Shabbat Theme: Trust, Unity and Compramise

This week we complete the book of Bamidbar with a double Parsha, Matot and Masei. In Matot, Moshe prepares Bnei Yisrael for battle with Midian. Hashem tells Moshe to highlight the importance of trust, telling Bnei Yisrael that if one takes an oath, they are obligated to honor their word. Gad and Reuben act with honor, compromising with Moshe to leave their inherited land with their flocks and pastures, and cross the Jordan to fight alongside Bnei Yisrael. 12,000 men take up arms, 1,000 from each tribe, and go forth to victory against Midian. The book ends with the daughters of Zelophehad accepting their inheritance.

This Shabbat our children will learn...

What can we learn from the 12 tribes? Which two tribes asked Moshe to stay outside of Israel? Why did they need green pasture? How did they act with honor and compromise? Where were the cities of refuge?

Chazak! Chazak Venitchazeik!

Chessed Opportunity

Heading to Israel On a Gap Year Program? Know Someone Who is?

Young Israeli men and women who have themselves just graduated high school are now serving in the IDF. Among them are nearly 7000 young men and women from all over the world serving as "Lonesoldiers." At least four of them are LSS members. The Lone Soldier Center provides much need services to these young people. The Center would appreciate donations of personal care items such as Advil, razors, Q-tips, bug spray. You could bring the items from the states or buy them in Israel (and help Israel's economy at the same time!) For a complete list of items and instructions on how to donate, email nvogel212@gmail.com.
