Rabbi's Message

You Tube WEB DVAR with Rabbi Zwickler—CHECK IT OUT!

The Chasam Sofer zt"l was once approached by a number of gabbaim who were in charge of designing a shul that had been rebuilt. They asked if they were permitted to place the Bima in the front of the Shul by the Aron Kodesh, so that the seating area of the Shul could be more spacious. The Rambam writes that the Bima is to be placed in the middle of the Shul so that everyone inside is able to hear the Torah being read. The opinion of the Rambam is codified in the Tur and the Rama. Although the Rambam's reasoning makes practical sense, the Chasam Sofer suggested that there was a deeper reason that has its foundations in our Parsha. He explains that we read about the various korbanos throughout the year on the bima, and we walk around the Bima on Succos as we did around the Mizbeach in the Bais Hamikdash. The closest mizbeach to the Aron in the Bais Hamikdash was the Mizbeach Haketores, the altar of incense. This mizbeach was located in the middle of the heichal in between the Menorah and the Shulchan. The Chasam Sofer concluded that we place the Bima in the middle of the Shul to resemble the setup in the Bais Hamikdash as much as we possibly can. He informed the gabbayim that this halacha was vital to the maintenance of our tradition.

-This week our shul lost our oldest living member, Mrs. Sarah Levitt, a"h. Mrs. Levitt was very committed to our shul and its sisterhood over the decades and her late husband were members. I will forever remember her for her upbeat outlook and her strong resilience. She will be sorely missed by her family, friends and our shul.

-We are deeply saddened and troubled by the shooting in Florida this week. I plan on speaking about the tragic event on Shabbos morning.

MAZEL TOV

• Mazel Tov to Arnie Klausner on the birth of a great granddaughter. Mazel Tov to parents Moshe & Rachel.

CONDOLENCES

• We extend our condolences on the passing of Sarah Levitt, longtime AABJ&D member and beloved mother of David Levitt, Larry Levitt and Frances Heller. David and Frances are returning from Israel on Monday afternoon and will be sitting shiva at 34 Greenwood Avenue. Larry will come in Wednesday morning by scharit and be with the rest of the family for Wed and Thurs morning.

• We extend our condolences on the passing of Frances Goodman beloved mother of Renee Spear. Shiva will take place at the Spear home, 17 Cummings Circle, West Orange, Sunday evening from 7:00pm to 9:00pm.

Please Note: Although this is not marked on the monthly calendar we will be adding a Presidents Day minyan, this Monday, 2/19 at 8:30 AM that will take place in the Smilowitz Beit Midrash.

Lashon Corner

Miscommunication or misinterpretation of someone's words is often at the heart of an argument, and often supplies the motivation for ona'as devarim. The person who mistakenly believes he has been insulted responds with a return insult, thus inflicting pain on someone who didn't even know there was a dispute. There are several ways to avoid going to war over a mistaken understanding of someone else's words. 1.Listen to each other carefully. Often, people begin framing their responses to other people's words before the other person has a chance to finish what he is saying. In that case, the listener is not really listening. He is thinking his own thoughts. He is therefore bound to misunderstand. 2.Become familiar with people's styles of speech. Some speak bluntly or gruffly, but their intent is not to offend. It is simply the way they express themselves. 3.One should always clarify the other person's intentions. Ask, in a calm, conversational tone, if they mean what you think they mean. Through these three methods, a person will avoid jumping to a mistaken conclusion and acting upon it. In the course of listening, thinking and clarifying, even if the words were somewhat offensive, the listener's anger will probably lose some steam and the end result will be a calmer, more reasonable response. (Positive Word Power)

Finding Hidden Meaning in Tefillah – Examining the Use of Poetry and Song in the Liturgy to Enhance our Prayer

Just to get you thinking, here is an article that speaks to how poetry/song enhances our understanding of prayer. http://jewishworldreview.com/0118/weinreb\_parshas\_beshalach\_poetry.php3. How do we understand the meaning of the words, images, symbols and references in the poem/song?

What did the author have in mind, writing in the form and structure of the poem/song? What extra value does the poem or song add to enhance our prayer?

Session # 1: "Shiru Lo Zamru Lo" - Poetry, Paintings and Praise, Speaker: Jamie Podhurst, Hosts: Lilly & Jaicky Tammam – 32 Suburban Drive. Session #2: "Lechah Dodi – How we use Song and Multi-Sensory Approaches to Include Everyone in Tefillah", Speaker: Batya Jacobs, Hosts: Batya & Michael Jacobs – 20 Dale Drive. Session #3: "That Place: Where Poetry, Song and Spirituality Intersect – How Nusach links the Words to the Emotions", Speaker: Eli Hiller, Hosts: Daniella & Steven Esses – 47 Crestwood Drive. Session #4: "Ani L'Dodi V' Dodi Li – A Love Story of Biblical Proportions", Speaker: Dr. Bernard Schanzer, Hosts: Juliet & Torin Rutner – 24 Curtis Avenue. Session #5: "Anim Z'mirot (Shir HaKavod) – Do we have enough Kavod?", Speaker: Dan Needle, Hosts: Alisha & Jerry Blugrind – 5 Mellon Avenue. Session #6: "It's all About the 'Nun' – Searching for Meaning in Ashrei", Speaker: Matt Greenwood, Hosts: Pam & Matt Greenwood – 21 Lakeview Avenue.
