This August, I made my 22nd pilgrimage to the Holy Land. My wife Sharon and I left for a two week visit to Israel on August 8th. For all of us who have visited Medinat Yisrael at least once in our lives, we are aware of the overwhelming spiritual and inspirational impact of that experience.

The first week we spent in Jerusalem and visited family and friends. My cousin Michael, who had not been very observant in his life, became extremely committed to Jewish traditions when he lived in Florida. He made Aliyah a few years ago and lives in a religious community called Ramat Shlomo just on the outskirts of Jerusalem. We spent some meaningful time with him and his wonderful family. In addition, his parents were visiting him from Florida and we also shared many enjoyable experiences with them, as well. Sharon and I attended Shabbat services at the Great Synagogue and listened to Cantor Motzen and the synagogue choir chant the Musaf service which was very moving. When we visited the Western Wall, I offered many prayers including asking God to bless the members of our congregation with a meaningful, peaceful and healthy New Year. When I touched the tear-soaked stones of the Kotel as I prayed, I could feel a trembling, a vibration and knew in the deepest depths of my heart, that Hashem was listening not only to my prayers but to all of the men and women that were praying at this very holy place. We also visited Masada, the last stronghold of the Jewish zealots during the Roman occupation of Israel 2000 years ago.

We drove from Jerusalem to Eilat and that journey only validates the reality of how small Israel is compared to the enormous Arab nations surrounding her. As someone who lived in New Jersey for 15 years, the comparison of the size of Israel to New Jersey is not a myth. Why can't they accept that this small but incredibly important and sacred piece of land is and has always and will forever belong to the Jewish people? We saw many other sights on this journey, but we did not see many tourists. Usually places like the Western Wall, the Knesset, the Dead Sea and Masada are filled with tourist buses. This was not the case this year. It was clear to us that for some reason, not as many people are visiting the Holy Land today.

I was invited to speak about my newly published book, “The Third Commandment and the Return of the Anusim,” at the Netanya Academic College. This visit became an important highlight of my trip. There is a marvelous learning center at the college called the “Institute for Sefardi and Anousim Studies.” This study center educates the citizens of Israel about the phenomenon of crypto-Jews in society, holds international conferences which brings in outstanding speakers on the subject, and also reaches out to communities in South America, Spain, Mexico and other locations where there is a presence of B’nei Anusim. In addition, I had the privilege of taking a personal tour of the Institute by its manager Salomon Buzaglo who showed me a direct copy of the diary of Christopher Columbus written in 1492 and the Bible used by Queen Isabella. This Institute for Sefardi and Anousim Studies is a storehouse of archival documents and records of the Jewish people from the time of the Inquisition.
One of the attendees at my talk was my friend, Professor Avraham Gross, who is very active in the center and who was the keynote speaker at our 13th annual Anusim Conference in El Paso three years ago. Other participants included Salomon Buzaglo whom I just mentioned, Esti Ofer, Coordinator for the S. Daniel Abraham Center for Strategic Dialogue of the college, Dr. Ellie Friedman, Project Manager for the Strategic Dialogue Center, and Lesly Estela Jimenez, who is part of a unique and very important program entitled March of Life. Lesly’s organization is presently planning the March of the Nations Plus Conference that will take place in Israel May 13-15, 2018 together with the 70th anniversary of the State of Israel.

Along with Lesly, were two March of Life activists, one from Germany and one from Roumania. Meeting Lesly was an incredible experience. I had never heard of the March of Life before I met her. This worthy organization builds understanding between the second and third generation of Holocaust survivors and second and third generation descendants of Germans and Nazis responsible for atrocities against the Jewish people. In the case of the survivor families, they did not go through the horrors of the concentration camps, their parents and grandparents did. In the case of the descendants of the Nazis, they were not responsible for killing Jews, their parents and grandparents were the murderers. I knew of the March of the Living which brings teenagers to spend a week visiting concentration camps in Poland and then a week in Israel. In fact, my daughter Rebekah went on that program many years ago. The March of Life is different. It actually attempts to create understanding, compassion, and peace between the offspring of the victims of the Holocaust and those who committed the crimes.

The interesting component of my meeting Lesly was learning from her that she was born and raised in Colombia and as a Catholic; however, when she was a little girl, her father revealed to her that she actually came from Jewish ancestry from Spain. She then chose to return to her Jewish heritage. The fact that this young lady, herself being a descendant of the victims of the Inquisition, not the Holocaust, has now chosen to dedicate her life to ending the racism and hatred which directly led to the murder of 6 million Jewish souls during World War II, is a wake-up call to each of us who may have a bit or more of prejudice within us toward people of different color, race, ethnicity, religion or life style. Lesly and I have formed a bond and we will continue to work together to bring understanding to the world and how together we can partner to bring justice, compassion and peace to a world with so much racism, insensitivity, and hatred for others. As we approach the joyous holiday of Sukkot this month, may each of us work a little harder to bring peace and justice to this wonderful world that God has created for us. I also hope that we will make plans in the very near future to visit Israel and to show our brothers and sisters in the Jewish State how much we love and support them.

I hope that each of us will celebrate the coming holidays at our homes and at our synagogue and may God bless each of us with a very joyous and blessed holiday of Sukkot.

-Rabbi Stephen A. Leon
L’Shanah Tovah Tikatevu as Rosh Hashanah has just passed and we approach the reverence of Kol Nidre and Yom Kippur. On Rosh Hashanah it is written. On Yom Kippur it is sealed. May we all be sealed for a good year and for a good life.

These Days of Awe are a time of introspection, an opportunity for us to examine our actions and ourselves. We have the opening to see things anew and to embrace the power of change. This is a time of new beginnings and the empowerment of a spiritual rebirth comes as we collectively confess our sins and ask God for forgiveness.

However, our fasting, our declarations of sin, our supplication for forgiveness, and our appeals to God for a good life are moot and fall on deaf ears unless we do only one thing. Without this, there is no forgiveness; there is no new start, no change. Without this, we are hypocrites of the highest order.

We must repair our interpersonal lives before we gain access to forgiveness from God. Kol Nidre does not get us off the hook. We must forgive the people who have wronged us, and apologize and ask for forgiveness from those whom we have hurt in any way. We must begin again to treat other people as we would like to be treated. Only this opens the gates for our prayers.

Please, before the gates are closed and the final Shofar sounds, make amends with your fellow congregants. Forgiving each other, embracing each other, and supporting each other in our uniqueness begins the process of healing and strengthening. When we put Love in all our people, we build a congregation with a Heart. Changing ourselves will change our Shul.

The future is happening to Congregation B’nai Zion. Some practical approaches to dealing with it will be coming in issues of the Messenger and on E-Blast. My warmest wishes to each of my CBZ family for a sweet year.

Shalom,

-David Sabal
In the last issue of the Messenger I discussed B’nai Zion staff’s plan to become “ice skaters.” Ice skaters are graceful, gliding easily through their work day, making it look effortless to the casual observer. And ice skaters power through the rough spots, practicing and persevering until they achieve their desired results.

Because they work quietly in the background, many of our congregants may not know what our kitchen ice skaters do. Lupita and Viri comprise our kitchen staff. Yes, just the two of them. During slow weeks, they arrive at work at 6:45 a.m. on Monday and Thursday to serve a bagel breakfast after minyan. They also prepare an Oneg Shabbat on Friday, serve Kiddush lunch Saturday, prepare the seudat shlesheet for Saturday evening and serve a bagel breakfast after Sunday morning services every week.

We don’t, however, have many slow weeks. Most weeks, in addition to the meal planning, shopping, cooking, baking, serving, setting and clearing tables, washing dishes, pots and pans, cleaning the kitchen, laundering and ironing linens and record keeping done during slow weeks, there are special events, holidays and activities that require kitchen services. We serve refreshments at monthly board meetings and the newly established Third Thursday Circle meetings. It’s our kitchen staff who prepares the monthly Meals-to-Go Shabbat dinners and the occasional special meals-to-go requested by members. Viri and Lupita also prepare the trays of food we deliver to families in mourning.

We rely on the kitchen to prepare the annual community Passover Seder, the Tu B’Shvat Seder, and to enhance our holiday experiences with traditional foods on Shavuot, Sukkot, Simchat Torah, Chanukah, Purim and secular holidays such as the annual Thanksgiving No Leftovers Shabbat and our Mother’s Day and the Father’s Day brunches.

Lupita and Viri regularly serve Shabbat dinner for special occasions such as the recent Aloha Shabbat and for our synagogue and Sisterhood board installation. Lupita and Viri are frequently called upon to help with life cycle event meals: B’nei Mitzvot, baby namings, special birthdays, anniversaries, a Boy Scout Eagle Court of Honor. When 15 members of a Boy Scout troop from Houston visited El Paso in June, Lupita and Viri served Shabbat dinner, overnight snacks and breakfast Saturday morning in addition to the regular Shabbat lunch and seudat meals.

These tireless women are also key to community events that take place at B’nai Zion. The food for this year’s Yom Ha’Atzmaut celebration and for the recent annual Anusim Conference was prepared in our kitchen. We turn to the kitchen for Talmud Torah back-to-school and end-of-year celebrations, too. They provided all the meals and snacks for more than 40 Camp Shamayim campers and staff for two weeks this summer.

Lupita and Viri inspect all food coming into our kitchens to ensure we maintain the highest levels of kashrut. When guest cooks are in our kitchen, they provide the required supervision for kashrut purposes. They are responsible for insuring our kitchens are properly cleaned and koshered for Passover, too. They are dependable, easy to work with and cheerfully accept extra assignments. They never disappoint and, most notably, everything – that is, everything – they serve is delicious. Next time you’re indulging in the wonderful refreshments at shul, I encourage you take a moment to appreciate the phenomenal effort that went into what you’re eating. Acknowledge what marvelous ice skaters Lupita and Viri are and thank them for the fine service they provide to us all.

L’shana tova,
-Debra Pazos
From my last article, some changes for B’nai Zion Sisterhood have occurred. As with any new leadership, “growing pains” initially are expected (thank you for your understanding). A few corrections related to programming include:

- October 8th  Evening in the Sukkah
  - “If your lulav or etrog fall to the floor, do you have to kiss it?”
- October 15th  B’nai Zion Paid-Up Membership Brunch
  - Theme-Breakfast at Tiffany’s B’nai Zion Style!
- November 14th  Book Review and Concert with Rabbi Stephen Leon
  - Book-“The Third Commandment and the Return of the Anusim”
  - CD-“Songs my Father Taught Me”

However, B’nai Zion Sisterhood’s foundation and goals remain the same. We exist to support B’nai Zion, Talmud Torah, and BZUSY, but more importantly you. This is accomplished through offering our members meaningful programs and valuable opportunities. To achieve this, we have included “Dancing with Dora” for those of us who enjoy exercise and Gift Shop discounts (for those of us who enjoy a different type of exercise). In addition, the Board continues Sisterhood initiatives, with you in mind.

One of the most important ventures is the production of a new B’nai Zion directory. In this manner, we are better able to stay in touch. Please take the time to complete the form provided on the next page. If you would like to assist us, feel free to contact me.

Likewise, Sisterhood is re-invigorating previous projects. The Gift Shop has implemented a new strategy which includes additional items at lower price points and those which appeal to a broader market. Also, there are more children’s merchandise as well as local artists offerings. Along with the Gift Shop, the Kitchen is “heating up” with improvements. All the menus will reflect our members’ tastes and permit better customization. Popular suggestions are now incorporated into our options.

However, our enhancements are not just focused on Sisterhood. We will continue to partner with Talmud Torah to offer support for their educational needs. In addition, Sisterhood and BZUSY may work jointly towards common goals for programming.

All of our efforts are not possible without you. This is evident through your involvement with membership, program attendance and fundraising. We look forward to you joining B’nai Zion Sisterhood and attending the Membership Brunch. Likewise, Sisterhood is very appreciative to everyone who participated in the “Honey from the Heart” fundraiser with sales of over 300 bottles!!

As we continue to enjoy the Sukkot and Simchat Torah holidays, let this be a joyous time to celebrate together. Special gratitude is expressed by Sisterhood to the following:

- Sandy and Lee Nadler for their computer donation to the Gift Shop
- Bernadine Belkin for her many dedicated years in support of the Torah Fund

Sisterhood looks forward to more changes as we evolve to better meet your needs. However, remember that you, our members, help strengthen us which permits the continued opportunities for mitzvot to achieve tikkun olam.

In Sisterhood,

The Third Commandment and the Return of the Anusim: A Rabbi’s Memoir of an Incredible People, by Rabbi Stephen Leon

Please join Congregation B’nai Zion on November 14 at 7 p.m. for the Sisterhood sponsored book review, The Third Commandment and the Return of the Anusim: A Rabbi’s Memoir of an Incredible People. The event is open to men and women from the entire Jewish community. You do not need to have read the book. Rabbi Leon will speak about the book, take questions as well as open it up to others who may want to share stories, and he will entertain us with songs from his new CD, “Songs my Father Taught Me.” Light refreshments will be served.

My name is Moises Aaron Holland. My Bar Mitzvah is going to be on October 28, 2017, at Congregation B’nai Zion. I want to thank my parents James and Michelle and my sister Hannah for their love and support.

I’m a 7th grader at St. Marks and my favorite subject is Math. When I grow up I want to be a dentist and specialize in Pediatric Orthodontics. When I’m not busy with schoolwork, I like to play tennis, soccer with my friends and videogames. My favorite team is the Denver Broncos. I also like to travel and my favorite place to go is Panama where I get to see my grandparents, uncles, aunts and cousins.

At the beginning of my Bar Mitzvah studies I had an idea for my project. After seeing what happened in Houston and Florida I have changed my mind. For my Bar Mitzvah project, I will donate a portion of my Bar Mitzvah money to the American Red Cross to help people affected by Hurricane Harvey, and Irma. The Red Cross provides emergency assistance in disasters like this and I strongly believe these are the people that need us the most at this moment. I encourage all of you to help those who have lost so much during these natural disasters. Sometimes we think our help is not big enough, but if we all help we can make a big difference.

I have enjoyed my studies with Rabbi Leon and look forward to becoming a Bar Mitzvah.
