RABBI'S MESSAGE

There are a number of possibilities as to why this Shabbos is called Shabbos Hagadol. The classic suggestion is that a miracle took place on our ancestors last Shabbos in Mitzrayim. Each family tied a lamb to the bedpost in preparation for the Korban Pesach, and the Mitzrim could not do anything to stop them. The Chasam Sofer zt"l offers another suggestion. He notes that the halacha is that we do not recite "Vyhei Noam" at the end of Maariv this Motzai Shabbos. This halacha is consistent with other occasions when a Yom Tov falls out during the coming week. One of the reasons for this is that if there are not six work days in the week, the sanctity of the previous Shabbos continues into the following week. Pesach was the first holiday that Bnei Yisrael celebrated. Since the original Pesach fell out on Thursday, as it does this year, the kedusha of the previous Shabbos lasted for so long, almost the entire week, that Shabbos was called Shabbos Hagadol. This marked the first time since creation that the holiness of Shabbos lasted for more than twenty four hours continuing into the following week. Good Shabbos!
