To the EBJC Community :

I want to thank the entire EBJC Community for your sympathies and kind wishes on the recent loss of my mother. It is truly comforting to know that the EBJC Community which our family has belonged to for nearly 30 years is there for us during these difficult times. I very much appreciate the unconditional support this Community provided to our family. I want to especially thank the Mitzvah Corps for conducting services during Shiva and Rabbi Pivo for his words of comfort and guidance during this time. I will forever be grateful to the EBJC Community for being there for myself and my entire family.

David Himelman

Dear Friends:

On behalf of myself and my family, I would like to thank the congregation for the warmth and compassion extended to us upon the death of my mother. It is at times like this that one appreciates being part of a synagogue family.

Karen Blivaiss

THANK YOU EBJC

To our EBJC family, we wanted to express our gratitude for the outpouring of support our family has received. There was so much generosity from this community. We want to thank as many of you as possible. If we missed someone, know that we do appreciate everyone's kindness. Thank you for the Passover dinners, donations made to EBJC, Rogers Memorial Hospital, New Beginnings Animal Rescue, and JNF Trees. Stephanie has her own orchard, with all the trees that were planted.

PEACE OF MIND HIGHLAND PARK/EDISON PROUDLY PRESENTS THE DIVE

September 8 | 7:30 PM
Highland Park Conservative Temple
The Dive, written and directed by former Peace of Mind participant Yona Rozenkier, tells the story of three brothers who reunite for one weekend to bury their father in their native kibbutz on the border with Lebanon. As war rages all around them, the two older brother begin to train the youngest for his first war in the same way their father trained them, but after a tragic turn of events, the journey spins out of control.

RABBINIC REFLECTIONS

It is time to begin again. Each fall Jews around the world engage in chesbon nefesh, an accounting of the soul, as we begin a new year. During the Yamim Nora'im, the Days of Awe, we turn back to the year just ended to review and reconsider what we have done and who we were, in order that in this new year we can live healthier lives spiritually and interpersonally. Recalling last year, we hope to have a good new year. By thinking back we look ahead.

Looking back over the past year at EBJC, we have reasons to be proud. We have now successfully run both a Traditional and an Egalitarian service every Shabbat morning for a year. Through good planning, as well as trial and error, we have found that having two styles of davvening has enabled us to maintain the customs of our Traditional minyan while simultaneously expanding our religious offerings. We also found that we enjoy coming together to hear words of Torah from me and to hear Cantor Larry lead the musaf service, with both minyans coming together in the sanctuary to conclude services together. These are significant changes for EBJC, and they benefit us by broadening our appeal to current and future members, connecting us more deeply with other Conservative synagogues, and engaging our members in learning skills to lead services and read Torah.

This year we will adopt the same model for the fall holidays. On both mornings of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur morning we will have simultaneous services in two spaces, then come together for sermons, appeals and Yizkor on Yom Kippur. This is a new model of how to pray on these sacred days, and along with that model continue to use the new mahzor that we first tried last year, supplemented with additional material that our members wanted included. After the holidays we welcome your feedback to measure how well this mahzor is meeting our needs.

In addition to innovations in religious services, last year saw a significant increase in opportunities for adult learning at EBJC. This year, that trend will accelerate, as we continue our classes from last year and add even more. My ultimate objective is to feature at least one class every day of the week, some in the evening and some in the afternoon, so that every facet of our tradition becomes available to our members and the community at large: serious text study, practical Jewish skills workshops, Jewish dance, Jewish cooking, Torah and haftarah chanting, current events, and discussion of the Jewish world. No matter your Jewish orientation, our goal must be to meet Jewish educational and social needs in East Brunswick.

Like any successful business, a synagogue must have good staff, provide good services to its members, and have a physical space that enhances our experiences. Over the past year a number of facilities improvements have also been made, and our Board, staff, and volunteers have many wonderful plans to continue the physical transformation of our building and campus to make the best use of what we have and to beautify our space. We want our members to derive pleasure and uplift not only from what goes on in the building, but also from a well functioning and beautiful building itself.

Finally, looking back over the last year in order to look ahead, I reiterate one of my messages from last year's September Recorder article. Not everything at EBJC will appeal to every one of us. In order for us to maximize participation of current members, and to position ourselves as the center of Jewish life in East Brunswick, we must offer a broad variety of religious, social, and educational programs. But the most important change must be an internal one: We have to cultivate an environment of civility, respect, and kindness toward each other.

Each of us must be able to say "That service/class/event may not be for me, but I'm glad that it's here." When we can truly feel that, we will have truly engaged in teshuvah, in returning to our better selves as we begin another year together.

Shanah tovah tikateivu; may you be inscribed for a good year in the Book of Life.

Rabbi Jeff Pivo

FROM CANTOR LARRY

Jacob Kranz, known as The Maggid of Dubno, lived in Poland about 200 years ago. He was a preacher who went from town to town teaching others through his story telling. He would tell this story before Rosh Hashanah.

A simple farmer from a very small village took a trip for the first time to a nearby town. He stayed at an inn just outside the city. The first night, he was fast asleep when he heard the loud pounding of drums. A bit worried that there could be some danger, he made his way down to the front desk of the inn.

"What is that terrible and loud pounding of drums?" he asked. "That is our town's fire alarm system," said the owner of the inn. "When someone discovers a fire, he or she begins to beat a drum. Others hear the drum and do the same. Since we started our new system, we have not lost one building to fire." "What a wonderful idea," thought the farmer, as he stumbled back to bed and fell fast asleep.

When he returned home, he told everyone about the system of sounding the drums. His friends and fellow villagers liked the idea and decided they too would use it. They ordered a large supply of drums to give out to everyone in the village. Sure enough, the next time a fire broke out, one villager saw it and began to beat the drum. Others awoke and they too beat the drums. Soon everyone was up and there was a tremendous sound from the beating of drums. The villagers waited for the fire to go out, but it didn't. Several homes burned to the ground.

The farmer was so angry that the system hadn't worked that he went back to the city to ask the innkeeper what had gone wrong.

"You simple man," said the innkeeper. "Do you really think you can put out a fire just by sounding the alarm? The beating of drums is only to awaken the people. It is the people who must come with buckets of water to put out the fire. The drums alone are worth nothing."

So it is with us, explained the Maggid of Dubno. During Elul, and from Rosh Hashanah to Yom Kippur, we blow the Shofar thus sounding the alarm. However, if we do not then act by doing good deeds and working to make our behavior better, then we will be like the simple villagers who sounded the alarm but forgot to fight the fire.

May our internal alarms sound loud and clear this new year alerting us to make ourselves just a little better this coming year. May the words and the melodies that leave our lips be inspiring to ourselves and all those around us.

On behalf of my wife, Laura, my children, Samantha, Heather, and Jeremy, I wish you and your family a Shana Tova for a happy and healthy 5780 New Year.

FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

What a summer I've had! I don't know how many of you stop to think about when the planning for the High Holidays starts, but it starts a good two-three months before erev Rosh Hashannah. That usually means we get into gear in July and when the High Holidays are early September...Oy, we're in gear in June. That's when I think I should be working for a church (just kidding). The planning, the logistics, the mailings, the meetings...well, it just makes for a busy summer. I'm hoping that by the time you read this, we will have hired a new Administrative Assistant for the office. I have to thank Cheryl Decker for her dedication and hard work. She's wearing many hats. David Kosher stepped up and without him, I don't think we'd survive. I know that we will soon lose him to a more lucrative job (and hopefully one where there are MUCH younger people) but until that happens, he has proven to be invaluable. Even Stefani Kovler has returned to help in a pinch. It takes a village. In July, I went on our annual cousin's trip to the Hamptons (only the women). This time we stayed in a home (courtesy of Home Away) in Hampton Bays. Our requirements vary...there could be 7 of us, there could be 11. If the California cousins join us, our numbers increase. The sleeping requirements are the most important...who will share a room, who needs their own room, who will share a king size bed, who will share a room but needs their own bed... it gets complicated. Plus we absolutely must have a pool...with little or no shade (we have some serious sun worshippers). The kitchen must be fairly large. There has to be a comfortable, cozy sitting area to accommodate 7-11 tush's. We have rarely reserved the same house twice. We always find something wrong or something that can be improved upon. Honestly, it's sort of fun...the never ending search for that perfect house. We've actually named the houses that we've stayed in. Let's see... the first house we ever rented in Montauk was given the name "the Chatchkie" house. Why? Because the house was filled with little chatchkie's all over. So much so that we had to remove them from shelves just to put toiletries down in the bathroom. So we didn't go back there. Then there was the "Shady" house. That house actually was quite lovely, but the pool was in complete shade by 2:00 and that just did not work for some of the cousins. So we didn't go back there. The "Musty" house was a huge house on a huge piece of property overlooking a lake. It was lovely, but one of my cousins is highly allergic and within a few hours of being in the house, her asthma kicked in. We had to open the doors and windows, air out all of the cushions and get that "musty" odor out so she could breathe. So we didn't go back there. There was the "Sticky" house which sort of explains itself. We didn't go back there. We shall continue our never ending search for the perfect non-chatchkie, non-sticky, non-shady and non-musty house. I'll keep you posted.

This year we celebrated my cousin's 60th birthday. We planned a surprise evening for her. We went to a "paint and sip" place where we all created masterpieces that I'm sure are residing in either basements or garages. We went out to dinner and then back to the house where we presented her with a song written to the tune of "Green Acres" (we all sang, but I'll spare you the video). We presented her with gifts and cake and stories...and we laughed for hours. I have been told by many that I am blessed to have this. We started out in the Catskills and have been doing this for 23 or so years and enjoy every moment together. Yes, I know I'm blessed.

That's family, right? That's EBJC too. A family. We have generations of members and founding members and members who have been a part of EBJC for 50-55 years. They have prayed together, partied together, laughed together and cried together. That's a family. When I get a call from someone about membership, I tell them this. Although the first question is usually about price, it's the last thing I want to tell them. What value do you put on family and community and belonging? What value do you put on having people, a Rabbi and Cantor who know you and can share in your joy and in your sorrow? What value do you place on these things? Yes, the last thing I tell them is the price and I hope that by the time I get to the price, they'll understand that being a part of a community and a part of EBJC... is priceless.

May you all have a happy and healthy New Year and an easy fast,

Ellen

FROM OUR PRESIDENTS

When we became Co-Presidents, we decided that two of our major goals would be to secure the financial well-being of EBJC; and to decrease the tension between those who wish to pray in an egalitarian setting and those who wish to continue praying in the traditional manner which has existed at EBJC since its founding. In future articles, we will specifically discuss our plans to maintain financial stability. It is important to realize that these goals are related. For in order to succeed financially, EBJC needs to retain all its members. If EBJC reverted to becoming solely traditional, or conversely, if it became solely egalitarian, we would lose vital numbers in our membership. We, therefore, wish to maintain both minyanim in the manner introduced last year. We now have parallel services each week with the two minyanim alternating between the Sanctuary and Beit Midrash. When members expressed their opinion that we were no longer a community that prayed together, we adapted and have now come together in the Sanctuary each week to daven Musaf together led by Cantor Larry Brandspiegel. As noted in a letter to the congregation, we will apply this model on the High Holidays this year, joining together for Musaf, Kol Nidre, Mincha and Neilah, in the Sanctuary. We understand that there are still members who are not comfortable with some, or all of these changes.

It is a maxim that when there is a change, some will perceive that change as a loss. We recognize that there is a sense of distress and sometimes anger among some in the congregation. The passion that has been expressed is actually a sign of strength for our community, as it shows that we sincerely care about this Synagogue. We are working on ways to address the concerns of both the egalitarian and traditional worshippers. But we must always keep in mind that our Synagogue has two weekly Shabbat services with a full Torah reading in each service. In addition, most of our services are lay led and we have a morning and evening minyan 365 days a year. Few conservative Synagogues, even ones much larger than ours, can make the same claim. We should be very proud!!

We both feel that our greatest strength is our community. When someone is ill or hospitalized, they are visited by members of our Bikkur Cholim Committee without regard to how they observe. We support both traditional and egalitarian Shiva minyanim in times of loss. Moreover, our community is always there for support. As Bob mentioned at a recent Shabbat service, the outpouring of well wishers and of those that offered help after his wife's recent knee replacement surgery was overwhelming, but was not unique to his family; in fact, it is rather commonplace at EBJC. This Synagogue is a special place, first and foremost, because of the strong bonds between its members; we must never lose sight of this.

As we continue to discuss concerns and issues that, in the past, might have divided us, and as we implement changes that will, hopefully, bring us closer together, let us always make an effort to remember the truly wonderful things that bind us.

Robert Salston, Steve Zeidweg,
Co-Presidents

CENTER FOR EARLY LEARNING

LYNDA PEREL
EDUCATIONAL DIRECTOR

Preschool Press

We hope you all enjoyed your summer and are ready to hear the sound of children in the halls of EBJC again. Our school is growing! We are happy to announce we have 2 classes this year. With the addition of the new class, we also had to hire a new teacher. I would like to announce Morah Julia Shapiro has joined our staff.

Morah Julia will be teaching our Pre-K class along with Morah Margie. Morah Laura and I will be teaching the 2 & 3 year olds.

Below is a bio from Morah Julia:

Hello my name is Julia Shapiro, and I am excited to be a part of the Center for Early Learning family. Let me tell you a little bit about myself. I have a Masters in French Literature and Linguistics, but my passion is to teach young children. I realized many years ago while working as a substitute teacher that I greatly enjoyed making a difference in the lives of students so I obtained my teacher certificate and never looked back. Besides teaching, I love art, theatre, and working out. However, my greatest passion is my family – my husband Steven and our children, Joshua and Shayna. We all live in Highland Park.

I'm enthusiastic about the new school year and can't wait to meet your children. Together, we will embark on a journey of learning, playing, and building solid friendships in the classroom. Please don't hesitate to contact me at shapirojul@gmail.com

Remember, registration is still open. If you know someone interested in our school please have them contact Lynda Perel at Lperel@ebjc.org or call the office at 732 257 7070. Looking forward to another great year!!!

KESHER AND YOUTH GROUPS

Dear Keshet Families,

It is hard to believe that the summer has gone by and that we are now into another school year. Time really does fly. Over the summer, many dedicated individuals worked hard in creating, building, and enhancing the religious school curriculum. New books, a Bar/Bat Mitzvah Handbook, and new ideas are now in place, and we look forward as our teaching team implements the curriculum, so our children learn and grow Jewishly.

I want to welcome all of our new students and families. I hope that you and your children will find our school to be not only one of the finest supplementary schools in the area, but one of the friendliest and fun. We also welcome new teachers to our team.

You should have received an email with the school calendar or you will in a short time. If you have not received it by September 1st, please let me know.

Please look carefully at the date for Back to School and other dates which include Bar/Bat Mitzvah information sessions for Dalet (4th), Heh (5th), and Vav (6th) classes. Also, note the Rabbi's new class for parents to learn about Jewish rituals, the Shabbat service, and more.

We will also be having a new Junior Congregation for 3rd – 7th grades led by Rabbi Rachel Salston once a month, and Shabbat School and the Shabbat B'yachad Family Service will be another Shabbat each month. We will also be having Shabbat Y'lاديم for our younger children through 2nd grade two times per month. Dates are listed on the calendar.

Keshet High School will continue once or twice a month. We have a cool video curriculum we will be using this year. The new fee instituted covers the cost of the dinners we provide for the students for the year.

I am looking forward to my second year here at EBJC. Make your entire family a part of

SISTERHOOD

It's so hard to believe that another New Year is upon us, with all its promise of spiritual, social, and educational growth. Your "Sisters" have been hard at work planning the 2019-2020 agenda, devising a broad spectrum of programming to meet all the needs of our membership.

We are thrilled to announce that Andrea Kostick has joined our Board as Sisterhood Treasurer. Andrea has a long history of exemplary service to our shul, including serving on the Board of Directors as Vice-President and Treasurer, as well as on the Constitution Committee, among other roles. As an accountant, we know Andrea will be a natural in her new position. In addition, our immediate past Treasurer, Yvette Schlusel, will now serve as our new Internal Communications Coordinator, posting important Sisterhood notices to our weekly Tidbits email blast, as well as the Shabbat sheet.

Over the summer, in July, we launched the brand-new Sisterhood Book Club, with a lively discussion of the award-winning memoir, If All The Seas Were Ink by Ilana Kurshan. In the book, Kurshan details her journey of practicing Daf Yomi, the worldwide daily reading of a page of Talmud. Together we explored how this ritual influenced Kurshan's life and how her life impacted her understanding of the lessons of Talmud. By exchanging ideas, we shared our own insights on religion, parenthood, and the role of ritual practice in our lives. Our next selection is Open Doors by Gloria Goldreich. Goldreich is a popular author who was profiled as part of our Great Jewish Women forum on Shavuot. Open Doors is a novel about a woman who is suddenly widowed and decides to spend time getting to know each of her four adult children on a more personal level. What she discovers about her own offspring AND HERSELF makes for a fascinating read. We hope you will all consider joining us next time—date to be determined—but probably sometime in October or early November. Please check the weekly TIDBITS email blast as well as the Shabbat sheet for the announcement of the next meeting date. In the meantime, please think about what books you would like to read as a group—suggestions are most welcome!

At the end of July—Sisterhood took part in the special Artist-in-Residence weekend, featuring Academy-Award winning screenwriter David Rabinowitz, a favorite "native son" of EBJC. David is the son of Cindy and Eric Rabinowitz, who have contributed so much to our synagogue in numerous leadership roles. Cindy reigned as our illustrious Sisterhood president for six years! and continues as the current Membership VP.

David's writing partner and fellow Academy Award-winner, Charlie Wachtel, son of Shirley and Arthur Wachtel, could not make the event. Luckily, Mom Shirley was on hand to describe her family's funny and touching experiences at the Oscars.

The entire weekend was enjoyable and enlightening, as David shared his celebrated insights, talent, and expertise with his hometown congregation. Following a weekend of festive Friday night dinner, movie screening, and writer's workshop, Sisterhood topped off the event by presenting a wine-and-chocolate reception on Sunday evening (July 28). What a delight to reacquaint with two past EBJC rabbis—Rabbi Benson and Rabbi Finkelstein, along with their families, who were our honored guests. Rabbi Benson and Isabelle are now the proud parents of three darling boys!

On August 22nd Sisterhood hosted its annual Summer BBQ, a fun and relaxing evening of good food and great schmoozing. We always look forward to this event, and it did not disappoint--as always, it was a blast. Who knew some of the secrets revealed in our "Getting to Know You Bingo." We are very grateful to Men's Club for doing their magic at the grills—and a huge thank-you to Cindy Rabinowitz, who is the best event-planner anyone could hope for!

"On Rosh Hashanah, everything we do is imbued with extreme significance. We stand in judgment before the Heavenly Court while each of our actions, words, and thoughts are scrutinized."— Rabbi Moshe Schuchman Extending heartfelt wishes of good health, peace, and contentment to all our beloved Sisterhood members and fellow congregants, our esteemed clergy, our wonderful staff and faculty, and the entire Jewish community. May we all find comfort and fortitude in prayer and faith as we begin a New Year.

The 5780 (2019-2020) Torah Fund Campaign is underway. The theme of this year's pin is CHESED (Kindness), which is one of the three pillars of Jewish life, according to rabbinic tradition. Display your Chesed by purchasing the pin for $180, or donate ANY AMOUNT. All contributions support the future Conservative Jewish education of our cherished community leaders—rabbis, cantors, educators, administrators, and lay leaders—who are all so vital to the knowledge and practice of our faith. Stay tuned for the date of our annual Torah Fund event!

SISTERHOOD AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

The Sisterhood Judaica Shop, under new management, is your source for beautiful giftware, books, candles, head coverings, children's items and more.

Browse the beautiful collection of gifts, home furnishings and Judaica for all occasions. If you don't see what you are looking for, our Managers will get it for you.

Contact Cindy Rollman 908-812-6713 or Caroline Steinberg 732-735-6641

Gift cards (aka SCRIP) is an easy way to help the Sisterhood raise funds by purchasing gifts for ShopRite, ACME, Lox, Stock & Deli or Giddy's. What could be easier? You are going to spend the money there ANYWAY!!!

SISTERHOOD NEEDS YOU!!

EGALITARIAN SHIVA MINYAN—Stand up and be counted—literally! Bereaved families now have the choice to welcome either a Traditional or Egalitarian Shiva minyan into their home to join in the reciting of Kaddish. Being a member of the Egalitarian Shiva minyan is a deeply rewarding opportunity for women to demonstrate their compassion toward fellow congregants. You will leave feeling that you have truly performed a worthy mitzvah and made a difference.

BIMAH SITTING FOR SHABBAT AND HOLIDAYS—Enjoy the services from a different vantage point! A Sisterhood member who started sitting regularly says "I've gained an entirely different perspective of the service and I find it even more spiritual". Volunteer to sit on the Bimah, to represent Sisterhood, during Shabbat or Holiday Services. Contact Gloria Jaslow for more information at 732-247-4869 or glorichi@aol.com

KIDDUSH COMMITTEE IS CALLING YOU!!!—We have an amazing group of volunteers who make the Shabbat Kiddush happen each week, but we still need YOUR HELP to keep the Shabbat Kiddush experience going. We need plattering assistance Friday mornings at 10:15AM in the dairy kitchen. We need shoppers to Costco and ShopRite AND we need your financial support of Kiddush. Without your participation, the old-time Kiddush of cake and wine will be making a return appearance! Call or text Sylvia Halpern at 732-266-3270. Thank you!

MEN'S CLUB

I hope everyone had a safe and wonderful summer. Now that it is September, and I officially begin my return as President of Men's Club, I would like to thank both Arthur Fliegelman and Sheldon Horowitz in their roles of Co-President for their combined efforts and accomplishments during the past two years. But, there is always more to be done, as Men's Club never rests on its laurels.

Now, for those who always ask, "What does Men's Club do?" Well, there's no easy answer. We, of course have our usual, Yellow Candle Program, World Wide Wrap, Men's Club Shabbat, etc.; but, it's the other things that we do that most people don't know about. For example, we have contributed funds towards repairing and updating both the Rabbi's and Cantor's houses. Those nice new entry door mats? Men's Club paid for them with the funds raised from your donations. Chanukah gifts for our youths who are away at College. Yep. Men's Club. Did you notice that the Holocaust Memorial for the Children is totally filled with pennies? Yes, the Men's Club Board finally made that happen (Thank you guys for stepping up when asked). I could go on and on, but I think you get the idea. So, in addition to our usual programs, we are the "behind the scenes" guys who get things done. My goal this year is to continue to work with all the arms of the Synagogue, get even more things done, to involve EVERYONE, and encourage a true feeling of community. We have also, along with Sisterhood, planned many joint programs which I hope EVERYONE will participate in. We need each other to be successful.

By this time everyone should have received the flyers and emails for our L'Shana Tova Holiday Greetings Program. This is our major fundraiser of the year with a portion of the proceeds to be donated to a charitable cause in the Jewish Community. Your participation not only wishes your fellow congregants and friends a Happy and Healthy New Year, but also allows you to participate in the mitzvah of tzedakah. What a wonderful and meaningful way to start the New Year.

On Sunday, September 29th, the Men's Club will be changing the prayer books to the High Holiday Machzorim. The Religious Committee and the Men's Club are asking for volunteers to help us that morning. We should rise to the occasion to help our community. So, please come help. Believe it or not, we have a lot of fun doing this, as we all laugh the whole time we're schlepping the books back and forth. What a wonderful way to bond with your fellow congregants.

Remember, this is OUR community. And this is YOUR Men's Club. Together we can "Do the Right Thing".

On behalf of the Men's Club Board, my wife Margot and our family, we wish you a Happy and Healthy New Year.
