ADL'S SIGNATURE SYNAGOGUE PROGRAM

Sponsorship Opportunity:

ADL is one of the most formidable anti-hate organizations in the world—standing up for the rights of all marginalized groups. ADL is the first call when acts of anti-Semitism occur—on the ground, online, in the classroom and in the community. They believe that America would only be safe for its Jewish people if it was safe for all its people—and that when it was truly safe for all its people, it would also be safe for its Jewish community.

Lincoln Square Synagogue is looking for a sponsor for ADL's Signature Synagogue Program. This program ignites congregation-wide commitment to raising awareness and speaking out against anti-Semitism and hate. It creates a unifying initiative for community education and engagement. Signature Synagogues will have direct access to ADL's programs, resources, and learning opportunities. The program will culminate with recognition for each community's efforts to address and counter local issues. Our members will be ambassadors in ADL's fight against hate and anti-Semitism. This is a critical time and standing up and speaking out is more important than ever.

Opportunities and resources of the Signature Synagogue Program includes congregation leaders collaborating directly with ADL staff, Words to Action workshops for youth and young adults, discounted ticket pricing to ADL's Never is Now: Summit on Anti-Semitism & Hate, ADL experts addressing our community on a variety of topics, and training session on how to be an ADL ambassador against hate.

If you are interested in becoming a sponsor, please contact our Executive Director, Tamar Fix at tamar@lss.org.

However, during the rest of Chol Hamoed and the last days of the Yom Tov, a reservation is not necessary to eat a meal in the Sukkah. Please feel free to use our Sukkah for eating, learning, relaxing, and general dwelling. We do not allow sleeping overnight in the our sukkah. We appreciate all donations made to defray the considerable cost of building and maintaining the Sukkah. To register for Sukkot meals, please visit www.lss.org/form/sukkotmeals.

DVAR TORAH

Parsha Nitzavim
September 27-28
Written by: Mark Hus

One verse in this week's Torah portion has always jumped out at me. Perhaps it's because this verse seems to come out of nowhere; it's just there and then the parsha continues as if it was never there. Perhaps it's because of the symbols that appear above the letters. Or perhaps it's because I never really understood what it was trying to impart.

That verse is Chapter 29, verse 28: "Those things that are hidden with the Lord, our G-d, and those things that have been revealed to us and our progeny forever, to do all of the things set forth in this Torah." (My translation.)

What does this verse mean? What is it intended to teach us?

The ArtScroll Chumash has an interpretation which it went so far as to include in its translation of the verse: "The hidden [sins] are for Hashem, our G-d, but the revealed [sins] are for us and our children forever, to carry out all the words of this Torah." ArtScroll suggests that the Jewish people were concerned that they might be held accountable for the sins of others and they were reassured by this verse that the sins of others were the province of the Almighty alone; they could only be held responsible for their own actions. Alternatively, there was concern that some might sin without realizing or knowing that they had sinned. Again, under these circumstances those transgressions remain the province of G-d, alone. While the concept of being held responsible for one's own actions is compelling, ArtScroll's interpretation did not resonate with me.

What things are hidden to us and what things are revealed to us? So often in life, people look at the same thing and perceive it totally differently. For example, some modern art is extraordinarily beautiful to some and absolutely horrific to others. So much of what is revealed to us is actually what we choose to or are willing to see.

What the Torah is directing us to do is to follow the Torah and adhere to its precepts – even when some of it does not make sense to us. Moshe teaches the Jewish people that the Torah provides a framework, a blueprint and a road map for us showing us how to live our lives.

My father, z"l, used to joke that every person had his own Shulchan Aruch (Code of Jewish Law). Everybody who adheres to the Torah, does so in his or her own way – because of what has been revealed to him or her and because of who each person is. The verse urges us to take what the Torah tells us and act in accord with our understanding of its teachings, because it is what G-d has commanded us to do.

As we near the end of the month of Elul and approach Rosh Hashana, we all know that there are things that we should improve in ourselves. As my son, Elisha, always reminds me, self-awareness is the first step to self-improvement. We must reveal to ourselves how to better ourselves and then proceed along that path.

Shabbat Shalom and K'tiva V'chatima Tova

HOSPITALITY

Two Volunteer Opportunities

A message from Judith Weil
E: hospitality@lss.org

We are happy to report that, following last week's urgent plea, we have secured a volunteer to coordinate the weekly volunteer rotations and backstop those volunteers if problems arise.

Thank you to Sara Lefkowitz who has stepped up to the plate!

We are now seeking one more individual who is willing to assist her.

For the past year, we are grateful that this task was handled seamlessly by Enid Moskowitz and Sandy Kilstein. If the coordinator position does not secure support by one more member our hospitality efforts will not be sustainable, volunteers will not be scheduled and visitors to our site will not receive a response to their requests for RH and Shabbat meals.

We are also always in need of additional help linking up prospective hosts and guests. The matches are all done via email, by volunteers who take a weekly shift monitoring the committee's gmail account for requests and then sending those emails you likely have been receiving.

We urgently need more volunteers to sign up for a week rotation.

The tasks are not difficult: access to the internet and minimal familiarity with Gmail and Google docs are all that are required for the coordinators. Weekly volunteers will need internet access, but can be instructed as to how our site works.

Just as we can't manage without hosts, we can't manage without the coordinators who enable our hosts to welcome their guests. Please step up-- with enough volunteers to put in ten to fifteen minutes for one week, the rotation would come up only once in a few months.

Please get involved and email hospitality@lss.org today!

CHESED: PIKUACH NEFESH

Looking for Bone Marrow or Stem Cell Donor

10 year old Elan Shademan, Elan Chaim ben Yael is battling a severe, rare blood disorder that threatens his life. We urgently need your help to find his lifesaving marrow or stem cell donor. His family is Iranian Jewish and Elan is half Ashkenazi and half Sephardic. His best chance of a match is with someone of similar ancestry. Although ethnic background and ancestry play a role in finding a matching donor, anyone who is 18 to 35 years old can help, particularly those with Elan's background.

Testing is so easy, it just takes a cheek swab, and you can save his life or that of another person in need. Please get swabbed if you're not already in the registry. For more information about Elan and how you can help, please visit www.giftoflife.org/dc/elan.

Looking for Kidney Donor: O Type Blood

Tamar Fix, our Executive Director, has a friend whose mother is in desperate need of a life saving kidney. Esther bat Rachel falls into the more difficult "match" to find. They are in need of an altruistic donor with O TYPE BLOOD (+ or -) as we believe her life saving match is out there, we just have not found him/her yet.

Please share this information. Anyone with O type blood (+ or-) can be tested no matter where they live. Please contact Renewal at 718-431-9831 ext. 209 for patient #R23908 or r23908@renewal.org.

KOL NIDRE APPEAL

Dear LSS:

As we inch nearer downfield to the goal of beneficial change, it brings to mind the importance of doing so as a community and for the community. I recently read an article about Maurice Glasman, the British political theorist and member of the House of Lords, who visited his hometown, the Ukrainian shtetl of Vinkivtsy. He was quoted saying: "I was brought up to love Yiddishkayt.... in just my Mum's family we still have Communists, Zionists, Hasidim and Misnagdim; we have assimilationists, Bundists, capitalists and socialists, monarchists and anarchists. I love them all and I can't deny that my head is a cacophony of ancestral argument and I can be any one of those things in the course of a single day.....the thing I love most is being a yid."

We are a diverse community with different opinions, convictions, and priorities. Yet the communal scene in our shul lobby, social hall, or terrace is an image of Jewish achdut, Jewish caring, and the best of humanity. And we export those values to those who cannot make it to shul, and to the greater community at large. Let's not take that for granted. Let's sustain the beauty of this shul. Give generously to the this years' high holiday campaign and keep LSS alive.

Dvar Torah:

Shulchan Orach teach us that this week's Parshat Nitzavim is always read before Rosh Hashanah. Why? There are two reasons; 1) Because the week before (Parshas Ki Tavo) is one long rebuke and we'd rather go into the New Year with a more positive frame of mind. The second answer is because Nitzavim is actually talking about Rosh Hashanah; the Parsha begins, "Atem Nitzavim Hayom Kulchem," All of you are standing today before the Lord your G-d; the heads of your tribes, elders, etc. from the woodchoppers and the water carriers, from the greatest people to the most humble. What is the day we all pass before G-d's judgement equally, from the mightiest to the least prosperous? Rosh Hashanah. We will end the Tefila and Chazan's Amida with "Teshuva Tefila U'tzedakah," Repentance, Prayer, and Charity revert a bad decree. We should all do Teshuva, pray loudly so our Tefilot are heard, and give Tzedaka so that Hashem should bless our families and us with a good, sweet new year.

After Shul Ask Your Children:

1. Why does the Shulchan Orech say Nitzavim is always read before Rosh Hashanah?
2. What do the apples, honey and pomegranate seeds represent?
3. What are Merrin?

1. Two reasons; we want to go into Rosh Hashanah with a positive frame of mind, and Nitzavim describes the day of judgement, Rosh Hashanah, for everyone.
2. A sweet new year and the merits of Mitzvot.
3. Merrin are carrots and the Yiddish word to increase.
