THE REBUILDING PROJECT

One of the positive qualities Jews have is that we're driven. We have high standards and lofty aspirations. Seeking greatness is just something we do. But sometimes this leads to putting an unhealthy amount of pressure on ourselves. Our peace of mind is compromised as stress becomes our daily "companion". We may even feel like it would be irresponsible to allow ourselves to enjoy the moment, as if being joyful was incompatible with being productive.

Our Sages instruct us to increase our joy when the month of Adar arrives. (Newsflash: Adar's here!) Our wise sages have given us "permission" to feel more joy. We can allow ourselves to let go of worrying/stressing so much. We can still be driven, but without driving ourselves crazy. We can add joy to the equation!

Adar reminds us that Hashem is with us. Gently guiding our lives behind the scenes. And when we keep that in mind, it can bring us the greatest comfort and joy imaginable.
Keep on building! Marshall
