

To Hear the Shofar
Call Again

Reflections and Prayers

5782

Congregation for Reform Judaism

To Hear the Shofar's Call is a resource guide to help you and your family prepare for the High Holy Days. A collaborative effort between the Adult Education Committee as well as other members of the congregation, it has been designed to offer an array of reflections, resources, and activities that we hope will enable you to discover new ways to engage in meaningful ways during these days.

This guide has been divided into three main sections Section I focuses on Rosh Hashanah. through a series of reflections and meditations on entering the New Year. Included also are some suggested family activities, holiday recipes along with several additional resource links. Section II "Labyrinth Walking for the Days of Awe" offers an introduction and daily guide for using the labyrinth to take a personal journey of Teshuvah during these days. Section III contains some selected reflections on some of the prayers and themes for Yom Kippur.

The Adult Education Committee hopes you and your family will find this guide a welcome addition to your participation and celebration as we enter this New Year 5782 as a congregational family. The creation of this guide has been a new venture in our continuing desire to offer innovative, timely programs for educational and spiritual growth.

We would also like to acknowledge and thank the following people whose efforts and creativity have brought this project to fruition:

- Frank Faine—for spearheading, writing, and editing this guide
- Joanne Fink—for contributing graphics and artwork
- Janie Baskin—for the family activities and recipes
- Jean White/ Gary Becker—for their support and technical assistance

In closing we want wish all of you a joyous L'Shanah Tovah!

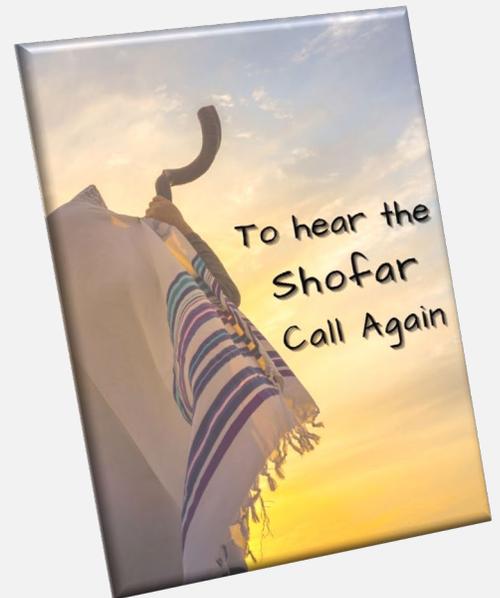

The Adult Education Committee
Congregation for Reform Judaism

To hear the shofar call again,
its sounds sending me to return an ancient echo waking me from the slumber of mindless days past in tunes like wind sweeping into my heart's ears pushing my soul to this yearly balancing of books as the gates swing open wide in their invitation to come home.

To hear the shofar call again,
blasts once more rattling memory's chain familiar melodies now stirring my spirit waiting, watching for me to remember a love who's fierce and tender hands stand ready to write again my name with the indelible ink of mercy and forgiveness upon eternity's ledger.

To hear the shofar call again,
collects, wraps me enfolding and encircling its arms round like a collective prayer shawl for these days drawing me to sit under the canopy of that sacred tree whose branches now bear fruit become manna to sustain and nourish in our turning and returning.

To hear the shofar call again....

5782

©JOANNE FINK • JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

A WORD TO LIGHT YOUR PATH

There are certain things we each value so highly that they are essential to our very being. These are our core values. Review the list of common core values on the right, and put checks next to the values that are most important to you.

- Advocacy
- Appreciation
- Balance
- Belonging
- Caring
- Charity
- Collaboration
- Comfort
- Community
- Commitment
- Compassion
- Connection
- Cooperation
- Courage
- Creativity
- Curiosity
- Decisiveness
- Dedication
- Dependability
- Determination
- Discipline
- Diversity
- Education
- Efficiency
- Empathy
- Encouragement
- Equality
- Enthusiasm
- Excellence
- Fairness
- Faith
- Family
- Fitness
- Forgiveness
- Friendship
- Flexibility
- Freedom
- Generosity
- Giving Back
- Gratitude
- Growth
- Happiness
- Harmony
- Health
- Heritage
- Holiness
- Honesty
- Hope
- Hospitality

- Humility
- Humor
- Imagination
- Impact
- Inclusiveness
- Innovation
- Integrity
- Involvement
- Joy
- Justice
- Kindness
- Knowledge
- Leadership
- Learning
- Listen
- Love
- Loyalty
- Making a Difference
- Open-Mindedness
- Passion
- Peace
- Perspective
- Positivity
- Prayer
- Preparedness
- Productivity
- Reliability
- Remember
- Respect
- Responsibility
- Security
- Self-Care
- Selflessness
- Service
- Spirituality
- Stability
- Stamina
- Success
- Thankfulness
- Thoughtfulness
- Transformation
- Trustworthiness
- Truth
- Uniqueness
- Wealth
- Welcoming
- Well-Being
- Wholeness
- Wisdom

JEWISH VALUES:

- Achrayut
- Adonai
- Ahava
- Anava
- Brachim Ha'baim
- Brachot
- Chesed
- Emunah
- G'milut Hasidim
- Hakarat Hatov
- Israel
- Kadosh
- Kavannah
- Kavod
- Kehilah K'doshah
- L'dor Vador
- Lilmod
- Middot
- Mishpacha
- Mitzvot
- Nachum
- Pikuach nefesh
- R'fuah Shleimah
- Simchah
- Shabbat
- Shalom
- Shleimut
- Sh'ma
- Slichot
- Shomrei Adamah
- T'filah
- Tikkun Olam
- Torah
- T'shuvah
- Tzedek
- Tzedakah
- Zachor

If you have a value that isn't on the list, add it below.

---

---

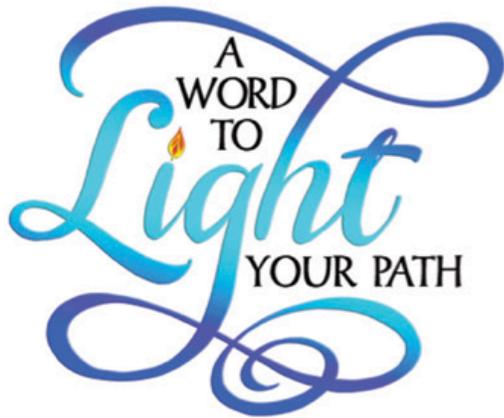

---

---

---

Our values are a reflection of who we are,
who we wish to be and what's important to us.
They are a testament to our character and provide the framework for our purpose.

Identifying our values helps us clarify what we stand for and what we ultimately want to be known for.

--from My Spiritual Journey, © Joanne Fink

Write the values you checked off in the blocks below.

Sometimes one value can encompass several others. Love, for example, can include affection, compassion, caring, kindness and trust. Group similar values together in the boxes below.

BELIEVE ♥ HEAL ♥ PRAY ♥ SANCTIFY ♥

ASPIRE ♥ TIKKUN  LAM ♥ RENEW ♥ TRANSFORM

SHALOM ♥ CONNECT ♥ GIVE ♥ LOVE ♥ SHARE ♥

5782

WORD OF THE YEAR OPTIONS

WHAT I VALUE: _____

_____

WHAT I NEED TO WORK ON: _____

_____

WHAT I NEED MORE OF IN MY LIFE: _____

_____

WORDS THAT RESONATE: _____

_____

_____

MY 5782 WORD OF THE YEAR:

©JOANNE FINK • JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

CREATE ♥ DISCOVER ♥ IMAGINE ♥

May this be a year of

AWAKENING & APPRECIATION

BALANCE & BLESSINGS

CLARITY & CONNECTION † DISCOVERY & DEVOTION

ENCOURAGEMENT & EQUALITY † FAITH & FULFILLMENT

GROWTH & GRATITUDE † HOPE & HEALING

INSPIRATION & INSIGHT † JOY & JUSTICE

KINDNESS & KVELLING † LEADERSHIP & LEARNING

MITZVOT & MINDFULNESS † NURTURING & NOURISHMENT

OPPORTUNITY & ORIGINALITY † PRAYER & PRACTICE

QUIET & QUALITY † RESILIENCE & REVERENCE

SHALOM & SERVICE † TORAH & TRANSFORMATION

UNDERSTANDING & UNITY † VISION & VALIDATION

WARMTH & WONDER † X·PLORATION & X·CELLENCE

YIELD & YEARNING † ZEST &

ZENSPARATION

5782

©JOANNE FINK † JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

Returning Home

An ode to my great-grandfather

A shofar echoes once again on a sunlit afternoon in this chapel space its resonant blast gathering up the geography traveled since its first hearing to awe-struck childhood ears while sitting in the Miami 1926 art deco Temple Israel sanctuary on Rosh Hashanah morning where your voice first became audible.

Your ancestral, ancient melodies sung that day by Cantor Bornstein's rich baritone stirred my tender heart young lips knowing they couldn't yet sing such tunes.

But you whose old-fashioned portrait hung so prominently on Nana's hallway condo wall in a stiff pose, formal face all dressed for the camera lens to capture failed to hide the spirit hovering beside me as it did that first morning.

my calendar once again marks the approach of your shofar's summons to remember as I retreat to write here.
alongside a chain of memory its links clinking and glowing in this same sun streaming through tall clear windows shadows of pines and oaks casting shadows their limbs beginning to dance in the breeze.
while an insistent refrain of welcome quickens the words I scribble this page as your unseen hands enfold me in the prayer shawl of this moment pulling me home again,

Frank Faine
©2021

©JOANNE FINK • JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

Hinení
Ruach Adonáí...

Here I am...
standing on the threshold of a New Year so many past days parade by in their noisy hubbub of words and deeds, commissions and omissions said and unsaid done and left undone all crowding round me guests milling, waiting anxiously, some well-dressed, some in garish garb all fumbling with their notes and papers mumbling and pacing, preparing cases to lay before You.

Hinení
Ruach Adonáí...

Here I am...
summoned again to turn return –find my way back from all this clamor and clutter of heart to open my soul again to the ancient promises so long written within me this chain of memory stretching, embracing and encircling me by that chorus of invisible witnesses wrapping me now in the prayer shawl of this moment.

Hinení
Ruach Adonáí...

Here I am... at the gates now flung wide for me to enter a table set with book and pen pages upon which my name and the names of others will again be soon written.

Hinení
Ruach Adonáí...

Here I am...
standing on the threshold of a New Year...
Remember me again...
Inscribe me again...

Hinení...

SOME FAMILY ACTIVITIES

Here are a number of activities and resources to help you and your family prepare for and celebrate the High Holy Days. They include:

Instructions for making a New Year's card in the shape of a honey jar. You'll find these in this YouTube video by Janie Baskin by clicking here: <https://youtu.be/sCQI-iZsTxk>

There are some coloring pages with some holiday symbols and illustrations courtesy of Joanne Fink.

Here are some links from the Union for Reform Judaism website you and your family might find like to check out:

- ❖ A Parents Must Have Guide to the High Holy Days
- ❖ Six Ways to Prepare for the High Holidays
- ❖ Rosh Hashanah Symbols and Customs
- ❖ Music to Listen to During High Holidays

You may also want to check out these two wonderful children's books with more activities and ideas for preparing your family for the High Holy Days from the Winter Park Public Library:

- ❖ Jewish Holidays All Year Round by Irene Cooper & illustrated by Elvira Savadier, in association with the Jewish Museum of New York
- ❖ Dance, Sing, Remember: A Celebration of Jewish Holidays by Lesile Kimmelman & illustrated by Ora Eitan.

©JOANNE FINK • WWW.ZENSPIRATIONS.COM COLOR & CREATIVITY BY _____

©JOANNE FINK • JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

©JOANNE FINK • JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

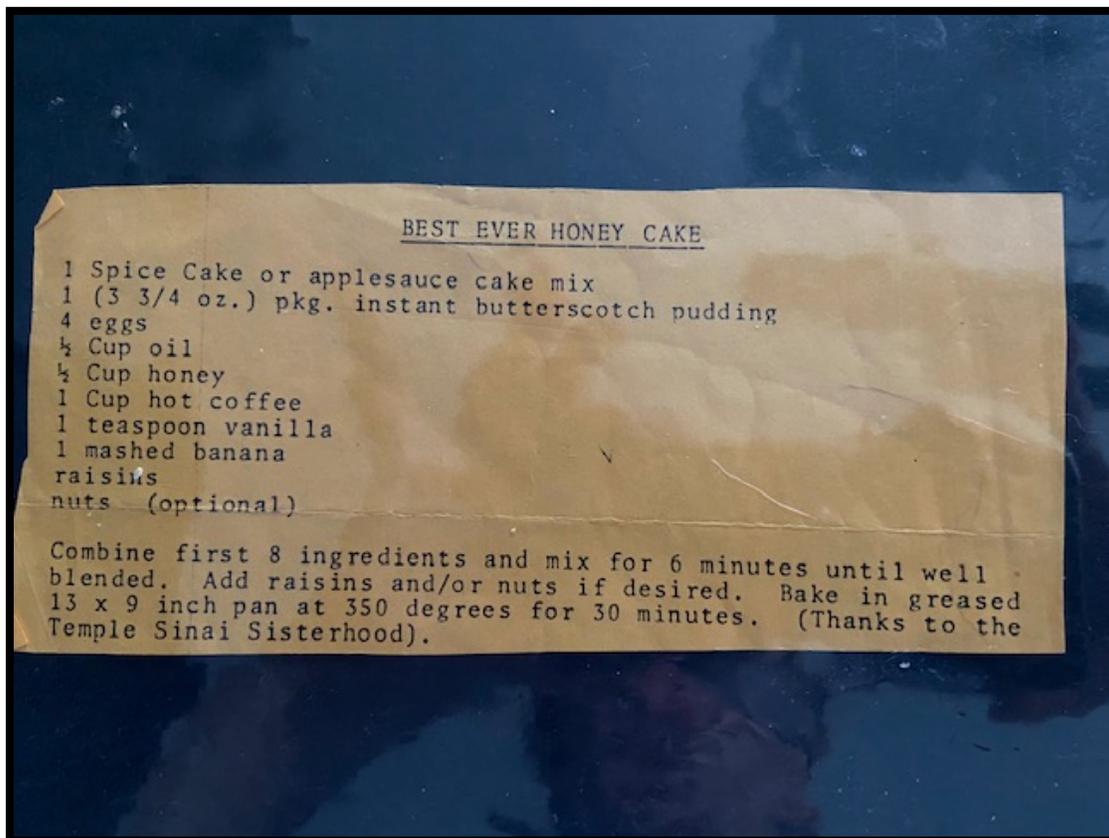

©JOANNE FINK • JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

Some Classic Rosh Hashanah Recipes

Here are two classic Rosh Hashanah recipes you might want to make together as a family activity as you prepare for the holiday,

HONEY CAKE

This recipe is from Janie Baskin who got it from the Temple Sinai Sisterhood. Janie says it's tasty and quite easy to make

CARROT TZIMMES

- 4 bunches of carrots with tops on, trimmed, peeled and cut into round pieces
  - 3 TB butter, olive oil or a combination of the two
  - 3 TB honey
  - ½ cup orange juice
  - 1 tsp cinnamon
  - ½ cup raisins
  - Salt and pepper
1. Heat the butter or oil in a large shallow saute pan over medium heat. (Butter will give the richest taste, but if you observe Jewish dietary laws, or have a child allergic to dairy, olive oil works fine.)
  2. Toss the carrot “coins” in the fat to coat them.
  3. Add honey, cinnamon, orange juice and stir to combine.
  4. Turn the heat down to a simmer, cover the saute pan and cook until the carrots are tender, about 5 minutes.
  5. Remove cover and add raisins.
  6. Turn the heat up to medium and reduce the sauce until it is a syrupy glaze about 3-5 more minutes. Season well with salt and pepper. Serve immediately.

<https://www.westoftheloop.com/2014/09/15/carrot-tzimmes-rosh-hashanah/>

LABYRINTH WALKING FOR THE DAYS OF AWE

INTRODUCTION

As an ancient form of meditation and prayer, labyrinth walking is a perfect metaphor for our journey of renewal and return during these Days of Awe. Just as they remind us of the importance of our individual lives, so too, walking the labyrinth may assist us in becoming more mindful of our sacred purpose, enabling us to realign our lives to what is most important to us. During these days we begin anew with the birth of another year, discovering ways we wish to walk with more mindful intention and compassion toward ourselves and each other.

Take a moment to visually examine the labyrinth path above. Called the Jericho Labyrinth, so named and believed to have originated in the Biblical city of Jericho, it is also one of the diverse labyrinth patterns which have emerged since the sacred practice of labyrinth walking began about 4,000 years ago. You may notice its intricate design. You may initially perceive that the path seems incredibly random. But look longer. Yes, there are twists and turns, blind curves followed by straight stretches, then more twists and turns, but there are no choices (unlike a maze) and no decisions to make. There is one path to follow-- and it leads you to a center and then returns you to the entrance. You might liken walking the labyrinth in these days to trusting that you will receive Divine inspiration as you explore your path of teshuvah as you embrace forgiveness toward yourself or seek it from others.

The guide on the following pages provides resources to support you on your personal journey of teshuvah. It offers a road map with questions for taking a series of reflective labyrinth walks during these days. It also includes a finger labyrinth pattern for you to trace along with a brief list of local labyrinths you may walk.

As you embark on this journey you may want to keep in mind these general principles for labyrinth walking as you set out:

- ❖ You are on your own personal journey as you walk. There are no right, or wrong answers ways as you go. Let your heart, mind, and spirit guide you.
- ❖ Depending on your time and your personal circumstances you may choose to use the finger labyrinth provided here tracing the path with a finger or a pencil.
- ❖ You may also wish to physically walk a labyrinth either alone or with a friend or loved one. A list of local labyrinths available for you to walk is at the end of this section.

LABYRINTH WALKING FOR THE DAYS OF AWE

A SUGGESTED ROAD MAP

On your labyrinth walk each day you will embark on a reflective path. As you travel this path with either your feet or fingers you will be deepening your awareness of how you might engage in teshuvah during these Days of Awe. Each time you walk you will be doing heshbon hanefesh, a soul accounting, as you ponder each day's suggested question.

You may wish to carry this road map with you as you walk each day:

- ❖ Take a moment or two as you stand at the entrance to release yourself to the experience of this day's walk. Pause and embrace the question for the day, allowing it to begin speaking to you as you stand at the entrance.
- ❖ As you journey the path toward the center, whether with your fingers or feet, open yourself to hearing and receiving the wisdom or insights which may begin to stir in your heart and mind. Walk mindfully and prayerfully at whatever pace feels right for you. Pay attention to whatever bodily sensations you feel as you listen and walk.
- ❖ Please remember there are no right or wrong ways to take on your daily journey. Let your heart, your fingers, or feet guide as you go. This is your personal journey of teshuvah, a time for you to re-engage with yourself, your loved ones, your community, and the Divine.
- ❖ Once in the center, pause. Give yourself space to reflect, listen, receive what may have begun to rise and stir within you. There may be insights and wisdom you want to gather up, carry with you as you walk the path to return to the entrance.
- ❖ Pause again as you return to the entrance. Offer a gesture or prayer of gratitude for this day's labyrinth walk. You may wish to journal your thoughts/feelings about this walk on the journal pages provided. Or you might want to write then in your own personal notebook or journal. You may also wish to share them with a loved one or a trusted friend.

LABYRINTH WALKING FOR THE DAYS OF AWE

QUESTIONS FOR YOUR JOURNEY

Here are some questions for you to consider and ponder as you take a reflective labyrinth walk during these days. There are 10 listed, one for each day. You may choose to take one with you each day. Or you may want to review the list, choosing one that seems to speak most to your mind and heart, perhaps staying with it for one or more days. As in walking the labyrinth, there are no right or wrong ways to take them with you each day. They are designed to support and guide you on your personal journey of teshuvah during these days.

You will find blank journal pages following these questions for you to write or draw your thoughts and feelings about your experience each day. In addition, you may want to share them with a loved one or a trusted friend,

1. How will I release myself to the path of return and renewal in these days?
2. What is one activity or attitude I want to let go of as I begin this journey of renewal and return?
3. How has my experience of the past year given me strength and wisdom to enter this New Year?
4. For whom or what am I most grateful this past year?
5. Where in my life have I felt broken, hurt, or betrayed? (i.e., my hopes, relationships, situations, or structures upon which I have depended)
6. In what way have I caused or contributed to this pain or hurt, whether by my actions or failure to act?
7. How might I begin to forgive myself for such words and deeds?
8. Who might I want to seek forgiveness from? How and when will I do this?
9. Where and how will I ask for healing and wholeness from God in these days?
10. In what ways will I seek guidance from God and my community to complete my journey of renewal and return in these days?

LABYRINTH WALKING FOR THE DAYS OF AWE

SOME ADDITIONAL RESOURCES FOR YOUR JOURNEY

Listed below are two local labyrinths you may wish walk in addition to using the attached finger labyrinth pattern. Location information and brief directions are included.

1. WARD PARK LABYRINTH

This labyrinth is in Ward Park at 2228 Loch Lomond Drive in Winter Park. You will find it in the trees near a statue of leaping dolphins on the north side of the park.

2. PULSE MEMORIAL LABYRINTH

This labyrinth is in Colonial Town Square Park at 820 N Ferncreek Avenue in Orlando.

If you would like to learn more about labyrinth walking and labyrinths from a Jewish perspective here are links to two articles you may want to check out.

*A Guide to Walking the Labyrinth for the Jewish New Year -- Jewish Ritual*

*A Labyrinth Changes Lives | Reform Judaism*

You may also want to listen to some music High Holy Days music as you trace one of the attached finger labyrinths or walk one of the outdoor labyrinths listed above. Listed below is a link to a series of playlists and YouTube links you may want to explore:

*Music to Listen to During High Holidays*

Who do you need to forgive?

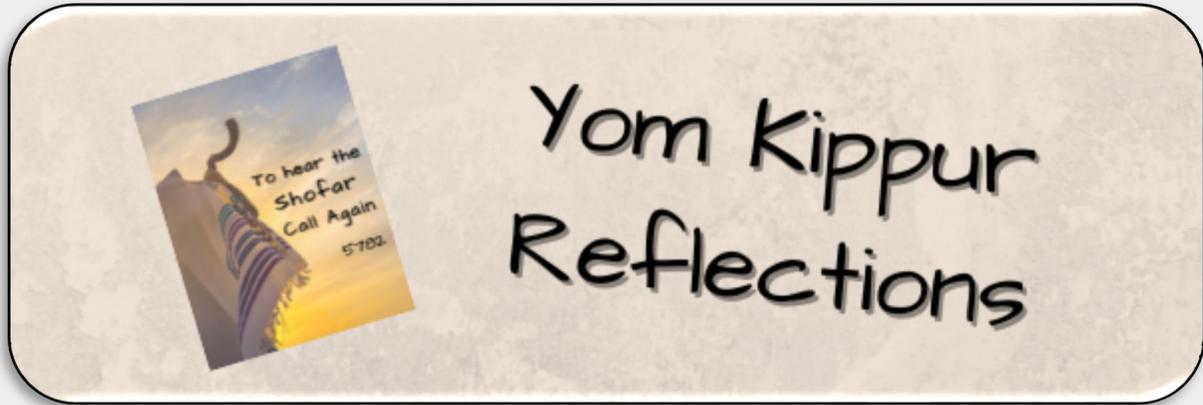

FROM WHOM DO YOU NEED TO ASK FORGIVENESS?

Labyrinth Walking for the Days of Awe

Day#

Day#

Here and on the following pages are some resources for reflection on selected prayers and themes for Yom Kippur.

- ❖ Poet and liturgist Marcia Falk has created a contemporary version of the Un'taneh Tokef, one of the central prayers for both Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. It resonates with its ancient call of these days, while at the same time set against the backdrop of current issues, we face today including COVID, the climate crisis, and the uncertainty of our times. You may want to consider reading this slowly aloud to yourself on the afternoon of Yom Kippur.
- ❖ This YouTube video by singer-songwriter Leonard Cohen takes both the melody of this same prayer along with its words and offers his own soul-stirring musical reflection titled Who by Fire. You may find it by clicking here: Lenoard Cohen- Who by Fire .
- ❖ A set of Yizkor candle wraps are provided courtesy of Joanne Fink. You may print them and tape them around a glass or metal Yizkor candle.
- ❖ “Ne’liah” by Marge Piercy from her collection The Crooked Inheritance is in this section, too, to ponder as we close the gates of prayer today and for this season,

Un'taneh Tokef K'dushat Hayom :
We Declare the Utter Sanctity of This Day

The key prayer of both Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur is Un'taneh Tokef, the prayer that acknowledges that we are not in control of our lives, and we do not know the moment of our deaths. In this year of Covid and climate change, of untold suffering in so many parts of the world, this prayer rings truer than ever. Poet and liturgist Marcia Falk's contemporary translation/adaptation powerfully conveys the depth and existential awe of this ancient declaration, ringing truer than ever in these monumental times. Please consider reading these words slowly, aloud:

*Un'taneh Tokef K'dushat Hayom
ki hu nora v'ayom.*

Uv'shofar gadol yitaka v'kol d'mamah dakah yishama

We declare the utter sanctity of this day for it is an awe-filled day.

A great shofar is sounded and a voice of slender silence is heard

The voice is one's own—a reed in the chorus, a breath in the wind.

B'rosh Hashanah yikateyvun uv'yom tzom kippur yeykhatyemun.

On Rosh Hashanah it is written and on Yom Kippur it is sealed.

Our lives are stories inscribed in time.

At the turning of the year we look back, look ahead, see that we are always in the days between:

How many will leave this life and how many will be born into it, who will live and who will die, whose life will reach its natural end and whose will be cut short, who by water and who by fire, who by sword and who by beast, who by hunger and who by thirst, who by quake and who by plague, who by choking and who by stoning, who will rest and who will wander, who will be tranquil and who will be torn,

who will be at peace and who will be tormented, who will be raised high and who brought low,
who will prosper and who will be impoverished.

Ut'shuvah

turning inward to face one's self

Ut'filah

Entering into prayer and contemplation

Utz'dakah

Giving to the needy, as justice requires

Ma'avirin et-ro'a hag'zerah.

These diminish the harshness of the decree.

Ut'shuvah

Returning to the inner artistry that gives each life its form, seeking to become one's truest self

Ut'filah

Being alive to the unending flow within and around us, holding dear
the transient beauty

Utz'dakah

Knowing that we are, all of us, flesh and blood and our faces are intertwined– sweet with bitter, bitter with salt– and that the fruit of kindness is kindness, and good deeds are its fulfillment

Ma'avirin et-ro'a hag'zerah

We become present to the fullness of our lives and untether ourselves from the fear of what lies ahead.

We begin in earth
and we end in earth.
We spend our lives earning our bread.
We are like broken vessels, dry grass, withering blossoms, passing shadows, vanishing clouds, drifting wind, scattering dust, a fleeting dream.

Born in nature and borne by nature, we die in its lap-and-fold.

The whole lives on,
infinite in mystery,
its manifestations numberless.

Seeing beyond our separate deaths, we find ourselves in the greater whole, our names embedded in its names, its names embedded in ours.

Un'taneh tokef k'dushat hayom

We proclaim the powerful sanctity of this day.

(Marcia Falk, The Days Between)

"Un'taneh Tokef" by Marcia Falk, from The Days Between, Blessings Poems and Directions of the Heart for the Jewish High Holiday Season (Brandeis University Press).

Copyright © 2014 by Marcia Lee Falk. Used by permission.)

Yizkor Candle Wraps

FREE DIGITAL DOWNLOAD

©JOANNE FINK-JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

©JOANNE FINK-JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

©JOANNE FINK-JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

©JOANNE FINK-JOANNEFINKJUDAICA.COM

Printed copies with your logo can be ordered at www.JoanneFinkJudaica.com

Ne'ilah

Marge Piercy

The hinge of the year the great gates opening and then slowly slowly closing on us.

I always imagine those gates hanging over the ocean fiery over the stone grey waters of evening.

We cast what we must change about ourselves onto the waters flowing to the sea. The sins, errors, bad habits, whatever you call them, dissolve.

When I was little I cried out I! I! I! I want, I want.

Older, I feel less important, a worker bee in the hive of history, miles of hard labor to make my sweetness.

The gates are closing
The light is failing
I kneel before what I love imploring that it may live.

So much breaks, wears down, fails in us. We must forgive our broken promises—their sharp shards in our hands.

Marge Piercy, "Ne'ilah" from The Crooked Inheritance.
Copyright © 2006 by Marge Piercy.

Used by permission of Alfred A. Knopf, a n imprint of the Knopf Doubleday Publishing Group, a division of Random House LLC. All rights reserved.
<https://www.poetryfoundation.org/poems/57591/neilah>

A person is shown from the side, wearing a white prayer shawl (tallit) with a colorful striped border in shades of blue, purple, and yellow. They are holding a shofar (ram's horn) high against a bright, hazy sunset sky. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm, golden glow. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

We have heard the shofar call Our feet walked these days winding path grief to wonder loss to joy
return to renewal.
May this refrain from our lips
heal our hearts
bind the memories of this season to the one yet to come So may it be
AMEN