

These selections offer a variety of ways to look at Genesis 3:10. Consider the questions below

- In Genesis 3:9, why does God ask Adam where he is?
 - Why does Adam feel he needs to hide?
 - Why is he afraid of God?
 - What is God's "sound"?
 - How does God expect Adam to respond?
- In Excerpt I of Buber's *The Way of Man, what is the theme of the story?
 - Does the Chief change? Why/Why not?
 - What do we learn from this story?
- In the poem, "We Begin Again," What is the meaning of the poem's title?
 - What is the theme of the poem?
 - According to Rabbi Levy, what is the role of choice and creation in our lives?
 - How do Buber's Excerpt II and the poem complement one another?

Did your perspective of the Torah verses broaden after reading the Buber excerpts and the poem, "We Begin Again"?
