It will be a beautiful Shabbat morning as we recite and sing special tefillot, and share insights into the meaning of Yom HaShoah and Yom Hazikaron, days of commemoration, as well as our celebration of Yom Ha'Atzmaut and the upcoming Yom Yerushalayim. Of course, there will also be a wonderful kids' program and a beautiful Kiddush to cap off the morning!

I am also excited to be able to reveal on Shabbat an exciting update regarding our STC Sefer Torah that we donated to be refurbished and sent to a much needed place in Eretz Yisrael.

I think it is especially appropriate for this to all take place on Parshat Kedoshim, because Israel is not simply Artzeinu, "our land" – it is Eretz Kodsheinu – a land that is supposed to sprout kedusha, holiness. It is not a country that is supposed to mimic other countries, but one that aspires to model and elevate what a country and people could and should look like.

While we have this matana – present – in our midst right now, we will only know that we have fulfilled its potential when we are merit not only leshana haba'a b'Yerushalayim ... next year in Jerusalem...but also Yerushalayim habenuya, in a rebuilt Jerusalem with the Beit Hamikdash.

May we see that speedily in our days.

Shabbat Shalom,

Rabbi Lipner

WEEKLY BLURBS FROM OUR YOUTH LEADERS

In this week's parsha, Kedoshim, we learn to love our neighbours as we love ourselves! This week we encourage you to think about what this means, and come to groups with your answer! Make sure you come to groups to find out what your friends think! Plus, we will have games and snacks to replenish your energy that was used to think about this very important idea!

-Ariel (Youth Director; Nursery & The Maker Space)

In this week's parsha, we are given many laws of how the Jewish people are to stay holy. However, many of the laws seem to be unrelated to each other! How can this mix of rules keep us holy? Tune in this week in our Junior Minyan to find out! We will also be having an extra special Yom Ha'atzmaut youth kiddush!

-Batya & Ryan (Youth Directors, Junior Minyan)
