).

Please contact Shelly Nadelman-Douglass with any questions or to RSVP at sheilyanadelman@gmail.com or (831) 428-6208 or (831) 687-0567.

Rosh Hodesh Marḥešvan

Please join TBE Women's Rosh Hodesh Group in the library on Thursday, October 19, 7:00 PM, as we welcome the month of Marḥešvan. Marḥešvan literally means the eighth month of the ecclesiastical year (which starts on 1 Nisan). The holiday of Sig'd, one of the unique holidays of the Beta Israel (Ethiopian Jewish) community, is celebrated on the 29th of Marḥešvan. Sig'd is now an official holiday in Israel.

In October the TBE Gift Shop will be open on Sundays from 9:30 AM–12:00 PM and Wednesdays from 2:30–6:00 PM. Our new Israeli imports, jewelry, ritual items and gifts will delight everyone. Can't make Sunday or Wednesday? Call us to open the shop for you—Shirley 685-2710 or Ruth 476-1154.

August Board Meeting Notes

The temple board met on August 22nd with a full slate of agenda items. Vice President of Operations, Wally Brondstatter, reported on the beautiful building expansion and the wonderful new Simcha playground, as well as many upgrades which have been made to our security system. Staff will now be equipped with key fobs for entry and a-phones which have remote doorbell and visual capabilities. We all take security very seriously; therefore the TBE community is asked to ensure that doors are not propped open while unattended. We want to continue to be the welcoming community we have always been while being cognizant of the challenges of the current social climate. A big thank you to the Ow family, TBE Brotherhood, Harry and Wally for bringing our amazing playground to fruition!

TEMPLE SCHOOL NEWS

Rabbi Shifra

The theme for this year at Temple School is total physical response learning. We are experimenting with every possible way to experience Jewish learning with our bodies and senses. For example, in our KEF program for 5th and 6th grades, students choose either drama with Josh Karter, cooking with Benjamin Flatauer, or arts and crafts with Jess Mitchell. People spend so much of their lives sitting in front of screens. At Temple School, every class is filled with activity and our students aren't just sitting in their chairs. Our annual Simchat Torah celebration is a great example of this, so please come on Friday, October 13th, at 6:30 PM, to experience this for yourself (see the front page of this Shofar).

By all indications, Temple School is off to a great start. Our terrific students and staff started the year with a bang of events, energy and enthusiasm, and we have wonderful new and returning staff.

We are so grateful to the Brotherhood and Sisterhood and everyone who helped make our annual Temple School opening day picnic a huge success. I particularly want to give a shout out to Mike Rein for involving so many kids in games out on the field. I am looking forward to the parent tea, which as I am writing this is just a few days away.

Please check your emails for information about upcoming parent participation sessions, field trips, grade level picnics and opportunities for parents to learn and meet other families at Temple School. If your child has special needs, please come in and talk to me so that we can work together to come up with a plan that will help them succeed. There are all kinds of learners and I am committed to working with every Jewish child who comes to us. The Temple School staff and I look forward to a great year with you and your kids.

—Blessings, Rabbi Shifra Weiss-Penzias

Simcha Preschool

As a new year begins at Simcha, we have said our bittersweet goodbyes to many children who are moving on to excel in kindergartens throughout the community. At the same time, we are happily welcoming many new children and families. This year there are eight new Simcha graduates going to Temple School! As I embark on my eleventh year as the Director of Simcha, I still thrill to the sounds of happy children busily engaged in play, and the sweet aroma of their challah baking in the kitchen as Rabbi Paula or Rabbi Shifra sing a Hebrew song with the children to celebrate Shabbat. It is a real honor to be here!

We presently have forty-four families, including ten siblings, enrolled this year. We only have a few remaining Tuesday/Thursday morning openings in the Preschool classroom. Please call 479-3449 for more information.

Jewish Parenting Group with Rabbi Paula

Five Sunday mornings—October 8, 22 & 29, November 5 & 12, from 9:45–11:15 AM, the group will meet in Rabbi Paula's office. We will continue sharing about the book, Nurture the Wow: Finding Spirituality in the Frustration, Boredom, Tears, Poop, Desperation, and Radical Amazement of Parenting by Rabbi Danya Ruttenberg. Free.

Jewish Parenting Group for Parents of Teens with Rabbi Paula

Four Wednesday evenings—October 18 & 25, November 1 & 8, from 7:45–8:45 PM, in the Rabbi's office. We will continue sharing about the book, How to Raise an Adult: Break Free of the Overparenting Trap and Prepare Your Kid for Success by Julie Lythcott-Haims. Free.

Torah Study with Rabbi Paula

Study Torah on October 21, November 18 and December 16 (the third Saturday morning of the month), from 9:00–10:00 AM, before Shabbat Services. Come early for Shabbat and study the Torah portion of the week. Free.

Rabbi Paula Marcus' Lunch and Learn Returns

Every Thursday, beginning October 19, from 12:00–1:00 PM, the study group will meet at Temple Beth El. We will continue exploring the parshat ha'shavuah, weekly Torah portion. Hebrew is not required. Join this class at any time! You can come to all or some of the classes. Free.

Silk Painting

Make a tallit or scarf, October 15, 1:30–4:30 PM, at Temple Beth El. Join artist Debra Dolsberry to learn and create a tallit or scarf for yourself or for a gift. Debra will share her knowledge and all materials for this exciting project. No previous experience needed. You will have the opportunity to purchase additional materials to take home. The fee is $60. RSVP to sclarkson@tbeaptos.org by October 6th.

Shabbat Learner's Service & Potluck with Rabbi Shifra

Join us on Saturday, October 28, 10:00 AM–1:00 PM, in the library. Whether or not you are accustomed to Shabbat morning services, this Shabbat prayer experience will deepen your relationship to the liturgy by introducing easy melodies and explaining the hidden structure, meaning and context of the prayers. Free.

The Conversation Continues

Holly Blue Hawkins and Rose Ashford continue the conversation about end-of-life planning on October 19, 7:00–8:30 PM, at Temple Beth El. How we die is part of our legacy, but few of us have communicated our end-of-life wishes to our loved ones. Your Advance Care Directive is only the beginning. Gain insights and strategies for having the conversations that will help ensure your wishes for care through the end-of-life are respected and implemented. Co-sponsored with Chadeish Yameinu. Free.

Programs are on the 2nd & 4th Monday of each month, 2:00–3:30 PM, in the TBE Library. (Come at 1:30 to nosh & schmooze.) Open to the public. Free.

TBE Book Group

Our next selection will be David Grossman's A Horse Walks Into A Bar, winner of the 2017 Man Booker Prize. We will meet on Tuesday, October 10, 7:30 PM, at the home of Leta and Alan Miller. We try to begin our discussion promptly at 7:30 so please arrive a little early to allow us to start on time.

In a little dive in a small Israeli city, Dov Greenstein, a comedian a bit past his prime, is doing a night of stand-up. In the audience is a district court justice, Avishai Lazar, whom Dov knew as a boy, along with a few others who remember Dov as an awkward, scrawny kid who walked on his hands to confound the neighborhood bullies. Gradually, as it teeters between hilarity and hysteria, Dov's patter becomes a kind of memoir, taking us back into the terrors of his childhood.

Justice Shabbat on Climate Change

Friday, November 10, 7:30 PM

Tikkun Olam commands us as Jews to do our part to repair the world. Life on our planet is threatened by the effects of climate change and it is critical for us to take action to reverse this trend before it's too late. The TBE Social Action Committee is working on actions we can take to combat climate change.

To kick off this effort, the Social Action Committee is sponsoring a Justice Shabbat service on November 10, that will focus on the impacts of climate change; local, state and national efforts to address it, and what we, as a congregation and as individuals, can do to help. Speakers for the event include California Secretary for Natural Resources John Laird and Supervisor Bruce McPherson. Representative Jimmy Panetta has agreed to speak if his schedule allows.

If you would like to help with this effort, please contact Bob and Michele Kibrick at kibrick@cruzio.com.

Teshuvah and the Temple Library

With the coming High Holidays, we thought we should remind members about an important act of teshuvah (return) they can perform: return your library books. Quite a number of books have been removed from the collection without being checked out. We'd like to get them back or check them out officially. Examples of some missing books include classics such as Milton Steinberg's Basic Judaism, Arthur Green's Guide to the Zohar and Heschel's Moral Grandeur and Spiritual Audacity. If we don't get them back soon, we'll have to consider them lost and spend our limited funds to buy replacements. We would really appreciate getting these, and any other library books, back as soon as possible, perhaps before Yom Kippur while teshuvah is on your mind. Books can be returned easily and anonymously using the new book return found just inside the library. Or, if you wish to have books checked out to you, email librarytbe@gmail.com.

Another Great Community Picnic

The annual TBE Community Picnic on September 10, was a wonderful way for the kids and families enrolled in Temple School to start the new school year. Temple School held their first day of classes in DeLaveaga Park and Brotherhood provided (for free) their always-delicious BBQ lunch, followed by a field full of fun kiddie games and activities (with prizes!). About 150 kids and adults had a great time.

A BIG THANK YOU must go out to Brotherhood's cooking crew: Jay Lerman, Wally Brondstatter, Andrew Goldenkranz, Glenn Millhauser, Richie Solomon, Dan Iuster, Dan Seftel, Robert Feldman, Steve Greenburg, John Oppenheimer, Michael Stone, Lee Jaffe, and Jerry Dubin (who also doubled as a strolling magician). THANK YOU to Sisterhood for providing a ton of homemade cupcakes and lots of edible decorations. Kudos to Brotherhood's "games and activities department" of Michael Rein, Bernie Lerman and Peter Weiss. And SPECIAL APPRECIATION to Temple School's Sarah Clarkson and the many teachers and volunteers as well as Rabbi Shifra and Rabbi Paula for all their planning and work on this fun-filled annual community event.

General News/Recognition

Do You Have Airline Miles You Could Donate?

Many board members, our Rabbis and congregants, will soon be attending a wonderful and inspirational event—the 74th URJ North American Biennial. It will run from December 6th through 10th in Boston, Massachusetts. We will be joining thousands of other Jews from across the U.S. and the world. Airfare, hotel, and registration for this once-every-two-year event is costly. To defray some of the financial burden we are asking for donations of excess airline miles. If you would be willing to contribute, please contact Scott Roseman at scotttbea@gmail.com.
