Parashat Bo (Ex. 10 - 13:16; pg 340)

In the sidrah, three of the Ten Plagues are visited upon Egypt: a swarm of locusts devours all the crops and greenery; a thick, palpable darkness envelops the land and all the firstborn of Egypt are killed at the stroke of midnight of the 15th of the month of Nissan.

G-d commands the first mitzvah to be given to the people of Israel: to establish a calendar based on the monthly rebirth of the moon. The Israelites are also instructed to bring a “Passover offering” to G-d: a lamb or kid is to be slaughtered and its blood put on the doorposts and lintel of every Israelite home, so that G-d should pass over these homes when He comes to kill the Egyptian firstborns. The roasted meat of the offering is to be eaten that night together with matzah (unleavened bread) and bitter herbs.

The death of the firstborn finally breaks Pharaoh’s resistance and he drives the children of Israel from his land. So hastily do they depart that there is no time for their dough to rise and the only provisions they take along are unleavened. Before they go, they ask their Egyptian neighbors for gold, silver and garments—fulfilling the promise made to Abraham that his descendants would leave Egypt with great wealth.

The children of Israel are commanded to consecrate all firstborn and to observe the anniversary of the Exodus each year by removing all leaven from their possession for seven days, eating matzah, and telling the story of their redemption to their children. They are also commanded to wear tefillin on the arm and head as a reminder of the Exodus and their resultant commitment to G-d.

In Today’s Haftarah (Jeremiah 46:13-28; pg 1151)

The haftarah shows the punishment G-d visited upon Egypt centuries after the Jewish Exodus, through the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon. G-d reveals Egypt’s fate to Jeremiah: Egypt will be helpless and great destruction will occur at the hands of the Babylonians. The haftarah ends with G-d’s assurance to the Jewish people not to fear, for though they too will be punished and exiled, ultimately they will be redeemed:

“Fear not, O Jacob My servant, and be not dismayed, O Israel! For behold, I will redeem you from afar and your children from the land of their captivity and Jacob shall return and be quiet and at ease and there shall be none who disturb his rest. Fear not, My servant Jacob, says the Lord, for I am with you, for I will make a full end of all the nations where I have driven you.”

DAILY MINYAN. Thank you to all who participate in our daily minyan. BMH-BJ hosts a morning and evening minyan 365 days a year. Attending a week-day minyan once a month helps ensure that our minyan takes place and those who need to say kaddish are able to do so. This small individual commitment makes a large impact in our shul. Thank you to all who have signed up and continue to sign up; you are helping our minyan flourish. For those who have not recently attended, it’s also a great place to make friends and build community. Please add your name online at <http://bit.ly/FEBBMHBJ>
