Light in a Time of Darkness

By the time this arrives at your home, I will have finished my two weeks on faculty at URJ Camp Coleman, our regional summer camp. Those weeks are always special, a time to engage with Jewish youth, and witness the future of our people. As powerful as camp can be, the last few years have been challenging times to be there. After cancelling in 2020, the 2021 summer was difficult with strict restrictions, turning camp into a bubble, cut off from the world to prevent an outbreak of COVID-19. In 2022, the restrictions loosened to some degree, but that came with a steep cost. Staff or campers who tested positive for COVID had to leave immediately, even if that meant parents traveling great distances to pick them up.

For the first time since 2019, this summer was “normal.” In some ways it was a great relief, no longer worrying about masks, campers able to mingle between units, and the freedom to move in and out of camp as desired. At the same time, this summer also renewed a sense of gratitude for many on staff and in camp leadership. They could once more appreciate aspects of camp that they had taken for granted – and were absent during the pandemic. Additionally, challenges that they used to dread now seemed minor and easy to resolve after the last two years of complicated situations created by trying to balance between creating camp memories while also navigating COVID-19 restrictions. In talking with one of the staff, she put it in perspective – “This summer I am celebrating every moment of joy, because I learned over the last two years that joy is the most important thing we can create at camp.”

That teaching struck a chord in me. With all that has happened over the last three years, it is easy for one to dwell on the challenges: the frustrations during the pandemic, the broken sense of normalcy, the missed lifecycle moments, and the lost time with loved ones. While we cannot ignore those losses, they do not have to be the only perspective. After what we have been through, we have all gained a heightened appreciation for the blessings in our lives – the moments worthy of celebration that pre-pandemic we may have taken for granted. We need to appreciate and embrace all moments that lift our spirits and give us hope for a better tomorrow.

In our Temple community, we model an appreciation for joy every Shabbat when we list the simchas in our community. You can also find good news in our weekly emails and The Voice. We do this intentionally, to draw attention to the happy moments in life. You have the power to extend this practice into your own life – celebrating every milestone – big or small -- expressing joy and gratitude. Discover the power of the Jewish teaching that every moment in life has a blessing associated with it. From seeing a rainbow, to consuming food, to doing an activity for the first time. Mark moments of happiness, laughter, or hope by saying a blessing – be it in a traditional Hebrew format or words that come from your heart. The words matter less than the act of celebrating and acknowledging joy. Saying, “Thank you God for...” transforms any moment from dull or mundane, into a time of holiness and light.

Into the darkness God spoke, and there was light. With the dark days now in the past, may we continue to add light into the world by celebrating every moment of joy that we can.

Executive Director Deborah Fidel

Legacy Society

While we mourn her recent passing, we are eternally grateful to Frances Kline (z"l) for the generous bequest she made to One Family by including Temple Shalom in her will.

Frances's daughter Julie created a named endowment at Temple Shalom in her mother's memory, writing "the Temple and her faith embodied the woman she was, and it's appropriate that her name carries on the benevolence, altruism and compassion she exhibited her entire life...I am hopeful the money will go toward attracting and bringing additional people into the Jewish faith that was so important to her."

Irv Berzon was one of the early families who built Temple Shalom. He loved Temple so much that he agreed to serve as our president twice! Irving, an engineer was instrumental in the construction of our current spiritual home. But Irv has the foresight to build more than a building; he left a gift in his will to fortify Jewish education for the next generation of children in our area. Irv's investment in our people's future will pay dividends for years to come.

Zichronam Livracha. May their memories be a blessing.

If you would like to ensure that the traditions and values that mean so much to you will continue when you are no longer here, please consider joining the Temple Shalom Legacy Society.

ISRAEL CORNER

By Andy Karpman

The Herodium

The Herodium, also called Har Hordus (meaning "Mount Herodes"), is an archaeological site and ancient palace fortress located at Ar-Rahniah in the Judean Desert on the West Bank.

Herod I, also known as Herod the Great, constructed the palace/fortress, along with a small town between 23-15 BCE. Herod was a Roman client king of Judea (referred to as the Herodian kingdom), where he commissioned the construction of many major colossal building projects, such as the port at Caesarea Maritima, the fortress at Masada, the Tomb of the Patriarchs in Hebron, and the renovation of the Second Temple in Jerusalem.

Sisterhood: New Directions

As Sisterhood's new co-presidents, we'd like to share with you our thoughts and goals for the upcoming year.

Most important, we urge you to join Sisterhood, or to renew your membership, if you haven't already. The membership form is ready for you to complete either by filling in the mail-in form that you have already received via traditional mail, or by visiting the Sisterhood page on the Temple Shalom website under the Connect tab. There you will find a link to the online form as well as a link to a printable form.

Our members get the greatest benefit from the Sisterhood when they participate in Sisterhood's Committees: Fundraising, Programing, Oneg, Judaica Store, Membership, and our newest committee: Innovation, Technology & Marketing. It is in these committees that women get to meet new people with common interests and form lifelong friendships.

As we look to the future, we are hoping to move Sisterhood in several new and important directions.

- We are considering a diverse collection of programs that deal with key social issues, as well as the arts, sports, science, wildlife, and our environment.
- We want to tie Sisterhood activities more closely to what Temple Shalom's female congregants really want from the Sisterhood. For example, we will be looking at ways to bring in younger members and working women.
- Working with TOV, and with Board approval, we are considering important advocacy programs, particularly those dealing with the reduction of gun violence, nutritional programs for children, and antisemitism. Other programs, directly impacting women, will also be considered.
- We will focus on engaging with Temple Shalom's Men's

Tikkun Olam Volunteers Don Belmont, Chair

Who We Are, What We Do

Part 2

Our TOV members are a highly committed group involved in numerous programs and organizations locally. They are the boots on the ground doing the work of tikkun olam and are an important part of the glue which holds our SW Florida community together. Part 1 appeared in the March issue of The Voice. Here are some more of our TOV members' interests. Want to contact these individuals? You can search their names in the Temple directory (you must be a logged-in member) or send a request via email to TempleShalomTOV@gmail.com.

Di Karpman - Freedom Waters

Provides therapeutic boat experiences, including boat rides and fishing trips for veterans, people with disabilities and children with long term illnesses. We are always looking for people with boats who would be willing to take out a group from individual families to larger groups. Contact Di if you would like to participate.

Nancy Armocida - Tools for School Collection

This was a new initiative for our Congregation this past year. School supplies were collected to assist students in need at a school in our area. This project is currently ongoing. See page 10

Joyce Steckman - Workforce Housing

Joyce has been involved in helping to solve the scarcity of affordable housing for workers here in SW Florida. As an owner and manager of an apartment building in midtown Manhattan for 40 years, she can see both sides of the need for affordable housing here in our area. Hospitals, supermarkets and retailers need workers that can afford to live where they work, but building owners must follow very strict and sometimes costly regulations that limit their ability to operate properly.

Abe & Pat Levy are involved in several regional and national organizations. Contact them if you want to learn more about the following organizations with which they are involved.

- Bridges is a SW Florida group formed to build bridges between diverse communities. Their mission is growing dialogue and social interaction between communities which frequently do not interact with each other.
- League of Women Voters of Collier County is strictly nonpartisan work on voter education and voter turn-out as well as other citizen education.
- Americans United for Separation of Church & State is a local chapter committed both to religious freedom, and opposition of any religion or person imposing its beliefs on others.
- Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation is nonpartisan and committed to the environmental health of local fresh water and nearby coastal waters.
- Calusa Waterkeeper is nonpartisan and committed to the health of the Caloosahatchee River, Estero Bay, and nearby coastal waters.
- Collier Freedom is a grassroots, nonpartisan organization based in Naples. Collier Freedom's mission is to create an inclusive community regardless of race, nationality, faith or sexual orientation for a common vision of freedom, equality and social justice.

To make a memorial donation please visit www.napletemple.org and click on Donate in the top right corner.

For many generations, Jews have made it a custom to remember their loved ones and sanctify their joyous events with a charitable donation. At Temple Shalom, there are several ways for us to remember or honor a loved one and give thanks for milestone events in our lives. Please consider a yahrzeit plaque, Tribute Garden paver, leaf on the Tree of Life, or dedicating a Torah portion in the Illustrated Torah as a permanent remembrance. Your generosity will contribute to the future of Temple Shalom.

Scan the QR codes below with the camera on your cellphone to go directly to an order form, or call the Temple Shalom office for assistance.

Remember your loved one with a yahrzeit memorial plaque in the Sanctuary. A light next to the plaque is lit during the week of their yahrzeit and during Yizkor.

Order and customize a brick, a tree or a bench in the Temple Shalom Tribute Garden in memory of, or in honor of a loved one or special event.

A leaf or Star of David on the Tree of Life in the Sanctuary is a beautiful way to commemorate a loved one or a meaningful occasion.

Dedicating a Torah portion in the Illustrated Torah is a meaningful way to memorialize an individual or a special celebration. You may also choose to dedicate a word or a special verse.

TZEDAKAH

Showing We Care

Contributions to Temple Shalom funds are wonderful ways to show your appreciation of family and friends, to celebrate happy occasions and to honor the memories of loved ones. We suggest a minimum donation of chai ($18.00). With a minimum donation of chai, a notice of your gift will be sent to the honoree and mention will be published in The Voice. To make a donation, visit the donation page on the website at www.naplestemple.org, or call the Temple office at 239-455-3030.
