

Questions to Consider

1. How did you envision yourself standing at Mount Sinai in Rabbi Levy's Poem?
2. Compare Rabbi Levy's interpretations of the commandments to those on the tablets. Which of Rabbi Levi's interpretations did you find most interesting/meaningful?
3. Cinque tells John Quincey Adams that his ancestors will come forward for him at this crucial moment in time. How does Judaism hold similar expectations?
4. What does the story, "My Mother's Unshaved Leg's," remind you of in your own lives?
5. Throughout your life, how have you honored your mother or father?