Criteria for Scholarship Fund Applicants - Please read carefully!

1. CRJ Youth Scholarships are open to all Congregation of Reform Judaism members in good standing, based on merit and/or need.
2. Applications must be submitted to Youth Director no later than 3 weeks before the registration deadline.
3. Scholarships are available for URJ affiliated programs.
4. Recipients are required to submit a written summary of their experience, including what the program meant to the participant and how it complimented their Jewish journey. This summary may be included in the CRJ Chai Newsletter and/or other publications. The summary does not need to include the recipients name, but may if they so choose. The summary must be submitted to the Director of Programming & Youth Engagement within 2 weeks of convention/program completion.
5. If the post-program summary is unfulfilled or not completed in a timely fashion, the recipient may be ineligible for future scholarships from CRJ Youth Scholarship Funds.
6. Families and friends of youth group members are encouraged to make donations to these funds.
7. All scholarship awards (need and merit) are confidential. Do not discuss any award money with others.
8. Exceptions to the preceding rules may be made by the Director of Programming & Youth Engagement in consultation with the senior Rabbi.
