Chanukah Extravaganza

Friday, December 15

5:45 PM
Dinner

We have a treat this year. Our Chanukah meal will include a wide range of wonderful food provided and prepared by Zena, the Sisterhood and of course, the Brotherhood's famous latkes. Assorted beverages will be included as well. You're welcome to bring wine to enjoy with dinner. And as we always ask, please bring a dessert to share with 12 people or more. (Fruit and gluten free goodies are always welcome.) Reservations are required for dinner. Please remember to reserve early as we usually have to turn folks away due to our limited space. The RSVP Deadline is Tuesday, December 12. The cost: $18.00 per adult—ages 13 and over, and $10.00 per child ages 6–12. Free for children 5 and under. Please use the registration form on page 11.

7:00 PM
Rock of Ages

Our inspiring service with the Rock Shabbat Band and the Junior Rock Shabbat Band will include traditional and brand new Chanukah music. There will be childcare available in the library. If you wish to, please bring your menorahs! No reservations are required for those attending only the service.

For questions contact Richie Solomon at (831) 336-1642 or solomonzoo@comcast.net.

THOUGHTS FROM RABBI PAULA

Rabbi Paula

Chris Hurst was a former TV news anchor whose girlfriend, Alison Parker, a reporter at the same station, was murdered on live television by a mentally ill former colleague in 2015. Soon after, Chris quit his job to run for office as a way of honoring her memory.

On November 7, he won the 12th House District seat in the Virginia state's Legislature. Chris Hurst was not a career politician and he was honestly a bit surprised by his victory. In an interview, soon after the results were announced, he said that he was thinking about what Alison would have to say about the change in his career from journalist to politician. Wouldn't she be proud of him for stepping up, for his convictions?

Mr. Hurst described himself as a gun owner and supporter of the Second Amendment, but said that he was intent on trying "to reduce gun homicides, suicides and accidental deaths." He doesn't want others to suffer the loss he experienced when Allison was killed. When he first decided to run for office, he didn't know he would win, it actually seemed like the odds were against him, but he was willing to take a risk because he felt he had to lead from his convictions.

This is what it might have felt like for the Maccabees, a small band of rebels confronting the occupying power of the Syrian Greek army. They too stepped up for the cause of religious freedom and till today, we celebrate their courage and faith in their convictions.

May we find ways to act upon this Chanukkah message, kindling the flames of hope and action in our homes and in the world.

—Rabbi Paula Marcus

Announcing: Al HaShulchan—On the Table

Have you heard the one about the two Jews who walk into a bar? Well they have three opinions, 10 stories and an insatiable appetite for conversation. Something like that... We as a people for centuries and as a congregation now, have a wealth of life experiences, opinions, knowledge and wisdom to share with each other. So, let's get to know each other a bit better by sharing some of those stories, those experiences, that wisdom, and yes, those opinions!

The Shulchan Aruch (the Set Table) is a collection of Jewish Law. It is the most widely consulted of the various legal codes in Judaism. It was compiled by Rabbi Joseph Karo in 1563. The face of Judaism has changed a great deal since then but the process of debating and arguing about important issues has continued. We would like to create a virtual "table" and see what you have to add to the meal!

Go to the TBE website at tbeaptos.org. On the Table is on the home page, under the slide show, in the section with a blue background.

Our first topic relates to the documentary film about the birth of the women's liberation movement in the 1960s called She's Beautiful When She's Angry.

Did you attend the Sisterhood sponsored film recently? So many of us were moved by the film; let's keep the discussion going! Feel free to answer the question below or share a story that came up for you. If you haven't seen the film, it's available on Netflix.

How have you participated in actions that were inspired by your Jewish and feminist values?

Board Changes

With deep appreciation and thanks, the board accepted the resignation of longtime Treasurer, Andrew Goldenkranz. Andrew has been a hard-working member of our board for more than five years. While the board is saddened to say goodbye to Andrew, he assures us that he will remain active throughout the temple, especially on issues of social justice.

We are pleased to welcome Paul Jacobson as our new Treasurer and board member. Paul and his family have been very dedicated temple members for over twenty years and Paul brings an extensive portfolio of business expertise.

TEMPLE SCHOOL NEWS

Rabbi Shifra

Temple School Fosters a Love of Jewish Learning In a Joyful, Engaging and Supportive Community.

Right about the time when you receive this Shofar will be the perfect time to get out your Chanukah decorations, menorah and dreidel. By decorating our houses and placing our menorah in the window for all to see, we illuminate the presence of miracles in our lives and give thanks that spirit can still triumph over might. In my mind, there can never be too much hype about Chanukah. Chanukah inspires us to miraculously find light in times of great darkness and is one of our many holidays that emphasize the joy of Judaism, especially for Jewish children.

Temple School really gets into Chanukah! We hope that your children will build many wonderful memories from Chanukah at TBE—we are planning a multitude of fantastic celebrations. We hope that everyone, of all ages, comes to the Chanukah Extravaganza on December 15th, with Rock of Ages, the Shabbat service celebrating Chanukah with the Rock Shabbat band. On December 13th, our sixth graders make latkes and our fifth graders make Chanukah cookies for us all to share when our 4th graders return to Temple School from Aegis, where we go every year to share Chanukah with the elderly residents who live there. Hebrew High will also celebrate Chanukah on that night with a latke party and a few surprises for Chanukah fun. Then, on December 17th, our annual Chanukah roller skating party brings the whole Temple School community together before our winter break. May the light of Chanukah illuminate our lives, and may we in turn, spread light.

—Blessings, Rabbi Shifra Weiss-Penzias

The Simcha Community Shares Jewish Traditions

At Simcha, all families are welcome whatever their religious affiliations. Families often consciously choose to send their children to our program because they value their children's exposure to Jewish culture, traditions and values. One value we foster is coming together as a community, often leading to lifelong friendships among children and families alike.

Having shared Sukkot together, Simcha is looking ahead to Chanukah and our annual Breakfast and Books on Sunday, December 17th. We will once again have the opportunity for our families to come together to eat, share and purchase inexpensive gently used children's books. Anyone with young children is invited to join us.

SISTERHOOD

On Sunday, October 22, fifty plus women gathered at TBE to see the remarkable film, She's Beautiful When She's Angry. The film dealt with the growing pangs and the hardship behind the Women's Liberation Movement of the 1960's and 70's. Noshes and a feeling of sisterhood were enjoyed by all.

Appreciation goes out to Rabbi Paula who has been the driving force in the resurgence of Sisterhood. Thank you to Amy Harrington, Gail Levine and Eleanor Hilberman who helped organize and prepare for this event. It was Amy and Gail who learned of the movie while attending a Women of Reform Judaism (WRJ) Convention. WRJ is an empowering organization of Jewish women that is committed to the future of all Jewish Sisterhoods. They do this through education, scholarships, and symposiums. Thank you also goes to Sarah Clarkson for arranging childcare. We will do our best to continue to provide childcare at future Sisterhood events.

This was the first of a series of "Sisterhood Sunday" events. We expect to have another event in January or February of 2018. If you have any suggestions for future films, events, or if you have questions about joining Sisterhood, please contact Shelly Nadelman-Douglas at (831) 687-0567.

Gift Shop Holiday Hours & Beyond

Extended holiday hours are 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM, Monday through Friday, open to 6:00 PM on Wednesdays, and 9:30 AM to 12:00 noon on Sundays. After December 20th, we will be open by arrangement until Temple School resumes in January. To make an appointment call Shirley at (831) 685-2710 or Ruth at (831) 476-1154.

Library Lending is Here

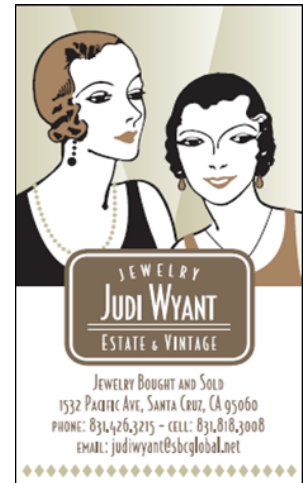

The new, automated lending system is now up-and-running. Members may borrow books from the collection any time the library is available using the new self-check station and their library cards. We've enrolled most Temple members in the online catalog and library cards have been distributed via member badges. If you didn't find a library card slipped into your name badge, contact us at librarytbe@gmail.com.

Audacious Hospitality for New Members

On November 3rd, a delicious dinner and evening of audacious hospitality was enjoyed by new members, board members, the Membership Committee and more. As inspiration, the program included a number of our movers'n'shakers in a 'pass-the-mic' face+name+activity presentation. Zena extends special thanks to her New Member Dinner Committee and 31 enthusiastic volunteers. It takes a village.

Song Circle Meetup Group for Temple Women

We are excited to begin a new Song Circle Meetup Group for Temple Women! Our goal is to have fun and build community by lifting our voices together in song. We are using the Rise Up Singing Songbook (15th Anniversary Edition) as our guide and will be focusing on folk, traditional, folk-rock, blues and other types of songs. You do not need to be an experienced singer—a love of singing is all that is required! So far we have one guitar/mandolin player, but would love to have more acoustic instruments and hand percussion to liven things up. So if you play, please bring your guitar, ukulele, mandolin, banjo, hand percussion, or whatever else you like to play to support singing! Instrumentalists should know the basic chords that are used for most folk-type songs.

Please join us at our first meeting on Wednesday, December 6, from 7:00 to 9:00 PM, at the home of Judy Yokel, 944 Prospect Heights, Santa Cruz. Bring your copy of Rise Up Singing (15th Anniversary Edition) if you have one.

To RSVP, please email Judy Yokel at judyclaireyokel@gmail.com or call 588-5378. If you don't RSVP, it is still ok to show up. We look forward to singing with you!
