Special Tefillah for Victims of Coronavirus

Hebrew Text Written By Rabbi Daniel Fridman

Please O Lord,
Who heals all flesh and performs wondrous acts;
Who blesses our water and our food
By your grace, may You remove all disease from our midst.

Please O Lord,
Who healed Miriam from the plague of tzaraat
Which spread like snow upon half her flesh.
You responded to your trusted servant with kindness
Upon his entreaty, “Please God, Heal her now.”

Please O Lord,
Who puts a stop to plagues from amidst this holy congregation;
As You smell the pleasing scent of incense
With the entreaty of the righteous priest, the censer in his hand;
As he stands with courage between the dead and the living.

Please O Lord,
Who redeemed Hezekiah from the sharp sword
When he turned his face to the wall in tears and pleading.
Have I not received a tradition from the house of my father’s father:
Never should we hesitate to seek mercy from Him.

Please O Lord,
May you save us from the outbreak of this epidemic
Known as the Coronavirus.
In your mercy, may You send a complete recovery
To all who are afflicted with this serious illness.

Please O Lord,
Strengthen the hands of the doctors doing their job
Who sacrifice of themselves to engage in this holy work.
Illuminate their quest to discover a suitable cure.
For we trust that You always place the remedy ahead of the disease.

And let us amen.
